NO MOVE YET MADE IN THE HOUSE ON ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY ISSUE

House Committee to Report at Next Session Is Probable.

Five House Members to Probe Iron Range Expenditures Proposed.

Bill Introduced Abolishing Advisory Board on Tuberculosis Sanatoriums.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of the light attendance, no moves were made in the house this morning on the efficiency and economy issue, though some were expected this afternoon. Representative Wefald has not yet made his motion to discharge the efficiency and economy committee from further duties, which means the final death of the efficiency bill and a record vote on the question. He probably will make it tomorrow.

This afternoon or tomorrow Representative Girling is expected to move the original resolution by himself and Representatives Christianson and Norton, providing for a house committee of seven to investigate this subject and report at the next session. Attempts to get together on a joint resolution permitting participation by the senate have apparently not progressed very far.

Iron Range Expenditures.

Representative C. M. Bendixen of Morgan has joined Representative S. C. Scott of Hibbing in his joint resolution for an investigation of the expenditures in certain iron range communities, and it was expected to come in this afternoon. The idea of having senators on the committee has been abandoned and it now provides for five house members and proposes to take $2,500 for expenses out of the appropriation for the session.

Representative Theodore Christianson will this afternoon introduce a bill abolishing the advisory board on tuberculosis sanatoriums, putting these institutions under the board of health.

Public Defender.

The house passed under suspension of the rules A. L. Lennon's bill creating the office of public defender in Hennepin county.

SEVENTEEN DAYS LEFT

Legislature Now on the Last Stretch of the Session.

About 400 Bills on House Calendar and General Orders.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—There remains three and a half weeks of this session of the Minnesota legislature.

Today is the last day for the introduction of bills—though the last day for the introduction of bills that can possibly get by happened some time ago.

After today, and not counting next Saturday because there probably will be an adjournment over Good Friday to Monday, there are precisely seventeen working days.

But not much will happen in those seventeen days.

Not much can happen.

In the first place the house has got itself so entangled that only by something like a miracle can it extricate itself and get down to business.

Not Much to Happen.

In the second place, there isn't much to happen. All that was likely to happen has happened.

From a general state-wide viewpoint, two things were expected of this legislature: The enactment of legislation looking toward the simplification of the state government in the interests of "efficiency and economy," and the settlement of the county option issue.

"Efficiency and economy" is dead, and the county option bill has passed. Aside from that the reclamation revolving fund amendment has been

DISORDER REPORTS DENIED BY TURKS

Government Says There Has Been No Trouble at Urumiah.

Washington, March 29.—The Turkish government denies that there have been any disorders at Urumiah, Persia. Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople cabled the state department today that the grand vizier had so informed him on the strength of a report made to him by the Turkish war office.

Mr. Morgenthau reported that further instructions that order must be maintained had been sent to Urumiah at his request and that regular Turkish troops were on their way to the scene.

News Dispatches from Tiflis and reports to the Presbyterian board of foreign missions in New York have told of atrocities committed upon Christians at the American and French missions at Urumiah by irregular Turkish troops and Kurds. In response to appeals for protection the state department directed Ambassador Morgenthau to ask the Porte to send troops.

ZAPATA TO LEAVE MEXICO CITY; OBREGON TO MOVE IN

Diplomats Report Another Change in Capital in Sight.

U. S. Government Will Take Care of Any Trouble at Brownsville.

Washington, March 29. — Dispatches received in diplomatic quarters here today from diplomatists in Mexico City said it was understood there that Gen. Obregon, with Carranza forces, was returning to the capital and that Zapata forces were about to evacuate.

Will Protect Brownsville.

War department officials feel that American forces already at Brownsville, Texas, are ample to protect that town during the fighting between the Mexican factions at Matamoros across the Rio Grande.

At Brownsville Col. Blocksom has a squadron of the Third cavalry, a machine gun platoon and battery D of the Sixth field artillery. Nearby, up the river, are two squadrons of the Twelfth cavalry. Additional troops

RATE RIGHTS DEMANDED

Duluth Traffic Complaint Filed With Interstate Commerce Commission.

Ask Readjustment on Competitive Basis With Twin Cities.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, March 29.—The interstate commerce commission today made public a complaint filed by the Duluth Commercial club against existing class and commodity rates of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and other railroads from Duluth to established stations on their lines, claiming that there is unlawful discrimination in favor of St. Paul and Minneapolis in the matter of rates to the same points. The commission is asked to make a complete readjustment.

The complaint mentioned was submitted to the interstate commerce commission in December, but, owing to a technicality, was held up until today. The defendants in the case are the two roads mentioned in the dispatch, the Big Fork & International Falls road, the Soo road and the Minnesota & International.

According to G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Commercial club, the railroads, following the decision of the United States supreme court, in the Minnesota rate case, made new interstate rates, but failed to readjust the intrastate rates, and as the old ones were discriminatory to Duluth as compared with the rates granted the Twin Cities, the complaint was filed. The hearing will be set some time in the near future.

The flat statement is made in the complaint that the freight charges of the roads mentioned on all classes of property shipped from Duluth are greater than the charges to the same points from the Twin Cities; and that this is in violation of the sections of the act to regulate commerce. The

MERCHANT STEAMER IN TWO COLLISIONS

Passenger Ship Heredia Rams Parisian and Theodore Weems.

New Orleans, La., March 29.—Divers today were making efforts to float the British steamship Parisian, rammed by the passenger steamer Heredia off the mouth of the Mississippi Saturday night. The Parisian is seriously damaged, and river men say it was only the fact that she was aground on a mud bank when she struck that prevented her from sinking.

The Parisian has twenty-five feet of water that came into the hold through a hole 30 feet high, 8 feet wide and 10 feet deep, cut by the Heredia's bow. She has settled deep into the mud, but as there is believed to be no danger of her toppling over, the 1,120 mules aboard, destined for the British army at Calcutta, will not be removed.

The Heredia, with her bow plates badly sprung, is at her dock here. The vessel brought fifty-six passengers and the crew of the steamship Theodore Weems, which also was rammed and sunk by the Heredia within a few minutes after she struck the Parisian. No one was hurt in either of the collisions, although the Weems sank in fifteen minutes. The Heredia's passengers are expected to proceed to Panama on the Abangarez late today. Among them is Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, on his way to confer with canal zone officers regarding canal defenses.

GREAT ADDITIONS TO RUSSIAN FLEET

Ships in Baltic Reinforced By Four Dreadnaughts.

London, March 29.—Reuter's correspondent at Petrograd telegraphs that the Russian fleet in the Baltic has been reinforced by the addition of modern fighting units.

This addition to the fleet is believed in London to consist of four dreadnaughts laid down in Russian yards in 1909, which were nearing completion at the beginning of the war. It may also include another division of four capital ships laid down in 1912. British naval experts said they would not be surprised to learn that with the assistance of the allies in material and men, Russia had been able to complete these eight dreadnaughts. The first four mount twelve 12-inch guns each. The second division is armed with nine 14-inchers each.

Brainerd Burglar Fooled.

Brainerd, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thieves entered the barroom of the Ransford hotel, cutting through screens and a transom, forced the cash register in the early morning hours, but found no cash, as the same is removed at the close of business and kept in the hotel safe.

GERMAN SUBMARINE SENDS PASSENGER SHIP TO BOTTOM

RUSSIAN FLEET IS BOMBARDING TURKISH FORTS ON BOSPORUS

QUIET IN THE DARDANELLES

Results of Action By Black Sea Ships Are Yet Unknown.

Report That Sweepers Are Still at Work Comes From Dardanelles.

Early Resumption of Activity Indicated By Unofficial News.

London, March 29.—Russia is again today knocking at the back door of Constantinople by bombarding the Turkish forts on the Bosporus, but with what success is not yet definitely known. As to the front door of the Turkish capital, the Dardanelles, the only news is the monotonous reiteration of the report that the mine sweepers of the allies are continuing their work and that weather conditions still prevent a resumption of the bombardment by the fleet.

Constantinople, however, declines to accept the weather as an excuse for lull in the attack and claims that since March 18 weather conditions have been so good that Turkish aeroplanes have been flying over warships of the enemy in and about the Dardanelles. Unofficial reports from neutral points in the vicinity of the scene of operations indicate an early resumption of activity; they set forth that a plan of distance shelling of the inner defenses has been commenced by the battleships.

Damage to Germans.

Reviewing Russian naval activity in the Baltic, Petrograd claims that the opefations on this sea of Russian warships, have resulted in damage to several German units and that the Germans have been compelled materially to restrict their movements.

German submarines have been active off the English and Irish coasts and the liner Falba, reported in distress in the British channel, may be one of the victims of their raid.

From a diplomatic standpoint, observers in London are speculating hopefully on the reorganization of the Balkan league; but nevertheless it is felt that the visit to Bulgaria of Field Marshal Von Der Goltz, until recently at Constantinople, may check the reconciliation of this state with her neighbors.

TO MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO RECOVER BODIES OF CREW

All Hope That Men on F-4 Might Be Alive Abandoned.

Strenuous Endeavor Will Be Made to Bring Up Submarine.

Washington, March 29.—The last remote hope that any of the submarine F-4's crew might be alive has been abandoned by the navy department and today Acting Secretary Blue ordered Rear Admiral Moore, commanding the Honolulu naval station, to report the exact location of the sunken boat and the depth at which she lies that the department may estimate the probability of salvaging the hull and recovering the bodies of her commander and crew.

No advices on the disaster have come to the department since Friday night when Admiral Moore reported that the boat was in fifty fathoms of water.

Hope Revived.

Honolulu, March 29.—Hope of raising the United States submarine F-4, submerged somewhere outside the harbor since Thursday morning, was again revived last night when vessels engaged in the rescue work reported that they had finally located the missing craft in which twenty-one persons are believed to have perished.

Heroic attempts to bring to the surface an object that appeared to be the submarine resulted in the discovery early yesterday that it was only an old anchor, probably lost by the battleship Oregon.

Hundreds of rescue workers redoubled their efforts when another body believed to be the F-4 was located.

Portions of a vessel's superstructure have been brought to the surface by the grappling apparatus of the various boats and it is this which makes the rescuers confident that they are from the F-4.

The dredge California, whose chains are thought to have been securely fixed on the body, will be moored in a position directly above it and tug boats will criss-cross in all directions with their drag chains in an effort to wind them into a net around the hulk.

SHIPS FOR HOLLAND ALLOWED TO PROCEED.

London, March 29.—The steamers A. A. Raven and Ruby, detained at Deal since March 19 with cargoes of American packing products, have completed the reconsignment of their cargoes to The Netherlands overseas trust of Holland, and proceeded today for Rotterdam.

Packing firms in Chicago have arranged a similar reconsignment for other cargoes now en route and as a result of this procedure little further delay in cargoes destined for Holland is expected.

GIRL ADMITS MAKING ERROR

Rae Tanzer Says Her Identification of Osborne Is Mistake.

New Counsel for Prisoner Has Client Make Statement.

New York, March 29.—Miss Rae Tanzer, who is suing James W. Osborne, former assistant district attorney of New York for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise, was mistaken in her identification of Mr. Osborne as the man who wooed her under the name of Oliver Osborne, according to Harold A. Spellberg, who announced today that he had been retained by Miss Tanzer as her counsel.

Spellberg conferred with United States District Attorney Marshall today and later said Miss Tanzer would be produced at Mr. Marshall's office and announce that she was mistaken in identifying James W. Osborne as Oliver Osborne.

The mistake, Mr. Spellberg said, was wholly due to Miss Tanzer, and Slade & Slade, her former lawyers, were in no way connected with the erroneous identification further than conducting her case.

Assistant District Attorney Wood corroborated Mr. Spellberg. Mr. Wood admitted that the witness upon whom the government relied to shatter Miss

MANY LIVES UNDOUBTEDLY SACRIFICED

Elder Liner Falaba Torpedoed Off Coast of South Wales.

Had 140 Passengers and Crew of 120 Men on Board.

Ship Torpedoed Before Passengers Could Take to the Boats.

London, Mach 29.—The report of yesterday that the British steamer Falaba had been sunk by a German submarine was confirmed today. The Falaba was sent to the bottom yesterday off Milford Haven, an inlet on the coast of South Wales. The loss of life probably was heavy.

The Falaba left Liverpool on Saturday for the west coast of Africa with 140 passengers and with a crew of 120 men. Her officers state that when the German submarine appeared it whistled thrice as a signal for the steamer to prepare her lifeboats, but that before this could be done a torpedo struck the ship near the engine room.

Three of the Falaba's lifeboats were swamped. Many persons aboard the vessel were thrown into the sea, where they struggled while the submarine circled about offering, according to stories told by those rescued, no assistance. A fishing boat appeared on the scene and saved 140 of the passengers and crew.

Captain Davis of the liner was picked up dead. Eight other bodies were recovered. The survivors were landed at Milford Haven.

The Falaba was considerably larger than most of the British merchantmen which have been sunk by German submarines. She was 380 feet long and her net tonnage was 3,011. She belonged to the Elder line, was owned in Liverpool, and was engaged in the African trade.

SUBMARINE SINKS BRITISH STEAMER

Aguila Sent to Bottom By Germans Off Bishop Rock.

London, March 29.—The British steamer Aguila was sunk by a German submarine this morning off Bishop Rock. Her crew of twenty-three men was saved.

The Aguila was a vessel of 1,204 tons net and was 275 feet long. She was owned in Liverpool. Bishop Rock is on the Scilly at the entrance to the English channel.

A dispatch from London last night said that the steamer Aquila had sent out distress signals to the effect that she was being pursued by a submarine. Maritime records gave no British steamer of this name, and the Aguila probably was referred to. The same dispatch said that the British steamer Dunedin also was being pursued by a submarine and that it was believed the British steamer Falaba had been sunk by an undersea boat.

THAW HEARING GOES OVER UNTIL APRIL 5.

New York, March 29.—Harry Kendall Thaw had a brief airing today when he was taken to the county court house where the hearing on the second writ of habeas corpus sought by his attorneys was to come up before Justice Bijur of the supreme court.

The proceedings in court were brief as counsel for both sides concurred in a request to have the hearing postponed to April 5.

ANOTHER SHIP IN DANGER OF MINES.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Germany's submarine warriors have added two names to the long list of vessels which they have destroyed in the waters about the British isles. The British steamer Falaba, one of the larger merchantmen to be sent to the bottom, was torpedoed off the coast of South Wales, probably with a heavy loss of life. The British steamer Aguila was sunk in the English channel, but her crew of twenty-three was saved.

Gen. von Kluck, who led the early advance of the German forces to the gates of Paris, has been injured slightly by shrapnel.

The new German offensive in Poland has led to sharp fighting, in which the Russians are said in Berlin to have suffered heavy losses. The war office announces that Tauroggen, in Russia, across the East Prussian border, was stormed successfully.

In France and Belgium there were only minor engagements yesterday.

From Petrograd it is reported that the Russian Baltic fleet has been reinforced. London interprets this to mean that four and possibly eight new dreadnaughts have been put in commission.

German troops in the north of Poland have returned to the attack, centering their movement in the region of the Skwa river near the Prussian border. An official announcement from Petrograd says that the Germans made an assault with a division of infantry and that the Russians, advancing in turn, compelled their opponents at one point to abandon their first line trenches. The claim is made also that further to the south, on the Pilica river German forces were put to flight.

The Petrograd version of the fighting in the Carpathians represents that victories have been won at several points, giving the Russians access to Northern Hungary. Vienna insists that the Austrians have gained successes in the mountain fighting.

Some of the Turkish forts at the Dardanelles were bombarded yesterday by indirect fire from the Gulf of Saros but the allies did not attempt to enter the straits. Two French battleships, damaged in previous fighting, proved to have suffered so severely that according to a Paris dispatch they are to return to France and be put in drydock.

Italy has decreed a strict censorship on military news, beginning March 31. A Paris newspaper publishes an unverified report that Austria has agreed to cede part of Trent to Italy at the close of the war, in return for Italy's neutrality.

SEE MENACE IN JITNEYS

West Duluth Club Will Probably Demand Reasonable Regulations.

Fear Desired Extensions of Street Car Lines Will Not Be Made.

The possibility of the "jitney" bus becoming a serious competitor of the Duluth Street Railway company, and thereby becoming a menace to possible extensions of the company's lines to New Duluth, Proctor and other places will be taken up for discussion at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club on Friday evening and the city commission asked to take some step to place the jitney bus under reasonable regulations.

The construction of a pavement from the end of the present paving on Grand avenue through to New Duluth this year will, it is believed, result in several jitney busses being put in operation and may make it difficult to induce the company to build its extension. Business men of West Duluth say that the company will have a good excuse for such an objection.

"According to the present activities of the jitney busses they must have cut in on the company's short haul business considerably since they started," said one of the business men this morning. "With a paving to New Duluth there is no question but that such a line will be started here. If it is, it will form a good excuse for the company to refuse to build its proposed extension, especially in view of the fact that there is little doing at the steel plant. It seems to me that the city authorities, while nobody wants a law putting the jitneys out of business, should provide certain regulations that will guarantee the public safety while either riding on them or walking on the street. From observations made, certain of these machines are violating traffic regulations right along and no one appears to care. They should at least live up to the same regulations as other machines. I believe the jitneys should be discouraged because they will be unable to furnish the proper means of transportation during the winter or on rainy days and it will not pay the public to cripple good street car service for something that cannot serve the public the year around."

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IS DENIED

Verdict in Malicious Prosecution Case Will Not Be Changed.

In district court late Saturday afternoon, Judge Fesler denied a motion for a new trial urged by the defendants in the malicious prosecution suit instituted by Charles I. Petruschke and his wife, Mary Petruschke, against J. J. Frey and his sister, M. Kamerer. The Petruschkes recently obtained a verdict for $3,750 against the defendants. They sued for $13,050.

The Petruschkes were tenants of the Grand hotel property when they were ejected about a year ago by Mr. Frey, acting as agent for his sister, M. Kamerer, owner of the premises. He sued to recover back rent, but lost out because of a counterclaim for repairs made. Unlawful detainer proceedings to oust the Petruschkes from the hotel were successful.

After being put out, the Petruschkes sued Mr. Frey and his sister for damages, claiming that they had acted maliciously in bringing and prosecuting the various civil actions. Saturday Judge Fesler refused to disturb the verdict. It is not known whether the case will be appealed to the supreme court or not.

HICKEN SPEAKS AT MASS MEETING

Tells Audience He Is Running Solely on His Record.

W. A. Hicken, commissioner of public safety, was the principal speaker at a massmeeting held yesterday afternoon at Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street. Mr. Hicken spoke principally on law enforcement and defied anyone to say that a square deal had not been given every one. He said that it had been his original intention not to run for reelection, but now that he was in the campaign he was going to make a fight of it. He said he was not appealing for the votes of anyone and that if his record was not good enough to be reelected on, and that if there were other men in the field who the voters believed would do better, then, he said, they should vote for them.

Short talks which were confined to the temperance question were given by Rev. R. L. Opdahl, Rev. K. A. Lundin and Rev. E. Nelson.

Another massmeeting will be held next Sunday afternoon at the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Greene street. The speakers at this meeting have not been selected as yet.

ALLEGED BLIND PIGGER FOUND NOT GUILTY.

W. B. Harris, proprietor of a bakery at Proctor, who was arrested Thursday evening on a charge of operating a "blind pig" was found not guilty by a trial before the justice of the peace at Proctor this morning. The evidence submitted by the prosecution did not warrant a conviction in the eyes of the jury and he was discharged. Harris maintained that the beer found in the suitcase was for his own use and not for outsiders. Leo A. Ball appeared for the defendant.

Mrs. C. G. Erickson Dies.

Mrs. C. G. Erickson, age 24, died last evening at her home on South Sixty-fourth avenue west, following a short illness. She is survived by her husband, her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Nixon of Minneapolis, and one brother, who also lives in Minneapolis. The arrangements for the funeral will be made this afternoon.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WESTERN CLUB.

The Western Curling club will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, April 13. The meeting will be held in the club rooms at Fifty-seventh avenue west and Bristol street, and an attempt will be made to have every member present.

The election of officers and reports of the activities of the last season will be the principal business to come before the club. Action may also be taken as to whether a banquet will be held this year or not.

It is probable that instead of holding a banquet a smoker will be decided on. At this affair the various trophies won by the rinks will be awarded.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. W. H. Richter, 323 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, was pleasantly surprised by a few of her friends Saturday evening in honor of her birthday. Five hundred was played at three tables. Music also featured the evening's entertainment. The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Boerner, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott J. Aman, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hise, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pond and Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Superior.

ANARCHISTS ARE BROUGHT TO TRIAL

New York, March 29.—Frank Abarno and Carmine Carbone went on trial in the supreme court here today on the charge of making a bomb and placing it in St. Patrick's cathedral on the morning of March 2, when 700 worshippers were at their devotions in the edifice. An effort to postpone the case was unsuccessful.

As a result of the failure to obtain a postponement, Robert C. Moore of counsel for Abarno withdrew from the case. Mr. Moore, who was retained last Saturday, told the court he was unfamiliar with the case and wanted time to study it. A motion to have the defendants tried separately was likewise denied.

Indications were that little time would be lost in selecting the jury.

PUT UP $1,000 BOND.

William Darvinen Accused of Violating Federal Liquor Law.

William Darvinen, who was arrested by the Federal authorities on a charge of introducing liquor upon Indian territory near Deer River, was discharged from the St. Louis county jail today by United States Commissioner Thomas H. Fresnell, who placed him under bail of $1,000 to appear July 13 next. Darvinen's case will probably be placed before a Federal grand jury. He was sent to Duluth by United States Commissioner A. H. Simons of Bemidji.

LIFE STORY OF RAYMOND ROBINS, WHO WILL GIVE FREE LECTURE IN DULUTH, READS LIKE ROMANCE

Duluth will have the opportunity of hearing a man with a remarkably interesting history Friday evening when Raymond Robins of Chicago will speak at the Auditorium under auspices of the Young Men's Club of the Endion M. E. church. The lecture will be free.

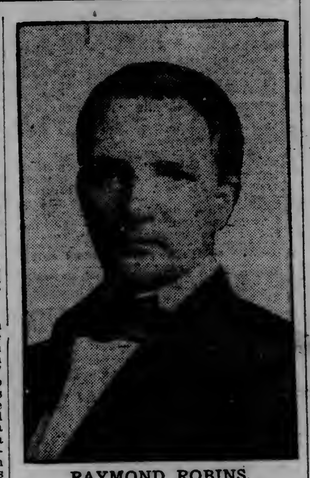
Mr. Robins, in addition to having been the Progressive candidate for United States senator for Illinois last fall, has the distinction of being a millionaire, a philanthropist, a social worker of national reputation, a prominent lecturer, and is distinguished for activities along many other lines. He is not considered a partisan either in politics or in social reform, and because of his breadth of mind and reputation for giving a "square deal," was selected to settle the threatened street railway strike in Philadelphia four years ago.

Fortune in Klondike.

Mr. Robins began his career at an early age. He left his home at the age of 8 years to work out his own destiny and from the time he began his struggle as a "bare-foot cracker" boy in the everglades of Florida to his winning a fortune in the goldfields of the Klondike, his history reads like a romance. Early in life he worked in the coal mines of Tennessee on a twelve-hour shift for $1 a day. As a coal miner he secured his first lessons in the necessity of organization to secure better wages and conditions for labor.

He attended the common schools and studied law promiscuously, later being admitted to the bar in Florida. Desiring a more thorough knowledge of law he went to Columbia university, Washington, D. C., now George Washington university, where he was graduated from the three-year law course in one year.

The latest altruistic effort of Mr.



RAYMOND ROBINS.

Robins is his work in behalf of the Men and Religion Forward Movement and he with Fred B. Smith of New York made a tour of the world for this organization.

Mr. Robins will touch upon the civic problems at stake in the present municipal campaign, and his opinions will be listened to with interest by the supporters of all candidates.

Pre-Easter Displays

Between now and Easter Sunday will probably tax to the utmost the forces and capacity of this establishment — therefore, we ask our patrons to shop as early in the day as possible in order that we may not disappoint in the service they are accustomed to receiving here. Our associates (said to be the most competent in the city) can give more personal attention to those shopping earlier in the morning—say, before eleven o'clock—as selling salons and fitting rooms have already been taxed to the utmost at that hour. We want to make shopping a real pleasure to you.

NO TIME FOR SMALL BILLS

Congressman Miller Says Last Session Was Most Unsatisfactory.

Little Chance of Country Being Drawn Into Present War.

"The last session of congress was certainly the most unsatisfactory one that it has been my privilege to be a member of," said Clarence B. Miller, Eighth district congressman, today in his room at the Spalding.

Mr. Miller came in this morning from Chicago traveling directly from Washington, where he, like many other congressmen and senators, remained after congress closed to complete some work.

"There were so many important bills up for consideration that never came to decisive action that there was no time for the multitude of smaller bills that generally receive consideration," continued Mr. Miller.

"There is generally time for say some fifteen big appropriation bills, some thirty or more slightly less important bills and time for the consideration of perhaps 200 smaller bills. During the last session the time was so consumed in the consideration of a number of big bills that there was no time to devote to the consideration of bills that would have ordinarily received attention.

"No, there is little chance of our becoming embroiled in the European war. If we do, it will result from an extreme cause of neglect and carelessness upon our part. To my mind the greatest menace is that after the European war some of the countries on the other side of the Atlantic may demand to know why we have not done something in the case of Mexico, and in defiance of the Monroe dictrine, attempt to take some action, themselves.

Monroe Doctrine.

"Under the Monroe Dostrine, you know, the United States is responsible for the country coming under its jurisdiction. Frankly conditions are bad in Mexico; much worse, in fact, than the average citizen realizes. Some of the nations of Europe, when the present war is off their hands, may make up their minds to demand an accounting of our so-called guardianship."

Congressman Miller declared that the breaking up of the last session was the occasion of extreme regret and some genuine heart feeling upon the part of the members of both branches, because of the fact that a number of the biggest men of both the house and senate were saying good-bye to public life. Among the number Congressman Miller mentioned Senator Elihu Root of New York.

"Senator Root is one of the big figures of our national life," said he, "and a man possessing the greatest brain that I have ever come into contact with. Senator Root has been called the brainiest man in the United States and those who have come into close contact with him have never had any reason to dispute the assertion.

"Many of the best known and ablest members of the two houses said goodbye to Washington at the ending of the recent session, and the good-byes sort of left a pall of sadness on official Washington."

German Coffee Cake

Made Without Yeast

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

There is no warm bread quite as appropriate for Sunday morning breakfast as German Coffee Cake, yet it is seldom made by housewives who do not bake their own bread. If K C double raise Baking Powder is used it will be just as good as if raised with yeast and it will have the further advantage of being fresh and warm. Save this recipe and try it next Sunday.

K C German Coffee Cake

Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1 level teaspoonful salt; 2 tablespoonfuls melted butter; 2 tablespoonfuls sugar; 1 egg; milk.

Sift dry ingredients together, beat the egg, add milk and butter to the egg to make one and one-quarter cups; stir all together with inverted spoon to a stiff batter. Turn into biscuit pan and spread even. Brush top lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle sugar and ground cinnamon over the top. Bake in moderate oven.

Dutch Apple Cake or Prune Kuchen can be made with this same batter by covering the top with pared and sliced apples, or cooked prunes with the pits removed, skin sides down. Dredge with sugar and cinnamon the same as for Coffee Cake.

"The Cook's Book" contains 90 just such delicious recipes. You can secure a copy free by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the Jaques Mfg. Co., Chicago, being sure to write your name and address plainly.

GOVERNMENT'S SIDE STATED

Brief in Suit Against International Harvester Company Filed.

Washington, March 29.—The government's brief in the anti-trust suit to dissolve the International Harvester company was filed today in the supreme court. It is largely directed toward combating the arguments advanced in the company's brief filed in support of its appeal after the district court for Minnesota had declared it a combination in restraint of trade and ordered its dissolution.

"If defendant's argument prevails," says the government brief, "if corporate combinations, however comprehensive, do not come within the purview of the act unless and only so far as they demonstrably "abuse" their power—the inevitable result will be the renewal of that great rush toward concentration which proceeded with ever accelerating rapidity until checked by the decision of this court in the Northern Securities' case.

All Makers Might Do Same.

"If makers of harvesting machinery may unite as here, why may not makers of every other species of machinery do likewise? And why may not all these lesser combinations be integrated into one supercombination of all the metal working industries?

"What would prevent, indeed, the creation of combinations with power to control the market for every necessity of life—food, coal, oil, textile fabrics, etc.—or alliances between all these combinations under the control of a few great masters of industry?

"The anti-trust act—the work of perhaps the ablest judiciary committee that ever sat in either branch of congress, is the deliberate effort of conservative, clear-thinking men to place some reasonable check upon that liberty of combination, which, if permitted to be 'logical extreme' would in the end imperil liberty itself.

Controversy Fundamental.

"The controversy in this case, therefore, is fundamental. The question is, shall the competitive system continue —shall 'competition, not combination, be the law of trade?'"

The brief says that the defendants claim that while one-time competitors controlling from 80 to 85 per cent of the trade in the United States in harvesting machines were combined in substantially the manner which the government contends, the object was not restraint of trade, but to promote foreign trade and to establish domestic trade on a more economical basis. Upon these statements, the government says and upon its good conduct, the "whole defense rests."

Statistics are given to demonstrate that the harvester company "has retarded rather than accelerated the foreign trade in harvesting machines."

CLEARWATER FAIR.

Farmers Gather at Bagley and Plan for Great Fair This Year.

Bagley, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large delegation of Clearwater county farmers, representing every section of the county, met at the courthouse here on Saturday for the purpose of making plans for a greater Clearwater county fair in 1915. A complete new board of directors was elected, including A. M. Dunton, late of the University Extension department, and R. M. Day, agricultural instructor of the Bagley high school.

Several important changes were made in the premium list, the object being to offer inducements to the farmers living far from the county seat and who have good stock to bring them in by offering greatly increased premiums. Suitable buildings will be erected for the exhibits and everything possible will be done for the entertainment of the spectators.

A meeting of delegates of six of the farmers' clubs of the county was held at which a constitution was drawn up for a federation of the clubs, the business of which is to promote better farm production, better market facilities, better means of securing farm supplies, better credit facilities, better means of communication, better roads and telephones.

MAKE ATTACK ON SALOONS

Politics and Temperance Discussed at Mass Meeting.

Third Meeting of Series Tuesday; Hicken Lauded in Songs.

The saloon was arraigned by speakers at the mass meeting held yesterday afternoon at the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. The meeting attracted a crowd that filled the church to its doors, and while temperance was the principal subject, slight reference was made to the present campaign.

Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of this church, gave a short talk on how to vote, saying that the present commissioners were known to be men in favor of law enforcement and that they should get the support of all law-abiding citizens.

Gives Five Reasons.

Rev. C. W. R. Wermine of the Swedish Methodist church, gave reasons why it should be eliminated. The five points are: That the saloon is a chief cause of many diseases, that it is a source of immorality, that it pauperizes labor, thereby becoming a great commercial question which all citizens should take a hand in solving; that it breeds lawlessness and crime, and that it corrupts politics.

Because of its political activities the speaker said the church and other forces for morality should also get into politics as that would be the only way to curb the saloon's activities.

Rev. C. A. Eckstrom, pastor of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, gave a short talk on the temperance question. He said that the only thing the saloon did for a community was to breed drunkards, and that drunkards had no place in society, were not good family men, and could not expect to hold any position of trust.

Mass Meeting Tuesday.

A mass meeting will be held tomorrow evening at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. The meeting is the third of a series planned by the pastors of this end of the city. Commissioners W. A. Hicken, R. Murchison and a number of others will speak.

Rev. J. J. Daniels, pastor of the church, will preside. Among the subject to be discussed will be law enforcement, segregation, "a square deal," efficiency, and extravagance. Questions that have been brought up during the campaign will be answered. New campaign songs composed by Rev. Mr. Daniels will be sung during the evening.

The following is a verse of one of the songs, which featured the meeting last night:

Hickenville.

Tune: "Marching Through Georgia."
"Hickenville is known and honored very far and near
For its law enforcement and its brave commission here;
Shall we now reverse our course and let opponents steer,
And make law enforcement a failure?

Chorus.

Come on! come on! and join the Hicken band!
Come on! come on! and take a manly stand!
Let us vote for law enforcement, home and native land,
While we are marching on to victory!"

ARBITRATION BRIEFS FILED

Attorney Sheehan and President Carter Present Their Statements.

Hearing Nears End; Decision By Board Expected April 20.

Chicago, March 29.—Briefs in the Western railroad case were filed with the board of arbitration today by James M. Sheehan, attorney for the railroads, and by William S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. Oral argument was begun and was expected to last two, and probably three days. Decision by the board on the demands of the men for higher wages and other concessions will be made on or before April 20, and will affect 63,000 engineers, firemen and hostlers employed by ninety-eight Western railroads operating 140,000 miles of track.

Mr. Sheehan's brief asserted that the men failed utterly to establish their contention that their labors and responsibilities, and their productive efficiency have increased since their wages were adjusted by arbitration in 1910, nor, said the brief, had they made good their claim that their earnings, despite a higher rate, had been decreased in this period. Their contentions, Mr. Sheehan said had not been proven by their own exhibits, and had been disproved by actual records quoted in the railroad exhibits.

Not Due to Men.

The increased productivity of the railroads was said in the brief to have been due, not to any increased effort of the men, but to stringent economies in operation, and the expenditure of $660,000,000 in extensions, additions and improvements to property, including heavier power and the reduction of curves and grades. Of this sum $220,000,000 was spent for the purpose of increasing efficiency and safety, and to expedite train movements. These improvements, Mr. Sheehan said, have actually enabled the enginemen to earn their money in fewer hours than prior to 1910. Firemen, he said, actually shovel 5 per cent less coal now than in the previous period. He said that the railroad exhibit showing that to grant the sixteen demands of the men would cost $41,000,000 a year had not been controverted. He pointed out the decreased dividend payments of recent years, and to the increasing use of labor-saving devices on engines. He referred to the high earnings attained by some engineers and firemen, and asserted that the bulk of the engineers average between $170 and $180 a month, and firemen between $110 and $115.

Adequate Pay.

The brief claimed that these pay-roll figures demonstrated that the present schedules provide full, fair and adequate pay, whether measured by comparison with other trades, by comparison with other railroad employes who have like duties and responsibilities, or by comparison with engineers and firemen of the East and South; and in making this claim directed attention to the fact that these pay-roll figures had not been contradicted by the employes whose names appeared thereon, notwithstanding the fact that during the hearing, while the railroad exhibits were being introduced, Mr. Carter stated to the board of arbitration:

"I have reached the conclusion that our case is lost if we treat the exhibits of the railroads too seriously."

Nine Chapters in Brief.

Mr. Carter's brief was divided into nine chapters as follows:

Standardization of rates of wages; the sixteen propositions submitted to arbitration; earning possibilities under existing rates and rules, economic effect of the increased cost of living; requisite qualifications of locomotive engineers and firemen; increased work and productive efficiency of engineers and firemen; ability of the roads to pay the increases requested, and the future outlook.

Standardization of rules and rates of pay, as proposed, the brief contended, would be helpful to employes and railroads alike, tending to clarify the atmosphere and reduce friction and would give the men only a living wage. Mr. Carter insisted that the railroad evidence exaggerated the earning possibilities of the suggested increase.

Only Veterans Get Big Pay.

"If the railroads could create the impression that all engineers and firemen earn as much as some engineers and firemen occasionally earn, they evidently hoped to defeat our proposition and retain the old inequitable order of things," said Mr. Carter. "It has been shown that only the veterans in service who have survived the dangers and hardships of years of service who can and do get the fancy-priced runs; they are the exceptions. Compared with the rates paid in other industries, engineers in freight service rank below fifteen leading trades, and engineers in the Chicago switch yards are paid 42½ cents an hour compared with 48 cents received by hod carriers, while other trades pay 65 and 75 cents an hour."

Cost of Living.

Mr. Carter asserted that the arbitrators should consider the fact that the cost of living has gone "sky-rocketing" of recent years. He dwelt on the long hours which enginemen work, the mental and physical strain to which they are subjected and the skill and care necessary to safely conduct high-speed passenger trains and hesvy freights.

In the period 1890-1913, Mr. Carter said that the productive efficiency of the men as guaged by the swelling revenue, has increased between 40 and 50 per cent and the roads are abundantly able to pay an increased scale.

"The combined accumulated surplus of the forty-three largest western systems amounted on June 30, 1914, to $625,895,415 and the actual cash on hand to $208,278,196," said Mr. Carter. "Dividends are increasing rather than decreasing."

He asserted that the outlook for the companies is bright, increased passenger and freight rates are on the way, and the trend of the industrial and financial situation in the country is upward.

POLITICS EXPENSIVE.

Farrell Has Already Spent $359 in His Campaign.

With a week of campaigning left before election day, James A. (Bert) Farrell has spent $359 so far in his effort to become city commissioner. The maximum allowed by law is $500.

Although the law does not require an expense statement every week, Mr. Farrell filed a statement with City Clerk Palmer this morning showing that he spent $133 last week and $226 previous to last Monday.

This is the largest amount spent by any candidate so far, according to the expense accounts filed with the city clerk.

and Fashion calls for styles in the tots' wardrobe to correspond with their elders. White is still first favorite in the little fancy dresses and the line of waistless styles with lacy full skirts have come to stay for the season.

The little hats are effective but not elaborately trimmed, as the season demands more conservative lines. The bonnets are fancy, with ruffles of lace and knots of ribbon combined with flowers.

The coatees were never prettier, the checks are much in vogue this season, but fashion favors the colored Corduroy, Gabardine, Moire and Serge.

The little boys will continue to adopt the same quaint styles in afternoon suits, as the Oliver, Middy and the Vestee Suits, but the Rompers and play suits are always considered, as they are the most practical garments ever designed for both boys and girls.

TWO LITTLE BOYS BURNED TO DEATH

Spooner, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Loomis Lee is in a local hospital badly burned and his two young sons, ages 4 and 6, are dead as the result of a fire that destroyed the Lee home near Sleeman, a few miles from here.

The Lee home took fire during the day time while Mr. Lee was away chopping wood. Mrs. Lee, who was home ran to her husband telling him of the fire and he hastened back. The entire upstairs where the two boys were sleeping was on fire but Mr. Lee dashed up trying to rescue them. Blinded by smoke and choking from the flames he lost consciousness and tumbled downstairs.

Neighbors who hurried to the fire pulled him to safety but were unable to rescue the two boys or save the home. The little bodies, badly charred, were found in the ruins. It is believed that if Mr. Lee had not fallen downstairs he would have sacrificed his life trying to save the boys.

ROUTED BY THE FLAMES

Fire Scorches Superior Hotel During Early Morning Hours.

Loss Estimated at $20,000 —All the Guests Escape.

An early morning fire at the Superior hotel yesterday routed out 250 guests and employes and caused damage estimated at about $20,000. The fire originated in a storeroom of the Superior Water, Light & Power company, situated in the basement of the building, and spread rapidly up through the first and second stories.

The fire was discovered by a man passing the hotel shortly before 5:30 o'clock. Smoke was seen pouring out in volumes from the windows of the water and light company's office. He immediately turned in the alarm and also gave the alarm in the hotel.

All guests and employes got out of range of the fire and out of their rooms without injury. Several of the guests, whose rooms were in the range of the fire, lost some of their valuables and had their clothes destroyed. Among the heaviest losers were I. F. Pohlman, who lost two diamonds valued at $150, and Mrs. Gardner, who lost several gowns she had purchased the previous day.

There was considerable confusion during the two hours following the discovery of the fire. The guests huddled in the lobby of the hotel, some of them having left their rooms dressed only in their night clothes, while others carried their baggage in their arms and dressed later.

The loss on the hotel is estimated at about $10,000. The Badger Inn, recently redecorated, was badly damaged, and several of the rooms on the second floor were gutted. The loss was covered by insurance. Manager John A. Magnuson said this morning that repairs would begin immediately.

The damage to the water and light office and contents is placed at $10,000 by W. H. Winslow, manager of the company. The basement and office was completely gutted.

A thick wall between the company's office and the hotel proper was of considerable aid in preventing the fire from spreading to the hotel. This enabled the firemen to confine the fire to one part of the building.

could be sent by train from Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio, Texas, or Fort McIntosh at Laredo, Tex.

The Pacific coast Red Cross director, Charles J. O'Connor, has been ordered to El Paso to take charge there of the relief work along the border.

Red Cross nurses, ordered yesterday to Brownsville to care for the wounded, reported their arrival today.

May Bombard Tuesday.

Brownsville, Tex., March 29.—Fifteen flat cars bearing artillery for the renewal of the Villa attack upon Matamoros, sighted by Americans about sixty miles west of Matamoros yesterday, were not expected to deliver their freight in time to begin bombardment of the Carranza garrison before Tuesday at the earliest.

A report was spread here from what is usually a reliable source that the Carranza garrison at Matamoros, contrary to official reports, has not a single piece of artillery. This report declared that the Matamoros artillery was sent to participate in the recent battle of Ramones, and there captured.

No Fighting Sunday.

There was no fighting yesterday except occasional shots several miles south of the city and Villa officers announced they were awaiting the arrival of artillery.

The probability of artillery shells falling in Brownsville was demonstrated here Saturday by stray rifle bullets, during the first assault on Matamoros trenches, a costly failure of the Villa forces, in which their losses were officially given as 100 killed and 400 wounded. This attack included a furious fusillade from 2,000 cavalry rifles.

Cavalry Mowed Down.

Carranza losses were ten killed and forty-five wounded. Concealed machine guns won several brilliant successes for the Carranza forces in the open fighting. A troop of 250 Villa cavalry, circling five miles south of Brownsville, approached a machine gun trench hidden beneath brush. They were trotting past when the machine guns opened fire. The entire troop was reported killed or wounded.

Gen. Emiliano P. Nafarrate, commanding the Matamoros garrison of 1,200 men, gave the Associated Press this account of Yaqui cavalry attack:

"There were three separate cavalry charges. In the first not more than 300 men participated. The second was made by about 600 men. The third assault comprised about 2,000 Villa troops. Like the other two, it was beaten off.

"With the aid of machine guns, the few men I had were equal to the thousands of the enemy. The Villa troops came to within fifty paces of where we were entrenched. Then we would turn the machine guns loose and mow them down."

An official statement issued last night by the general staff says:

"The Black sea fleet on Sunday bombarded the outside forts and batteries on the Bosporus on both sides of the straits. (The Bosporus, called also the Strait of Constantinople, is a narrow passage which connects the Black sea with the Sea of Marmora. Constantinople stands on its west side at its outlet and partly on the Sea of Marmora. The strait is eighteen miles long.)

"According to observations made from ships and hydro-aeroplanes, our shells fell with exactitude. Russian aviators flying above the Bosporus batteries carried out reconnoissances and dropped bombs with success. A heavy artillery fire was directed at the aviators without success.

The enemy's torpedo boats which tried to come out, were driven back into the strait by the fire of our guns.

A large hostile ship which was trying to get into the Bosporus from seaward, was bombarded by us. She finally heeled over and blew up.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 29, by wireless to Sayville.—The report of the fighting issued from headquarters today relates among other things that Gen. von Kluck, the German commander, who led the famous German rush into France in the early days of the war, has been slightly wounded by shrapnel fire while inspecting advance positions of his army. The condition of the general is described as satisfactory.

The text of the announcement follows:

"On the west front the day of yesterday passed rather quietly. Only in the Argonne and in Lorraine were there minor engagements, and they were successful for the Germans. Gen. Kluck was slightly wounded by shrapnel while inspecting advanced positions of his army. His condition is satisfactory.

"German troops have stormed Tauroggen, across the Russian frontier northeast of Tilsit, and taken 300 prisoners.

"A Russian attack on the railroad from Wirballen to Kovno, at a point near Pilviskl, broke down.

"The Russians suffered heavy losses in the Krasnopol district. More than 1,000 Russians were taken prisoners, among them being a squadron of lancers with their horses and five machine guns.

"A Russian attack to the northwest of Ciechanow was repulsed."

French Statement.

Paris, March, 29, by wireless to London, 1:55 p. m.—The French war office today gave out a report on the fighting of yesterday which reads:

"In the region of Ypres a German observation post was blown up by the French with a mine.

"At Eparges the Germans attempted to regain the trenches lost by them March 27.

"After a violent struggle the French gains were on the whole maintained. The Germans obtained a footing in a few sections of their old trenches, but on the other hand the French made progress at other points."

Italy to Censor News.

Rome, March 28, via Paris, March 29.—A rigid censorship upon the publication of military news from March 31 to July 30 has been established by a royal decree issued in accordance with a decision reached by the council of ministers at its session Saturday.

Austria Makes Offer.

Paris, March 29.—Austria has made a definite offer to cede to Italy a part of the province of Trent at the close of the war, the Petit Parisien's Rome correspondent says he has been informed. He adds that the proposal was made on Thursday and that the Italian government deferred its reply.

Tanzer's charges was none other than Miss Tanzer herself.

Held Under Fraud Charge.

Whether the government's investigation of the charges against Miss Tanzer would stop there was unknown. She is at liberty under $5,000 bond on a charge of using the mails to defraud. This is an outgrowth of her suit against James W. Osborne for $50,000 damages.

Mr. Spellberg first became connected with the case when he represented the surety company which furnished Miss Tanzer's bond. For whom the surety company acted in giving the bond has not been disclosed.

Mr. Spellberg reappeared with Miss Tanzer at the district attorney's office shortly before noon. Before going with his client into Mr. Marshall's office, Mr. Spellberg said that "it was not a question of a confession" and that Miss Tanzer would merely make a statement.

When Miss Tanzer appeared with her lawyer at the Federal building, she appeared to be nervous and frightened. "We have no confession to make," Mr. Spielberg said. "What we have to tell the district attorney will not injure the firm of Slade & Slade in any way."

David Slade, who was Miss Tanzer's lawyer at the time of her examination last week, said he was surprised to learn that Miss Tanzer had visited the district attorney. If there had been any mistake, he said, he would gladly help the government get to the bottom of the case.

Waves Immunity.

Before Mr. Marshall would take her statement, he prepared a waiver of immunity for her to sign. She affixed her name and her signature was witnessed by her new counsel, Harold A. Spellberg. Then she sat down in the office of Assistant District Attorney Elmer Marshall and began to tell her story. It was said she would be at it all afternoon.

Miss Tanzer, according to her lawyer, simply made a mistake in identifying James W. Osborne as Oliver Osborne, her admirer. No one else was to blame for her error, Mr. Spellberg said; the firm of Slade & Slade, the lawyers who had represented her, were in no way involved.

"Miss Tanzer came to my home Friday night," Mr. Spellberg said, "with her nephew. She was sent there by her brother, whom I know. Her brother had told me the evening before that Rae had got into trouble and wanted to get out of it. So an appointment was made at my home for the next night.

Called Witnesses.

"When Miss Tanzer kept this appointment I called Mrs. Spellberg into the room and sent out for some neighbors as witnesses. They came in and heard what she had to say. It was a long story; she was at my home from 7:30 o'clock in the evening till 2 o'clock in the morning. On Saturday, the next day, I called on Mr. Marshall and told him Miss Tanzer wanted to see him. She wanted to call at his office that she would not occupy the six had to say that would occupy the six and one-half hours she spent at Mr. Spellberg's home was not divulged, further than that she had made a mistake. Friends of James W. Osborne claim that he had been made the victim of a conspiracy to discredit him and expect that other names will be drawn into the investigation.

Would Say Nothing.

Of this, however, District Attorney Marshall would say nothing. In announcement of Miss Tanzer's statement that she was mistaken in her identification, Mr. Marshall read the following waiver which she signed:

"The interview which I am about to have today and any further interviews I may have with the United States district attorney are at my request and not at the request of the United States district attorney. I intend to make a full, free and unreserved statement of facts and consent that anything I may say may be used in any way by the United States authorities in which it may become proper and desirable to use the same."

The house passed under suspension of the rules Representative Greene's bill giving veterans of the Spanish-American war, the Philippine insurrections and the Chinese relief expedition the same preference in public employment now allowed Civil war veterans, and Representative Nimock's bill requiring those who contest legislative places to file bonds covering expenses, including attorneys' fees.

The bill amending the workingmen's compensation act, which has passed the senate, was made a special order in the house for Thursday morning on motion of Representative Sanborn.

Filing Time of Messages.

Representative W. J. Senator Jones of Duluth, who is back of the bill, will also introduce it in the senate.

Representatives T. T. Morken of Crookston and L. O. Bill Affecting Virginia.

Virginia would be advanced from the fourth into the third class of cities by a bill introduced by Representative Charles T. Murphy of Aurora, which repeals the existing law whereby the state census of 1905, instead of the Federal census of 1910, is used as a basis for classification.

The planting of barberry bushes is forbidden in this state by a bill introduced by Representative Mueller, which also authorizes town officials to destroy barberries on anybody's land. The reason is that scientists declare barberries to be breeding grounds for black rust.

Supervisor of Safety.

Representative Rodenburg introduced a bill creating the state office of supervisor of safety at $1,500, whose duties shall be to inspect state buildings, to drill state employes in fire fighting methods, etc.

Other bills introduced:

Representative Erpenbeck and Senator G. H. Sullivan, exempting from civil service examination persons examined and licensed by the state.

Representative Madigan, prohibiting saloons within a mile and a half—instead of half a mile—from "dry" communities.

Representative A. M. Peterson, increasing the clerk hire allowance of the auditor of Itasca county.

Representative Magnus Johnson, doing away with the state highway commission and substituting a state superintendent of highways.

Representative Sudheimer, prohibiting the employment of boys between fourteen and sixteen in bowling alleys during school hours.

submitted—the most important thing of the session from a Northern Minnesota viewpoint—and the Elwell road law has been repealed. Thus Northern Minnesota gets a kick and a caress.

Efficiency and economy is dead, though the last words never its bier have not been said, unless they are said today. The Gordon bills, which were intended either as a substitute for the efficiency bill or as a means of killing it, according to the viewpoint, are probably destined to an unlikely end after a picturesque career. Six of them passed the house and one was killed. Then the house reconsidered its defeat of the one that was killed and put it back on the calendar for further consideration. Next it received from the senate one that it had passed, and that is now before the house for further consideration.

The Gordon Sisters.

So the seven Gordon sisters—now five—are before the senate. They have been referred to the committee on civil administration, the committee that was to have received the efficiency bill after it had passed the house. What the committee will do with them is yet to relate. What the senate will do to them after the committee is through probably isn't much. What the governor would do to them if the senate passed them is the only really interesting thing about it. There is an utterly unofficial and unauthorized impression that the governor would be very grateful if the senate would pass these bills and give him an opportunity, in a veto message to tell what he thinks about the way the legislature has foozled "efficiency and economy."

State-Wide Prohibition.

State-wide prohibition, at times a lively issue, still lingers faintly, like the aroma of a flower that his died.

The house has disposed of the issue thoroughly. It has beaten state-wide prohibition.

The senate, probably about tomorrow, is likely to do the samo thing. Even if it doesn't, it matters little, the house having acted.

Tomorrow, probably, the report of the senate temperance committee indefinitely postponing the Gandrud bill for state-wide prohibition by constitutional amendment, with a minority report recommending it to pass, will be made to the senate. Senators Gandrud, Vermilya and Lobeck will sign the minority report. In all probability the majority report will be adopted—possibly by a pretty overwhelming vote because of resentment of the idea that time should be wasted putting senators on record on a matter that has been finally disposed of by the action of the house.

Suffrage Still Lingering.

Suffrage lingers, too, in much the same ghostlike form as state-wide prohibition. Failing in the attempt to submit to the voters a constitutional amendment giving women the ballot on equal terms with men, the suffragists slipped in a bill giving them the right to vote in presidential elections, which can be accomplished by a mere statute without the difficult process of constitutional amendment.

The house elections committee would have none of it, and recommended the bill for indefinite postponement. However, the suffragists were not discouraged by that. They induced the house to overturn the report and put the bill on general orders. Whereat they were vastly gratified; though putting a bill on general orders in the house at this stage of the session is rather a empty victory. The bill may never be reached at all.

A Multitude of Measures.

The house has about 400 bills on the calendar and general orders, with seventeen working days left, several of which will be taken up by the appropriation bills. It did not reach the calendar or general orders once during the last week. Unless it reforms its methods it may not reach them much between now and adjournment day.

To save the house from utter wreck, there is talk of an attempt to agree to take up some of the more important bills, and let the rest go into the discard. About the only way to do that would be to let every member pick his pet measure and have them all put on the calendar or made a special order. If the house passes 130 more bills it will be doing more than is now expected of it.

Senate Also Well Loaded.

The senate, too, is pretty well loaded up with bills on general orders, but that does not mean much. The senate, being a smaller and more wieldy body, has little difficulty in handling its business, and it will be pretty well cleaned up when the end comes. In view of the situation in the house, however, there is little use now in the senate passing its own bills unless there are companion bills in the house, because a bill that has passed the senate must take the course of a new bill in the house—go to committee, then to general order, and then to the calendar for final passage; and the chances are that by the time the house could reach a vote on such bills the final adjournment would be weeks back in history.

Not that the state will suffer any very severe hardship if most of the pending bills should fail of passage. Part of the reason for the failure of the house to get on faster with its work is a realization that the state probably is not madly clamoring for any great mass of new legislation.

The Road Laws.

Save for the passage of the bill repealing the Elwell law, there will be no revolutionary changes in the road laws. Later on in the week the senate will pass the house bill making amendments to the R. C. Dunn road law, giving counties control of their own roads free of the state highway commission, and that's about all. Attempts to return to the old practice of working out road taxes instead of paying cash and to abolish the highway commission have failed, and though Senator Dunn has made some concessions to the critics of his road law, when the session ends there will be no changes in that law to which he has not agreed.

BOY HEIR TO $500,000 BACK FROM LONDON.

New York, March 29.—Four-year-old Teddy Slingsby, central figure in a British suit involving property valued at $500,000, reached here today as a passenger aboard the steamer New York from Liverpool, with his mother, Mrs. Charles H. Slingsby.

The probate court at London recently decided that Teddy was Mrs. Slingsby's son, though his parentage had been attacked on the ground that he had been substituted for Mrs. Slingsby's child when the latter died, soon after birth in San Francisco in the autumn of 1910. By this decision, since appealed, the boy's right was established as an heir to the property of his father, Charles H. Slingsby, once a lieutenant in the British navy.

About 2,000 are now at work in this section under the new wage scale.

FRENCH BATTLESHIPS SENT TO THE DRYDOCK

Paris, March 29.—The French battleships Suffren and Gaulois, which were badly damaged by the fire from Turkish batteries in the bombardment of the Dardenelles forts by the allied fleet on March 18, have left for Toulon, a French naval base, to be repaired in the drydock there, according to a special dispatch from Athens. No attack was made on the straits, the dispatch says, but a Franco-British fleet and the Russian cruiser Askold bombarded the Bulair line of forts from the gulf of Saros.

NAVY RESERVE TO BE FORMED

Recruiting Officer Gets Orders to Begin Enlistments.

Will Be Composed of Ex-Naval Men for War Only.

Peter Coyle, officer in charge of the navy recruiting station, postoffice building, has received instructions from the secretary of the navy to commence enlisting men in the new United States navy reserve authorized by the act of congress covering appropriations for the naval service for the coming fiscal year.

The naval reserve will be composed of only ex-navy men who have had from four to sixteen years' service and training in the United States navy, and the reserve is to be called into active service only when war is threatened. This is really a step of forming an adequate defense for our country composed of a trained and efficient "citizen soldiery." During the time the navy recruiting station has been established in this district, which includes St. Paul, La Crosse, Minneapolis and Fargo, there has been about 3,500 Minnesota men who have enlisted in the navy of which it is estimated one-half have remained in the regular navy and one-half have returned to civil life in Duluth and vicinity. It is the will of congress that as many men of the 1,500 ex-service men in this district be embodied in an efficient naval reserve fully capable of manning battleships if the need arise and go into action on a week's notice. The following battleships are now at the navy yard, Philadelphia, Pa., "in reserve," being kept in good condition and ready to join the Atlantic battleship fleet in ten days provided, however, that crews be obtained for them: Alabama, Ohio, Missouri, Kearsarge, Kentucky, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Massachusetts, besides the cruisers Minneapolis, Columbia, Salem, and minor torpedo boat destroyers, etc.

The British and French fleets now off the Dardanelles are composed mostly of ships of the same type and efficiency as those in this reserve. The present congress has now provided a way for manning a fleet of ships with efficient and trained ex-sailors at a very low expense to the Federal government. Owing to the many inquiries at the navy office regarding the new naval reserve, which has caused quite a flurry among navy men, The Herald publishes that part of the naval appropriation bill relating to a naval reserve as follows:

"There is established herewith a United States navy reserve, which shall consist of citizens of the United States who have been or may be entitled to honorable discharge from the navy after not less than one four-year term of enlistment or after a term of enlistment for minority. The naval reserve shall be organized under the bureau of navigation and shall be governed by the articles for the government of the United States, and by the naval regulations and instructions. Whenever actively employed with the navy or whenever actively employed in authorized travel to and from prescribed activye duty with the navy, its members shall be employed as members of the naval reserve, and shall while so employed be held and considered to be in all respects in the same status as enlisted men of the navy on active duty, except that they shall not be advanced in rating in time of peace. When not actively employed with the navy, members of the naval reserve shall not be entitled to pay, bounty, gratuity or pension, except the pay expressly provided for members of the naval reserve by the provisions of this act, nor shall they be entitled to retirement, by reason of such service in the naval reserve. Enlistments shall be made in the rating in which last honorably discharged from the navy for a period of four years unless sooner discharged by competent authority. No man shall be first enlisted in the naval reserve after eight years from the date of his last discharge from the navy or unless he be found to be physically fit to perform the duties of the rating in which last discharged, nor shall any men whose last service in the navy was terminated by any means other than an honorable discharge be eligible for enlistment in the naval reserve. Re-enlistments in the naval reserve shall be made under such regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy.

"Enlistment in the naval reserve shall be made in two classes. Class one shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve within four months from the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy. Class two shall consist of those men who enlist in the naval reserve after four months and within eight years of the date of their last honorable discharge from the navy. In addition to the enlistments in the naval reserve above provided, the secretary of the navy is authorized to transfer to the naval reserve at the expiration of an enlistment any enlisted man of the navy who may, after two years from the date of approval of this act, complete service in the navy of sixteen or twenty or more years, and be entitled at the expiration of his enlistment to an honorable discharge. Such transfers shall only be made upon voluntary applications and in the rating in which then serving, and the men so transferred shall be considered in the naval reserve until discharged by competent authority.

"Members of the naval reserve of class one and men transferred to the naval reserve shall be required to keep on hand such part of the uniform clothing outfit as may be prescribed by the secretary of the war, and all members of the naval reserve shall be issued a distinctive badge or button which may be worn with civilian dress.

Payment of Men.

"Members of class one who have served less than eight years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $30 per annum, and those who have served eight or more years and less than twelve years in the navy shall be paid at the rate of $60 per annum and those who have served twelve or more years in the navy $100 per annum. All members of the naval reserve of class two shall be paid at the rate of $12 per annum, and when first called into active service on board a vessel of the navy shall receive an allowance of an outfit of clothing not exceeding $30 in value, to be expended under regulations prescribed by the secretary of the navy.

"Members of the naval reserve who have, when transferred to the naval reserve, completed service in the navy of sixteen or twenty or more years shall be paid at the rate of one-third and one-half respectively, of the base pay plus permanent additions thereto, which they were receiving at the close of their last service in the navy.

"Members of the naval reserve, in time of peace, will be required to perform not less than one month's active service on board a vessel of the navy during each year of service in the naval reserve and such active service shall not exceed two months in any one year; provided, that the aforesaid active service with the navy may be required at any time after entrance in the navy reserve. In time of war they may be required to perform active service with the navy throughout the war, not to exceed the term of enlistment in the case of those men enlisted in the naval reserve. Any pay which may be due any member of the naval reserve shall be forfeited when so ordered by the secretary of the navy upon the failure, under such conditions as may be prescribed, by the secretary of the navy, of such men to report for muster and inspection.

Rules for Gratuities.

"Those members of the naval reserve of class one and those members who have been transferred to the naval reserve, who re-enlist in the navy within four months from the date of their discharge from the naval reserve shall not be entitled to a gratuity of four months pay, but their re-enlistments in the navy shall be held and considered to have been made within four months from the date of discharge from the navy for the purpose of continuous pay. The period of time during which members of the naval reserve were actively employed in the navy while enlisted in the naval reserve shall, for the purpose of retirement, be counted as active service in the navy, in the case of those who re-enlist in the navy after service in the naval reserve. The secretary of the navy is authorized in time of war or when in the opinion of the president, war is threatened, to call any enlisted man on the retired list into active service for such duty as he may be able to perform while so employed; such enlisted men shall receive the same pay and allowances they were receiving when placed on the retired list provided, that enlisted men on the retired list shall not be eligible for enlistment in or transfer to the naval reserve."

DULUTH WILL GET BENEFIT

Requested Raise of Rates on Illinois Coal Distributes Competition.

Southern Minnesota and other points west and south in this and adjoining states are alarmed over the request of Western railroads to increase their freight rate on Illinois coal 10 cents a ton; but, according to coal and railroad men here, Duluth will benefit.

According to local men, the Milwaukee road, the Northwestern, the Burlington, the Rock Island, the Illinois Central and the Great Western have, for years, given Illinois coal the best of it into the territories where they operate and have connections with, so that Duluth, as a distributing center, has been handicapped. It is claimed that Lake Michigan ports have also had an advantage which the lake-and-rail route to Duluth could not meet; and even to such an extent that they could compete on an even basis in North Dakota, although their rail haul was twice as far.

Now the roads, it is believed, feel that they have fostered Illinois coal enough, and have determined to let it compete as best it can, so that the roads may get something out of its transportation. Heretofore Illinois coal rates have been made on a British-thermonal-heat basis, coupled with the distance, and now the roads seek to have this removed. A change, it is expected, will give this point an advantage in the territory which belongs to it, leaving the territory which belongs to the Illinois coal people, to them.

Will Pay More.

According to coal men, should the request of the roads be granted, the state of Minnesota will have to pay increased prices on about 50,000 tons of coal for various institutions. The increase will be divided as follows: Faribault, 18,000 tons; Rochester, 15,000 tons; St. Peter, 14,000 tons; Owatonna, 3,000 tons; Red Wing, 3,000 tons, and the Mankato and Winona normal schools, 1,500 tons.

A similar increase in the Illinois coal rate, allowed the railroads last May, caused an increase in the price of coal for state institutions at Hastings, Stillwater and the state university and resulted in the abandonment of the use of the Illinois product.

The towns of Southern Minnesota where the price of steam coal for commercial purposes will be increased, with the amount of consumption is about as follows: Winona, 30,000 tons; Mankato, 15,000 tons; Rochester, 12,000 tons; New Ulm, 25,000 tons; Waseca, 12,000 tons; Owatonna, 9,000 tons; Albert Lea, 8,000 tons; Austin, 10,000 tons; New Prague, 8,000 tons; Faribault, 14,000 tons; Northfield, 4,000 tons; Lake City and Wabasha, 8,000 tons; Kasota, 7,000 tons, and smaller cities in proportion.

GOVERNOR AT AKELEY.

Addresses Large Audience and Lauds State of Minnesota.

Akeley, Minn., March 29.—The closing event of the five-days successful university short course here was the address Saturday night of Governor W. S. Hammond who spoke to a large audience telling something of the greatness of the hopper state and its educational facilities.

The governor declared that one of the assets of the state was its people showing identity in blood and ancestry with the people of the thirteen colonies.

"If the revolutionary colonists accomplished so much with their limited resources, what may we not hope of the people of Minnesota of the same blood and ancestry and with almost unlimited resources?" he asked. "The colonists were able to crown their efforts with success by standing together and striving for a common end. Distinction of religious creed and ancestry were brushed aside."

The governor spoke of the work of the state university, which seeks those who cannot go to it, trying to return to the state something of real value in return for the generous treatment which it has received in the past and which it should receive in the future, saying in conclusion:

"Minnesota is big enough and prosperous enough and has a future bright enough to warrant it in furnishing its university adequate support and in furthering its purpose of becoming even more successful than it is now."

SUSPENDS RATES PENDING DECISION

An order has just been issued by the interstate commerce commission suspending the rail-lake-and-rail rates to St. Paul until July 31. This is the fourth supplemental order in the case. It dates from the putting in, by the lake-and-rail lines, of the 90-cent scale to the Twin Cities. The rates were suspended then.

The law allowed the commission to suspend the rates for 120 days, and, in view of the fact that no hearing was had within that time, under the law the commission again suspended the rates, this time for the limit of six months. No hearing being had in that time, and the time for suspension being over, the commission obtained the cancellation of the published tariffs, the roads not being inconvenienced as navigation was over then.

Now the lake-and-rail lines have issued a new tariff, applicable April 2, and this new order suspends these until a decision of the commission is issued. It is expected that the decision will be issued very soon.

TIME LIMIT IS ABOUT UP

Activities About German Cruiser Indicate Some Move in View.

Newport News, Va., March 29.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich still lay at her dock today, apparently no more prepared to make a dash for sea than at any other time during the last week, but the activities all around her convinced local officials that some definite step soon would be taken, either to intern the raider or send her out.

The elusive report, current in army and navy circles, that Commander Thierichens was ready to go, but awaited assurances that the United States would protect him within the three-mile limit from the hostile cruisers which have been blocking every lane out past the Virginia capes, would not down.

Other than two torpedo boats and one submarine, daylight disclosed no other American ships in these waters, although battleships were reported throughout the night gathering to protect American neutrality.

The time limit of the Eitel's stay was still an official secret, but there was a well-defined report that it expires within the next forty-eight hours.

Interest Renewed.

Washington, March 29.—With the time limit fixed for the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich to make repairs at Newport News nearing expiration and with the battleship Alabama on her way from Philadelphia to Hampton Roads to enforce American neutrality, interest was renewed here today in any move that Commander Thierichens of the vessel might make.

Although officials both here and at Newport News refused to discuss the situation, an atmosphere of tense expectancy surrounds the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which took refuge in Newport News after her unprecedented privateering cruise through the Atlantic and Pacific.

Today the Eitel is at anchor with smoke issuing from both her stacks. Until the last few days, there has been smoke from only one stack.

The dispatch of the battleship Alabama to Hampton Roads for neutrality duty, served to indicate that government officials may have reason to believe that the German warship will put to sea, but it was the consensus of official opinion that the cruiser will be interned.

This is regarded here as an indication that the Eitel's time limit does not expire before Tuesday.

Battleship on Way.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 29.—The battleship Alabama, which was given hurry orders Saturday night to sail to Hampton Roads to enforce American neutrality, left the Philadelphia navy yard at 9 a. m. today. The battleship is well stocked with provisions and has aboard a large supply of ammunition and coal.

ISSUES COMPACT GUIDE TO DULUTH

The publicity committee of the Commercial club has just had prepared a "Guide to Duluth," which is one of the neatest folders that the club has yet issued. Spread out, the folder presents a drive-route map of the city, showing the various points of interest. The map also gives a clear conception of the harbor and river, naming the various docks and elevators. The folders contain complete information as to ferries, excursion boats and their trips, street car lines and their distances, clubs and their locations, hotels, halls and theaters, and parks and drives, telling how to get to the parks by auto, carriage or street car.

The covers of the guide are artistically arranged with excellent pictures of scenes along the boulevard and of the Duluth entry.

The folder will be used at the club's information bureau at Fifth avenue west and Superior street and will also be sent out in reply to the many inquiries received from other cities.

STATES HIS POSITION.

John J. Jenswold Denies He Agreed to Join Committee of Hundred.

John J. Jenswold, Jr., local attorney, denied any connection with the "good government committee," which is furthering the candidacy of Hicken, Murchison, Evens and Bernard.

W. A. Eaton, chairman of the committee recently furnished the newspapers with a list of 100 Duluthians who were pledged to support the four candidates.

"Whoever furnished this information to Mr. Eaton or to the press placed me in a false light," said Mr. Jenswold. "In justice to myself and to my friends I will say that I have taken no active part in this campaign. I have not joined in, nor appeared in or with any campaign committee."

Mr. Jenswold stated that as a matter of fact he intended to vote for Mr. Farrell and Mr. Evens.

"I have been asked to support Mr. Farrell," he said, "and I have inquired into his qualifications. I believe him qualified and I intend to vote for him. I have known Mr. Evens for years and I believe that he is well qualified for the office, and I intend to vote for him. In fact I urged him to become a candidate, and again urged him to remain as such."

TRIUMPH IN THE CROSS

Christ's Greatest Victory Won Through Apparent Defeat, Says Pastor.

Christ Would Kill Satan If Man Would Let Him.

"The Triumphant Christ" was the subject of the Palm Sunday sermon preached by Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church. The services were featured by the entering into membership of the church of a class of thirteen. Dr. Hovis said, in part:

A Roman Triumph.

"When a Roman general had performed a great feat upon some foreign battlefield, the highest honor that could be conferred upon him for his prowess was that he should be decreed a triumph by the Roman senate. Soldiers in those days acted on the principle, 'To the victor belongs the spoils.' Defeated enemies were deprived of their weapons and ammunition; stripped of their armor and garments; their hands were tied behind their backs and they were made to pass under the yoke. We have preserved the Latin phrase 'subjugum' in our English word 'subjugate.' The victors carried away the treasures of the vanquished, dismantled their forts and rifled their stores that they might not be able to renew the attack. But despite the division of the spoil upon the battlefield, where each soldier and captain got his allotted share, each man looked forward with especial joy to the day of public triumph.

"Paul had evidently either seen such a triumph or read or heard of one, and, using the picture to illustrate his idea of the meaning of the cross, said of Christ, 'Having despoiled principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them.' He saw in the cross a scene of triumph. John Calvin, the celebrated Protestant reformer and theologian, shared this thought of Paul when he said, 'There is no tribunal so magnificent, no throne so stately, no show of triumph so distinguished, no chariot so elevated, as is the gibbet on which Christ has subdued death and the devil, the prince of death; nay, more, has utterly trodden them under his feet.'

Died Death of Felon.

"To the world the cross seemed but the emblem of defeat; Jesus died the death of a malefactor. He hung upon the gallows of a felon and poured out his blood upon a common mount of doom with thieves for his companions while a blasphemous rabble mocked him with ribald jest and scorn. A blacker calumny satanic malice had not the genius to invent. He yielded up his spirit in ignominy while a spiteful public jerred with sneering taunt: 'He saved others; himself he cannot save.' But in the midst of agonies unutterable, with bleeding hands, his feet rent with cruel nails, his brow pierced with jagging thorns, he won the day, triumphed gloriously, through life and immortality to light and gave good gifts to men. The cross was Christ's field of triumph.

"Christ's fight was with what Paul called in his letter to the Ephesians 'principalities and powers, and spiritual hosts of wickedness.' In his epistle to the church at Ephesus, Paul exhorts the followers of Christ to be armored against 'world rulers of this darkness'—the Greeks would have called them 'kosmokrate.' The Savior won in the conflict every heart must wage. He did not save himself. He could not and be a savior unto others. His cross is not the token of dishonor, but the badge of excellent achievement. There is no shame in any calvary except in the act of those who cause the crucifixion.

"The cross is the most conspicuous object of the ages. Christ on Calvary is the central figure of the pageant of all time. The crucifixion fulfills the prophetic hint that the seed of the woman would bruise the serpent's head and gives the world an ideal of devotion which can never be surpassed. It matters not what theory of the atonement one may hold, it is still a fact that the cross of Christ will stand as the most sublime example of triumph over death, and victory over sin. Satan met his Waterloo when the Savior uttered, "It is finished." But Calvary is a victory potential and its effects are valuable only to those who will appropriate its power.

Man's Will Sovereign.

"Man's will always sovereign unless it be enslaved. Not even Christ can save a man against his will. One's will gives him supreme authority to become the conscious author of an intentional act. The character of our deeds depends upon the power that holds dominion in our lives. As one thinketh in his heart so is he. When one's mind accords with the mind of Christ, one's actions will be Christlike. When wrong sits on the throne of the human heart, it is not because it doesn't have a chance. The evil in me will never be overcome with good until I will it so.

"The devil with which men have to do will not be killed until men want him killed. His presence is a matter of sufferance. The battle has been fought and his defeat has been recorded. He is under suspended sentence, but the devil in Duluth will never die until the people kill him. God seldom works a miracle to coerce men into virtue. The means of victory are at hand if only men will use them. Right falls through non-support and not inherent weakness. The fact that evil is abroad does not nullify the statement that the son of man triumphantly spoiled principalities and powers and made a show of them openly. Sin would be short-lived if met by the spirit of Calvary.

Triumph Through Cross.

"The way of the cross is the way of triumph. The royal road to the throne-room leads hard by Calvary. He who does not bear the cross can never worthily wear the crown. Thomas A. Kempis says in his 'Imitation of Christ' that the whole life of Christ was a cross and a martyrdom and adds, 'That seemeth a hard saying to many, if a man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me,' but it will be much harder to hear that final sentence, 'Depart from me, ye wicked.' There is no health of soul or hope of life eternal that has no portion in the cross of Christ."

May Have Got Submarine.

London, March 29.—The railway packet, City of Brussels, encountered a German submarine yesterday. The captain of the steamer immediately took the aggressive and fired on the submarine, which, taken by surprise, started to submerge. The captain turned his steamer quickly in an effort to ram the submarine and he believes he succeeded in sinking it. His vessel was going sixteen knots at the time.

VICARIOUS ATONEMENT

Christ Did Not Preach Such a Doctrine, Says Pastor.

No Short Cut to Heaven Is Shown in His Teachings.

"Christian Salvation and the Salvation of Christ" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. George R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church yesterday.

"The doctrine of the atonement, as still held by most churches, is resting upon the teachings of Paul," he said. "But while we may recognize the greatness of the apostle and admit that his teaching made possible the church, we need not accept his theory of salvation as infallible. Yes, I dare say, that Paul, if he lived in our day, would hardly accept his own theory. Indeed, it is a testimony of weakness if men of the twentieth century have to go for their philosophy of life to Paul, who lived in the first century, in a mental and moral atmosphere much different from ours. If we be true to ourselves, believe in God's spirit within us, we must interpret not only our own life and work, but the life and work of the great, good Master in our own way. We have certainly a perfect right to test the theories of the apostle and follow his own noble advice: 'Quench not the spirit; prove all things.'

"It is in this spirit of reverent freedom in which the liberal thinker will approach the question of salvation. He will first ask, is there any need of salvation, and if so, of what kind. And if he discards the traditions, if he thinks rationally, he will hardly accept the old doctrine of the church. He will realize that man is not a fallen creature, but one that has risen not merely physically and mentally, but morally. The very Christ is proof to him, that we are not a fallen race, but that abundant good is in man, which is but waiting for the touch of inspiration to set his heart aflame with noble desires. Yes, he says, there is evil and sin in the world, and salvation is, therefore, no idle phrase; but believing in the fatherhood of God, we must believe that in our own souls is the power of salvation. No vicarious atonement is needed for the child of God. Each must atone for his own sin, and our Father in heaven is ever ready to accept the sacrifice of the contrite heart. And what in the end has that doctrine of salvation achieved these hundreds of years? Has it saved the world from evil? Are our churches communions of saints, and where is the new man in Christ, of whom Paul dreams in his philosophy? You may go the world over, and though you may find dear, good people in the church of Christ, you will hardly see one who has attained perfection.

Differnt Doctrine.

"And now, if that mystical belief in Christ can not save us from sinful desires, how will it save us from the consequences of sin, which may be painful, but which yet God has ordained in his mercy. No, my friends no shibboleth of belief will open the gates of eternal life for us. And if we turn from Paul and his sophistry and go to him, who is called the way of life, we find a very different doctrine of salvation.

"True, Christ identifies His teaching with His own person; He felt that He lived the life at faith and love; He knew, that what He was in Himself inspired above all life in men. But at the same time, He declared again and again, that we must work out our own salvation and that there is no shortcut to heaven. Yes, Jesus himself is but a heretic, at least in so far as He did not preach the doctrines that Paul and Luther and Calvin preached after Him in his name. Ah, he believed in salvation, but He did not tell his hearers that salvation would be theirs if only they would press the button of belief in His saviorship. Go and listen to Him, as He speaks to the people on mountain or by seashore, and you will find that He is simply the preacher of a righteousness which roots in love to God and man. He gave them of His own life, the best that was in Him, that in them life of God might be kindled, and thus by arousing the God-life He atoned them with God. But that God-life is simply the good life, the life of love; therefore when the lawyer asks Him, 'how then may I inherit eternal life?' He tells him to love God and love his neighbor in deed and in truth. He tells him no story of the blood and the lamb. No; He simply shows him the way that alone leads to eternal life. But if Jesus was right, then the doctrine of the church certainly is not. And if Paul and the churches are right, well then Jesus the teacher was a blind leader of the blind.

"To the reasoning man, to him who trusts the spirit within, there is no doubt. Jesus the teacher, the inspirer, said words of life. In loving God and in loving our neighbor is eternal life, and there is no other way of salvation."

COMING OF CHRIST OFTEN FORETOLD

Adventist Pastor Declares Birth of Jesus Fulfilled Scriptural Prophecies.

Pastor Stemple White spoke to a large audience last night at the Seventh Day Adventist church, Sixth street and Tenth avenue east, on "What Think Ye of Christ?" He said in part:

"John the beloved declared that the holy scriptures were written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the son of God; and that believing, ye might have life through his name. Like a golden thread running clear through the Book of God, from Genesis to Revelation, is the eternal truth of the divinity of Jesus Christ, from whose birth in the flesh, all time is reckoned today. In unfolding the plan of redemption through the ages, the origin of holy scripture and the prophecies concerning the coming Redeemer, went along hand in hand. Adam was promised a seed; through Jacob, God revealed the very time when Shiloh would come; through many prophets, God foretold of a 'child' to be born, of a 'virgin,' in 'Bethlehem,' of the 'flight to Egypt;' Daniel foretold the very year of His baptism, after which Jesus plainly declared 'the time is fulfilled.'

"The very text of His first public address was prophetically announced; His entry into Jerusalem on an unbroken colt. His very betrayal and price of thirty pieces of silver, His manner of death, place of burial, and many other details were all most plainly foretold in holy writ. The messiah was to come of the seed of Abraham. But Abraham had two sons! Yes, But 'in Isaac shall thy seed be called.' But Isaac had two sons! Through Jacob was Jesus to come. But Jacob had twelve sons! Judah was to be in the line of descent, and on down through the ages came the 'stem of Jesse.' But Jesse had eight boys! Yes, but Jesus was to be the 'son of David,' and so on down through the stream of time the very lineage was prophetically photographed.

"Finally 'God sent forth His Son, born of a woman' in the Bethlehem manger, and from cradle to grave, from resurrection and ascension to the heavenly sanctuary as our Mediator, coming King, and eternal Immanuel and Melchizedek in the new earth, the work of human redemption was, is, and will be completely finished according to holy scripture.

"Lo at His birth, angels announced His divinity; Simeon the prophet and Annas, the prophetess, gladly witnessed to it; the three wise men were led by a star; the greatest prophet born of woman pointed Jesus out as the 'Lamb of God'; the Father declared with audible voice, both at the Jordan baptism, and at the transfiguration scene that 'this is my beloved son'; Jesus himself declared 'I am he'; every repentant sinner believed it; and even the very devils declared with a loud voice that Jesus was the 'holy One of God,' the 'Son of God.'

"All nature most tremblingly testified to it all in mourning, as Jesus hung upon the cross, and in the very first sermon after the resurrection, preaching to the two disciples on the Emmaus road, Jesus began at Moses, going through all the prophets and the Psalms, showing the minute fulfilment of divine prophecy. Clothing divinity in humanity, and being tempted in all points like as we, yet without sin, that he might be a faithful High Priest and personal Savior,—this is the Christ of the Bible.

"In these days, while Jesus is variously looked upon as a myth, an imposter, as a common man only, as a labor agitator against capital, as a medium, spirit and clairvoyant, as a polygamist, as a politician, as a mere human healer, or as a means of commercialism, it is well that the same question that Jesus put to the Pharisees of old, be put to every individual today, 'What think ye of Christ?'"

PERMANENT WHEN GOD IS BEHIND IT

Dr. Johnson, at St. Paul's, Declares Religious Development Marvelous.

Rev. Irvine P. Johnson, D. D., professor of church history in the divinity school at Faribault, is assisting Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church during the Holy week services, preached the morning sermon yesterday.

"Religion is neither an internal spasm nor a medical cult," said he during his discourse. "The religion of the Jews is a permanent one because it has God back of it. The religions of the earlier days which passed—lacking the divine spirit—were only transitory things which did not meet the needs of mankind."

The speaker declared that the religious development of the past has been a marvelous thing and that the same will be true of the development of the religious life and faith which is to come.

THRILLS FOR BABY CHARLES

Seven Months'-Old Infant Figures in Early Morning Fire.

Child Has Had Series of Adventures, Beginning in War Zone.

A thrilling escape from a fire early yesterday morning at the home of Axel Ronnback, 5121 Peabody street, Lakeside, culminated a series of hairbreadth escapes for Baby Charles Ronnback, aged 7 months. The uncle, Axel Ronnback, also featured in the incident by running three and a half blocks clad only in night clothes and barefoot, to give the alarm at No. 6 engine house at 2:06 o'clock.

Baby Charles was born in Finland last July, but owing to unsettled conditions, due to the European war, his parents decided to come to America. The family with Baby Charles, then a tiny infant, sailed through the North sea, and after dodging mines and running chances of being held up by cruisers, finally reached America and Duluth. Since Christmas they have been living with Mr. and Mrs. Axel Ronnback.

In the fire yesterday morning, which burst forth suddenly, the family had a narrow escape. Mr. Ronnback was awakened by smoke, and rushing downstairs, discovered the kitchen in a mass of flames. Mrs. Ronnback escaped by being taken through a window and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Ronnback, and Baby Charles were taken from the burning building with difficulty. The baby's father was out of the city at the time of the fire. The fire, which caused a loss of about $2,000, partly covered by insurance, was started from an overheated range.

Four other small blazes, three of them grass fires, called out apparatus Saturday and Sunday. At 9:32 Sunday morning sparks from a chimney caused $25 damage to the roof of a house at 4519 Cambridge street, Lakeside.

Apparatus from engine company No. 2 went to Seventeenth avenue west and Third street early Saturday afternoon to quell a grass fire. A few minutes later hose company No. 1 responded to an alarm from Fourteenth avenue west and Third street, and at 3:44 p. m. apparatus from No. 6 extinguished a grass fire at Forty-second avenue east and Luverne street.

For Law Enforcement.

Fargo, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo's Community club will effect a permanent organization this evening. The preliminary steps were taken some time ago following a series of addresses along better law enforcement and purer manhood lines.

Marquette, Mich., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were held this morning from St. Johns for Daniel Reynolds, age 44, who lived here off and on for several years and who died suddenly Friday night in St. Mary's hospital just after he had returned from Duluth.

DULUTH BRIDE ON HER FAVORITE HUNTING HORSE

MRS. FRANCIS PHILIP SEARS.

The accompanying photograph of Mrs. Francis Philip Sears, formerly Miss Marie Merrill, whose wedding took place Saturday afternoon, was taken while she was riding one of her favorite horses at Pau, in the south of France.

While Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Merrill and their daughters, Miss Betty and Mrs. Sears, were living abroad, Mrs. Merrill took her daughters to the south of France for two seasons to follow the Pau hounds. The Pau hunt is acknowledged to be the best in Europe outside of England, and attracts lovers of the sport from many lands. The Misses Merrill took the honors of the chase many times.

While in Europe at that time Mrs. Sears was presented to the kaiser at Kiel. In the party at that time was Prince Egan Ratibor, a relative of the kaiser's, who has been in Duluth several times during the last three years.

Dinner-Dance for Bridal Party.

Ronald Lyman, Arthur Childs and Richard Sears of Boston entertained the members of the Merrill-Sears bridal party and a few additional guests at a dinner dance at the Kitchi Gammi club Saturday evening. Miller's orchestra played. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Merrill.
Mrs. A. B. Wolvin.
Misses—

The members of the dinner party joined the members of the Merrill-Sears bridal party for a dancing party at the Kitchi Gammi club. Seated with Miss Barnett were:

Misses—

Large Audience Hears Dubois' Famous Cantata.

Dubois' contata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" attracted a large audience to Pilgrim Congregational church yesterday afternoon. Before the pre-vesper organ recital by Miss Faith Helen Rogers began at 4:15 o'clock the crowd was so large that many persons were compelled to stand. The success of the presentation of this cantata last year was so marked that it was decided to repeat it this Palm Sunday.

The introduction and "Good Friday Spell," from Wagner's "Parsifal" were given as an organ number by Miss Rogers.

Mrs. Walter Adams assisted by Miss Florence Hyland sang the prophetic introduction, and John Koneczny and George Sabel, the tenor and baritone soloists, sang the seven last words of Christ. Miss Louella Gleason was at the organ, and Mrs. Wayne E. Richardson at the piano.

The usual organ postlude was omitted, the audience departing after hearing the impressive cantata.

Johnson-Hansen.

Miss Beda Johnson and Charles Hansen of Everest, Kan., were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Berg, 1015 East Ninth street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. W. Linder in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

Miss Emma Ellston was the bridesmaid and Harry Hansen, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Little Mildred Julin carried a basket of flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansen left today for Everest, Kan., where they will make their home.

LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY.

Muriel Cole, Child Actress, Appears in Title Role.

Duluthians who have a fondness for little Muriel Cole—and they are legion—and those who wish to see Homer Barton at his very best, should visit the Lyceum this week and enjoy "Little Lord Fauntleroy," a play based on the famous story by Mrs. Francis Hodgson Burnett, which received its first presentation Sunday matinee by the Baldwin Players. It is an extremely interesting little play, full of pathos, with an abundance of merriment interwoven.

Muriel Cole, aside from Barton, is the central figure of the play. Her "lines" this week cause the child actress to talk almost continuously throughout the play, and the manner of her rendition is little short of wonderful. Rarely does she make a verbal stumble.

Barton, lost in the best make-up he yet has shown in Duluth, is the soured, disappointed, peevish and, later, the good old earl of Dorincourt, in love with his half-noble grandson, Cedric Errol, the latter born of an English noble father, son of the old earl, and an American girl—"Dearest," as the child calls her. She, in turn, through her womanliness and sweet disposition, gains a share of the old earl's affection, thus ending the story happily.

De Stephani plays, with his usual talent, the able solicitor of the old earl. William Donovan is the grocer, friend in America of the little Lord Fauntleroy, and suspicious of the English nobility, especially of "females."

Chester McLeod, as the bootblack Dick, is another chum of the child in America. It is Dick who, on a visit to England to see his little pal, unmasks the adventures of the play. Minna, who seeks to place upon the Lord Fauntleroy estate her child by a husband previous to her marriage to one of the old earl's sons. The ungrateful part of Minna is capably played by Miss Margaret Lotus, who was welcomed back to the company after a week's vacation.

As the widow of Capt. Errol, son of the earl, and as mother of the little lord, Doris Olsson, displaying a keen appreciation of her sorrowful position, finds no difficulty in rising to the task of releasing her son to his higher calling across the seas—for his good, if for her misery. Miss Olsson works hard at all times; is conscientious and seldom fails to give herself completely to the part in which she finds herself cast.

William Mortimer and Helen Keers have small parts this week. Al Smith is the old earl's footman—takes care of the old gent's gouty foot—and Mr. Smith drops his "h's" with creditable precision.

The play will run until Friday, when a road show takes the boards. Next week's offering by the Baldwinians is "Within the Law," which, according to the foreword issued by the stock company, will be their greatest production in Duluth.

"Potash and Perlmutter."

Potash and Perlmutter, the most famous cloak and suit laugh makers in the world, have left their quarters in the Cohan theater, New York city, after two remarkable seasons, and are making a tour of the country to display their goods to millions of patrons who could not get to New York to see them. They will open up shop at the Lyceum on Friday evening, but their stay is limited to two nights and a matinee; therefore, it is advisable to put in orders in advance.

A. H. Woods, who put the boys into business, is sending along with them, not only all their original designs, but, in fact, their entire staff, including designers, models, cutters, pressers, salesmen, lawyer and even their friends and family. Their tour, so far, has been a triumphant one, for Abe and Morris are known everywhere by reputation as fine fellows, as lovable as they are laughable—keen business men, but with hearts of gold. Their visit should be a notable event in Duluth's theatrical season.

Lola May at the Zelda.

Lola May, formerly leading woman of the Baldwin Players, appears in the big five-act production, "The Lure," that is playing its first day at the Zelda theater. The play has been censored by the national board of censorship, as well as approved by ministers and social reform workers. It tells a story that not only has an appeal to the emotions, but discloses conditions as they really exist in many cities. Mr. Mistachkin, the manager of the Zelda, has issued instructions prohibiting the sale of tickets to anyone under 16 years of age unless a permit is presented from the parent or guardian. It will be shown for three days only unless the management can make arrangements to hold it over for the full week. Otherwise the engagement will end Wednesday night.

Something New Under the Sun.

Something new will be at the Lyric for one whole week beginning today. The first and only motion pictures ever made at the bottom of the ocean are being shown. The pictures open with scenes showing the native divers plunging from their boats to follow to the bottom of the crystal sea the coins thrown to them by tourists on an ocean liner. The audience is taken under the ocean in the steel submarine chamber where, through a flawless glass panel, can be seen divers scrambling for pennies on the bed of the ocean. Then begins a marvelous submarine journey of thirty leagues along the floor of the ocean that is like the realization of an engrossing fairy tale. During this exciting journey you visit the world famous marine gardens of the Bahamas and wonders too numerous to mention here—most of which no human eye—not even those of the deep-sea diver has ever seen.

It will be at the Lyric one whole week, beginning today.

At the Grand.

Commencing with its well-blended orchestra of excellent musicians, the new bill opening at the popular New Grand this afternoon promises to be an exceptionally diverting and enjoyable entertainment.

The spotlight position seems to be pretty well divided, with dainty, charming Frances Dyer having just a shade the best of it. Miss Dyer is endowed with a wonderful voice and magnetic personality, and a wardrobe of exceptional gowns and a repertoire of new song numbers add to her offering.

Gaines and Brown, late stars of the "Darktown Follies," promise to be one of the comedy surprises of the season.

Archi Onri, juggling genius, assisted by Miss Dolly in a series of juggling eccentricities, offers a diversion that promises to be both unique and original.

The Four Flying Valentinos offer a daring and thrilling casting exhibition with an element of comedy that is refreshing. Many dangerous and sensational feats are accomplished with ease by these intrepid athletes.

The photoplay feature, "The Hermit of Bird Island," is in three reels and tells a romantic story in a delightful manner. "Postponed," a comedy; "When the Fates Spin," a drama, and one of the George Ade fables, "The Fable of the City Grafter and the Unprotected Rubes," complete the bill.

"From Valley of the Missing."

An all-star cast headed by Jane Miller, daughter of the state treasurer of Missouri and formerly leading woman with the mammoth production of "Life" at the Manhattan opera house, New York city, is seen in "From the Valley of the Missing," a picture version of Grace Miller White's world-famous novel, made for the Fox Film corporation, at the Rex today. The picture, which is produced by Frank Powell, calls for artists of unusual ability. Ordinary "motion-picture" actors would have been utterly unable to cope with "From the Valley of the Missing." People of exceptional ability, therefore, had to be engaged, for the picture deals with almost every conceivable type from rough men and women of the river barges to the governor of the state and the most fashionable society of New York and Washington.

Jane Miller plays Ann Shellington with great charm and distinction and all the great ability she displayed in "Life," a performance which was acclaimed by the press of the metropolis. Arleen Hackett contributes a wonderfully powerful character study as "Scraggy," the unfortunate woman of the river, the poor forlorn creature whose life is one long tragedy.

Wooltex Tailored Suits

FOR

Distinguished Easter Service

THE more important the occasion, the more vital it is to avail yourself of the superior elegance of Wooltex garments. The woman of unlimited means who goes to her custom tailor for her Easter suit seldom has any interest in the latest whim of fashion, but the features that command her largest interest are exactly the qualities which distinguish Wooltex suits from the usual ready-to-wear garment.

Here are refinement of style, elegance of materials, thorough and careful workmanship, graceful and becoming lines, with a permanency that is secured by careful hand-tailoring at all the vital points.

The picture illustrates a handsome adaptation of a new Premet Paris model. The jacket is cut away in front showing vest of contrasting silk, and is slashed at the sides. Materials are gabardine, poplin and shepherd checks.

Price, $37.50.

Other Wooltex suits at $25.00 to $45.00.

JEWISH PASSOVER IS OBSERVED

"Independence Day" Celebration Will Continue for Seven Days.

Duluth Jews will begin the observance of the Passover at sundown tonight and services will be continued for seven days. This event in Hebrew history is observed throughout the world wherever Jews reside.

The Feast of the Passover commemorates the exodus of the Jews from Egypt, and is often considered by historians as the first event in Jewish national history. It is also called "Independence day."

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Humility Has Its Limitations.

Humility is a mistake in a married woman says one who has been having trouble with her spouse. Here is what she says on the subject. "If your husband talks mean to you, talk meaner and if he is cold be even colder. If he is sullen and morose, be more so, and if he stays out late at night, stay out just as late as he does. If he flirts with women, why you flirt with men. In fewer words, go him one better every time and he will soon come to his senses."

That humility in a wife or any woman, married or single, which makes it possible for some man to make her so abjectly miserable that she is unable to hide her misery, is a thing that grows tiresome to everyone. Almost every man admires a becoming spirit in a woman, and, though some of these women have found that it pays to sham humility at times by deferring to the opinions and wishes of their husbands, real humility does not pay in the long run.

The wife whose husband stays out until the wee small hours is usually less favorably affected by tears than he by a lecture in no uncertain tones at 3 in the morning from the partner of his joys. Both irritate him beyond words but he can talk back to the woman who will talk to him and think of things to say that are as mean as anything that she can hit upon. This relieves him as it relieves her, and afterward they are both in a better frame of mind to patch up their differences.

—Sometimes a quiet dignity in bearing indignities has caused a man to change his habits; sometimes a cloak of indifference is effectual in bringing a man to a more considerate manner of treatment of the woman he has sworn to love and protect. A discreet and clever woman might have used the means of retaliation in kind with success but it offers too many elements of danger. Too many women, for instance, would lose in their own self-esteem if because their husbands flirted they followed suit. No sensible or self-respecting woman would stay out until the early morning hours simply because her husband was a night owl.

If a husband is not inclined to treat his wife properly there is very little that will influence him to do so. Certainly not actions that put him to shame. Tears, lamentations and nagging are also of no avail as armies of women have found out. More men have been won over to decency by kind, considerate treatment from their wives than by any other way. One may interest themselves in congenial affairs and live to some purpose when womanly methods fail, and if life is still unendurable, there is as a very last resort, the courts of law, where freedom from irksome bonds and almost brute treatment may be obtained.

COMPOSER HEARS DULUTH QUARTET SING HER SONGS

Among those who heard the Scottish Rite quartet sing "Love Me While You May" at the Masonic concert yesterday afternoon was Genevieve Farnell Bond of Los Angeles, the composer of the song. Mrs. Bond wrote it as a vocal solo but A. F. M. Custance arranged it for the quartet. Other songs to her credit are "Song of Love," "Over the Rose Leaf Way" and "Kiss Me, You." "Words and the harmonies come right along with the melody and all must be in agreement before I find them acceptable," she says.

She has written the libretto, lyrics and a few musical numbers for an opera. A well known composer of New York who was to have supplied the big concerted numbers and ensembles failed to fulfill his part of the contract and by the time his music was ready it was necessary to change the plans of producing the play and putting it on the road. At the suggestion of A. G. Bainbridge of Minneapolis, who was to have produced the opera, Mrs. Bond has put it into dramatic form but as it deals with war the presentation has been postponed.

But songs and an opera are not all Mrs. Bond has written for she is the author of a recently published book of verse, "The Faun and Other Poems" with a preface by Edwin Markham. She has held responsible positions on New York and Los Angeles newspapers and for some time was literary editor on the Los Angeles Star and did critical work covering art, music and the drama on that paper for which she is still a correspondent.

Mrs. Bond, who is in Duluth on musical business, said this morning, "In proportion to the population Duluth is much more musical than larger cities I have visited. When you get off the train you can see that the people look hospitable; I don't know just how to express it, but anyhow they're good to see, and better still, good to know."

Mrs. Bond represents the National Musicians' directory that has been indorsed by William McPhail, president of the Musicians' Association of Minneapolis.

AN UNSOLVABLE MYSTERY.

Probably the details of the fate of the submarine F-4 will always remain an unsolved and unsolvable mystery. The hull may be found and raised, but indications are, according to naval men, that the craft has been leaking since the efforts at rescue began, and so it will be impossible to tell at what point the water first entered, if leakage was the cause of the loss.

It is altogether likely that there will always be an element of doubt involved in the history of the affair. And yet, such is the mental makeup of the human race, that very element of uncertain peril will spur many to experiment with the making and operating of submarines, and thus the F-4's trouble may be remedied even without actual knowledge of what it was.

Of the horror of the fate of the crew of the F-4 there can be no question. The imagination cannot avoid picturing these men as being drowned like rats in a submerged trap. The fiction writer will seize on the event and surround the tragedy with all the vividness of horror that he can command, and it is altogether probable that the movies will present a scene to illustrate the fate of these twenty-five. One thing is sure—that the nation will not be allowed to lack for interpretations of the horror of the affair.

And meanwhile there will be another element urging that we build more submarines, even with our present imperfect knowledge, so that we can sacrifice more men in this same way, or failing in that, can train our own crews to bring such a fate to men of other nations if their government and ours should chance to disagree about something.

Odd that the releasing of these grand opera stars should have been coincident with Italy's growing determination to mix in.

ARE MEN GROWING WISER?

Among the most striking developments in the season's costuming effects is the increasing tendency to add color to the makeup of masculine garments. How this trend would have delighted Mark Twain, could he have but lived to see and take advantage of it! In several of his writings, but especially in his later book "Following the Equator," he mourns over the accustomed sombreness of masculine attire, and declares the natural love of color shown by barbarians is being smothered by civilization, and without any compensating return to mankind.

If the present tendency develops logically, it may not be many years before men will begin to appear in public with the rainbow hues sprinkled about various parts of their person. It may take a few years of taste-development to make such a change practical and to get desirable results, but "art is long," as somebody has said, and if art, in this way, can make an assemblage of human beings any more agreeable to look at than is now the case, then let art "go to it" by all and any means possible.

Really, it isn't such a terrible thing, when you think of it. Don't you, honestly, like to see those plays in which the men are dressed in the colors and styles of colonial times? Don't you, if you are of masculine persuasion, remember times when you have thought that you would like to dress that way yourself if you could do it without attracting too much attention and ridicule?

Even the knickerbockers are said to be coming back this year. Think of the comfort of wearing articles like those, that never had to be pressed because if they were the creases would all disappear as soon as you had squeezed your husky legs into the garment. And certainly an outfit like that of the time of Washington would add dignity rather than detract it in the case of a man who had occasion to put his feet on the desk and slumber through a long period of time-killing congressional debate.

Love of color is instinctive in the human race, and the former costumes of men were much more adaptable to the use of colored fabrics than are those of today. Maybe men are really getting wiser, and more ready to concede something to attractiveness even in their dress.

Adams county, Ohio, voters were a lot of cheap pikers compared with the Terre Haute outfit.

MUSIC IN DULUTH.

Does Duluth like good music? Rather. The two series of concerts that have just closed—one at the Masonic temple and one at the Central high school—have drawn crowd after crowd throughout the season, and the outlook is excellent for the attendance at the coming concerts here by the Minneapolis symphony orchestra.

All of which raises the question, What is Duluth going to do about music next season?

There are several possibilities. One is to let things go on their present haphazard basis, with much energy here and there and spasmodic interest in the successive parts of the city. This will give us a series of concerts here and another series there, with such co-operation as to dates and programs as may be possible.

Another is to make arrangements, through some local organization, for the presentation during the winter of a series of concerts by outside talent. This, except so far as performers were concerned, would mean much work for local people, with much uncertainty as to financial returns.

Another plan is to combine the musical organizations of Duluth under common leadership for the presentation of at least one great program—an oratorio, perhaps—in which would be represented not only the now scattered vocal bodies, but also the instrumental organizations.

This last plan has many advantages over either of the others, though it involves much more effort on the part of local people. At the same time it would advertise itself more thoroughly, and under competent training such an association could give, without the aid of outside talent, an entertainment or series of entertainments that would command appreciation from all.

Duluth likes good music, and Duluth has people capable of rendering good music. It would at least be a good plan for leaders in local musical affairs to talk over the possibilities of this last plan. Its operation would be good for Duluth in more ways than one.

No baseball team ever won that went into the season confident of being beaten.

WE ARE WAKING UP.

We are waking up, we people of Minnesota, and the passage by the state senate of the Nord bill is proof of that fact. Perhaps the bill won't get through the house at this session—but on the other hand, perhaps it will. We are waking up, and under such conditions there is no certainty that we won't make just as good use as possible of our new consciousness.

The Nord bill is a step toward the development by the state of the natural resources which the state makes it difficult or impossible for anybody else to develop, or which nobody else would develop as well. For years there have been efforts to get the legislature to pass some such bill, but always there has been some opposition that was able to prevent the action.

With a growing knowledge and recognition of the things Minnesota could do with her timber, swamp and arable lands, we are getting to the point where we are willing to exert a little effort now in order that those who come afterus may reap the benefits.

Parents will undergo almost any sacrifice or deprivation in order that their children may later on enjoy the advantages of their efforts; but it is only within recent years that there has been any widespread recognition of the fact that our public course today may exert a tremendous influence on the generations of citizenry that will follow us. Now realization is becoming strong enough to stir us to action, and the result is bound to be a better and richer and more and more progressive state as the years go by.

We are waking up not merely to the fact of opportunity to help others, but to the fact that we and our times are but a part of the total hisory and existence of Minnesota and her people. And as that realization progresses, we are becoming more ready to do our part in bringing about the final greatness of our state. Truly we are waking up.

Somebody has made the remark that you can judge the caliber of the voters by the caliber of the men elected. How about it?

Bluejacket Sportsmanship.

Henry Reuterdahl in Everybody's Magazine: When the survivors of the submarined British cruisers Cressy, Hogue and Aboukir were brought to Harwich I talked to many of them. These fellows had been in the water for hours. They had lost their ships and their mates, 1,200 in all. I expected curses on the Germans—hard words. Instead, Jack's first say was: "The Dutchers did a fine job. They got us all."

Nailed Shield on Constantinople Gate

From the Kansas City Times.

When the last Moslem soldier has fired his last shot in the defense of Constantinople and the troops of the allies march in triumph to the Sublime Porte, somewhere in the Russian contingent of that procession will be carried a round steel shield, a replica of the kind Slav warriors used ten centuries ago!

The shield of Oleg will have come back to the resting place that doughty warrior king won for it ages ago!

In the legend of Oleg's shield the Russian of today finds the earliest substantiation for his claim that the czar should rule in Constantinople. Oleg led his horses down the rivers of the Black Sea in 907 A. D. Constantinople was ashiver. It was besieged for weeks. Like the wolves of his native forests, Oleg snapped at the city's outer defenses. He swept everything aside except the main wall. There the wave of Russians was halted. But not before Oleg had nailed his shield up to the city's Golden Gate and wrung from Leo VI, a descendant of the Isaurian adventurer who won the Byzantine throne two centuries before, a promise of tribute.

The shield hung where Oleg had nailed it until Byzantium had recouped its strength and announced itself free of Russian ownership.

Since then no Russian soldier has hammered at the gates of Constantinople. Byzantine mercenary and Turkish janissary have stopped him in all his many lunges at the Golden Horn.

But the Russian never forgot! The tale of Oleg and his shield has come down from father to son through all the generations of ten centuries. It was the symbol that Russia's dream of an open Black Sea was once near realization.

Time has added many fancies to the face of Oleg's campaign against the weak willed Leo. Historians have despaired of separating them. But it is certain that Oleg headed a vast army which he led to the gates of Constantinople and forced Byzantium to acknowledge him as a sort of overlord.

Tradition has it that he sailed from the mouth of the Don in a fleet of boats so numerous that they hid the waters of the Black Sea from "the eagle's eye."

They drove the Byzantine troops back on their main defenses. The fleet entered the Bosporus and assaults were made on Constantinople. But the engineers of Byzantine had builded well. The walls could not be breached. Oleg was in despair. His expedition promised to fail. His untamed warriors, used to rough fighting and quick victory, were not suited to siege methods. No discipline could keep them long content. They left the ships in bands and prowled over the country side on plundering expeditions.

Oleg saw that if he could get his ships into the Sea of Marmora he would have a better chance to win. He tried to run by the city's defenses. Chains and barricades stopped him.

Then he conceived the plan of beaching his ships on the Black Sea coast back of Constantinople. There wheels were fitted to them and he sailed across the Tchatalja line and launched them again in Marmora.

Constantinople was astounded. Before it could recover Oleg was nailing his shield on the gates and Leo VI had promised to pay a tribute to the savage chieftain in return for a guaranty of the city's safety.

"Going West"

New York Independent: From the publication of letters from the British soldiers at the front it appears that they are using the expression "Going West" as a euphemism for dying. This has started a discussion of its origin.

For instance, a subaltern claimed that it originated in his battalion at maneuvers when "a staff offier, complete with eyeglass, galloped past and in a high pitched and fruity voice shouted to the commanding officer: "Tell the general that I have gone west." This, says this subaltern, so amused the soldiers, though even he cannot say why, that it came to be camp slang for "passing away." Another youthful soldier said it came from a bivouac song, "Drake Goes West."

But when the letters from the local antiquarians came in it was shown that the phrase was used in East London, West Clark and the Midlands and dated from the fourteenth century, at least, as the old rhyme says:

Women and mony wilsome wight
As wynd and wattir ar gane west.

Then the classicists and archaeologists took it up and traced it back to the Odyssey, Egypt, Babylonia, Australia and Fiji. Although Longfellow is classed among the "British poets" and is as much read oversea as in this country, nobody seems to have quoted the closing lines of "Hiawatha":

Westward, westward Hiawatha
Sailed into the fiery sunset,
Sailed into the purple vapors,
Sailed into the dusk of evening.
Thus departed Hiawatha,
In the glory of the sunset,
In the purple mists of evening,
To the regions of the home wind,
To the Islands of the Blessed,
To the kingdom of Ponemah,
To the land of the Hereafter.

But the conception is so natural and poetic that it may well have a polyphyletic origin. The Russian soldiers are more specific and say that a comrade has "gone to America" when he is dead. In this case the phrase has probably arisen recently from the great emigration to this country. As we know from "Water Babies" the Fairy Isle of St. Brandon was in the west; so was the lost Atlantis, and of course the Hesperides.

"Unto Hesperian isles, unto Ansonian shores," says Longfellow in his "Elegiac." Possibly the expression is in colloquial use in some parts of the United States, but we do not recall ever having heard it. Its present vogue in the British trenches may have come from the fact that those wounded at the front are taken west by the hospital corps in the rear.

The Game Is Not for Man Alone.

John Burroughs in the North American Review: The intelligence that appears to pervade the organic world and that reaches its conscious expression in the brain of man is just as manifest in all the forms of animals and plants that are inimical to him—in all his natural enemies—venomous snakes and beasts of prey, and insect pests—as in anything else. Nature is as wise and solicitous for rats and mice as for men. In fact, she has endowed many of the lower creatures with physical powers that she has denied him. Evidently man is only one of the cards in her pack, doubtless the highest one, but the game is not played for him alone.

That Pretty.

Girls and Homes

Of the hundreds of letters that reach me in my weekly mail, one note seems to repeat itself more frequently. That appeal comes from the girl or woman who has not been taught how to keep house. One most pathetic letter came the other day from a young woman with three children, who said that before her marriage she had been employed in business, that her mother, although a good housekeeper herself, had never taken trouble to show her what she knew. After her marriage and before she really had time to learn and adjust herself to her new home life, her time was demanded by three babies, who followed each other rapidly, and who further complicated her problem. She wants to conduct her home well and economically, but she doesn't know how, and marriage has not given her time to learn. She asks, "What can I do about it?"

The time to do something was long before this girl was married. She cannot be blamed now for the lack of training she should have received in home-making before she was forced to face actual conditions. We would not expect an architect to build a house, or a doctor to diagnose a case, or a man to conduct any kind of business successfully without training and instruction. Yet there is a great deal of strong criticism against the poor and slovenly home-maker, and the popular impression seems to be, or at least has been until the present, that women can become home-makers by intuition, or that every woman born is naturally a good cook, a fine housekeeper and a commendable mother.

We are just beginning to see that if a woman is going to be a successful home-maker she must receive special instruction and training for it, and the place for that training, in my opinion, is the school, both public and private. Some protest that the mother should teach her daughter, but even though we dislike to admit it, it is true that frequently children learn far better from outsiders than from those of their own family. Again, some of the best mothers are so expert that they refuse to endure the mistakes and the apprenticeship of their daughters in home-making study.

"Mother won't let me go into the kitchen" is the complaint of more than one daughter. Frequently, too, the presence of servants makes it impossible or undesirable for the daughter of the house to receive much training at home. So that we look to the outside school as the fitting place for girls to receive home-making instruction.

The rise and increase in number of cooking classes for girls of all ages testifies to the interest which this branch alone arouses. Even a girl of 12 can be taught to cook some dishes perfectly; few girls dislike cooking if done under neat and pleasant surroundings. But home-making implies far more than cooking, and so I would have this idea carried still further than mere cooking classes.

There is no reason why a two-hour course weekly cannot be given to this subject every year of high school. Older students can learn the important values of food and carry work in chemistry of food as well as chemistry per se. Physics, a course which is now distasteful to the average girl, would be made much more vivid in interest if part of the work were concerned with the teaching of applied mechanics and the application of the principles of physics to the more familiar household equipment. House lighting, plumbing, the construction of stoves, principles of refrigeration, the insulation of such devices as the fireless cooker, all of these are very dependent on physics. Why not teach this interrelation between theory and practice, between science and the home?

Economics—also a bugbear and "dry" subject to the vivacious girl of 17—might have an added interest if the subject were related to her own pocketbook. How much of the family money does she receive? What proportion does she spend for clothes? How can a budget be estimated for families of such and such an income with a given number of children?

Concrete problems in working out such budgets, always bearing in mind the relation to her personal expenditures, would vivify for her some of the deepest principles of economics. Along with it could go a study of the distribution of manufactured products; the graphic story of the journey of a cake of soap or other household commodity; how to buy, how to market, the story of trademarks, labels and other similar facts.

Such work need not replace purely cultural studies such as now form the bulk of school curricula, but merely enlarge and enrich them. Facing, as a people, increasing cost of living, with attendant reaction on the family, marriage, the birth rate and similar problems absorbing the sociologist, how can we refuse to prepare our girls to meet these problems more effectively?

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlivan, the Sunshine Man.

To sympathize is simply this, to feel with those that suffer. It is the instinct of a kindly heart. It is the obedience to that law of Christian duty which bids us "rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep."

If we would acquaint ourselves with sorrow to any purpose, we must relieve it. Christian love is an active, hardy thing.

Tenderness is got by suffering, both physical and mental. This was Christ's own qualification for sympathy.

Does not every fresh morning that succeeds a day of gloom and east wind seem to remind us that for a living spirit, capable, because living, of renovation, there can be no such thing as failure?

By sympathy we commonly mean little more than condolence. If the tear start readily at the voice of grief, and the purse-strings open at the account of distress, we talk of a man's great sympathy. To weep with those who weep—common sympathy does not mean much more. The sympathy of Christ was something different from this. • • • His sympathy was fellow-feeling for all that is human. • • • It is in this entire and perfect sympathy with all humanity that the heart of Jesus differs from every other heart that is found among the sons of men. And it is this—oh, it is this which is the chief blessedness of having such a Savior. —From Wellsprings.

The fact that needs to be made very plain is that the body comes in time to express the character, accurately, exactly, inevitably. The beautiful soul must in time come to look out through beautiful eyes. The beautiful character is sure to express itself, sooner or later, in a beautiful smile, in a charming expression, that makes the whole face lovely.

—The Great Secret.

Seeing America First

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is interesting to get the point of view of persons in various lines of social or business activity. The under dog, the man higher up, the painless dentist, the banker—no two look at a taing alike and each can give one pointers. I have always intended to have a heart-to-heart talk with the man who eats with his knife. I would like to know just how he views everyday affairs and what he thinks about when not engaged at his hobby.

The other day I got to wondering about the point of view of the New York hotel proprietor who charges 10 cents extra for a piece of bread, and for cream, on whatever one buys that calls for cream. So I contrived to fall in with such a person and engaged him in conversation. From him I learned that the whole proposition of extra charges in New York restaurants is for the benefit of the customers. Suppose there was no extra charge for bread. A man might come in and eat bread—just lots and lots of bread—while waiting to get an order of soup, or a little old platter of steak and mushrooms. Now the bread has to be paid for, of course. If it isn't paid for by the man who eats it, the cost has to be spread over that of all the other food eaten by all the other customers.

"I've seen men come in and eat up nearly half a pound of butter," said the proprietor. "It wouldn't be fair to ask you to pay for part of that, would it? Certainly not. Cer-tain-ly not.

"The same with coffee. Mebbe you don't care for cream in your coffee. A great many doctors say coffee should be drunk without cream. Now, if everybody who orders coffee gets a little pitcher of cream with it, the man who doesn't care for cream is paying for something that he doesn't care for, isn't he?"

Maybe so, maybe so. At any rate the man who wants even a single drop of cream in his coffee in a first-class New York eating place pays a total of 35 cents for the layout.

There was another point that I was anxious to know about, but the proprietor was called away just then and our talk got no farther.

I wished to learn what he thought about the application of cream on certain breakfast foods that it is impossible to eat without cream.

One morning I ate breakfast with a friend who thinks nothing of starting off the day by consuming a dish of roughage, of Battle Creek design. Obviously this type of food, if eaten dry, would choke a man to death. The stuff must be moistened and softened and the common way of doing this is by means of cream or milk. Now, I submit that when the menu specifies an article of food to cost, let us say, 30 cents, the assumption is that it will be served for that price in a form suitable for eating. Otherwise why not charge extra for a potato because the potato is cooked?

Well, my friend got his dish of roughage and there was no cream. Not being foolhardy enough to try to choke it down in its dry state, he asked the waiter for cream.

"You want cream, sir?" asked the waiter.

Whenever you ask for something for which there is an extra charge, the waiter pauses and asks you over again if you want it, for the purpose, apparently, of impressing the transaction on your mind.

That cream was, of course, 10 cents extra. Just for the sport of the thing my friend called the head waiter, the assistant manager, and finally the proprietor. The latter finally agreed to knock off the extra charge for cream. But it is still charged against those who do not take the trouble to fume and fuss and complain.

Some day napkins will be extra in New York hotels and then maybe guests of an economical turn of mind will bring along their own napkins. The beauty of that practice would be that it would give rise to a new industry: to-wit, the making of neat and attractive little napkin bags to carry in one's pocket when bound for a restaurant. Thus we shall have one more useful occupation for the long winter evenings.

"Crusoe's Island."

Kansas City Times: The island of Juan Fernandez, near which the German war vessel Dresden was sunk, is known throughout the world as "Crusoe's Island." The popular belief is that here Defoe laid the scene of the adventure of Robinson Crusoe, who was cast away and lived in solitude for many years.

But the real Crusoe island is Tobago, one of the West Indian group, off the mouth of the Orinoco river, near the northeastern coast of South America.

Daniel Defoe got the idea for his story of Robinson Crusoe from Alexander Selkirk, a Scotch sailor, who was shipwrecked on the coast of Juan Fernandez, and was the only one of a ship's crew who got ashore. Selkirk lived alone on the island four years and was then taken off by a passing ship. He returned to his home in Scotland in 1708, and Defoe, a writer of romances, interviewed him and got from his story the inspiration for his book: "The Life and Strange, Surprising Adventures of Robinson Crusoe." Crusoe was the name of a school companion of Defoe. In the story Defoe had him cast away on the island of Tobago, probably because the Juan Fernandez group was uninhabited then, and it was necessary for dramatic effect to have savages nearby, and there were Indians in the West Indian group of islands.

R. H. Dana, in his "Two Years Before the Mast," describes a visit he made to Juan Fernandez in the late '30s. He believed it to be "Crusoe's Island," and he described the cave in which Crusoe lived.

Capt. Joshua Slocum, the Yankee sailor who went around the world in the sloop Spray, called at the island in 1896 and saw the tablet of bronze fixed into the face of the rock in memory of Alexander Selkirk, who lived there alone four years and four months. The island had a population of forty-five souls then.

In 1731 William Cowper wrote his famous poem about Alexander Selkirk, which begins with this stanza:

I am monarch of all I survey,
My right there is none to dispute;
From the center all round to the sea
I am lord of the fowl and the brute.
O, Solitude, where are thy charms
That sages have sung in thy praise?
Better dwell in the midst of alarms
Than reign in this horrible place.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

The Proper Spirit.

Hibbing Tribune: If you are going to buy, buy it now. There is nothing the matter with this country, except that we are all holding back a bit. Push ahead, don't pull back. Buy it now. Minnesota is the best state in the Union right now and the iron ranges are the most prosperous part of the state. Quit knocking. Boost a bit. Buy it now.

That's the way to make times better.

Facts of the Case.

Le Sueur News: It is really amusing to read in a strictly partisan press how some American factory is operating short-handed or not at all, on account of the exactment of the Democratic tariff, while the truth the same paper will not tell is that not a thing from the factory is being exported and this condition, lack of wages because we cannot sell goods abroad, is making hard times at home, and hampering the demand for goods. About everything on the market, freely controlled is down in price. The trusts still have their hands on the throats of the people for a few things, but the war may even bring them to time. The tariff, neither high or low, has nothing at all to do with the present financial condition of affairs. Only the partisan will claim otherwise.

Modern Marriages.

Virginia Virginian: Some people who get married want to leave out the word "obey." Others want to substitute the words "so long as love shall last" in the ceremony for the phrase "so long as life shall last or until death do us part." Sometimes we think these people don't want a marriage ceremony, but a business contract, say a 90-day lease, or something of that sort.

Good Idea; Loosen Up.

Preston Times: Do you want to see a wave of prosperity strike this community and push everything along in front of it? Then open your wallet and loosen up! Don't content yourself with telling the other fellow to do it, but do it yourself. Imagination plays a mighty big part in our scheme of life, and to a very large extent we have been afflicted in late months by an aggravated case of imaginitis. Someone got out in the street and yelped "hard times," and immediately the cry was taken up and handed from lip to lip until it really began to assume a semblance of truth. And then everybody commenced to tighten the strings to their purses. People imagined we were in the midst of hard times.

The fact that the community held just as much money as ever before was entirely overlooked. Pessimists barked on every corner; calamity howlers were in their element, and even sane men commenced to worry. And all because some fellow opened his mouth and yelled "hard times."

Let's trot out Old Man Prosperity and give him the front seat, and then let's all go to work and keep him there. Imagination has been worked to a frazzle. Now let's have a dose of common sense, and the imaginary malady will soon cease to exist. Let's loosen up.

Moses Is Puzzled.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: Under which political flag Senator Clapp will make his next try for re-election is a mystery to many politicians—but if the truth were told, perhaps the man most in doubt on this matter is the Hon. Moses E. Clapp. If he takes Frank A. Day's advice, he will hoist the Prohibition colors—but Clapp has a retentive memory and has not forgotten what happened to Jim Gray.

Be Fair With Roads.

Mora Times: Why should not railroads be permitted to charge 2½ cents per mile for passenger fare if the present charge is not enough to warrant a reasonable return on the investment? Charges must be regulated that way, no matter how much we dislike to pay an increase. If the railroads can show that the present rate is not sufficient, we must pay more. While there is an unfriendly sentiment against railroads, and it cost much effort to secure the present rate, we must be fair. The method of regulating the passenger rate by statute is wrong, and we favor a change in method instead of having the legislature increase the fare.

Busy Enough.

Slayton Herald: Every time we hear a fanatical war "howler" harp on the fact that Germany, England, or some other nation is just itching for a row with the United States we are inclined to think that if the honorable "howler" would read the newspapers he would come to the conclusion that the larger part of Europe is sufficiently entertained on its own side of the Atlantic. Those who are not already extremely busy in the front yard are watching the back door to keep old Mars from creeping in on the sly.

Prisoner Threatens to Strike.

Washington Herald: The solitary occupant of the jail at Georgetown, Del., has gone on a strike, and threatens to walk out. The sheriff has done his best to entertain him, but his family objects to his spending so much time in the jail. Now the lone prisoner has issued this warning:

"I have told you repeatedly and emphatically that I love good fellowship, and am in every sense a boon convict. I want someone whom I can treat as an equal. Why don't you arrest someone? Do you think I'm a hermit? If you don't get company for me I'm going to quit." Since the man wasn't sentenced to solitary confinement, perhaps he may obtain his release by legal process."

Where Everything Goes.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The domestic symphony goes something like this: The Woman (with anxiety)—What, my dear, is the matter with the soup?

The Man (choking, but retaining with some difficulty, a whole hellofa-lotta dignity)—There appears to be a safety pin in it.

"Now I know where our things disappear!" cried the lady, with glee.

"What do you mean disappear?" bromides the gent.

"A corset string was missing yesterday. And only last week I couldn't find the baby's rubbers!"

To The Editor of The Herald:
Please inform me, through the Open Court, if Duluth has any organization to collect wages in small amounts for workingmen free of charge. Thanking you in advance, I am,
ONE THAT WOULD LIKE TO KNOW.
Duluth, March 28.

Yes. Apply to Frank Hicks at the city hall and he will look into your case and put you in touch with the free legal aid bureau.—The Editor.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Must a widow be totally penniless to come under the mothers' pension bill?
A foreign mother of five children, the oldest 12, has $200 in the bank left her from her husband's insurance policy of two years ago. She stints herself and children in necessary things, fearing for the time when she shall be penniless. Must this money be entirely gone before she gets help from the state?
THE TEACHER OF ONE OF THE CHILDREN.
Virginia, Minn., March 24.

No. The distribution of mothers' pensions is left to the discretion of district court judges to a very great extent.—The Editor.

MIDDLEMEN.

To the Editor of The Herald:
In Wednesday's Herald H. R. B. says: "If one middleman is justified, all are justified." The middleman surely is a necessity, but there are endless duplications of labor and capital that are not.
One authority says that railroads are wasting millions a year. Think of the waste in the unorganized retail business. The middleman is a necessity, but not the inefficient middleman.
Organization would save many dollars, but under the capitalist system it would not decrease cost to the consumer, but would increase capitalist profits. Therefore, the consumer needs co-operative or government ownership, and will have it when he gets wise. E. E.
Biwabik, Minn., March 28.

CASEY'S COW.

To the Editor of The Herald:
The writer noticed on the editorial page of Wednesday's issue of your paper, an exchange clipping from the Middleton, Mo., Chips, setting forth a problem concerning the estimable Mr. Casey's cow.
I do not know whether or not you would care to publish the answer, but am sending in the solution I arrived at, on the assumption that it will prove of as much interest to the remainder of your subscribers as it has to certain of my friends.
The cow must travel at the rate of eighteen miles per hour. The length of the bridge is optional and may be assumed to be any length whatsoever. The point at which the cow was standing on the bridge when she started to run, however, is fixed by the length of the bridge. It must be one-fifth of one foot less than double the length of the bridge.
For example—if the bridge is assumed to be forty-three feet long she stands one-fifth of eighty-five of seventeen feet from the end nearest the locomotive; or if the bridge be 1,000 feet long, she stands one-fifth of 1,999 or 399 4-5 feet from the end.
The unique feature of the problem lies in the fact that the length of the bridge does not in any way affect the cow's performance as long as she maintains a speed of eighteen miles per hour, starting from a point as determined above. COWBOY.

WRESTLING.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Will you please inform me through the Open Court whether the Lord Lonsdale belt that Ketonen won is the British middleweight or welterweight championship.
Thanking you in advance. I am yours truly, W. FREE.
Kremer, Minn., March 26.

The belt is emblematic of the welterweight championship.—The Editor.

DENTAL DECORATIONS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Will you please advise me if Jack Johnson (fighter) has diamonds in his teeth? If you have no definite information on this, where can I get it. Thanks. H. E. P.
Duluth, March 26.

Such reports have been published. Whether they are true or not, the Editor does not know. You might write to the owner of the teeth who is in Havana and ask him.—The Editor.

THE CORNER STORES.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Am wondering what we really are coming to in Duluth. Is it possible that our police department intends to dictate where we are to purchase our food? Or are they just trying to remind us that we must hereafter under no circumstances forget a single item for our Sunday meals; be prepared for company at all times and in case we are not we dare not serve them food bought at the corner store, but must take said company to a restaurant, where it will be o. k. legal and lawful to buy eatables a plenty for I see by tonight's Herald that a campaign is on by the police department to stop these stores from selling groceries and eatables on Sunday, and that several have already been arrested and fined.
I wish to ask why it was necessary to employ a stool pigeon to obtain evidence against a store that made no effort to conceal Sunday sales?
Had it not been better policy and manly to warn the proprietor previous to sending a stool pigeon around?
And why were not all the stores which sold a few groceries last Sunday given the same treatment? Why play any favorites? Or why are restaurants allowed to sell prepared food on Sunday, while a little corner delicatessen store is not?
Why? SUBSCRIBER.
Duluth, March 23.

THE JITNEYS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I agree with the man who started the jitney bus and not with Mr. Phelps. It is all right for some of these business men to knock anything that will give a poor person an opportunity of enjoying some of the pleasures of life, which I suppose are only for the rich. But did Mr. Phelps think that way when he was a struggling young lawyer?
Many times I have longed to treat my family to a ride round the boulevard but at a cost of $7 or $8 the only thing possible for me to do was to stand by and smell the gasoline smoke from some millionaire's automobile.
The "jitney" is a novelty just now, but if the street car company has any more strikes the "jitney" will be a necessity and anyway a company which can put up the money the Duluth Street Railway company did to fight the strike can afford to lose a few fares in favor of the jitneys, for they have the same rights to operate as a corporation has. And if they are a success I hope there will be enough of them operating that it will no longer be necessary to stand up in a street car so crowded that there are not even straps enough to hang onto.
If the rich want something beyond the reach of poor people let them invest in flying machines.
Today I saw a woman and her children getting into a jitney bus. Those youngsters' faces certainly wore the smile that wouldn't come off. In all probability they were about to take their first ride in an automobile, and let me tell you right here that if I was able to get an automobile I would like nothing better than running a jitney bus and seeing it filled every trip with happy youngsters, spending their nickels for healthful recreation in the fresh air instead of ruining their eyesight in crowded and poorly ventilated moving picture shows. But, of course, as I am only a woman and not a suffragist there is no such field open to me. Yours truly,
JUST A WOMAN.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:
"The Blind Girl" and "The Ship That Never Returned," from J. M. Holt of Duluth.
Requests have been received for the following: "Barbara Frietchie," "Tonight I Am a Widow in the Cottage by the Sea," "The Church Across the Way," "Just Once to See Your Face Again," and Lincoln's Gettysburg speech from Louise Helen Glidder of Proctor. "Barbara Frietchie" can be found in any volume of Whittier's poems and the Gettysburg address in the encyclodaedia.
"Come Early Tonight, My Dear Boy," from Mrs. Anna Drake of Virginia.

The Ship That Never Returned.

On a summer day, as the waves were rippling by a soft and gentle breeze,
A ship set sail with a cargo laden for a port beyond the seas.
There were sweet farewells, there were loving signals, there were hearts young and stern;
But they knew it not—it was a solemn party on the ship that never returned.
Chorus.
Did she ever return? She never returned,
And her fate is yet unlearned;
Though for years and years fond hearts have been watching
For the ship that never returned.

Said a feeble lad to his anxious mother,
"I must cross the wide, wide sea,
For they say perchance, in a foreign clime there is health and strength for me."
They bade him farewell with parting words, and he left for parts unknown;
They sent him forth with a smile and blessing on the ship that never returned.

"Only one more trip," said a gallant seaman, as he kissed his weeping wife;
"Only one more bag of the golden treasure, and 'twill last us all through life,
Then we'll spend our days in the cozy cottage: we'll enjoy the sweet rest we've earned"—
But alas, poor man, he sailed commander on the ship that never returned.

The Blind Girl.

"They say, dear father, that tonight
You'll wed another bride;
That you will clasp her in your arms
Where my dear mother died;
That you will lean her graceful head
Upon your loving breast,
Where she who now lies low in death
Lay in her last hours of rest.

"They say her name is Mary, too,
The name my mother bore;
And, father, is she kind and true,
Like the one you loved before?
And are her steps so soft and low,
Her voice so sweet and mild?
And, father, will she love me, too,
Your blind and helpless child?

"Please father, do not bid me come
To meet your new-made bride;
I could not greet her in the room
Where my dear mother died.
Her picture's hanging on the wall,
Her books are lying near,
And there's the harp her fingers touched
And there's her vacant chair—
That chair whereby I used to kneel
To say my evening prayer.
Dear father, it would break my heart;
I could not meet her there.

"And when I cry myself to sleep,
As now I often do,
And softly to your chamber creep,
My new mamma and you,
And will she gently press a kiss
Upon your loving brow,
Just as my own dear mother did?
Papa, you're weeping now!

"You know I love you, papa, dear,
But how I long to go
Where God is light, and I am sure
There'll be no blind ones there.
So let me kneel down by your side
And to our dear Savior pray
That God's right hand may lead you both
Through life's long weary way."

Her prayers were answered, and a song.
"I'm weary now," she said.
Her father caught her in his arms
And laid her on the bed,
And as he turned to leave the room,
One joyful cry was given.
He turned and caught that last sweet smile—
His blind child was in heaven.
They buried her by her mother's side
And raised a marble fair,
On it inscribed those simple words:
"There'll be no blind ones there."

SITUATION IS CLEARED

Sixth District Satisfied as to Distribution of County Road Money.

Auditor Halden and Other Officials Hear Complaints at Virginia.

County Auditor Halden returned yesterday from Virginia, where, with Commissioners Kauppi, Little, McMahon and Penttila, he attended the meeting held Saturday to discuss the distribution of county road money.

"It was one of the pleasantest meetings I ever attended," said Mr. Halden this morning, "and it was a delightful experience to observe the splendid manner in which the Virginia Commercial club, and especially Messrs. Murphy, Griggs, Reed and Mr. Shank of Biwabik are looking after the interests of the farmers of the sixth commissioner's district. They have a live and alert organization, are fully aware of the vast importance of encouraging agricultural development in every possible way, and they are doing splendid work for that district of the range, for St. Louis county and for the state. They deserve the thanks of everybody who realizes the vast importance of the work they are doing.

Settle Apportionment Problem.

"The particular purpose for which the meeting was convened was to discuss the apportionment of county road money. The sixth district people felt that they had not had their full share of the money, and the situation, after it had been explained to them, was cleared up nicely, apparently to the full satisfaction of everybody concerned.

"I pointed out to the Commercial club that while the county road apportionment had been made, there was $30,000 left in the fund that had not been apportioned, and that the proper course was for them to make a campaign to get that money for the sixth district. A majority of the county board was present, and signified their willingness to grant this request, and as that is about the amount the district needs for the work it has in hand, this solution settled the whole matter.

"But aside from this, and far more important than the amount of money involved, it was splendid to see the spirit displayed, and to know that it means that the money appropriated for roads in that district will be wisely laid out and will bring a dollar's worth of results for every dollar spent.

About 150 Farmers Present.

"There were 150 farmers in from far and wide—bona fide farmers, who are developing that country,—and their interest was marked and stimulating. The Virginia Commercial club made every possible effort for their comfort, serving coffee and lunch and generally seeing that they had a good time and that they realized the interest Virginia is taking in their welfare. Virginia's example in this respect is inspiring, and it would help a lot if other communities, not excluding Duluth, would follow it."

BALLOT SYSTEM IS CONSPIRACY RESULT

Farrell Declares It Was Arranged to Puzzle Common Voter.

Declaring that the chief part of his campaign for office in the city commissioners fight is an effort to teach the common man how to vote under the preferential system, J. A. Farrell, candidate, declared in an address at the Jackson school on Saturday night that the preferential system of voting was planned by "a cute bunch who wanted to make the candidates hard to defeat by making a ballot that would be difficult for the working man to vote."

Mr. Farrell recalled the result of the election of two years ago, when the court declared a large number of ballots cast for him illegal because no other candidate was voted for, and asserted that at that time, because the ballots were not voted properly, he lost 245 votes. He asserted that "failure to vote the ballot right means the disenfranchisement of the voter."

"The preferential ballot means constant education," he declared. "In two years from now there will be three commissioners to choose. This means that we will have to educate voters all over again. There is no end to it.

"My expense account has risen higher than that of any other candidate because I have educated voters how to cast ballots. I have had sample ballots printed. In straw votes taken we have found 30 per cent of ballots wrongly marked."

SALE OF PIANOS WAS NOT LEGAL

High Court Reverses Decree Given in Favor of Boston Company.

The state supreme court has reversed an order of District Judge Fesler, which gave the Boston Music company judgment for possession of fourteen pianos claimed by George B. Norris and John Bradford, as receivers of the Sagerstrom Piano company. On May 1, 1913, the receivers made a conditional sale of the pianos to the Wisconsin Music company at Superior, and the instruments were shipped there from Menomonie, Wis. After the Wisconsin Music company had failed to acquire possession, according to the agreement with the receivers, J. E. Faltys, without the authority of the receivers, sold them to the Boston Music company of Duluth. The local concern paid $1,000 for the lot and claimed title to the property as an innocent purchaser. The supreme court held that the sale was without authority and that the title had never passed.

THREE ELECTROCUTED.

High Current From Broken Wire Kills Trio at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, March 29.—Cornelius Valkhoff went out to his rabbit hutch yesterday to procure a hare for a birthday dinner. As he stepped into a water puddle he touched the latch of the hutch gate and fell dead. An electric cable leading to a nearby crematory had broken during the night and turned its 2,200 volt current into the wire fence surrounding the hutch. Mrs. Volkhoff rushed to aid her husband and as she touched his hand, fell across his body dead.

Harris Skinner, bent on rendering aid, also fell dead.

The shrieks of Valkhoff's children, Anna and Agnes, attracted A. T. Slaten, a policeman. Slaten entered the back yard just as the girls sped toward the deadly water puddle and snatching their hair, he jerked them back to safety. In doing so, sowever, he came into contact with the charged fence wire and was thrown twenty feet.

Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Anna Mauch, neighbors, came into slight contact with the fence wire and were seriously injured.

Slaten notified the electric company to shut off the current. Then the dead were removed.

FARMS NEED MEN FOR DEVELOPMENT

C. P. Craig Declares This Section Is Going Ahead as Never Before.

Demand for farm laborers will be large this season, according to Charles P. Craig, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Commercial club.

"More land will be cultivated than ever before," declared Mr. Craig. "This will be particularly true in this section. Farmers are in need of men and all that is necessary is to get the farmers and the men in touch with each other."

Mr. Craig looks for a big increase in stock-raising and grain acreage and predicts that the stagnation in the labor market is about over. The coming of warm weather, he believes, will enable the farmers of this section to put a large number of idle men to work.

To Manage University.

Madison, Wis., March 29.—H. J. Thorkelsen, for the last six months acting business manager of the University of Wisconsin, late Saturday was appointed manager by the board of regents. Thorkelsen was professor of steam and gas engineering at the university.

VOSGES SUNK BY GUN FIRE OF SUBMARINE.

London, March 29.—The steamer Vosges, which was sunk Saturday off the Cornish coast, was sent to the bottom by the shell fire of a German submarine.

The Vosges was under fire for over two hours. In addition to her chief engineer who was killed, two officers and two members of the crew and a woman passenger were wounded.

By skillful handling the captain prevented his steamer from being torpedoed, and the submarine opened fire on the ship with her guns.

The steamer was getting away from the submarine when a shell hit her funnel and her speed was reduced. The captain said he ordered passengers and crew into the boats, but the submarine still kept up its fire, riddling the boat and did not disappear until a patrol vessel noticing the signals of distress from the Vosges, came on the scene. Shortly afterward the Vosges sank.

LIGHT MUST DO TIME.

Armenian Actor Punished for Taking Theatrical Costumes.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—Alexander Light, the Shakespearean interpreter from Armenia, was denied a new trial by District Court Judge Grier M. Orr and was given an indeterminate sentence to the Stillwater penitentiary.

The actor was convicted of having appropriated theatrical costumes owned by Mrs. Justina Sanford, which she loaned for use in the presentation of "The Twelfth Night," in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Best cup of coffee on earth at Haley's.

Lady Paget Not Dead.

Washington, March 29.—The British embassy here received a message from the foreign office in London denying the report that Lady Paget had died at Uskub, Serbia, where she was serving with a Red Cross hospital unit. "No truth whatever in the report," the message said. "Latest news from her was good."

CANTON NOW "SHAMEEN;" NOT OF IRISH ORIGIN.

The North American Telegraph company, through its local manager, John L. Fuller, announces that for all telegraph and cable purposes, Canton, China, after April 1, will be known as "Shameen."

While at first glance one may gather the idea that the word is an Irish idiom, because it will rhyme with "colleen," "dhudeen" —and "spalpeen," for that matter —such is not the case. According to Bert Farrell, who can sing "come-all-yes" even better than he can run for office, and backed up by other authorities, "shameen" is used to describe a certain kind of chinaware, such as that having roughened or scalloped edges. Whether the word has its origin in Canton, or has any application other than that of giving a telegraph location "a habitation and a name" is not known.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. LAST CHAPTER IS WRITTEN Strange Case of Antoine Poupore Disposed of By Courts.

Had Two Families—One in New York and One in Minnesota.

Unles an appeal is taken to the state's highest court, the final chapter has been written in the strange story which centers around the double-life history of Antoine Poupore, a familiar character about Cloquet for many years, who died back in September, 1909.

Ever since Poupore's death, when it became known that he was a man of two families—one in New York, the other in Minneosta—the estate has been involved in some kind of litigation. The affairs of the estate may now be brought to a close, however.

Judge Dancer today disposed of appeals which had been filed with the district court from orders which Judge Gilpin of the probate court made last April with reference to the Poupore estate and the winding up of its affairs.

On April 9, 1914, the probate judge filed an order disallowing the final account submitted by J. H. Whitely, attorney for O. E. Knisely, administrator of the estate, and directing the latter to turn over $913 to creditors in payment of claims which had been allowed by the court. The residue of the estate, amounting to $47.65, was ordered distributed among the heirs.

Appeal Taken.

Attorney Whitely appealed from this order, and the district court today reversed the findings of the probate judge and filed an order allowing the final accounting as made by the administrator, with a few changes. Courtney & Courtney, attorneys for Stone-Ordean-Wells company, had filed objections to the final account as it was submitted to the probate court, and appeared at the hearing on the appeal in opposition to Attorney Whitely.

One of the principal objections raised by Courtney & Courtney to the account was that it provided for the payment of attorney's expenses in connection with certain litigation with which the state has been involved. The claim was made that the expenses should have been borne by the widow for whose benefit the actions were brought and prosecuted.

Judge Dancer in allowing the account makes the following memorandum: "The court is not prepared to hold that for an administrator to leave practically the entire management of the estate to the attorney, is gross negligence, especially where the attorney controls the business.

"It appears however, that the administrator personally paid very little attention to this estate and there should be allowed him only sufficient to cover his expense and a moderate allowance on account of responsibility which he incurred."

Scores Second Point.

Attorney Whitely also scored another point when Judge Dancer filed in the same case an order reversing the action of the probate judge in refusing to permit the widow to deduct an exemption of not more than $500 allowed by law.

The probate court took the position that the law provides that the widow shall make her selection of exempted property before the estate is administered and not after the final accounting has been filed.

Judge Dancer held that the sum of $300.45 in cash which had been turned over to the administrator at the time he took charge might be exempted since that the delay of the widow in making her selection had not jeopardized the rights of the creditors of the estate.

Knisely, the administrator of the estate, is a Minneapolis newspaper man who was formerly connected with the Duluth Daily Star during the existence of that publication in this city. The actual management of the estate, however, was left with his attorney, Mr. Whitely.

Led Double Life.

Antoine Poupore, for several years prior to his death, lived at Poupore's Siding, in this county, where he conducted a lumber business and a small store. After his death it developed that he had been leading a double existence.

Poupore, it appeared, married his first wife in 1854 in New York state. Several children were born to them. In 1889 he abandoned his family in the East and came West with another woman. They settled at Cloquet and later moved to Poupore's Siding. Here he raised a second large family. He prospered and at the time of his death was reputed to be well to do.

Except for a brief period in 1904, things ran smoothly for Poupore. By this time his first wife had learned of his whereabouts and threatened to make trouble for him. Poupore met this situation by inducing his first wife to keep out of his affairs by paying her $500.

After Poupore's death, the first wife attempted to establish her claim to a certain residence property at Cloquet, but the courts held that she had forfeited her rights as a wife when she accepted money to keep silent when it was her silence that made possible the sale of the property which she was seeking to have set aside as fraudulent.

Both the Minnesota and New York families claimed the estate at the time of his death. The courts, however, decided in favor of the New York woman and her family.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ENJOY VACATION

Last Rest Period of School Year Is On; Board Meeting.

Students in all the public schools of Duluth are now enjoying a nine-day Easter vacation. The schools closed last Friday and will resume school work a week from today. This is the last vacation for the school year.

There will be no school work during the Easter vacation, although some of the students may take part of this time to catch up in any delinquent work and make preparations for the final lap of the race. Many of the boys will take part in the special daily programs at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A.

Two meetings of the board of education will take place during this week. Tomorrow noon the board will meet to open bids for the proposed Lincoln junior high school. Friday night the board will hold its regular monthly meeting. Only routine matters are said to be pending.

To Remove First Signs of Old Age

"The infallible first sign of age is the sagging cheek muscles," says Mme. Cavalieri, whose fame as a beauty culturist is scarcely less than that of a singer. "These are more difficult and serious to treat than wrinkles," she continues. "The sagging muscles indicate they have grown too weak to remain in place; they must be assisted, strengthened."

The best way to strengthen them is by using a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This creates a freer circulation to the parts, besides causing muscles and skin to contract. Saxolite, procurable at every drug store, has long been known by complexion specialists to possess remarkable tonic and astringent properties, valuable in treating flabby tissue and wrinkles. —Advertisement.

Immense Amount Will Leave By Lake Before May 1.

Practically all remaining available grain tonnage at the Head of the Lakes was chartered last week, five ships with an aggregate capacity of 1,750,000 bushels being covered. The business was closed at 1¾ cents. Three of the ships will load for Buffalo or Port Colborne, shippers' option, and the other two will load for Buffalo.

Following the delivery of the grain for which boats have been chartered there is likely to be very few cargoes to move. This depends upon receipts after the opening of navigation, but the best that is looked for does not mean more than 7,000,000 to 8,000,000 bushels. More than 17,000,000 bushels of grain will leave Duluth and Fort William by May 1.

Grain shipping this season will be done under the agreement made with shippers and vessel owners by the Grain Clearance corporation. Most of the vessel owners who carry grain have signed contracts with the company, and the rest have said they intend to. Many leading shippers also have made contracts with the company to have grain handled by the corporation. This will result in the ships not being called upon to pay shortages and will prevent them from collecting for overages.

STEAMER NICHOLAS RENAMED "INLAND"

The steamer I. W. Nicholas, which has been sold to Canadian interests and will be sent to the Atlantic coast, along with other lake vessels, to engage in coast trade, has been renamed, and her new monicker is Inland. She has been rebuilt and as soon as conditions permit will be sent to her new route.

Work is being done on the steamer John Sharpless at the Port Huron drydock, preparing her for her trip to the Atlantic coast.

REUNION OF THE SCOTTISH RITE

Meetings in Duluth Will Continue for Three Days.

It is expected that from 600 to 800 members of the Rite will be in attendance at the meetings of the local consistory. A large proportion will be out-of-town members of the fraternity.

Degrees will be worked upon a large class of candidates daily until Thursday evening when the Maundy Thursday feast obligatory will take place. It will be the crowning feature of the reunion.

BIDS ENTERED TO BOND OFFICIALS

Seven Companies Enter Field for Aggregate of $38,000.

Seven bonding companies have entered bids for bonding four city officials for an aggregate of $38,000, and in each case the bid is considerably above the $800 asked for in a resolution to be introduced by Mayor W. I. Prince covering the premiums.

City Clerk Palmer opened the bids this morning, and they will be passed upon at the council meeting this afternoon.

Under the terms of the city charter, the two commissioners to be elected Tuesday, will be bonded for $10,000, covering a similar period; and the clerk of the municipal court will be bonded for $3,000.

The C. H. Gordon company of Duluth was the lowest bidder, their estimate on the premium coming to $885. The other six bids were uniform, each being for $1,045.25.

ATTENDANCE NEAR PERFECT

High Standard Being Maintained in the Rural Schools.

Report Shows 223 Perfect Records for Four Months.

A high standard of attendance among pupils in the rural schools of the county is being maintained if the number of perfect attendance certificates, which have been sent out from the office of N. A. Young, superintendent of the county schools, is to be regarded as a criterion.

H. B. Hursh, assistant superintendent, in an article contributed to the Rural School Bulletin, a monthly magazine published from the superintendent's office, states that for the first four months of school, 223 perfect attendance certificates have been sent out.

During the fifth month county schools, Nos. 11, 30 and 47, each had a perfect attendance. County school No. 21 with an enrollment of thirty-one pupils had twenty-six with perfect attendance. During the sixth month there were twenty-nine with perfect attendance.

Keep the Children Bright and Happy

Happy youngsters must be healthy. The digestive organs of children get out of order as readily as do those of their elders, and the result is equally distressing. When the bowels are clogged with an accumulation of refuse from the stomach the child naturally becomes cross and fretful from the discomfort, and is often punished for temper when medical attention is really what is needed.

The next time your child is cross and unhappy, without apparent reason, try giving it a mild laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild, pleasant tasting combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and is especially recommended for children because of its freedom from all opiate or narcotic drugs and its gentle action. It is sold in drug stores everywhere. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

IS "BULL" ON THE GRAIN MARKETS

Duluth Trader Sees Little Chance for Early Ending of War.

"Nobody who visits the trade centers of the East and gets the expressions of the big fellows there can help but be a 'bull' in the grain market," declared A. M. Prime of the Cargill Grain company today.

Mr. Prime returned this morning from a visit of several weeks in the East and he declares himself emphatically as a bull. Concerning the outlook he said:

"There is just one chance, Eastern business interests believe, for the war to end by July, and that is internal disturbances in Germany. The people are suffering but unless they get to the point of rebellion no peace is looked for for a year or more. That is the general impression in the East. I happened to be thrown in with men who are engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war, or some of their component parts. There is not one of them who has not orders for at least a year ahead. The Du Pont people have put up plants to manufacture ammunition which, despite the fact that the expense will run into the millions, will be 'scrapped' after the war orders are over. So you must see what prices they must be getting. The prices received by the manufacturers are enormous and on nothing less than a year basis.

"But people may as well get over the notion that the beginning of the end of the war is near. I don't believe that it is anywhere in sight.

"And, as I said before, I'm a bull. The market is bound to go up."

DULUTHIANS AT MICHIGAN "U"

Two Students at University Prominent in College Affairs.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two Duluth boys are appearing prominently in affairs at the University of Michigan.

Andrew Lepak of Duluth was one of the principal speakers at a recent meeting of the Polania club of the University of Michigan. This is an organization of the Polish students of which there are a half hundred.

Mr. Lepak spoke on the work of the late M. Konopnicka, a woman writer of modern Polish folk stories. The Duluth man stated that it is generally agreed that the feminine characters portrayed in her works are unequalled in the literature of Poland. Mr. Lepak is a first year law student.

T. J. Doyle of Duluth, a prominent student in the University of Michigan, will give a clog dance as one of the features each evening of the Michigan Union annual opera, "All That Glitters," which will open in a downtown theater Wednesday evening. Mr. Doyle is a senior law student and has been in other public entertainments during his college career.

The Michigan Union opera is the annual production of the university men's organization. It is a musical comedy, and the men of the school carry all parts, including those of the charming chorus of girls and dancing beauties. It is the biggest theatrical event of the year in Ann Arbor and it is considered an honor to be connected with its production in any capacity.

AGAINST INVOKING REFERENDUM MEASURE

Fargo, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Believing that it would be politically unwise and would also retard the development of the state, the leaders of the North Dakota democracy, at a meeting here last night and this morning, declined to participate in a movement to invoke the referendum against certain measures recently enacted by the legislature.

The Knauf-Seiler-Buck Republicans of Jamestown wanted to use the referendum against a number of measures, particularly the state board of regents' law and the immigration appropriation. The Democrats took the view that both of these were excellent legislation, as well as some other measures that may be attacked, and that the state board of regents meant economy in conducting state educational institutions and the immigration movement properly worked out at this psychological moment would bring many new homeseekers to this state.

Bad Politics.

From a political standpoint they regarded it as folly to interfere.

National Committeeman Breugger, State Chairman Perry, State Secretary McLean of the Democratic central committee and many leading Democrats of the state were in attendance.

Those participating in the meeting declined to discuss any recommendations they had made regarding Federal appointments, but admitted that these had been given consideration in some cases.

Some of the appointments are held up as a result of multiplicity of applicants for various places.

Get Rid of Lingering Colds, Coughs and La Grippe.

Spring finds many afflicted with lingering, hacking coughs that weaken the system. Slush and wet cause more colds than zero weather. Croup, bronchitis and pneumonia are prevalent. It eases a cough, checks a cold and relieves inflamed and congested membranes. It clears the air passages and soothes inflammation. Sold everywhere.

EXERCISES AT FARM SCHOOL

This Is Commencement Week at Crookston School of Agriculture.

Baccalaureate Exercises on Sunday, Rev. Mr. Albert of Crookston Preaching.

Crooston, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The special school function in connection with the ninth annual commencement of the Northwest School of Agriculture, are in full swing.

The commencement exercises proper will be held next Thursday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock, in the auditorium, when the address will be delivered by President F. L. McVey of the University of North Dakota. There will also be special music by the agricultural school band; a demonstration "Ventilation of Barns" by Harold H. Grandy; the class oration, "Not for School, But for Life, We Learn," by Cornar Clementson, president of the senior class, and concluding with presentation of diplomas by Supt. C. G. Selvig.

The first commencement week affair took place Saturday evening and was in the nature of a musical recital at the auditorium which consisted of vocal and instrumental solos, quartets and selections by the ladies' quartet, the Boys' Glee club, and the mixed chorus from the school. The program illustrated that while the students devote their time primarily to securing an agricultural education, music is not neglected and the students will carry home with them increased ability to contribute their share toward home entertainment and to do their share in community entertainment, which adds materially to their efficiency as real community builders.

Baccalaureate Exercises.

The baccalaureate services were held at the auditorium yesterday afternoon and were largely attended. The services opened with a fine number by the Boys' Glee club followed by the reading of Scripture by Supt. Selvig with the responses by the school. "Send Out Thy Light" was very pleasingly rendered by a mixed school chorus and this was followed by a vocal solo by O. W. Peterson. The baccalaureate address was given by Rev. Paul B. Albert of the First Congregational church of Crookston, who spoke on, "The Higher Purpose," in which he outlined the purpose for which educational facilities furnished by the state of Minnesota were provided. Following the singing of a hymn the impressive exercises closed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Albert.

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the auditorium, "Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard," a comedy in three acts will be presented by the students.

The class exercises will take place Thursday morning at the auditorium and will include the class history, will, prophecy, together with an address by Prof. Bengson, class counselor, a primary reading demonstration by Esther Hanson, and several musical selections, concluding with the senior class song.

FARGO VOTERS WILL EXERCISE I. & R. ACT

First Election in North Dakota Under That System Will Be Held.

Fargo, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The voters of Fargo will have their first opportunity to exercise their rights under the initiative and referendum law at the municipal election Tuesday, April 6. It will be the first time the measure was ever invoked in the state.

The point is raised on an ordinance that Commissioner of Waterworks Blakemore endeavored to get through the commission to provide a permanent sinking fund for the filtration plant and waterworks. He wants to set aside a certain amount each year to replace the present plant when it is worn out. When the plant was constructed three years ago, in addition to the funds at hand the city was bonded for $130,000 to pay for the construction. The taxpayers feel that it is unfair to attempt to provide for a new plant until at least the bonded indebtedness of the present one is paid off, however correct the sinking fund may be in a theoretical way.

Charge Double Taxation.

They assert it is a double taxation on the present taxpayers for the benefit of providing the next generation with a paid in advance plant. These wish to be taxed to keep the present plant in operation and in good condition, then create a sinking fund to meet the bonded indebtedness and interest as it becomes due.

Another objection is raised to the ordinance on the ground that the commission to decide the amount of this sinking fund is composed of the waterworks commissioner and his appointees. It is claimed the ordinance is seeking to delegate legislative powers to an appointive board composed of subordinates of the city commission.

The terms of two members of the city commission—Blakemore and Police Commissioner Jordan—expire, and each seeks re-election. H. C. Plumley, Wayne Eddy and J. H. Dahl are also candidates. W. P. Porterfield, a member of the park commission, asks re-election and is opposed by Dr. Fjelde.

WOUNDS MOTHER THEN ATTACKS DAUGHTER.

Devils Lake, N. D., March 29.—Charged with attempting to murder Mrs. Bernhard Wessells and attacking her daughter, Sarah, aged 13, Michael Ulick, a farmer, is in jail here.

While driving near her home with two daughters, Mrs. Wessells was shot in the head by Ulick, who stole up behind the buggy in which the three were riding. Her body dropped to the highway, which forms the county boundary line between Nelson and Ramsey counties, and Ulick, leaping into the vehicle, drove off with the two girls and attacked the elder. He drove into Lakota and was apprehended by Sheriff Martin Olson.

Ulick came to North Dakota from Long Prairie, Minn. For twelve years he has lived in the country northeast of Hamar. The affair is said to have grown out of Mrs. Wessells' objections to the attentions paid the victim of his assault by Ulick. It is believed that Mrs. Wessells will die.

GOPHER DAY TO BRING ABOUT WAR ON PESTS.

Starkweather, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A war is to be waged on gophers May 31 which has been designated as gopher day and business men, farmers and every one who can kill a gopher will be out. The volunteers will be divided into two squads to see which can kill off the largest number of the rodents, the losers to pay for a supper for the winners. Hundreds of thousands of dollars of damage are annually done to the grain by the gophers. A state law provides that certain counties may offer a bounty for their extermination.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS MEETING

Annual Spring Reunion of North Dakota Craftsmen on at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Scottish Rite Masons of North Dakota began a spring reunion here this morning that will continue until Thursday night and conclude with the Maundy Thursday exercises. The Rite degrees from the fourth to the thirty-second will be conferred on a large class. Prominent Masons from both Dakotas and Minnesota will be in attendance and one of the features of the week will be a reunion of those who joined from 1898 to 1901.

Finishing New Temple.

The Scottish Rite is now completing the Masonic temple here. It was first erected in 1897 but because of inability to secure title to a part of the property until recently, all the contemplated building was not erected. This is now practically completed and Fargo has the second largest Masonic temple in the entire United States that is devoted exclusively to Masonic purposes.

TO MANUFACTURE POTATO DROPPER.

Dawson, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the purpose of manufacturing a new potato dropper invented by J. J. Gokey, a sportsman and hunter of this place, a factory may soon be started here and operated by local capital. Gokey has secured patents on the invention which is said by experts to be a thoroughly practical machine that can be manufactured at prices which will make it easy for all persons growing potatoes to own one.

FARGO COLLEGE TEAMS IN DEBATE.

Fargo, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two teams representing Fargo college will debate the question of the government ownership of railways Tuesday night. The team representing the negative will meet the team from Macalester college here and the team representing the affirmative leaves tonight for Huron, S. D., to debate with Huron college. W. C. Pixler, Donald Hall and M. Wilk will meet Macalester and B. Pollock, K. Bascom and M. Baldwin go to Huron.

ACQUIT BISMARCK PAIR.

Publishers Held Not Guilty on Their Third Trial.

Bismarck, N. D., March 29.—Samuel H. Clark and C. H. Crockard, editor and business manager, respectively of a monthly publication, were adjudged not guilty late Saturday of sending obscene literature through channels of interstate commerce by a jury in the United States district court here. They were placed on trial last Tuesday for the third time on indictments returned in 1913. Their first trial ended in a disagreement, and the verdict of guilty in the second was reversed by the circuit court of appeals, which ordered a new trial because only parts and not the whole of the magazine alleged to contain the obscenity had been introduced as evidence.

Is Being Held at Crookston on Alleged Embezzling Charge.

Crookston, Minn., March 29.—Being unable to raise $500 bonds, Louis J. Kramer, recently brought back by Deputy Sheriff Holt from Winnipeg, is in the Polk county jail. Kramer was allowed to go for two days on bonds furnished and promised to have other bail made out. In this he failed and was immediately taken back to jail. Kramer is being held till the trial date on April 1 in the municipal court. He is alleged to have embezzled from the Northern Sign company to the amount of $800.

MAY BAR COMPANIES.

North Dakota Attorney General Rules as to Assessment Companies.

Bismarck, N. D., March 29.—Assessment life insurance companies may be barred from operating in North Dakota if they fail to convince State Insurance Commissioner Taylor of their soundness, so far as insurance methods and business affairs are concerned.

Attorney General Linde, providing a supplementary opinion covering the question of Taylor's power with respect to dealing with such companies, declared that the commissioner has authority to refuse them permits if they fail to make a satisfactory showing.

This opinion will bring to an end a lengthy fight that recently was staged before the state legislature, when an effort was made to legalize operations of these companies.

Three assessment companies are operating in North Dakota.

Farmers' Shipping Association.

Marion, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers of this section have organized a Livestock Shipping association, with thirty-two charter members, composed of farmers interested in raising beef cattle, hogs and poultry. The primary purpose is to ship livestock. Later on the scope may be broadened to include grain, potatoes, hay and other products.

MONEY MADNESS A SERIOUS MENACE TO MODERN SPORT

Ban Johnson and Charles Comiskey Disagree Over Present Ills of the Game--The Incessant Talk of Money Has Disgusted Baseball Fans—Boxers Are Hurting Sport By Their Mad Desire for Dollars.

BY BRUCE.

BAN JOHNSON says many of the minor baseball leagues of the country should disband until times are more propitious; Charles Comiskey declares that it is the majors that should lop off expenses and prepare rigorously to combat the stringency of the times.

Considerable space has been given to the radical difference of opinion concerning the difficulties besetting the baseball leagues of the country upon the part of two of the powers of the younger major league.

Once upon a time there was a real and frenzied split between Johnson and Comiskey. The culmination of a long line of grievances was reached in a league meeting. The old Roman, the story goes, arose with the white steam of wrath radiating from his person, and left the room. Down in the lobby of the hotel he gave vent to his long pent up wrath.

"I took that fellow from a $25 a week job and I will send him back to it," is the remark credited to Comiskey.

Friends of both Johnson and Comiskey finally obtained a reconciliation but not until the breach threatened to work a serious injury to the American league. Now, for the first time since that threatened rupture of the friendship of two of the biggest men in the great national pastime, there is a real difference of opinion existing between the same two men on one of the big and vital baseball questions of the day.

Ban Johnson seems certain that the minors will be forced out of business by the apparent lack of interest in the sport—and Comiskey, sapient and a real constructive baseball statesman, chimes in with the observation that it is in the big leagues that great preparations should be made for a battle for existence.

Is the Game Going Back?

PESSIMISTIC observances by men in the game and the widespread preparations to reduce expenses cause one to speculate deeply on the future of baseball purely from the business standpoint.

For nearly a decade now the theatrical business over the length and breadth of the country has been heavily afflicted with financial ills. And whether it was coincidental, or merely a happenstance, the fact remains that the decline in the patronage of the drama followed close on a war somewhat similar to the one that is being ruthlessly waged between the Feds and the organized leagues.

Stop a man on the street whom you know to be a fan and earnestly engage him in conversation about baseball, should you desire to learn the average fan's sentiment regarding the present warfare.

You will find deep disgust settling over and corroding his finer likes of the game. The ceaseless talk of money has driven gossip of the playing ability of the player off the sporting pages. It isn't how good a player is these days, but how much he gets.

Like England, too, the people of the United States are becoming more diversified in their sports, or like the North Dakota farmer in the matter of crop raising.

There has been an immense revival in amateur athletic interest. Large papers of the country are employing physical directors to write columns on healthful exercises and the result has been a hegira to the open fields and roads.

Then also golf and automobiling have, in the observance of some close followers of the game, injured the financial side of baseball to no small extent.

Seven to ten years ago, when there is little doubt but that interest in the game was at high tide, business men went to the game after the close of business as a means of both pleasure and a mild sort of exercise. The automobile and the golf links are claiming no inconsiderable number of business men who formerly were never-failing patrons of the ball park.

Whether it is because of the exposing of the cold and sordid business side of the game, which has tended more or less to remove the romance that surrounded the game, or whether it is because of more diversification in the interests in sports, the fact remains that baseball magnates are seriously alarmed over the situation as it exists today.

Money Madness in Sports.

PLAYERS like Walter Johnson, Tris Speaker, Tyrus Cobb, et al, holding out for huge sums of money have a counterpart in the example of the majority of the prominent boxers of the present day.

The boxing brood is money mad—and this tendency upon the part of boxers and their managers can have but one end—the killing of the game. Tommy Burns started the financial craze by demanding $30,000 for the licking he was positive he was to receive at the able pugilistic hands of Jack Johnson. The huge negro, used to the nomadic life of a ham and egg fighter, hungry at innumerable times of his long career as a pugilist, immediately became affected with the craze for dollars and demanded $30,000 for his end in practically all of his fights following his defeat of Burns.

Willie Ritchie is another illustrious example of the mad scramble for the dollar. It is not precisely that the followers of the game care so much what a boxer receives for his end; the crux of the situation is to be found in another angle of the game.

The old sting of being defeated is being removed. In days of yore defeated fighters were known to die of a broken heart. Their pride in being a champion or a great fighter was something above money. Today, at least in many instances, the chief regret of many boxers in being defeated in that it will effect their drawing powers.

That is the part distasteful to the public, and unless there is less parading of the financial side of the game, there will be a lessening of interest upon the part of the public.

Freddy Welsh has been beaten a dozen times since he acquired the title—but he is getting the money and is amply and even eloquently satisfied. That is the new spirit of the ring—and one that is extremely distasteful to the lovers of boxing.

SIX VETS, TWO NEW IN UMPIRE LIST

American Association Arbiters Announced—Staff Call Soon.

Chicago, March 29.—There are six veterans among the umpires who will officiate in the American association this year. The list just announced includes James A. Murray, Clarence B. Owens, Joseph O'Brien, George H. Johnson, C. E. Irwin and F. R. Collins, all of whom have been with the association for some time, and Louis W. Knapp and John J. Doyle, new additions to the staff.

Knapp, whose home is in Louisville, has had several years experience in minor leagues, having worked with the Western Three-I and Blue Grass league and the Western association. According to President Chivington, the fact that Knapp has always finished the season with the league in which he started is a strong recommendation.

Doyle was signed on the recommendation of Murray, who worked with him in the International league. At one time he was a National league umpire. The entire staff will be called together for instruction at some place and date to be decided later.

Playing Off Ties.

Chicago, March 29.—In the first of a series of games to play off ties in the world's championship three cushion billiard tournament Saturday, A. Kliekhefer of Milwaukee defeated C. Ellis of Cleveland by a score of 50 to 47 in sixty-two innings. The high run for each was six.

HOCKEYISTS TO HOLD BANQUET

Thursday evening at the Spalding hotel the Duluth Amateur Hockey league will hold its annual banquet. The officers, manager of the teams, players and various friends of the league will be in attendance.

Plans for next year, the presentation of the championship cup to the Universals, and several other matters of interest will feature the gathering.

Red Wing Wins State Title.

In the finals of the third annual state interscholastic basket ball tournament just finished at Carleton college, Northfield, the Red Wing high school team defeated the team from Mountain Lake after a hard fight, and won the Minnesota high school championship. Eight high schools were entered in the tournament, each representing one of the eight districts of Minnesota. Probably no similar tournament is held in the United States. The high school teams are brought to Northfield for the purpose of deciding the championship team of the state, and also for the purpose of encouraging a high standard of sportsmanship in Minnesota high schools. The expenses of all the teams are paid by Carleton college.

PIN MEN WIN LARGE SUM

Total of $1,330 Given to Northern Bowling Association Winners.

Duluth Pin Getters Take Down Only a Small Part of Cash.

A total of $1,330 was paid out by the Northern Bowling association to prize winners in the recent tourney. The prize list was given out today and shows a most liberal donation upon the part of the local association.

The prize money far exceeded the amount paid out last year and its total may be considered as a criterion of the success achieved by the association in attracting to the Head of the Lakes the crack bowlers of the Northwest.

The West Hotel team of Minneapolis, winners of the five-man event, took down the largest prize of the tournament, $100. The amount of prize money dwindled from this handsome donation to small amounts in the singles. While the bulk of the cash was hauled down by outside pin men, there is no complaint upon the part of Duluth bowlers. Out of $416 entry money paid into the coffers of the association, $235 was won back in the shapes of prize money by local pin spillers.

Following is a complete and detailed list of all prizes won during the tournament, as well as the name of the winning team or individual bowler:

BATTLING NELSON TELLS BROWN ABOUT JOE MANDOT

Former Lightweight Champion Writing From Cuba, Tells Range Boy to Slug With New Orleans Star—Murray to Fight Jack Dillon—Red Watson May Meet Freddy Welsh.

BY BRUCE.

Battling Nelson, sage and philosopher, has written to Pal Brown, advising him just the proper and most effective way in which to fight Joe Mandot.

When Packey McFarland fought Jack Britton in Milwaukee the Durable Dane sat in a ringside seat and threw tightly-folded little notes of advise to Britton between rounds. In the midst of the fighting Bat sat and concentrated his energy in making faces at McFarland, whom the former champion of the world cordially dislikes.

The letter from Brown is mailed from the Hotel Plaza, Havana, Cuba, where Nelson and John R. Robinson, his manager are at the present time. Whether Nelson really desires to see Brown defeat Mandot, or whether he loves the role of adviser, is uncertain, but the letter came nevertheless.

What the Dane Says.

"Go after Mandot all of the time," writes Nelson. "Keep on top of him and don't let him box you because he is one clever sucker, take it from me. Don't give him time to think of boxing nicely and piling up points, but chase him and make him slug all the time * * * ."

Wonder if P. Lawrence Brown will follow out the dictates of this letter!

Followers of the range lad declare that he will start against Mandot in the best form he has shown in years. This rumor is founded upon stories that are coming out of the training camp.

In boxing, if the handsome French lad from New Orleans performs to dope here, Brown will be outclassed by Joey. Any boxer who is able to outpoint Johnny Kilbane, as Mandot did, and beat the featherweight champion to the punch repeatedly, is some boxer. It is in slugging and rough work that Brown must look for advantage—if Mandot shows the fans around the Head of the Lakes some of the stuff that his records credits the French market boy with possessing.

In the record published yesterday Mandot is erroneously credited with a win over Leach Cross. This is wrong; Cross knocked Mandot out, and this after the French speed wizard had made Leachie look bad for the greater part of ten rounds. This fact is just what is leading some of the stalwart friends of P. Lawrence to optimistically hope that he may be able to accomplish the same pugilistic feat.

Dillon and Bill Murray.

Jack Dillon is about to descend again to the ranks of the middleweights. The word descend is used simply because of the fact that the Indianapolis strong youth has been promiscuously mingling with the light heavies and heavyweights for the last few months.

Dillon had several engagements with Jim Flynn and then as one of the climateric performances of his career engaged Gunboat Smith at Milwaukee and staked the tar to a decisive licking.

Mike Collins has signed Murray, one of the most aggressive middleweights in the game, to swap punches with the hard-hitting Dillon at the Hudson club on the evening of April 6. As an added attraction to this event Mike O'Dowd and Milly Misky will mingle.

A battle between Fighting Billy Murray and Jack Dillon should be a fight in the literal meaning of the word. These boys are fighters more than boxers; slugging, aggressive millers, both possessing a punch and both willing to take one to land one.

It is the hope of Dillon to mete out a decisive thrashing to Murray and thus work up interest for a meeting between himself and Mike Gibbons.

Dillon stands ready, through his manager, Sam Marburger, to deposit a forfeit of $2,000 for a 158-pound weigh-in at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Should Dillon make an impressive showing before the fans of the Twin Cities, a match between him and Gibbons would possibly exceed the gate record recently hung up in the Gibbons-McGoorty mill.

Temple and Red Watson.

It is reported from the Twin Cities that in the event of Fred Welsh coming West for a gambol at the Hudson club, that Red Watson and not Ray Temple will be the opponent selected for the tango.

Very often it is the case that two clever boxers make a—excuse the word—rotten showing. The McFarland-Britton contest is one of the most malodorous examples at hand. On the other hand, slugger arrayed against boxer is a combination that has made history in the prize ring.

We for one do not think that the short-armed Watson would be able to dent the intellectual dome of the Pontypridd citizen or chastise his lean middle; but the bout would nevertheless prove exceedingly interesting and excessively animated. There is always action with Watson, and then, too, one of those vicious swings landing.

DOOK WANTS PILL BUSTER

Jimmy Collins in Pending Deal for Slugging Outfielder.

Bert Sweeley Slated for First String Catching Duty.

If a pending trade is consummated between Duluth and Terre Haute, Jimmy Collins, White Sox holdout, will be shuffled off the local team in exchange for one of four players, now the property of the team pitched in the whirl of municipal graft.

Kelly, who is said to have swatted the pill to the lilting percentage tune of .431 last season in the Eastern association; Spar and Allen, all outfielders, and Tiny Ted Leber, the crack third baseman, are the players on the Terre Haute exchange list.

Acording to Owner Blume, the acquisition of a hard hitting outfielder will about complete the list of material for the 1915 Dooks.

Bert Sweeley, the Paw Paw college alumus, has sent in his contract and will probably be used for first string receiver. While not in the same class with the departed Edmunds, the diminutive Sweeley is a well-behaved boy behind the bat when given enough work to keep the kinks out of his system.

When John Burmeister returns the schedule may be revamped and the baseball timecard issued. The call of recruits for spring training is near at hand and soon the fans around the circuit will be doping out the winner of the approaching Northern league race.

BI-STATE LEAGUE.

Meeting at Chicago Expected to Perfect Plans for Organization.

Chicago, Macrh 29.—Formation of the Bi-State Baseball league was to be perfected here today at a meeting attended by Representatives from Aurora, Ottawa, Streator, Rockford, Freeport, Madison and Racine.

B. M. Parsons, president of the league, has made plans for a circuit consisting of either six or eight clubs. If an eight-club league is decided upon either Elgin or Kenosha, it was said, will be taken into the circuit.

TEMPLE BAND WINS FAVOR

Capacity Audience Pleased With Program at Last Sunday Concert.

Masonic Quartette and Charles Helmer Are Star Attractions.

Many were unable to obtain seats at the Masonic temple yesterday afternoon at the last concert of the season. As it was, the auditorium was filled to its capacity, and many sat in the anterooms and back of the stage to hear the music from afar.

New Masonic Band.

The great attraction was the newly organized Masonic band, which made its bow to the public on this occasion. In eulogizing the organization, A. F. M. Custance congratulated the members of the band who have made remarkable progress in a short time. He stated that the bands of Mecca temple, New York, and Lulu temple, Philadelphia, both of national reputation as "crack" bands, started on a much smaller basis than the Duluth Masonic band, and he looked forward confidently to the time when these bands would find a formidable rival in the Duluth organization. He paid a special tribute to Charles Helmer, director of the band, both as a cornet virtuoso and to his peculiar talents that make him a successful leader and instructor of the band.

The band played three numbers, showing considerable spirit, precision of attack, and a good idea of shading, which was especially apparent in the selection of Southern airs. All their numbers were received with enthusiastic applause, to which they responded with snappy encores. One of the most enjoyable numbers on the program was Mr. Helmer's rendering of Marshall's beautiful ballad, "I Hear You Calling Me," as a cornet solo with organ accompaniment. The vocal numbers were given by the popular Scottish Rite quartet with their usual artistry. Charles Applehagen sang the "Palms," in honor of Palm Sunday. This is an old favorite both with singer and audience, and was excellently rendered. As an encore the quartet sang "Love Me While You May," a beautiful little ballad by Genevieve Farnell Bond of Los Angeles. Mrs. Bond was present at the concert and complimented the quartet by saying that she had never before realized the possibilities of her song. The other two numbers were "request" selections, "Lord God Almighty," from Verdi's "Attila," and "Songs of Yore," a collection of old-time favorites. As encores they gave "Shandon Bells" and a beautiful setting of Tennison's "Crossing the Bar."

Coe Is Speaker.

The speaker of the day was E. K. Coe, venerable master of the "Lodge of Perfection." His subject was "Our Responsibilities." After general remarks on the obligations and responsibilities of people in general, he specialized on the growth of practical activities, outside the lodge room, undertaken and carried on by the Scottish Rite bodies of Duluth, and inaugurated some years ago by the indefatigable efforts of T. W. Hugo. The chief of these activities are the infant welfare work, and the free concerts. In addition there are many efforts made in the direction of practical charity, education and uplift. This practical application of Masonic principles is known in the Masonic world as the "Duluth Idea." In reviewing the practical effect of these free concerts the speaker emphasized their educational and esthetic effect, tending towards a more general appreciation of what is really good in music, and a corresponding sense of what is objectionable and injurious. The proof of the success of the concerts is the interest taken by the general public as evidenced by the large numbers that turn out to enjoy each program.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Drink, Eat and Be Merry

SINCE theory was first applied in physiology and hygiene it has been taught that the drinking of cold water just before eating should be avoided because, theoretically, it would tend to dilute the gastric juice and so interfere with digestion.

Of late some progressive hygienists have ventured to suggest that such is really not the case, but that water should be taken before or in the course of meals as an aid to good digestion.

Here are two directly opposite ideas. When the doctors disagree what shall we do?

Well, for one thing, we might consider the whole question and see where we shall land.

Cold Water Helps Digestion.

Experimental data collected by Hawk and others on man and animals, failed to show any impairment of digestion from the drinking of abundant water at meal time. Hawk believes that water drinking should be urged upon those with weak digestion. He found that cold water stimulates the flow of gastric juice in the stomach. And this increased flow of gastric juice contains a larger proportion of hydrochloric acid than the juice secreted before the water is taken.

Carlson, Orr and Brinkman, physiologists, have confirmed this fact experimentally. Bergeim, Rehfuss and Hawk assert that warm water or cold water, natural or distilled, is a very strong stimulant to the function of the stomach. As little as three tablespoonfuls of water taken twenty minutes before a meal will show a pronounced effect upon the secretion of gastric juice of the fullest digestive capacity.

It is argued that since water drinking so markedly stimulates the function of the digestive glands, it is a waste of glandular energy to drink water at other times than meal times!

So here we are, heels over appetite, compelled to preach what our medical fathers considered a besetting sin—the drinking of water ad libitum with meals.

Questions and Answers.

Blood Pressure: 1. What does high blood pressure lead to? 2. Please give some idea what diet one should adopt if the pressure is too high. 3. Is normal supposed to be 100 plus one's age?

REPLY.

1. High blood pressure places an abnormal strain on the heart; it leads to heart disease, arteriosclerosis (hardening of arteries), apoplexy (hemorrhage in brain), or Bright's disease, which is really an arterial disease. 2. In a general way, a diet largely vegetarian. Milk diet a day or two a week is excellent. We have many cases of high blood pressure in the Bread and Milk club. 3. Approximately, yes.

* * *

Pyorrhoea: 1. What is Rigg's disease? 2. Can pyorrhoea be permanently cured without having the infected teeth extracted? 3. What will exterminate tapeworm?

REPLY.

1. Chronic infective inflammation of the gums and tooth sockets. 2. It is up to your dentist to decide whether to extract what you call an infected tooth. The disease may be successfully treated without extracting good teeth. 3. A 12-hour fast, followed by a parasiticide administered by your doctor—and nothing else would be wise to try.

SPENDS NIGHT AT THE FRONT

Associated Press Correspondent Visits British Line of Works.

Desultory Artillery and Rifle Fire Normal Condition There.

(From Frederick Palmer, Associated Press correspondent at the front.)

British Headquarters in France, March 28, via London, March 29.—While the world is eager for news, day after day may pass with no news except of desultory artillery and rifle fire, which is the normal existence, save when some supreme effort is made.

Next to having witnessed the battle of Neuve Chapelle, the most interesting thing to a correspondent is a night spent in the new British line of works which defend that section of the shell-torn earth that the British won and hold against all German efforts at recovery.

Such a visit, made alone, without automobile or other accessories, proved to be no idyl of peaceful security. When a corps staff officer, who gave the correspondent permission to go, required him to sign a paper releasing the army authorities from any responsibility could only reply that he used the crossing at Forty-second street, New York, at rush hours with the British flag flies lies is here.

The Germans were shelling the avenues of approach to the British line at the edge of the village; stray bullets cracked against the shattered village walls, and when the correspondent left their cover he was within 300 or 400 yards of the German breastworks.

Yet, the most cheerful spot where out holding the mayor if run down.

Prepared to Pay Price.

Though rumors come from London of complaint over the heavy cost of the victory, the officer or man at the front who takes that view is yet to be found. They know the situation and are prepared to pay the price which success requires. The point they make is that they have been able to make a gain without any heavier losses than the Germans who yielded.

"A lot of our fellows were killed," said a soldier. "But this time it was in pushing the Germans, instead of trying to hold them back. You can't realize, sir, unless you have been in it, from Mons, how that bucks you up."

At a point where the trenches are only sixty yards apart, an English-speaking German asked when Kitchener's army was coming. "I want this war over," he declared loudly, "so I can go home."

"Don't get downhearted, my dear," Tommy Atkins called back. "You're already started, and you'll know when the new army comes because you will be going faster than you want to."

At this point one could distinctly hear the Germans talking, the commands of their officers and the driving of stakes as they strengthened their works. German rifles, helmets, caps and diaries were plentiful in the British breastworks; a souvenir hunter could have a helmet by going out in front for it.

Nothing in the war has been more satisfactory to the British army at the front than Neuve Chapelle. "It has given us confidence in our strength," says the officer, "tested our organization for the offensive tactics required in this kind of war, and demonstrated the power and precision of our artillery."

F. E. OTIS DEAD IN MINNEAPOLIS

Formerly Milwaukee Road Agent Here—Suffered Long Illness.

Frank E. Otis, assistant general freight agent of the Milwaukee road in Minneapolis and formerly general agent here, died Saturday morning after a long illness. He was 45 years of age and is survived by his wife and mother, the latter residing in Hudson, Wis. Hardening of the arteries and general breakdown were the cause of death.

Mr. Otis was general agent here for the Milwaukee road in 1901 and 1902, and during that time became very well acquainted in Duluth. The funeral took place this afternoon from Mr. Otis' late residence in Minneapolis and interment will be in Hudson.

Charles H. Mitchell, Milwaukee general agent here, went to Minneapolis last night to attend the funeral.

CONDEMN SINKING OF THE DRESDEN

Germany Says It Was Direct Violation of Chilean Neutrality.

Berlin, March 29, wireless to Sayville.—The German government yesterday gave out an official statement in which it was affirmed that the German cruiser Dresden, which was sunk off the Chilean island of Juan Fernandez March 14 by a British squadron, was destroyed in neutral waters. After condemning the British government for the manner in which the German warship was attacked, the statement says it will be interesting to see what attitude the United States government will adopt "in the face of such a violation of the neutrality of a South American republic." The text of the statement follows:

"The Nation, a London weekly, a few days ago admitted that it was 'doubtful' whether the attack on the German cruiser Dresden was carried out in conformity with the usages of war.

"The facts are that the Dresden was lying at anchor 500 yards off the coast in Cumberland bay, Juan Fernandez island, when she was attacked on the morning of March 14 by gunfire from the British cruisers Kent and Glasgow, and the auxiliary cruiser Orama.

"The Dresden was in a neutral port with her engines disabled and without coal; apparently little ammunition and practically unable to defend herself.

"After the Dresden, by the first volley of the infinitely superior enemy, was hit astern, the German commander protested against the violation of Chilean neutrality, whereupon the British commander declared he had orders to destroy the Dresden wherever he found her and that he did not care for other questions which diplomacy could settle afterward.

"How brutally Chilean neutrality was violated, is proved by the fact that the shells of the British cruisers nearly hit a Chilean ship and that splinters fell on Chilean territory, which practically amounts to the bombardment of a neutral Chilean port by British cruisers because a German cruiser was inside."

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED BY GOVERNOR HAMMOND

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor W. S. Hammond today issued the following Arbor day proclamation:

"To protect their dwelling places from the cold prairie winds in winter and the intense heat of midsummer, the pioneers of our state set out groves about them. As the forest trees were felled and great areas made desolate, the broad prairies were dotted with groups and the highways across them marked by lines of trees.

"When the state was young, our citizens caused a day each year to be set apart when school boys and school girls might learn the value of trees and what is necessary for their growth, and it is a well established custom on Arbor day to plant trees on the school grounds.

"The value of shelter belts around fields and farm buildings on the prairies is now well understood, and it is to be hoped that in the pine and spruce country of the north, belts of woodland will be retained and maintained for the protection of fields and buildings.

"The close relationship between tree life and bird life is obvious. We have no neighbors we would miss more than the feathered songsters, none that we should protect with more jealous care.

"Now, therefore, I, Winfield S. Hammond, governor of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim Friday, April 23, as Arbor day and Bird day, and urge its observance in the schools of the state and by our citizens generally.

"Let trees be planted about the homes, along the country roads, and on the school grounds in the state. Let there be appropriate exercises in the school and a study of the need and the methods of planting trees and reforesting lands where the timber has been cut away. Let the children be taught to associate the trees and the birds and the important part the birds have in the development of our orchards and forests. Let all who are interested call upon our state department of forestry for information in reference to tree planting on the prairies and in the timbered region and in reference to the proper maintenance and management of wood lots and shelter belts."

NOT IN FAVOR OF 'OPEN TOWN'

Farrell Denies Charges of "Good Government" Candidate.

Smallwood Attacks Interchurch Council; "Peanut" Politics Charged.

Charges by C. E. Evens, "good government" candidate for city commissioner, that the issue in the coming election was of the "open or closed town," brought a hot reply from J. A. (Bert) Farrell, one of the opposing candidates, in an address at the Jackson school Saturday night. Bernard Silberstein, candidate for commissioner, and Capt. W. H. Smallwood and M. E. Louisell, candidates for municipal judge, also addressed the meeting.

"Campaign promises are easily broken," said Mr. Evens, "and Duluth could become an 'open' town again with bad men in office." He advised voters to support Commissioners Hicken and Murchison to insure a "clean" town, and promised law enforcement himself.

"Mr. Evens intimates that he and Commissioners Hicken and Murchison are the only candidates in favor of law enforcement," said Mr. Farrell, "but where is the evidence that I stand for bad government? Are such remarks a square deal? Why do not the so-called closed town forces come into the open and quit backbiting?

"You are one of the men who have tried to misrepresent me," he said, pointing to L. U. Young, a member of the audience.

Capt. Smallwood accused certain members of the Interchurch council of playing "sharp politics" in manipulating matters so he was not indorsed along with Judge Windom.

"John G. Ross, Judge Windom's chief clerk, failed in his attempt to get the pastor of my church to secure indorsement of the council ticket with my name left off, and in spite of this 'peanut politics' I know several members of the council who are going to vote for me," he said.

Bernard Silberstein, in the first address of the meeting, produced figures, which, he said, showed that city expenditures had jumped $743,107 in two years. He pledged himself to law enforcement and economy, stating that "he would put the city on a sound business basis."

PASS RESOLUTIONS RELATIVE TO ROADS

Farmers and Business Men Protest Against Apportionment of Money.

Virginia, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meeting of farmers and business men of this section held here Saturday to protest against the appointment of money for roads in the Sixth district made by the St. Louis county board of commissioners adopted resolutions as follows:

"First—That a protest be made to the county commissioners for returning only $50,000 of about $100,000 paid in for good roads in this district and asking for a consideration.

"Second—That Commissioner O'Niel of the Seventh district be asked to spend $10,000, half on Wolfe-Virginia road through his district and half on the Rankala road in township 59.

"Third—That Nicholas township and the townships north be returned to the Sixth district where they logically belong, as the road north from here passes into that district then back into the Sixth.

"Fourth—That a survey be taken so it would be possible to shorten the distance over the route and to use the old Winter road.

Want Assistant Engineer.

"Fifth—That an assistant county engineer be appointed to have offices at some central place on the range and to aid in the road work in the districts at this end of the county.

"Sixth—That the international highway, state road No. 1, should have aid from the state and county, as it is the most needed of roads and the most neglected. That all work that has been done has been done by cities. This road connects with the Miller trunk and will be extended to the border. This would give a fine road to Cook and vicinity.

"Seventh—That it is the sense of the people of the Sixth district to be fair in their demands, but that they wish to have all of the funds necessary."

County Auditor Odin Halden, and Commissioners Little, Pentilla and Kauppi were present. The commissioners will consider the matter at their meeting this week and hear the following committee from the range:

D. C. Reed, R. L. Griggs of Virginia, Dudley Freeman and John Gleason of Eveleth, and N. B. Shank and Charles Johnson of Biwabik.

EVELETH LOGGERS HAD BUSY SEASON

While Market Was Not Best Much Timber Has Been Logged.

Eveleth, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth loggers have finished up a successful season. They operated as extensively as last season, although it has not been so easy to find a market for the products of the forest. This has been particularly true of ties and mining timbers. The railroads have not been buying heavily and have given a preference to the settlers who had ties for sale.

The early part of the season was not right for hauling but the loggers kept their crews cutting and when the snow came the timber was hurried out to the landings and the breakup came with the winter's work well cleaned up.

Saari Bros.' Work.

J. S. Saari states that Saari Bros. got out as much timber as last year and that the season was satisfactory. Most of their camps have been closed and only the work of hoisting and loading remains to be done during the summer. William Lawrence, who has been operating camps near Two Harbors, also reports a good season and states that he got out as much timber as last season.

Rhode Island Reds—First, Earl Durand; second, Lyan Huntley.

Silver-Laced Wyandottes—First, A. Galorneau; second, Leonard Perrington.

In the Plymouth Rocks, W. J. Corwin's pen, which was in the show for show for exhibition only and not "in the money" for prizes, took first honors. The other awards were as follows, all exhibits being barred rocks: Second, W. J. Fuller; third, C. G. Heinzelman; fourth, W. N. Delcour.

Best Boys' Pens.

Special prizes were awarded to Earl Durand and Truman Shoaff for having the best boys' pens of birds in the show. Some very fine birds were disqualified owing to defects, such as black feathers in white birds, side sprigs in combs, cross-bred birds, etc.

A notable exhibit was the pen of six Tom Barron strain White Leghorns shown by T. H. Shoaff. The barred rock cock bird shown by W. J. Corwin was probably the best bird in the show and Mr. Shoaff's was second best.

A good showing of eggs was made, there being ten exhibits of brown and five of white eggs.

The birds were not scored, but were judged by comparison and by their relative merits. Mr. Thias of Two Harbors, the judge, said that the show was an excellent one for what is practically a first effort.

EVELETH'S MAYOR LAUDS ITALIANS

Mayor Saari Speaks Well of Them as Citizens at Banquet.

Eveleth, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first Italian banquet under auspices of the Savanarola Circolo Educativo, or the Savanarola Educational club of the First Presbyterian church which was held in the club rooms of the city Auditorium on Saturday evening was a very enjoyable and successful event. It was an invitation affair and those who responded were among Eveleth's representative Italian and American citizens. Covers were laid for seventy.

The officers of the club are: Leonardo Gualtieri, president; Liborio Moscatelli, vice president; John Clagne, secretary; James De Paul, treasurer, and Rev. Gaetano Lizzi, instructor and leader of the club.

A number of toasts were responded to among which was one by Vincenz Cimino of Duluth, the editor of "Il Corriere Italo-Americano," who spoke in Italian congratulating the club upon its splendid work.

Other toasts were given by Rev. Nicola Santalla of Hibbing, Rev. G. Lizzi, Commissioner S. H. Owens, A. O. Klugston, Primo Chiodini and John Clagne. Rev. Philip A. Schwarz of the Presbyterian church was the toastmaster.

Mayor Saari Speaks.

The principal speaker at the banquet was Mayor Jacob S. Saari, who gave an able and practical address on "The Value of Education to the American Citizen." Mr. Saari spoke of the need and importance of education since in this country the people rule, and the uneducated citizen being a menace to his city, state and nation, easily becoming the tool of unscrupulous politicians. He urged his hearers to inform themselves on all matters of public importance and especially as to the merits and character of candidates for public office.

Mayor Saari stirred his audience when he said:" You Italians make good American citizens because you understand the fundamental principles of this nation. You know what liberty and independence mean, for the Italian people struggled hard to win liberty, independence and unity under the leadership of Mazzini, Cavour and Garibaldi."

His address was very well received by the Italians who enthusiastically applauded him.

MANY ARE AFTER SECRETARY'S JOB

No Lack of Candidates for Secretaryship of Hibbing Commercial Club.

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A recommendation to the village council for a secretary of the Hibbing Commercial club, to succeed J. L. Lewis, resigned, will be made tonight by the Commercial club committee. It is expected that the council will pass on the recommendation tomorrow night.

Fourteen applications for the position have been filed in the secretary's office. It has been recommended that a newspaper man be given the position and two already have applied.

Besides acting in the ordinary capacity of a secretary it is suggested that the one given the position will give the village wholesome advertising and devote his efforts to develop the potential farming possibilities of the surrounding country. It is probable that efforts will be made to induce wholesale houses to open up a branch on the range.

Half of the secretary's salary is paid by the village. The other half is paid by the club.

MRS. LEARY BURIED.

Funeral of La Prairie Fire Victim Is Held.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Jeanette Leary, who Thursday night was burned to death in the home of her son-in-law, C. A. When a child she moved with her parents to Ontario, Can., and nineteen years ago came to La Prairie to live with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Buell. Her daughter, Mrs. Buell, died about seven years ago, and aside from Mr. Buell and her two granddaughters and grandson, she leaves one son, John Leary of Dickinson, N. EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

If feverish, bilious, constipated, give fruit laxative at once.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

ORGANIZATION TO BE FORMED LATER

Formation of Cream Shippers' Association at Waldo Postponed.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers from the various farming localities in this county met at the Waldo town hall Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing a cream-shipping organization. About thirty farmers and several from this city, including A. A. McPheeters, local school agricultural expert, were present at the meeting. Much interest in the proposed movement was manifest and the plans were discussed as was the advisability of organizing such an association. William Wade, president of the Lake View Farmers' club, acted as chairman and A. A. McPheeters, secretary. After the plans had been discussed thoroughly it was decided that there was not sufficient data on hand to warrant organizing an association, so it was decided to call another meeting two weeks from tonight, when it is expected that a cream shipping association will be organized.

To Gather Information.

In the meantime committees, who were appointed by the chairman, will investigate conditions in the farming localities and will be in a position to give a reliable report at the next meeting.

The plans for organizing an association were well outlined by Mr. McPheeters, who has been instrumental in starting this movement, as well as many others which have been for the common interest of the farmers.

Mr. Jenkins of Rhinelander, Wis., was present and stated that he was considering a proposition of starting an ice cream factory and creamery at Two Harbors and that if he did he would be able to give the farmers a close market for their cream. Mr. Jenkins is looking for a favorable site to start such an institution.

TWO HARBORS HAS MYSTERIOUS FIRE

In Two-Story Frame Building That Had Just Been Vacated.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire of unknown origin caused considerable damage to a two-story frame building, located on Pine street, owned by Mrs. La Force, at an early hour this morning.

The building, until yesterday, was occupied by William Roleff, barber, and Oscar Jackson, a tailor. Yesterday they moved and the entire belongings to a new site on First avenue. Jackson had a few suits of clothes and some equipment destroyed, amounting to about $100 dollars or so. The damage to the building amounted to about $500 which was covered by insurance.

It is a mystery how the fire started as there was no stoves or a possible means in the building that a fire could originate from. The building is located in a thickly populated district of the city, where there are many old dry frame buildings, and had the fire not been discovered before it got a good start the entire block might have been wiped out.

BLAMES MINE CONCERNS.

Mayor Power Claims They Cause Much Extra Hibbing Expense.

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mine operations have caused the needless expenditure of $1,000,000 in Hibbing during the last few years, is the claim made by Mayor V. L. Power, who declares that if the actual population and amount of money spent in improvements torn up by mining companies were figured, the per capita tax of Hibbing would not be in excess of $10.31.

"The water system, made necessary through operations of the mining companies, entails an expenditure of $400,000," Mayor Power said. "This is only one of the many items which would be charged against the mine operators here. Not a single road torn up by mining companies here has been replaced, as is provided by the law. This should not come out of the tax levy, either, but directly out of the mining company funds."

CHISHOLM LEVY TO BE $320,000

Question of Issuing Bonds to Pay Floating Debts Deferred.

Chisholm, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The financial condition of the village was again discussed at the meeting of the village council Saturday evening, the proposition of again asking the people to vote on bonds to clear up the floating indebtedness being threshed over, but without result, the whole matter going over to another meeting.

J. J. Hayes said the business men were carrying so much village paper they needed relief.

Simon Sapero was in favor of bonding now and clearing up the village paper. Trustee Ulrich thought action should be deferred as he understood the mining companies which are largely interested, are considering a plan that might relieve the situation.

The budget was then discussed and it was fixed at $320,000 on a valuation of $16,726,848.

J. E. Cummings applied for the use of the hothouse flowers for the M. E. and St. Joseph's churches for Easter. The request was granted.

Graham Urges Action.

Trustee Graham in urging that the budget be made up and the levy for next year appropriated, drew attention to the $25 per capita bill now before the legislature and said that if the council did not act at once, it would be too late to do anything if the bill passed. Trustee Ulrich and President Fugero wanted to wait, but Trustee Graham again called attention to the danger of waiting and being caught tapping if the $25 per capita bill went through. Trustee Mahne urged that the budget and appropriation be made at once so that the council would not be caught short of funds if the bill aimed to reduce the tax levy got through the senate.

Trustee Graham then moved that the council make the tax levy and a recess of five minutes was called to enable the village attorney to draw up a resolution. The resolution was introduced at the expiration of the recess and was to the effect that the levy be made the same as the present levy, $320,000 on a valuation of $16,726,848. He said that unless the team received financial support from the business men, people would not patronize the games, but instead would go to Hibbing, where they were making arrangements to support the best possible team to be obtained. He thought that Chisholm should have a first-class team and that there was no reason why it should not.

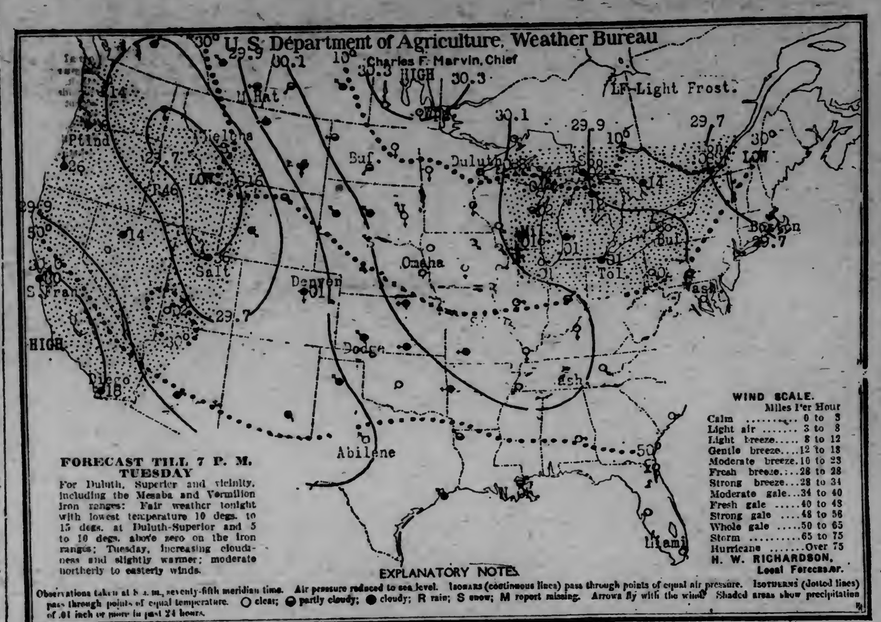
OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



FAIR

Sunday would have been perfect had it not been for the very cold wind that pestered pedestrians prodigiously and perpetually and not periodically. With that alliteration disposed of, it may be said that there was nice sunshine all day and the wind furnished the only disagreeable feature, even though there was a little snow on the ground from the fall of late Saturday night. "Low temperature prevails in Central Canada, North Dakota and the northern portions of Minnesota. Wisconsin and Michigan and freezing conditions extend southward to including Nebraska, Missouri and the Ohio valley states. During the past twenty-four hours light snow fell over the Lake region, Ontario, Ohio and St. Lawrence valleys, and rain or snow in districts west of the Rocky mountains."

B. H. GRAHAM HEADS CHISHOLM BALL CLUB

Fans Have Enthusiastic Meeting and Plan to Have Good Time.

Chisholm, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large and enthusiastic meeting of baseball players and fans was held at the village hall Sunday afternoon to discuss the organization of a ball club and to elect officers.

A. H. Kleffman was elected temporary chairman, and A. J. Sullivan secretary.

B. H. Graham was elected permanent president of the club, A. J. Sullivan, permanent secretary, A. H. Kleffman, treasurer, and Ed Freeman, manager and captain.

Gust Anderson, George Trask, Clyde Blough and Alger R. Syme were chosen as a finance committee.

Must Have Money.

Manager and captain Ed Freeman promised to take charge of the team on condition that the finance committee paid up all back debts and showed a balance to start the year with of $500. He said that unless the team received financial support from the business men, people would not patronize the games, but instead would go to Hibbing, where they were making arrangements to support the best possible team to be obtained. He thought that Chisholm should have a first-class team and that there was no reason why it should not.

The finance committee was given power to raise money by any means and to find jobs for the ball players now out of work.

John Hirstio was elected official scorekeeper.

STRAND IS RE-ELECTED.

GOOD JOBS NOW OPEN

Good Pay for Honest Men and Women—Live and Let Live.

Thousands of people are at work now earning from $10.00 to $65.00 a day when actual work is done. If this looks too big, two can be put on the same job and cut incomes in two. Four carloads of good, well known, standard makes of pianos and player pianos must be sold in a very short time. Get busy! I pay 10 per cent commission to anyone who will bring customers to our store who buy. No matter if it is brother, sister or friend, music teacher or no teacher, or if you are in the market for a piano or player piano bring your confidential party with you, whom you believe will be fair and realize the real value of a good piano, and I pay her, or him, 10 per cent out of the net sale and you still save canvasser's, sales manager's and their agent's commission of 10 per cent each, in all 30 per cent is still yours, or if you have real confidence in yourself to select a good instrument bring this ad with you on or before April 3, 1914, and buy. You will then really save 40 per cent from the dealer's usual asking price. Everything is easy if you know how. My time is free for your service. I will show you and tell you all I know about the good and real piano value. I will be fair and honest with you, but no piano men can be fair with you if they have to pay 40 per cent out in commissions and then take skim milk after all the cream is taken out for commissions but in this case if there is any cream on the net selling price I get it and save you 40 per cent. Live and let live is my belief, but no grafting. Come down yourself with your friend or without this week, and I will show you the greatest piano bargains ever offered. Write today if you can not call. Look for the two awnings on our first and second floors.

FOR BEAUTY OF DULUTH

Statuary and Decorations From Exposition May Be Brought Here.

Statuary and decorations used at the Panama-Pacific International exposition may be brought to Duluth and used to decorate parks and public buildings upon the conclusion of the big fair, if an offer made to Mayor W. I. Prince is acted upon by civic organizations of the city.

Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition, in a letter to the mayor, received this morning, directs attention to the fact that the statuary will be given cities in the various states of the union as soon as the buildings are dismantled and the fair closed.

"In view of the participation of your state in the exposition," reads Mr. Moore's letter, "I have thought that you might be interested in securing a permanent memorial of the exposition for your city, to be used for decorative purposes in the parks and public buildings."

Mayor Prince will not act on the matter unless Duluth organizations show an interest in securing the exhibits, but in that event it is quite possible that memorials will be placed in several public places.

Statuary at the exposition is not marble, according to the letter, but of a very hard composition which is a close imitation of the stone.

Putting the Cash In Cash Registers

Every time a manufacturer advertises a national product in The Herald, he is creating business for local merchants.

He is putting the buying impulse into possible customers.

Wise merchants sense this as soon as they see the manufacturers' newspaper advertising.

They let the public know their store is the best place to buy these particular goods.

They show them in their windows and on their counters.

They push while the manufacturers advertisement is pulling.

And the cash goes in their own cash registers.

DECLARED MORATORIUM.

Saloon Keeper Suspended Payment on Check and Check Passer Fled.

MORATORIUMS may be all right in Europe, but it is different in the United States, in the belief of Peter Morneau, age 21, who is in jail charged with forgery because a West Superior street saloon keeper "suspended payment" for a few hours.

Morneau, who lives at 826 South Sixty-third avenue west, is alleged to have taken a letter from a mail box in front of his residence about a month ago, subtracted a $13 check from it, and attempted to cash it.

The mail box was also used by the family next door, and the letter in question belonged to Andrew Anderson, say the police. Morneau is said to have signed Anderson's name, but when he tried to cash it, the saloon keeper became suspicious and asked him to wait until he looked it up. Morneau fled, and has been out of the city since that time, according to detectives.

When the letter was missed, Detectives Herman Toewe and J. L. Bradley traced its loss to Morneau and since that time have been waiting for him to return. He was arrested by Lieut. F. A. Schulte late Saturday, and waived examination in municipal court this morning. He was bound over to the grand jury.

HELD FOR WATCH THEFT.

Boston Man Arrested for Offense Several Months Old.

Elnar John Maki-Simola, Jr., age 22, who is from Boston, but who speaks to everybody, was arrested yesterday by Lieut. Gustav Lahti, charged with stealing a watch from John Aho several months ago.

Maki-Simola, Jr., was arrested by Lieut. N. U. G. Terry some time ago in connection with the disappearance of a timepiece, and at the time had in his possession an eighteen-jeweled "ticker" that didn't look as if it was from Boston.

Lieut. Terry held the watch, pending an investigation, and Saturday, just as he was about to return it to the man from whom he had taken it, John Aho, claiming to be the owner, identified it as his property.

Maki-Simola, Jr., came after the watch within a few minutes of the time that Aho made the identification, and was locked up. He was charged with petty larceny and will be given a hearing March 30. Bail was set at $50.

BELLIGERENTS INTERNED.

Englishman and German Come to Blows in "Heavy Sea."

Naval authorities have disagreed as to the standing of the world powers, so it was not unexpected when Jefferson Mitchell, age 27, and Peter Borsuk, age 29, came to blows over the respective strength of the British and German fleets.

Despite their wisdom, acquired in several years' service on the Great Lakes, Jefferson and Peter, English and German respectively, couldn't listen to each other's reasoning. They came to blows and were parted by Capt. W. A. Bourke, Lake Carriers commissioner, sometimes known on police records as "Patrolman Burke."

In municipal court this morning both men pleaded guilty to a charge of being belligerents in neutral territory, although they both gave as an excuse that there "was a heavy sea." They were fined $15 and costs or fifteen days at the work farm.

Lodgers' Record Broken.

Laborers out of work and without money who apply at police headquarters for night's lodging broke all records of the department Saturday and Sunday, when 424 men were accommodated. On Saturday night 209 men slept in the basement room and Sunday night this mark was topped by six.

In order to get this number of men into the room it was necessary for several to sleep sitting up and one or two even propped themselves 'n the corners and slept standing. The previous record was 188 men, on Friday night. Before that, the record was 156, made early in the winter.

WENT TOO FAR.

Obliging Friend Gets Arrested for Taking Wagon Wheel.

When Fred Archambeau, aged 20, said his wagon needed a wheel, and asked Milton Anderson, age 18, to get one for him, Anderson proved a true friend, and di just as he was told, according to police.

He produced a nice, shiny red wheel and everyone was happy until Alex Sang, 31 North Eighteenth avenue west, reported that his vehicle had only three wheels, and police arrested Archambeau and Anderson.

Anderson pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny this morning in municipal court, but Archambeau said he was not guilty of receiving stolen property. They both will be given a hearing this afternoon.

POLICE MAKE RICH "HAUL"

Arrest of Alleged Shoplifters Discloses Big Stock of Goods.

When caught stealing a pair of bathing caps from a counter at the George A. Gray department store Saturday evening about 5 o'clock, Martha Jokinen, age 18, and Emma Signe Tulonen, age 20, were forced to reveal what the police believe to be a systematic shoplifting campaign which already has extended over several weeks and cost large department stores several hundred dollars.

In the girls' room at 111½ Second alley west, Lieut. Gustav Lahti found twenty elaborate silk waists, about a dozen pairs of silk stockings; several pairs of gloves, long, short, silk and kid; several silver picture frames, some table silver, several lace collars and countless other feminine odds and ends.

At the time of their arrest the girls had in their possession goods taken from the Gray store, Frelmuth's and the Glass Block. The Jokinen girl had an embroidered collar and five pairs of silk gloves in her muff, while her companion had one pair of gloves and some tie pins, in addition to the bathing caps and a brown waist "rention."

Although police believe that the pair have been operating for some time, the charge placed against them was petty larceny, as the value of the goods found on their persons was considerably under the grand larceny limit.

At the suggestion of Mr. Sicard, girls from the various department stores were called to police headquarters in an attempt to identify some of the articles found in the girls' room as stolen. Although the salesgirls recognized some of their "pet" waists, there will be considerable difficulty in proving whether or not they were stolen.

The prisoners will be given a hearing in municipal court this afternoon.

CHURCHES BEGIN HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Good Friday Programs Elaborate; Easter Service Crowning Event.

With the beginning of Holy Week yesterday virtually all the churches of Duluth began special services, which will close on Good Friday, leaving one day of rest before the big Easter day celebration next Sunday.

Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran will hold daily services while most of the other churches will make special preparations for Easter and in some cases Good Friday.

The Catholic and Episcopal will hold elaborate services. At the Catholic cathedral yesterday morning early mass was sung. The chief celebration of Holy Week will begin on Maundy Thursday and on that night tenebrae is celebrated. Good Friday, which is the anniversary day of Christ's crucifixion, and Easter, the day of the resurrection, will be featured by the most solemn services.

At Trinity Episcopal cathedral and St. Paul's church there will be daily services, morning and evening.

At St. Paul's church there will be preaching services Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 p. m. and at 7:30 p. m. Thursday evening. Holy communion will be celebrated Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 a. m. The Bible study class will meet at 4:15 Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

NOTED RECTOR HERE.

Dr. Johnson of Faribault Seminary at St. Paul's.

Dr. Irving P. Johnson, one of the most noted pulpit orators of the Northwest who was formerly rector of Gethsemane church, Minneapolis, was in charge of the Palm Sunday services at St. Paul's Episcopal church. He will also conduct the services for the remainder of Passion week ending with the services on Good Friday.

Services will be held at St. Paul's every day this week, including a three-hour service on Good Friday, which will begin at noon.

Dr. Johnson is now a member of the Faribault seminary faculty.

VANCOUVER PREACHER MAY COME TO DULUTH.

Rev. H. W. Fraser, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Vancouver, B. C., will preach at the First Presbyterian church, Duluth, on three Sundays, beginning April 11, a week from next Sunday.

Mr. Fraser, who is said to be one of the ablest preachers of the Pacific coast, may become a candidate for the vacant pastorate of the local First church, but that has not, as yet, been decided upon.

ANNUAL REPORT OF BOARD OF TRADE.

The annual report of the Duluth board of trade has just been issued in pamphlet form by Secretary Charles F. Macdonald and contains the usual classes of figures, showing the business and prices during 1914. Only one member of the board died during last year, that being W. H. Dunwoody of Minneapolis of the Washburn-Crosby Milling company. One member has died already this year, George Spencer, second president of the board, and, at the time of his death, president of the Consolidated Elevator company.

Paraphrasing the catch phrase about Christmas shopping, candidates in the municipal campaign this morning were saying "Do your campaigning early. Only six more business days till election."

The last week of one of the quietest campaigns in the history of Duluth opened without any eventful developments, although the fight promises to be a hot one before Saturday night.

Members of the "law and order" faction have "slipped one over" on their opponents, according to the announcement that they would hold meetings in the Armory and the Auditorium on Saturday night. With both of the largest downtown halls at their disposal, other candidates are making an effort to find a place where they can hold the monster meeting they expect to stage.

What the "law and order" faction calls the biggest mass meeting of the entire campaign will be staged Wednesday evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church, under the auspices of the Inter-church council.

Dr. William Forney Hovis, Dr. C. N. Thorp, Dr. J. W. Hoffman, Rev. J. A. McGaughey and other ministers will give addresses, as will many prominent laymen of the churches represented, according to the announcement.

With more than a score of political organizations actively in the field, meetings are scheduled nightly for every section of the city and political workers are making every effort to line up their votes within the next two or three days, in preparation for the windup rallies scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

The Young Men's Farrell club will hold a rally at the Kalamazoo hall, 18 West Superior street tonight, while members of the Farrell organization will address a gathering of Italians at the hall at Eleventh avenue west and Superior street tomorrow night.

On Thursday evening Bernard Silberstein and J. A. Farrell will address the West Duluth voters at a meeting in Dormedy hall. Many other smaller meetings also have been arranged by campaign managers of all the candidates.

R. E. McFarlane, candidate for commissioner, is handling his own campaign, he has announced, although it was previously stated that James Maghan had been appointed his manager.

SUPERIOR DID NOT CARE TO RUN FOR OFFICE

"If you care anything for your life you will leave my name off the ballot."

Such was the communication received by City Clerk McKeague of Superior from Thomas Scanlon, whose name had been inserted by fourteen of his friends in the Fourth ward for the position of justice of the peace. Scanlon considered it too much of a joke and when he found that his name was to be included on the regular ballot he remonstrated. The city clerk decided that the communication constituted a declination and had the name taken off.

OUTSIDE SPEAKERS FOR TEMPERANCE CAMPAIGN.

Governor Hodges of Kansas, J. J. McDonald of Madison, attorney for the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league and Rev. Fr. Dunn of Eau Claire, one of the most forceful temperance speakers in the state will be in Superior on Saturday, Sunday and Monday of next week to speak in the interests of the temperance advocates. Mass meetings will be held in several parts of the city in the interest of the final rally of the campaign, Monday evening, April 5. The executive committee of the "dry" campaign has been established in the Board of Trade building.

SOCIOLOGICAL WORKER DEAD

Dr. Charles R. Henderson Victim of a Stroke of Paralysis.

Chicago, March 29.—Dr. Charles R. Henderson of the University of Chicago died at Charleston, S. C., early today, according to a telegram received at the university.

Death is said to have been due to a strike of paralysis superinduced by overwork as chairman of the United Charities, upon which fell the burden of caring for the unemployed last winter.

Prof. Charles Richmond Henderson became generally known to the nation in 1892, when as a member of an arbitration committee he was largely instrumental in settling the Detroit, Mich., street car strike. He was at that time pastor of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church in Detroit. Before this he had served as pastor of the Baptist church in Terre Haute, Ind., where he had aided in founding the public library and institutes for working men.

After his success in the street car arbitration, Prof. Henderson was chosen professor of sociology of the University of Chicago Sept. 15, 1892. Later in the same year he was elected chaplain of the university, which position he has since held. Since 1897 he has served as the head of the department of practical sociology.

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store and save your hair. After a few applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

SPRAY SPLASHED ON SHIP'S DECK

Shots From American Guns Promptly Understood By Odenwald.

New York, March 29.—How the German steamer Odenwald tried to slip out of San Juan harbor March 31 without clearance papers and how she was stopped by American guns at a harbor fort, were told in detail today by officers of the steamer Brazos, which reached here today from San Juan.

The Odenwald, they said, had been taking on coal and provisions for several days. As she sank deeper in the water, men in boats alongside painted the water line higher on her hull. When she tried to get out the fort fired two shots from a rapid firing gun. These were disregarded.

A seven-inch gun threw a projectile so close to the Odenwald's bow that the spray it kicked up splashed on the steamer's deck. That ended the attempt and the Odenwald returned to her anchorage.

German agents of the Odenwald, the Brazos officers were informed, had asked the customs house for clearance papers, but they had been refused.

PRESIDENT GUEST ON ARGENTINE SHIP

In Company With Secretary Daniels Visits Battleship Moreno.

Annapolis, Md., March 29—President Wilson, accompanied by Secretary Daniels and a party of aides, arrived in Annapolis roads shortly after noon today on board the Mayflower following an uneventful trip from Washington. The Mayflower anchored near the new Argentine battleship Moreno, five miles off the naval academy grounds in order to allow the president's party to go aboard the Moreno to be guests of the Argentine ambassador, Dr. Romulo S. Naon.

As the president's party neared the Moreno the entire crew of the Argentine battleship "manned the rail" and he was "piped over the side" while a guard of marines came to "present arms." The band of the battleship then played "The Star Spangled Banner" and at the last strains the president's flag was run up and the Moreno began firing a presidential salute of twenty-one guns.

The president was met on the Moreno by Ambassador Naon, Rear Admiral Martin, president of the Argentine naval commission, and Capt. Galindez of the battleship.

The guests at the lunch, in addition to president, and Secretary Daniels, were Dr. C. T. Grayson, Capt. Albert C. Wintershalter, Commander D. W. Wurtsbaugh, Federico M. Quintana, counsellor of the Argentine embassy; Carlos Acuna, first secretary, Colonel Raybaud, military attache, and Eduardo Racedo.

The president planned to leave on the Mayflower for Washington at about 7 o'clock, arriving there tomorrow morning.

MARKET HAS FAIR UPTURN

Wheat Advances on Good Buying, With Bullish Foreign News.

Crushers Bid for Flaxseed and Quotations Move Up Moderately.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 29.—The market was strong at the close on good bidding.

May wheat opened 2⅛c up; July 2⅝c up and September 2c up. May durum closed unchanged, and July unchanged.

Oats closed ⅞c up at 55⅛@55⅝c for on the track; rye 1c off at $1.07@1.08, and barley 1c off at from 63@72c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅞c up at 62⅛c bid, and July 1c up at 62½c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.41 bid, and calls at $1.46⅝.

Holders in the wheat market had the edge on the situation today. Trading was on the bullish order from the opening, and a maximum bulge of 1½c in May and 2¼c in July was scored during the first three hours of business.

Strength was imparted through higher Liverpool cables and reported further buying by exporters at the seaboard and at Kansas City. The British government is said to be coming into the market again, it being found that their supplies are depleted. The intimation that Italy has delayed her entry into the European war was a factor working for higher prices.

A falling off in primary receipts and the fact that it is likely to become more markedly emphasized during the next thirty days at least, owing to farmers being engaged in seeding, was given some consideration. The decrease in the American visible supply was smaller than expected, being reported at 1,013,000 bu, whereas it had been running well over the 2,000,000 mark for some time back. That had been foreshadowed by the lighter clearances during the past few days, attributable to the scarcity of ocean space and increased shipments from Argentine, as shown in last week's statement.

Operators, however, continue to feel extremely bullish on the outcome of the market. It is contended that millers will be doing some scrambling for supplies when the extent of the shortage in spring wheat is revealed in the next few weeks. A local grain man who is back from a trip to Buffalo said it is figured out by the trade down there that the great bulk of the grain in Lower Lakes elevators is already under contract for export.

May wheat opened ½c up at $1.45¼, and gained 1c more up to the noon hour. July opened ⅛c up at $1.40½, and gained 2c more. July opened ½c up at $1.12, and bulged ½c more.

May durum opened unchanged at $1.52,, advanced 1c, and then eased off to the some extent. July opened unchanged at $1.51.

Flaxseed Strong.

Strength was shown in flaxseed on steady inquiry by crushers and a general tendency on the part of holders to retain their stocks pending developments. It is claimed that without Argentine importations on a liberal scale there is likely to be sharp shortage in supplies in this country.

Nervousness was shown at the outset. After opening higher, prices eased off on the appearance of some selling orders, and then they firmed up as soon as crushers again entered the pit. Final prices in the day showed gains of ½c.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.94½ and closed ½c up at $1.95 asked. July opened ½c up at $1.97 asked, and closed ½c up at $1.97 asked. September opened unchanged at $1.99 and closed ½c up at $1.99½.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1c up at $1.77½ asked, and July 4c up at $1.80 bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Supplies of wheat in Duluth and Minneapolis elevators as on March 27, were reported at 22,503,000 bu, against 35,032,000 bu last year. At Duluth, there was 12,507,000 bu against 15,805,000 bu last year, and at Minneapolis, 9,996,000 bu compared with 19,727,000 bu a year ago.

H. A. Starkey, president of the Consolidated Elevator company, has returned from New York where he attended a meeting of the company's directors at which he received his appointment.

Flaxseed stocks in Duluth and Minneapolis elevators as on March 27 were reported at 891,000 bu against 1,993,000 bu a year ago. At Duluth, there was 821,000 bu compared with 1,780,000 bu last year, and at Minneapolis, 70,000 bu against 213,000 bu a year ago.

Cash differences on grain were unchanged at Duluth today. One northern wheat sold at 4c over May; durum at the May price and cash flax at 1c under May and screenings were quoted today at $16.00 a ton with the demand for them light.

A. M. Prince of the Cargill Elevator company returned today from a two weeks' trip to Buffalo. He said the general impression there is that nearly all the wheat, both at Duluth and Buffalo, has been sold to go out for export. Foreigners are coming right to Buffalo for grain and with the steady demand for export prevailing the feeling among operators is very bullish, he averred.

At Minneapolis cash demand was very good for top grades. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5c to 5½c over May and velvet chaff at 2½c to 4½c over May. The domestic flour demand showed some improvement and there were some moderate export sales made. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.44½ to $1.48 and No. 2 northern at from $1.39½ to $1.45. Wheat stocks in Minneapolis decreased 200,000 bu in two days.

World's shipments: American 8,135,000 bu; Indian, 56,000 bu; Argentine, 5,192,000 bu; Chili and North African, 56,000 bu; total, 13,439,000 bu. Corn, total, 2,499,000 bu.

On passage: Wheat, 52,240,000 bu; last year, 48,328,000 bu; December, 1,080,000 bu. Corn, 15,029,000 bu; last year, 5,508,000 bu; December, 1,470,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "American cables on Saturday and liberal American shipments helped to create bearishness and the undertone was barely steady. Plate is freely offered with Manitobas and winters 3d lower, while spot market is generally steady, unchanged to 1d lower with pressure in soft winters. Indian offers were firm. Millers here continue to absorb and stocks this week again show a decrease. Free purchases have been made in Argentina of good quality but the quality there is lower.

"Corn was neglected with buyers and sellers far apart and the undertone favorable."

Latest Argentine advices say the weather is generally favorable both for the development and shipment of corn. Corn is offered more freely and stocks of wheat at the ports are large with the quality showing an improvement. Good quality wheat is in urgent demand.

Liverpool stocks were reported as follows: Wheat, 1,808,000 bu, decrease, 56,000 bu. Corn, 1,590,000 bu, increase, 102,000 bu. Recently the government realizing a depletion in reserves commenced to purchase on a liberal scale as the consumption is now reckoned at 4,750,000 bu weekly and most of the native crop has been already consumed. The amount contracted at this purchase is merely a surmise but it is understood that shipments during March, April and May will be of a satisfactory quota. Since this purchase the general demand has been quiet but the undertone generally firm, according to Broomhall.

American visible supply changes: Wheat, decrease, 1,013,000 bu, last year, decrease, 1,072,000 bu; corn, decrease, 2,498,000 bu, last year, decrease, 326,000 bu; oats, decrease, 246,000 bu, last year, decrease, 873,000 bu.

Totals—Wheat, 42,215,000 bu, last year, 53,635,000 bu; corn, 35,320,000 bu, last year, 19,755,000 bu; oats, 27,202,000 bu, last year, 19,797,000 bu.

Port Arthur and Fort William stocks as reported to Paine Commission company: Wheat, 7,679,814 bu against 6,640,185 bu last week and 11,905,604 bu last year; oats, 2,969,493 bu against 2,732,156 bu last week and 4,934,593 bu last year; barley, 342,482 bu against 336,662 bu last week and 1,513,226 bu last year; flax, 985,116 bu against 942,452 bu last week and 2,896,190 bu last year.

Clearances: Wheat, 1,250,000 bu; flour, 129,000 bu, equal to 1,831,000 bu; corn, 616,000 bu; oats, 539,000 bu.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from New York: "Export demand for wheat was reported fair early and there were some rumors of business. Better bids on oats were claimed, but no business was transacted. The advance of 1c in corn led to rumors of export business, but local cash handlers said bids were considerably out of line."

ADVANCE IN SPECIALTIES

Another Sensational Rise in Bethlehem Steel Features Market.

Rock Island Shows Sudden Activity and Strength Near Close.

New York, March 29.—A further rise of over 7 points in Bethlehem Steel was the dominant feature of today's early operations. The stock rose to 82, a new high record and 15 points above its price of last Friday. Further realization of the company's increasing business and short covering contributed to today's movement. Another specialty, General Motors, added 7 points to Saturday's 8-point rise. All the more seasoned stocks were higher, Canadian Pacific being foremost in this class with a gain of 1⅝. Prices shaded in the general list before the end of the half hour.

Bethlehem Steel yielded little of its meteoric advance today despite extensive profit-taking, falling back a trifle only to advance to the new high price of $89. The automobile stocks also held or added to early gains and some speculative specialties gained 2 to 3 points. With the exception of York Central, which rose over 2 points, most of the railways and other representative shares were reactionary. Reading and New Haven fell more than a point from their best, while Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Amalgamated and Smelting were fractionally lower. Prices stiffened again at mid-day.

Bonds were steady.

Bethlehem Steel pursued a more erratic course after mid-day, falling from 87 to 83½ and recovering to 87. Standard stocks declined substantial fractions and trading became dull and relatively narrow.

Another sensational advance in Bethlehem Steel which rose over 14 points to 89, with wide gains in other specialties, were the chief features of today's markets.

Bethlehem Steel's feverish movement continued to the end. Rock Island showed sudden strength and activity. The closing was strong.

FOR SALE.

I have ten small farms of forty acres each and two of eighty acres each. These farms have houses on them, and from five to twenty acres cleared ready to crop. I am going to offer them during the month of April for cash only, at $12 per acre. There are twenty-five families of Sylvanians living near this land. Some of them have lived here four years, and have done exceedingly well, have lots of cattle, chickens, pigs, horses and plenty of stuff to live on until they grow more. I have no time to answer any letters, but if you want a farm, come and see it, because I know you will buy. You will not see this ad again, as I told you a year ago what the times would be under a Democratic administration, and the worst is yet to come.

KNIFE BEING APPLIED BY HOUSE AND SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEES

Severe Cuts Made in Appropriations for the Departments.

Senate Passes Resolution on the Upper Mississippi Reservoirs.

House Passes Bill Abolishing Tuberculosis Advisory Board.

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 75 ayes to 23 noes the house today passed the Christianson bill abolishing the state tuberculosis commission created by the 1903 legislature and headed by Dr. H. L. Taylor of St. Paul.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The knife is being applied rigorously by the finance committee of the senate, Senator Rockne, chairman, and the appropriations committee of the house, Representative Lewis C. Spooner, chairman. The senate finance committee this morning completed its departmental bill and the bill for the institutions under the board of control. Both carry severe cuts from the amounts asked for, and below the amounts available for the last biennium.

The two bills carry appropriations two millions below the amounts requested, of which a million and a half is in the board of control's requests. The board of control gets $4,843,000 for the biennium against $5,548,000 for the last biennium, and the departments are allowed $5,583,829 against $6,048,000 two years ago. The forestry board loses $70,000, the highway commission $100,000. The county tuberculosis sanitariums get $250,000 instead of $500,000. The state fair asked for $290,000 and gets $10,000.

University Is Cut.

The finance committees of the senate and the appropriations committee of the house, sitting jointly, last night calmly lopped $750,000 off the fund asked for by the state university to maintain it during the next two years. The principal cuts follow: Extension work, $65,000; teaching staff, $222,400; hospital for contagious cases, $100,000, eliminated altogether; electrical engineering laboratory and equipments, $80,000, eliminated altogether; experiment stations and research work, $42,450. The regents asked for $3,887,150, and are allowed $3,110,310.

TELEGRAPHERS IN ST. LOUIS TO STRIKE

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—One hundred and twenty-five telegraphers, present and former employes of the local branch of the Western Union Telegraph company, unanimously voted to strike at a closed meeting held here last night, according to Sylvester J. Reinemkamp, international president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union.

While the vote was being taken W. C. Long, secretary of the local union, received a telegram from Secretary of Labor Wilson saying that William Blackman, commissioner of conciliation of the United States department of labor was en route to St. Louis to act as mediator. The request for mediation was made to Wilson by the union.

The strike vote was taken on the demand of about forty operators recently discharged by the Western Union company. The operators claim they were discharged because their membership in the union had become known. Officers of the telegraph company deny that union men are being discriminated against.

RECLAMATION PLAN FORMED

Solution of the Problem of State Development Proposed.

House Provides for Committee to Study Efficiency and Economy.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a solution of the problem of state development through the clearing of cut-over lands, a number of members of both branches of the legislature from Northern Minnesota have agreed upon a plan set forth in a bill introduced in both branches yesterday providing for the creation of corporations for the reclaiming of timber and brush land.

Representative Paul Marschalk of Warroad and others had hoped, early in the session, to be able to devise some plan of creating development districts with power to issue public bonds for reclamation purposes. However, this proved not to be within the bounds set by the Constitution, and after long consultations with the attorney general and others, this plan was agreed upon.

The authors of the bill in the house are Representatives Paul Marschalk of Warroad, Oscar T. Stenvick of Bagley, H. J. Miner of International Falls, L.

QUESTION OF DRASTIC PROHIBITION LEADING TOPIC IN BRITISH ISLES

Employers and Labor Leaders Are All Anxious for a Change.

Letter By Chancellor Lloyd George Is Most Significant.

Says Greatest of Great Britain's Deadly Foes Is Strong Drink.

London, March 30.—Prohibition, as drastic as that prevailing in Russia, today faces the United Kingdom. Press discussions of the letter sent by David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer, to the Ship Owners' Federation competes successfully in point of interest with the news of the sinking of the British liner Falaba by a German submarine with the loss of more than 100 lives.

The chancellor in his letter said:

"We are fighting Germany, Austria and drink, and so far as I can see, the greatest of these three deadly foes is drink." He added that he had a growing conviction that only the severest method would be of avail in dealing with the evil.

The employers are backing what Mr. Lloyd George terms "root and branch action," even to the extent of promising to seal their own wine cellars and to prohibit the use of intoxicants at their clubs, while labor leaders are equally anxious for the institution of some prohibitory measure.

Anger Smoldering.

Great Britain is smoldering in anger over the torpedoing by the German submarine of the steamers Falaba and Aguila, but confidence is expressed that the latest outbursts of under-sea activity will have no effect on the movements of British ships.

Reports from Petrograd say the capture of German documents show that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg attached great importance to the German offensive movement in the region of the Niemen river. At present neither army in Poland seems to be displaying any great activity.

Other sections of the extended eastern battle front seem to be waiting the outcome of the death grapple in the Carpathian mountains.

Unofficial reports claim that the Russians have swept the Turkish navy from the Black sea.

GERMANS ACTIVE IN BALTIC SEA

Naval Fleet Preparing to Enforce Blockade Against Finland.

London, March 30.—German naval activity has been resumed in the Baltic sea and the Gulf of Bothnia, with the intention of carrying out a blockade campaign against the trade of Finland and Sweden, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily News. The correspondent declares that attacks on the Finnish coast probably are proposed also, as German submarines have been reported not far off shore.

A German fleet has been observed north of the Aland islands. Several Danish and Swedish vessels are reported to have been halted by German submarines, but so far as known, only one was fired upon and she escaped unharmed.

LABEL LAW IS KNOCKED OUT

Commissioner Restrained From Enforcing Statute on Corn Products Co.

Measure Valid for Internal Commerce of the State Only.

Madison, Wis., March 30.—Judge A. L. Sanborn of the United States district court for the Western district of Wisconcin, in a decision filed today, held a decree should issue for a perpetual injunction restraining State Dairy and Food Commissioner George J. Weigle from enforcing against the Corn Products Refining company, the Wisconsin law requiring the labeling of the ingredients on syrup packages. The decision declares the statute valid, however, as to the internal commerce of the state. Costs are allowed.

Valid for Internal Commerce.

Judge Sanborn says that the Wisconsin act of 1913, as applied to purely internal commerce, should be sustained. While the language of the law is general and broad enough to include all sales of the company's product, whether interstate or internal, yet it is the settled rule in Wisconsin to restrain such general language to internal commerce if to do otherwise would avoid the statute.

The court therefore held that the state should be restrained from applying the law to the company's goods or its retailers because this would interfere with interstate commerce and the law's scope thus restricted to internal

BITTER COMMENT ON SINKING SHIPS

London Papers Say Germans Must Pay Dearly for Aggressions.

London, March 30.—The sinking by German submarines of the steamers Falaba and Aguila is commented upon with the greatest bitterness in this morning's papers. Although witnesses differ somewhat as to the exact time allowed for the debarkation of passengers and crews before the torpedoes were fired, it is said the consensus of testimony is that it was insufficient to get the passengers off. This, together with the reported failure of the submarines to render any assistance provokes the strongest criticisms of Germany's latest methods of naval warfare.

Some editorials, including that in the Morning Post, declare all thought of not humiliating Germany must end and that she must be made to pay dearly for every such aggression.

"It has become vital to the interest of the world," the paper says, "that the spirit which made these deeds possible, shall be not only humiliated but utterly broken and that the peoples who fostered that spirit shall be made to repent in bitterness and sorrow."

Prinz Eitel Friedrich Lies at Dock Without Indications of Flight.

Time Limit of Right to Stay in Port Kept Close Secret.

American Warships Present to Preserve Neutrality in Every Way.

Newport News, Va., March 30.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich lay quietly at her dock today with smoke lazily pouring from one funnel with no evidences of an intention to dash through the fan of hostile cruisers off the Virginia capes. There seemed no doubt that the limit of her stay was hourly drawing to a close, but the time still was guarded as a strict secret.

The battleship Alabama arrived in Hampton Roads and while the authorities were silent as to circumstances which actuated the government in sending a warship here, it seemed apparent that the purpose was not to protect the Prinz Eitel within the three-mile limit as had been suggested.

TURKS DROP BOMBS ON BRITISH WARSHIP

Operations in Dardanelles Consist of Intermittent Bombardment.

Constantinople, via London, March 30.—An official statement issued today by the war office says:

"One of our seaplanes has dropped bombs on a British warship cruising outside the Dardanelles."

Intermittent Bombardment.

Paris, March 30.—The operations in the Dardanelles Monday consisted only of an intermittent bombardment of several Turkish positions with the cooperation of aeroplanes, says a Havas dispatch from Athens. The Turks are reported to have replied feebly to this fire. They are actively engaged in repairing damages done the fortifications. Large bodies of Turkish troops, it is expected, are being concentrated at Smyrna to oppose a landing by allied forces.

SHOOTS HIS GRANDMOTHER

Prominent Philadelphian Kills Her and Ends His Own Life.

No Motive Known for Insane Act of Henry B. Cohen.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 30.—Henry B. Cohen, prominent in business and social circles, shot and killed his grandmother, Clotilda Cohen, 85, while she slept in her bed early today. He then shot himself, dying an hour later at a hospital to which he was hurried. Apparently there was no motive for the shooting. Physicians and the police unite in the belief that Cohen became suddenly insane.

Cohen's bedroom adjointed that of his grandmother. It is believed he must have crept into the aged woman's room, brought his weapon close to her face and then fired. Servants heard the shots and notified the police. Physicians and police were soon on the scene and after convincing themselves that the woman was dead, hurried Cohen to a hospital.

Member of Exclusive Clubs.

Cohen formerly was in business here and was a member of several exclusive clubs. Several years ago he entered the lithographing business in Chicago. He had returned to Philadelphia only a day or two ago for the Passover. This morning he had planned to go to New York.

OVER 2,000 RUSS KILLED, 4,000 TAKEN

Fierce Engagement With the Czar's Troops at Krasnopol.

Statement From Petrograd Says German Advance Is Checked.

Spirited Fighting Reported Along Franco-Belgian Front.

Battles in Northern Poland are said in Berlin to have resulted in a succession of German victories. The official German statement of today asserts that 2,000 Russians were killed and 3,000 captured in an engagement at Krasnopol. In the German occupation of Tanroggen, announced yesterday, it is claimed that 1,000 prisoners were taken. Russian attacks at other points are said to have been repulsed. The latest statement from Petrograd is that the German offensive movement in this region has been checked.

Along the Franco-Belgian front there was spirited artillery fighting yesterday, but no infantry advances were attempted. The French official communication says the Germans were forced to retire at one point near St. Mihiel on account of heavy artillery fire to which they were subjected.

An official announcement from Constantinople says that a Turkish aeroplane dropped bombs on a British warship cruising outside the Dardanelles. No information is given whether serious damage was inflicted.

Field Marshal von Der Goltz, German military commander of Constantinople, who is on his way to Berlin, is quoted as saying it is now apparent that the Dardanelles forts will be able to resist any assault from the sea.

The Turkish government is assembling troops to prevent the landing of

LOSS OF LIFE PLACED AT 138

That Number Killed or Missing From Torpedoed Ship.

London, March 30.—An official list supplied at the offices of the Elder Dempster Steamship company shows that so far as known at present, 52 first class passengers, 34 second class passengers and 49 of the crew of the Falaba were saved.

Four of the pasengers and four of the crew are reported killed and 61 passengers and 43 of the crew are missing.

Admiralty Statement.

London, March 30.—The admiralty last night issued the following statement:

Twenty-three members of the crew and three passengers are missing from the steamer Aguila.

"The steamer Falaba, which also sank, carried a crew of about 90 persons and about 160 passengers. About 140 survivors have been picked up, eight of whom, including the captain, died afterward. It is feared many persons were killed by the explosion of the torpedo.

"The Dutch steamer Amstell, a vessel of 853 tons belonging to P. A. Van Es & Co. of Rotterdam, when on passage from Rotterdam to Goole, England, struck a mine at 4 a. m., March 29, in a German mine field off Flamborough (Yorkshire, England). The crew has been landed in the Humber by the Grimsby trawler Pinewold."

RECEIVER IS APPOINTED FOR OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN

Result of Action in Equity Brought By Creditor.

Attorneys Claim Impresario Is Not a Bankrupt.

New York, March 30.—A receiver for Oscar Hammerstein, the impresario, was appointed by the United States district court here today. The action resulted from an equity suit brought by the American Sealing company, described as creditor.

Mr. Hammerstein was said today to be seriously ill in his home here. The impresario has been suffering with an intestinal disorder and a carbuncle on his foot.

Mr. Hammerstein liabilities are approximately $100,000, his assets more than five times that amount, according to a statement issued by his attorney. The statement recites that because of Mr. Hammerstein's inability through illness to attend to his affairs, it was thought advisable to have a "conservator" appointed.

"This is not an insolvency proceeding," reads the statement. "Mr. Hammerstein is not a bankrupt. It is a proceeding against one amply solvent to protect his various enterprises from being sacrificed."

REVOLUTION ONLY CAN SAVE CHINA

Dr. Sen Says President Has Made Secret Trade With Japs.

Honolulu, March 30.—In a letter written at Tokio under date of March 10 to friends here, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former president of the Chinese republic and now political exile in Japan, denies that he has entered into an agreement of any kind with Yuan Shi Kai, present head of the Chinese government, and in a warning to his compatriots alleges that President Yuan has entered into a private compact with Japan to concede that government's demands, receiving in return promise of support of Japanese arms to suppress "liberty-loving Chinese."

Dr. Sun's letter asserts that a crisis has arrived. If Japan, he says, is permitted to carry out her plans, others of the great powers will demand portions of China as their compensation.

"This means," the letter declares, "nothing short of dismemberment," and adds:

"I have positive proof of these things. Their verification lies in the face of current history."

Japan, according to Dr. Sun, would "Egyptianize China."

"The only way to save China," the letter concludes, "is in a complete reformation of the Chinese government. Immediate action is necessary by the quickest step possible—that is revolution."

U. S. SUBMARINE F-4 HAS BEEN DRAGGED 300 FEET BY SHIPS

CRISIS IN PORTUGAL CONTINUES SERIOUS.

Paris, March 30—Apart from news of monarchical and revolutionary origin, intentionally exaggerated, information from impartial and reliable sources shows that the Portuguese crisis continues serious, says a dispatch to the Journal from Madrid. Ninety-five city councils are said to have forwarded protests against the dictatorial character of the government, while only seventeen support it. The increased price of flour has caused rioting and a number of bakeries have been stormed by crowds.

TURKS MAKE OFFER TO THE BULGARIANS.

Paris, March 30.—The Athens correspondent of the Havas agency declares he has received from diplomatic sources confirmation of the report that Field Marshal von Der Goltz has been authorized by Turkey to offer Bulgaria the Enos-Midia line as a new boundary in exchange for her continued neutrality in the war.

Moved That Much Nearer Shore By Means of Cables.

First Positive Word That Any Progress Has Been Made.

Washington, March 30.—Submarine F-4, sunk at the entrance to Honolulu harbor, had been moved 300 feet toward shore by vessels with cables at 3 o'clock this morning, according to a message received today by Secretary Daniels from the commander of the first submarine division. The message gave no details.

This brief message was the first positive word that the rescue parties have made any progress in bringing the lost submarine to the surface. While it gave hope of salvaging the boat, it revived no hopes that anyone may be found alive inside.

WOLVES NOT IN THE RACE

New Duluth Fireman Meets Two Beasts Near Steel Plant.

Speedy Motorcycle Dampens Their Hope of a Meal.

Wolves, the big gray timber beasts that are sometimes heard and rarely seen in the vicinity of Smithville, are chagrined and discouraged.

When motorcycles replace the old times means of transportation like a comfortable, well upholstered, steady-going farm horse, there isn't much chance for an honest, hard working wolf to pick up a square meal.

Harry Olson, fireman at the New Duluth fire hall, is thanking his lucky stars that he was riding last night on a motorcycle that in an emergency could make close to seventy-five miles an hour. This speed, he acknowledges, he made from the corner of Zimmerly and Commonwealth avenues to the New Duluth police station shortly before midnight last night after having looked into the gleaming eyes of two wolves.

Olson was returning from paying a visit to a friend at Smithville and was going at a slow pace until he reached the turn in the road. He has just reached the north end of the fence on the Universal Portland Cement company's plant when he noticed the animals, one on each side of the road.

Olson said he did not know which was the more scared, he or the wolves. He said he did not dally long in putting on the extra speed to his machine. The way he burned up the road between there and the business section of Gary and New Duluth, he said, would put to shame some of the professional racers.

"The wolves looked lanky, lean and hungry," he said. "I was not going to take any chances on them getting me if there was a possibility of getting away. Their gleaming eyes and glistening teeth in the moonlight looked anything but inviting. One of the wolves nugged the fence, while the other was just across the road as if waiting for an opportunity to jump onto a victim from both sides."

Mr. Olson notified the police immediately on his arrival at the station. Although Sergeant Robert McDermott and Patrolman Root went to the place shortly afterwards to hunt for the beasts they could not be located.

SIX FIRES OCCUR IN ONE AFTERNOON

Burning Grass Threatens Houses in Hillside District.

The West Duluth fire department had one of the busiest days in its history yesterday afternoon. Six alarms, four of which were sent in on account of grass fires threatening homes, kept the department on the jump from 2 o'clock in the evening.

The grass fires were principally on the hillside, three calls coming from near the top of Fortieth avenue, Fifty-ninth, near the D., M. & N. tracks, and Sixty-third avenue and Lexington street.

While No. 8 was attending one of these fires a box alarm was sent in from Sixty-second avenue and Green street on account of a grass fire near some homes. A hose truck from headquarters responded to this alarm.

A vacant house located west of Keene's creeek and above the Canadian Northern burned to the ground during the afternoon. The origin of the fire is not known. The fire also destroyed a chicken coop near by and threatened other houses in the vicinity. The firemen were unable to reach the house with their hose, but prevented the fire from spreading to any of the adjoining buildings.

Early in the afternoon an alarm was turned in from the Western Rug company's factory on Sixty-third avenue west and Grand avenue. A small fire had broken out in the basement. The damage was nominal.

WOULD REGULATE THE JITNEY BUS

Business Men Say New Service Has Come to Stay.

That jitney busses will in the future be a permanent fixture in the city and as a public servant should be regulated, is the opinion of some of West Duluth's leading business men. It will probably be one of the principal subjects discussed at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club Friday evening.

"The regulathion of the jitney bus will undoubtedly have to be taken up by the city commission," said Thomas Olafson this morning. "The jitney is now, I notice, reaching out to West Duluth and it will be but a short time before the machines will be operating in this end of the city regularly. Some step to safeguard the public will have to be taken."

"The subject of the jitney, like all other subjects of public interest, will undoubtedly be taken up by the club," said L. A. Barnes this morning. "While the jitney is something new in Duluth, there appears to be no doubt that it will stay. The public must therefore be safeguarded whether riding in one of the machines or otherwise. Bonds giving such safeguards should be furnished by the men operating the machines. These will undoubtedly be secured as soon as the new service gets down to a business basis."

COMPLETE ENTRANCE TO MORGAN PARK

City Orders Paving in New Duluth; New Sewers Provided for.

In order to complete the entrance to Morgan Park, at the steel plant, city commissioners at the council meeting yesterday afternoon ordered that the west half of Ninety-third avenue west from Zimmerly avenue, one block west to the Spirit Lake addition, be paved. The east half of the street already has been paved by the Minnesota Steel company, which owns the land, but the city's sixteen feet has remained unpaved.

On motion of Commissioner Murchison the council passed without dissent a resolution ordering that the work be begun at once. It will cost $4,884.80, according to the engineers' estimates.

Sewers will be installed in various West Duluth streets this spring, as the list ratified at the meeting indicates. So far this improvement has been ordered for the following streets: In Sixty-sixth avenue alley west from Raleigh to Polk streets; in Raleigh to Sixty-sixth avenue west; in Sixty-sixth avenue west from Raleigh to Redruth streets; in Redruth to Sixty-fourth avenue west; in Sixty-fourth avenue west to Sherburne street and in Sherburne to Sixty-third avenue west.

Similar improvements were provided for in another resolution calling for construction of sewers in Commonwealth avenue to Crestline court to Ninety-eighth avenue west and in Ninety-eighth avenue west to the outlet in Reis street; also in Pizano alley from Sixty-first avenue west to Sixty-second avenue west.

A sewer will be installed also in East Tenth street from Thirteenth to Fourteenth avenues.

FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT.

Residents of Thirty-Fifth District Form Organization.

Residents of the Thirty-fifth election district met last night at 4725 Magellan street for the purpose of organizing a good government committee. John Nyman was elected chairman, Victor Johnson, vice chairman, and John Wilson, secretary.

A committee was appointed to arrange about the division of the district so that it can be canvassed in a methodical way and that no voter, especially those who have not registered, may be overlooked.

It was decided by all present to support Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, also Bernard and Evens.

Brief speeches were made by J. B. Gibson and Conrad Wicklund. Law enforcement by the present administration was referred to as well as the important influence a good government exerts on the formation of character of the rising generation.

Circle Entertains.

The Sunshine circle of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street, entertained last evening at a bundle shower in honor of Miss Astrid Rude, whose wedding to Gust Anderson will take place in April. Miss Rude was presented with a number of handsome and useful packages. The affair was attended by twenty members of the society.

FARMS WILL REQUIRE MEN

The great increase in grain acreage throughout the Northwest will stimulate demand for labor at the Head of the Lakes during this spring and next summer, according to employment men here. This feature of the labor situation will bring the new Federal employment bureau at the postoffice into the limelight, and it should prove of value to the farmers and laboring men.

It is predicted that stock raising around Duluth and grain growing in the Northwest will be the greatest in the history of the state, during the coming year. High prices for grain products and the betterment of conditions on farms will conduce to greater production and more demand for labor.

Eager to Aid Laborers.

The Federal employment agency is eager to secure names of laborers who want to work on farms. These will be sent in to the Minneapolis office, and these men will be placed for jobs as soon as possible.

Conditions for labor at the Head of the Lakes are expected to show a big improvement soon. The gradual improvement in the war situation and the programs of the railroads and other business enterprises are causing more optimism than has been felt at any time during the last year.

"The business interests of the United States know where they stand in regard to the war now," said G. S. Richards, proprietor of the National Employment agency today. "The war has improved conditions in many lines of manufacturing, especially in iron and steel, and the enormous orders from European countries are taxing the capacity of the factories. The automobile factories are filling big orders and the railroads are looking for heavy traffic due to the increased acreage planned by the farmers of the Northwest.

Railway Work Necessary.

"This will make railway improvements necessary, and more men will be employed by the railways during the coming season than for two years past."

It is understood that virtually all of the railway companies made arrangements to do extensive improvements next summer and later this spring. Little has been done the last two years, and when the work actually begins, there is apt to be tremendous activity all along the line. Some of the roads have neglected to repair the customary amount of trackage and extensions have been delayed, which will soon be begun in earnest.

Few Orders Coming Now.

The employment offices are receiving but few orders for men at present, as this is the "between" season period. Work in the woods is almost at a standstill and navigation is not expected to begin for a time. A few men, however, will be employed loading vessels preparatory to the first shipments down lake. Many grain vessels are being inspected for loading at the Duluth and Superior elevators.

Warm weather is needed to open up work, as the railroads will not begin operations for improvements until the frost is out of the ground. All spring work is expected to begin early.

CANDIDATES FOR ECONOMY

Hicken and Murchison Speak to Voters at Duluth Heights.

Both Defend Their Records; McManus Speaks for "Good Government."

Economy in their respective departments was the principal topic of the addresses delivered last night by Commissioners Hicken and Murchison in the old fire hall at Duluth Heights, where about 100 voters had gathered to hear the issues in the present municipal campaign discussed.

In addition, A. E. McManus, representing the "good government" committee, delivered a short talk in behalf of the incumbents and W. L. Bernard and Chris E. Evens. He is the first speaker to have been sent out by the committee, and it was announced this morning by Will A. Eaton, campaign manager, that speakers will be sent to all the meetings from now until election day.

Mr. Evens and M. E. Louisell, candidate for municipal judge, both gave short talks, the former making a special plea for second choice votes.

Both commissioners exhibited figures showing how they have reduced expenses in their departments during the last two years, and how the budget for this coming year is less than it was in 1914. Commissioner Hicken again explained how he had motorized the fire department without bonding the city, and at the same time reduced the expenses about $11,000 since 1912. He also emphasized that the insurance underwriters of the country insist on motorized equipment, and recommend their purchase in every large city in the country.

Commissioner Murchison explained how his department had succeeded in building more pavement in the last two years than in any similar period in the history of the city, and how the expenses were reduced, and during the same time he was enabled to pay off a large share of the old $100,000 debt left by the former board of public works.

LABORER LOSES CASE.

Farmhand Fails to Recover $938 for Alleged Service.

A jury in district court before Judge Ensign this morning returned a verdict for the defendant in an action instituted by John Wretman against Oscar and Ada Sundquist to recover $938 alleged to be due him for farm labor. The jury returned its finding at 11:40 o'clock, after deliberating on the case for an hour and ten minutes.

Wretman claimed that he was employed by the Sundquists as a laborer on their farm in Herman township between April 20, 1910, and Aug. 20, 1912, and that they refused to pay him. Farmers in the vicinity were called by both sides as expert witnesses to testify as to the value of services as a farm laborer.

D. J. Erickson and H. J. Grannis appeared in the case as attorneys for the plaintiff, and the defendants were represented by Andrew Nelson.

MEAL TICKETS ARE BASIS OF LAWSUIT.

A jury was drawn in Judge Ensign's division of the district court this morning to try a cause of action which has been instituted against Horace A. Perkins by Emily A. Rock in which she is seeking to recover $346.71. Perkins has counter-claimed for $266.65.

The dispute grows out of a restaurant business which Mrs. Rock was conducting at Brookston. She alleges that as proprietor of the restaurant she honored meal tickets furnished men by Perkins to the extent of $346.71, and that Perkins has failed to pay for them.

In his answer, Perkins alleges that he is the owner of the building in which the restaurant was conducted, and that she owes him $80 for back rent. He also puts in a counter-claim for $400 damages, alleging that a fire negligently set by Mrs. Rock destroyed a portion of the building. He admits that he was indebted to Mrs. Rock for the meal tickets, but denies that it was for an amount more than $213.75.

HUSBAND SAYS WIFE WAS CRUEL.

On the grounds of cruelty and desertion, William Rutledge, 45, was granted a divorce this morning by District Judge Cant from Kizzah Rutledge, 49, to whom he was married in Canada twenty-seven years ago.

Six years ago, he testified, while they were living at Billerica, Mass., where he was employed as a loom fixer in one of the woolen mills, she began to treat him with little consideration. He alleges that she called him vile names, threw knives at him, dashed hot tea in his face and otherwise mistreated him. Then he caught catarrh in the bargain and had to move west on account of his health. He asked his wife to join him and she refused. He came alone.

There are four children. The court made no order as to their custody.

An Easy Way to Increase Weight

Good Advice for Thin Folks

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Boyce Drug store and other leading druggists of Duluth and vicinity hate it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution: While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

CRUTCHES DO NOT PREVENT HIM MAKING A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

CAPT. W. H. SMALLWOOD.

Friends of Capt. W. H. Smallwood are surprised at the vigor of the campaign he is making.

Capt. Smallwood has not yet missed a meeting at which he has been invited to speak, and he is putting in from ten to fourteen hours a day in vigorous campaigning.

The hard work seems to agree with the Civil war veteran.

"I never felt better in my life," said Capt. Smallwood yesterday afternoon, as he was caught by The Herald photographer on Fifth avenue west. "It is a rather good joke on my younger opponents that at a recent meeting one of them was unable to be present because of a slight indisposition, and the other was too hoarse to speak, while I was on hand ready for work."

The one feature of the campaign which Capt. Smallwood regrets is the fact that he was not indorsed by the interchurch council. He looks upon it as an unfortunate misunderstanding, and the result of a political move by one or two active friends of one of his opponents, rather than the result of the sentiment of the members of the council. He feels that his record during his long residence in Duluth, should place him as being decidedly on the side of law enforcement.

"I do not feel resentment," said Capt. Smallwood, "but I am truly sorry that they did not indorse me."

FIFTY CHILDREN ARE GUESTS AT THEATER MATINEE PARTY

Fifty boys and girls from the homes of Duluth's poor "took in" the "Little Lord Fauntleroy" matinee at the Lyceum theater this afternoon as the guests of Mrs. W. J. Olcott and Mrs. A. M. Chisholm.

The youngsters were a happy lot. They met at the courthouse a half hour before the show started and from there went to the theater in a body.

All were prepared for the treat. The boys had on their Sunday clothes and showed appearances of having undergone a scrubbing. Little girls were decked out in their neatest frocks and hair ribbons.

As to the play itself, much need not be said. It is one which appeals to the heart of the child and one that not only held their interest but carried home a lesson to every boy and girl who saw it.

Mrs. John Uno Sebenius was also a hostess this afternoon at the Lyceum matinee. She invited as her guests the women who are making their home at the municipal lodging house. There were about ten in the party.

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Dropping Handkerchief at 3 a. m. Gets Stanley Schulz Into Trouble.

STANLEY SCHULZ, age 29, the man arrested Sunday by Patrolman Noren before he was known to have committed a crime, together with his partners, Louis Peokoski, were arraigned before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting yesterday afternoon in municipal court and waived examination on a charge of grand larceny. They were bound over to the next grand jury.

Schulz aroused the officer's suspicion when he dropped a handkerchief at the corner of Fourth avenue west and Superior street at about 3 o'clock in the morning, and after several mysterious maneuvers started to "beat it."

It was found that the handkerchief contained $75 when Schulz was searched. He was held pending an investigation and a few hours later Carl Hopski, a laborer living at 115 West First street, reported that he had been robbed of that amount.

PATIENCE REWARDED.

Police Capture Alleged Child Deserter After Long Search.

Since July 24, 1914 police of Duluth have been looking for Logan A. Johnson, age 30, who is wanted in Canton, Ill., for child abandonment. He was located on Duluth Heights yesterday by Detectives P. A. Schulte and Donald Irvine, and Special Officer Harwood.

He will be held here pending the arrival of police officers from Canton, when extradition papers will be secured.

Nearly two years ago Johnson left a little girl, his child, in Canton, and disappeared. Illinois police believed that the fugitive had come to Duluth, as he was said to have relatives living here.

When first notified the police were unable to find him, but when the last city directory was issued, it carried Johnson's name and address. Since the book was published police have been waiting for him to come back to his Duluth residence.

FINE STEW WASTED.

"Jungle" Epicures Raided When Rich Repast Is Prepared.

Star boarders at the "Jungle," foot of Sixth avenue west and the bay front, called for a good old Mulligan stew at 2 o'clock this morning, when the city was asleep, and Frank Zimbo, the chef, cleaned out the large tomato can used as a kettle and built a roaring fire, preparatory to serving up a dish fit for a king.

"Pickings" had been good along commission row during the day and the denizens of the "Jungle" city smacked their lips in anticipation.

They were forced to go hungry, however, for Sergeant John Roberg saw the bonfire and decided that it was a propitious time to stage his weekly raid on the place.

Aided by Patrolman W. Monahan, the sergeant collared six would-be epicures, including the "bull" cook, and herded them into the patrol wagon. They were fined $5 and costs or five days at the farm in municipal court this morning.

Mike Bonn, previously sentenced to five days as the city's guest, earned his freedom because he could talk English and Polish. He acted as interpreter for three of the six.

THINKS WITH SHERMAN.

War Resulted in More Serious Charge Against John Lessard.

Because of the war in Europe, John Lessard, age 23, was charged with second degree larceny at police headquarters this morning, and is liable to a penitentiary sentence if convicted, instead of being accused of third degree larceny, punishable by a short jail sentence.

He is alleged to have stolen a roll of leather from a boxcar in the Omaha yards yesterday, and leather prices have gone up so much since the war started that the roll's value was estimated at $60.

He was arrested by Officers Boland and W. Monahan while trying to carry the leather and run at the same time. He had started off with two rolls, but found that he had a white elephant on his hands and dropped half of the burden.

The leather was shipped from Milwaukee and consigned to the Northern Shoe company. The complaint was sworn to by L. M. Dickerson of the Omaha road. Lessard will be given a hearing in municipal court this afternoon.

ADMIT THEIR GUILT.

Two Youthful Shoplifters Plead Guilty to Petty Larceny Charge.

Two girl shoplifters, arrested Saturday night when caught taking a bathing cap from a counter at the George A. Gray department store, and who had about $200 worth of women's apparel in their rooms, evidently stolen, pleaded guilty to a petty larceny charge in municipal court yesterday afternoon. They were Martha Jokinen, age 18, and Emma S. Tulonen, age 20.

Judge F. H. Cutting imposed a sentence of sixty days in jail, and placed them on parole for six months. They were taken to the Girls' Industrial home, where they will remain during the time of the parole.

At the time of the arrest the girls had in their possession articles from three separate department stores, and evidently had been making the rounds. Department store officials were unable to prove the theft of most of the articles found in the room at 111½ Second alley west, where the pair lived.

THROUGH JAIL BARS.

Frank Grummitt Sees 18-Months-Old Daughter for First Time.

Looking through the bars of his cell door in the county jail this morning, Frank T. Grummitt, age 35, wife deserter, saw for the first time his 18-months-old daughter. Grummitt was brought back to Duluth from Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday by Deputy Sheriff McDonald, and will be tried on a charge of wife desertion.

Late in May, 1913, Grummitt, then living in Proctor with his wife, Laura Grummitt, left home and disappeared. From Duluth he later was traced to Wilmar, Minn., where he is alleged to have married again.

From Wilmar the chase went on to Chicago and then still further east into Ohio. He finally was apprehended by police of Cleveland, Ohio, a few days ago, who notified Chief of Police Troyer.

Mrs. Grummitt swore out another complaint several days ago, when she was notified of her husband's arrest in Cleveland. He will be given a hearing in municipal court this afternoon.

Mayor W. P. Hicken of Warba Predicts Father's Election Here.

Mayor W. P. Hicken, newly elected executive of Warba, Minn., son of Commissioner Hicken, left yesterday after spending the week-end with his parents.

Mayor Hicken is positive his father will be re-elected next Tuesday, and his only regret is that he is unable to remain in Duluth and make an active campaign in his behalf.

At the annual election in Warba three weeks ago the younger Hicken was chosen mayor by unanimous vote of the village. He had been nominated by both factions and he had no opposition at the polls.

SPARKS FROM CHIMNEY SET FIRE TO ROOF.

Sparks from a chimney set fire to the roof of a frame dwelling at 712½ East First street shortly after 9 o'clock this morning and caused damage estimated at $50, covered by insurance. The structure is owned by J. W. Kreitter and occupied by J. E. Gervenack.

Apparatus from engine companies No. 1, No. 3 and No. 4, with Assistant Chief Wilson, responded.

Two grass fires in the East end brought out fire fighting apparatus during the morning also. Damage was nominal in both cases. The first alarm was from Woodland avenue and Victoria street, while the second was from Forty-third avenue east and London road.

EARNINGS OF N. P. SHOW BIG GAINS

February Report Is Most Gratifying of Whole Fiscal Year.

The detailed statement of Northern Pacific railway earnings for February is regarded by railroad men as extremely gratifying. In point of net operating income it was the best showing of any month of the present fiscal year, which began on July 1 last. A sum of $565,889 was reported for the month over the corresponding period last year.

In Perfect Condition.
Since the Northern Pacific emerged from the winter season in almost perfect physical condition the saving of $147,000 in expenses for maintenance of way and structures represents practically a clear gain. The decrease in transportation expenses was $250,000. The total decrease in railway operating expenses was from $3,061,548 in February, 1914, to $2,393,883 for February, 1915.

Slight Revenue Decrease.
Operating revenues showed some decrease from last year, but the decrease was not as heavy as had been expected, being but $210,720. The most important element in this decrease was passenger revenue, which fell off $128,525. Freight revenue decreased from $3,026,000 to $2,959,600. Total revenues were $4,125,000.

Operating income for the month was $1,362,711. For the first eight months of the fiscal year operating income was $14,974,188, a decrease of $962,606. The decrease in operating income since the first of the fiscal year is being reduced steadily.

ROOSEVELT BACK IN G. O. P. TRACES

Well Authenticated Report That He Will Support Any Candidate But Taft.

Washington, March 30.—"I will support any candidate for president the Republican convention may nominate except Taft."

This statement is attributed to Theodore Roosevelt, report of the recent utterance of which came to Washington from a source entitled to fullest credence.

"And," the report goes on to quote Mr. Roosevelt as saying, "I don't know but that I would even sleep in the same politician's bed with William Barnes, Jr., of New York and Penrose of Pennsylvania, if that be necessary to contribute to the defeat of the Democratic party."

At the same time another report reached politicians here bearing upon and, in a way bearing out, the first mentioned, and from a source equally trustworthy. It was to the effect that Mr. Roosevelt had recently resumed cordial, almost the old-time affectionate, relations with some of the conservative Republican leaders from whom he had been at least outwardly estranged since the unhappy days of 1912.

JURY DRAWN IN NORTH SHORE CASE

Selection of a jury to try another of the north shore boulevard appeal cases which are pending in district court will be made in Judge Dancer's division this afternoon. The jury will consider the appeal of John Johnson and Helen B. Mahon from the award made in condemnation proceedings instituted by the city to acquire a right-of-way for a boulevard skirting the north shore of Lake Superior from Lester Park to the Lake county line. The road as proposed cuts across land owned by the appellants.

The jury in the case of Ovedia Gunderson, owner of another tract, is now considering a verdict. It is expected that a finding will be returned to the court this afternoon. In both cases John Jenswold, Jr., is appearing as attorney for the appellants, and Crassweller, Crassweller & Blu and William P. Harrison, assistant city attorney, are representing the city's interests.

FARRELL SPENDS $360.

He and John Norton File Second Statements During Campaign.

J. A. Farrell and John H. Norton filed their second expense statements this morning with City Clerk Palmer.

Mr. Farrell still leads with the biggest expense of any candidate in the present municipal campaign, his report filed today showing a total of $133.83, and his first report, $226.84. This makes a total expense to date of $360.67. Mr. Norton's report shows an expense of $42.88 since he filed his first statement last week, up to which time he had only incurred an expense of $5, the filing fee paid City Clerk Palmer.

VOSS BACK WEDNESDAY.

MAKE READY FOR NEW BUILDING

In view of the probability that the members of Pilgrim Congregational church will erect a building on the property they have acquired at the East end, a committee has been appointed to make a thorough study in preparation for the proposed new building, and to be prepared to handle the undertaking whenever the church organization so directs.

The pastor, Rev. C. N. Thorp, and the chairman of the board of trustees, Oscar Mitchell, were elected members ex-officio of the committee. The other members are: S. E. Matter, chairman; C. F. Colman, C. A. Duncan, Mrs. W. G. Hegardt, Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, Mrs. L. E. Padack and B. C. Wade.

APPROVES OF HIS SUGGESTION

Miss Edna G. Meeker, secretary of the Associated Charities, is heartily in accord with the proposal of Rev. George R. Gebauer, pastor of the First Unitarian church to have the city remodel the old armory and convert it into a club house for workingmen.

"The Associated Charities has always been in favor of the social center movement and I believe that this is a step in that direction," she said. "We have advocated the establishment of a place where men could congregate and would like to see it provided with reading and game rooms as well as with an auditorium where lectures of an educational nature, some of them illustrated, could be given."

Mrs. McGiffert Dies.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Edgar C. McGiffert, also of Duluth.

Boarding Cars Burn.

A string of empty boarding cars caught fire yesterday afternoon in the Great Northern yards near Twenty-first street. An engine was hitched to them and they were hauled to a point where the fire department were able to train several lines of hose on them. The fire caused a loss of about $2,000.

Registration Day.

Heavy registration is expected today at Superior. Interest in the election to be held next Tuesday has become acute since the question of voting the city "dry" has been injected into the campaign. The polls will be open until 8 o'clock this evening.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR AVOIDING BIG STRIKE.

Chicago, March 30.—Disregarding officials of the unions, the Decorators and Painters' club, composed of employers, today sent letters direct to 11,000 union glaziers, painters and paperhangers urging them to "avoid useless strikes."

The men's representatives have drawn up a wage contract which they declare must be enforced after tomorrow, when the present agreement expires.

Samuel Gompers, who has been here straightening out minor labor troubles, is quoted as saying that prospects are good for avoidance of a general building trades strike May 1.

A Remedy for Children--Kidney Trouble

I have a boy who had the bed wetting habit from infancy, and also had much trouble with his Kidneys. Two years ago they became so bad, and having tried a great many remedies without relief, I consulted a doctor who advised me to try Swamp-Root. I obtained one fifty-cent bottle and he had not taken more than three-fourths of it when he became entirely well, and has not been troubled since.

To any parent who has a child suffering from these troubles, I cheerfully recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and consider it a wonderful medicine.

Yours very truly,

LAKOTA TO RESIST COUNTY DIVISION.

Lakota, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—No steps have yet been taken to bring into operation the new county seat removal act, passed by the last legislature, and which was aimed particularly at Lakota. Michigan, the second city of the county, is an aspirant for the county seat honors, and was largely responsible for the enactment of the measure that was passed.

Lakota attorneys declare there will be an immediate effort to have the law declared unconstitutional should petitions be filed seeking the removal of the Nelson county seat.

PROHIBITION IS DESIRED

Deputation Asks English Chancellor to Stop Sale of Liquor.

Work of Ship Builder Is Greatly Retarded By Drinking of Men.

London, March 30.—"We are fighting Germany, Austria and drink, and so far as I can see, the greatest of these three deadly foes is drink," said David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, replying to a deputation of the Shipbuilding Employers' federation, the members of which were unanimous in urging that, in order to meet the national requirements at the present time, there should be a total prohibition during the period of the war of the sale of intoxicating liquors. This, they say, should apply not only to public houses, but also to private clubs, so as to operate equally with all classes of the community.

It was stated that despite the fact that work was being carried on night and day, seven days in the week, the total working time on the average in nearly all the British shipyards was actually less than before the war, and the average productiveness had decreased. There were many men doing splendid and strenuous work, probably as good as the men in the trenches, but many did not even approximate full time, thus disastrously reducing the average.

Drinking Increased.

Notwithstanding the curtailment of the hours they are allowed to keep open, the receipts of the public houses in the neighborhood of the shipyards had greatly increased, in some cases 40 per cent. As an instance of one of many similar cases, that of a battleship coming in for immediate repairs was cited. She was delayed a whole day through the absence of riveters, who were drinking and carousing.

In one yard the riveters have been working on the average only 40 hours a week, and in another yard only 36 hours.

In conclusion, the deputation, which included representatives of the leading shipbuilders of the country, drew attention to the example set by France and Russia, and urged upon the chancellor the need of drastic action.

The chancellor of the exchequer, in the course of his reply, said the reason why the government had not heretofore taken more drastic action on the liquor question was because it needed to be assured that it was not going adverse to public sentiment; otherwise more harm would be done than good. The government must feel that it has every class in the community behind it, when taking action which interferes severely with individual liberties. But now he was sure the country was beginning to realize the gravity of the situation.

Needs Root and Branch Methods.

"I have a growing conviction, based on accumulating evidence," continued the chancellor, "that nothing but root and branch methods will be of the slightest avail in dealing with the evil. I believe it is the general feeling that if we are to settle German militarism, we must first of all settle with the drink."

Mr. Lloyd George intimated that Lord Kitchener, the secretary for war, and Field Marshal French, in command of the British expeditionary forces on the continent, were of the same opinion, and he promised to lay the statements of the deputation before the cabinet. He said in conclusion:

"I had the privilege of an audience with his majesty this morning, and I am permitted by him to say that he is very deeply concerned on this question—very deeply concerned—and that concern which is felt by him, I am certain is shared by all his subjects in this country."

RECLAMATION PLAN

G. Pendergast of Bemidji and C. H. Warner of Aitkin.

Senators P. H. McGarry of Walker and Leonard H. Nord of International Falls introduced the bill in the senate.

Details of the Measure.

It provides that seven or more persons owning not less than 10,000 acres of land, "no part of which is distant more than one mile from some other part thereof," who wish to make it available for agriculture by clearing, may form a corporation for that purpose. Such corporations are to be known as reclamation and development associations, and they may incur indebtedness up to $7 per acre of their holdings. There is to be no capital stock. They may contract for clearing their lands, and issue bonds to pay for the work. Not more than 25 per cent of the holdings of any member may be cleared and plowed. The bonds issued to pay for clearing are to be retired as follows: At the expiration of eleven years, 5 per cent of the whole amount; at the end of twelve years, 6 per cent; at the end of thirteen years, 7 per cent; at the end of fourteen years, 8 per cent; at the end of fifteen years, 9 per cent; at the end of sixteen years, 10 per cent; at the end of seventeen years, 11 per cent; at the end of eighteen years, 13 per cent; at the end of nineteen years, 15 per cent; at the end of twenty years, the balance, or 16 per cent. The bonds are not to bear more than 6 per cent interest, or to be sold at less than 90 per cent of par value. Payments are to be met by annual assessments on the property benefited.

Efficiency and Economy.

The house made another chapter in the pathetic history of efficiency and economy yesterday afternoon, when it adopted, 82 to 26, the Girling-Christianson-Norton resolution providing for an interim committee of seven house members to study the question some more and report to the next session of the legislature.

When Representative Thomas H. Girling of Minneapolis called up his resolution yesterday afternoon, Representative Corning proposed an amendment striking out the provision for a commission of seven house members and substituting instead all the elective officers of the state. The amendment did not prove popular and Mr. Corning withdrew it after some debate, nobody but himself rising to support his plan.

Representative C. H. Warner proposed that not more than one of the seven commissioners should come from any one congressional district and the house adopted his proposal, but a little later, at the request of Representative Spooner, it reconsidered this amendment and struck it out.

Representative C. M. Bendixen, with an eye more to cost than to results, proposed to limit the expenses of the commission to $5,000. The resolution suggests $15,000, but leaves the matter to the appropriation committee. This amendment was beaten, too.

Some of the members want to make it a joint resolution so as to take in the senators also, but somehow this did not meet with the approval of the friends of the resolution. Representative Spooner, though, said he had information leading him to believe that the senate would take similar action; and the resolution provides that if it does the two committees shall work together.

Representative Frye and others couldn't see any good in the plan at all, but the house seemed to think something ought to be done about efficiency and economy, whatever it was that was done, and the resolution prevailed.

Later Representatives Kneeland and Pratt introduced a joint resolution providing for a commission composed of five house members, three senators and two others to be appointed by the governor, to take up this work, and appropriating $10,000. The resolution was referred to the appropriations committee.

To Improve Pembina Trail.

Representative N. S. Hegnes of Argyle, the youngest member of the senate and one of its most active and effective members, yesterday introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 to improve the old Pembina trail, with this preamble to set forth its historic significance:

"Whereas, before the existence of a mile of highway north of Ramsey county, the Pembina Trail was a well defined ridge highway extending from Otter Tail county north through the various counties of the state to the Indian village of Pembina on the banks of the Red River of the North, where the same flows into Canada;

"And whereas, during the early days of the history of this state a large part of the commerce of that portion of the state was by means of Red River ox carts, using this historic thoroughfare, and to this day thereon there is yet visible the rutted tracks of this primitive vehicle of commerce;

"And whereas, the southern portions of the trail have been lost by the improvement of lands through which it passed, but the remainder is now a public highway;

"And whereas, to preserve the same for public use and as a historic reminder of the early days of our state, proper proceedings were taken in district court of Marshall county, and that portion of the road extending through the counties of Polk, Red Lake, Pennington have been legally laid out as a continuous public highway;

"And whereas, the opening and improvement thereof and the building and installation of bridges and culverts are necessary, the estimated cost of which is $40,000, and because of the public necessity of the road and the historical interest attaching thereto, part of the cost of the improvement thereof should be borne by the state; now therefore, be it enacted by the legislature of the state of Minnesota," etc.

State Highway Commission.

New bills abolishing the state highway commission and substituting the office of state superintendent of highways, to be appointed by the governor at $4,000 a year, came into both houses yesterday. Senator John H. Baldwin of Frazee introduced the bill in the senate.

Senator Buckler and Representatives Boyd, Welch and Kuntz also introduced bills in both houses abolishing the highway commission and turning all road work over to the counties.

Representative George H. Moeller of St. Paul introduced a bill in the house yesterday moderating the terms of the "abatement law," passed two years ago to drive immoral houses out of the state. The principal amendment provides that thirty days' notice must be given to the owner or lessee of a building in which such conditions are found, after which the owner or lessee may bring action to eject his objectionable tenant, thus protecting himself. It is also provided that only the interest of the offender in the furniture may be sold, instead of the furniture itself, and that no commission from the proceeds of such sale can be paid to the attorney bringing the action.

State Liability Insurance.

Senator Richard Jones of Duluth has secured a favorable report from the senate committee on employers' liability on his bill creating a system of state liability insurance, which also extends the compensation to cover occupational diseases and greatly increases the rate of compensation. The bill is now on general orders in the senate. There is no chance of its passing, but Senator Jones' purpose is to lay the foundation for a future campaign for this principle.

Senator John H. Baldwin of Frazee put a little joke in the flood of new bills introduced yesterday by a bill repealing the law giving the state board of health power to abolish public drinking cups, with the provision that the repeal law shall except the anti-drinking cup law "as it is now enforced in the state capitol by the state board of health." This is a palpable hit at the unspeakable condition of the public drinking glasses that pervade the legislative corridors.

Representative Fred Bessette of Orr yesterday afternoon put through the house under suspension of the rules his bill paying Mrs. H. B. Moore of Duluth $163 on a warrant issued in 1900, when the late Mr. Moore was state weighmaster. When Mr. Moore died the warrant was lost, and it has never been paid. Senator Charles E. Adams of Duluth has charge of the bill in the senate.

Exercises in Patriotism.

Senator J. T. Alley of Buffalo wants public school pupils to go to school on Washington's birthday so they may study the lives of Washington and other patriots. He introduced a bill to that effect in the senate yesterday, requiring teachers to give exercises in patriotism daily.

Uniformity in the whitefish laws of Wisconsin and Minnesota is the aim of a joint resolution which Representative Indrehus put through the house yesterday under suspension of the rules. It provides for a joint commission from the two states to revise these laws. At present Minnesota prohibits taking whitefish under two and a half pounds, while Wisconsin allows two-pound fish to be caught.

Representative Searls' bill to allow the village of Carlton to establish a municipal court passed the house yesterday afternoon under suspension of the rules.

The following conference committee has been appointed by Lieutenant-Governor Burnquist and Speaker Flowers on the Minette-Burrows telephone regulation bill: Senate—Orr, Rockne, G. H. Sullivan, Carley, Gjerset. House—Minette, Burrows, Southwick, Bjornson, J. T. Johnson.

Salary for the Coroner.

Senator Richard Jones yesterday afternoon put through the senate under suspension of the rules the bill providing a salary of $2,400 for the coroner of St. Louis county.

Representatives C. H. Warner, J. E. Madigan and L. A. Lydiard of the committee appointed under the Warner resolution to investigate the charge that a combination exists among bridge contractors, yesterday afternoon introduced in the house two bills carrying out proposed reforms in local bridge building. One authorizes the state highway commission to act as agent for counties and municipalities in the purchase of supplies for bridges, and the other requires that where counties call for bids on bridges copies of the specifications shall be filed with the state highway commission and be open to inspection.

Representative Wold introduced a new constitutional amendment for woman suffrage in the house yesterday afternoon.

Six-Hour Working Day.

A constitutional amendment providing for a general six-hour working day in Minnesota was proposed yesterday in the senate by Senator Richard Jones of Duluth and in the house by Representatives Woodhill and Devold—the three Socialists in the legislature.

Representatives Devold and Woodhill also introduced a bill giving union members discharged in violation of agreements between employers and the unions the right to sue for damages.

Representatives Spooner, Gilman, Gordon, Burrows, Sawyer, Steen and Knutson have been appointed a subcommittee of the house committee on appropriations to draft the several omnibus appropriation bills. The committee expects to be able to bring the bills in this week.

Contrary to custom, there has been no joint action on appropriations this session between the senate and house. The senate finance committee, though it has appointed no sub-committee, is well up with its work, and expects to have all its bills in this week. The house committee will shape its bills to accord with the senate bills so far as they are in agreement on the several items.

More New Bills.

Among the bills introduced yesterday afternoon were the following:

Senator O'Neill—Increasing from 15 per cent to 20 per cent of assessed valuation the maximum amount of bonds villages may issue to fund floating debt.

Senator Andrews—Amending the Sunday observance law so as to allow hunting when it is done "so as not to interfere with the repose and religious liberty of the community."

Senator Alley—Requiring all public schools to hold every day exercises calculated to encourage and inculcate patriotism.

Senator Rystrom—Providing a penalty of $50 to $100 fine or thirty to ninety days for selling or taking orders for liquor in dry communities.

Senator Jones—Prohibiting railroads from dictating the bonding companies their employes shall patronize. Introduced at the request of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. Representative Fred Bessette has a similar bill in the house.

Senator McGarry—Establishing a branch school of agriculture at the northeast experiment station near Grand Rapids.

Senators Lende, Hanson and F. H. Peterson—Applying the principles of the abatement law to blind pigs.

Senator F. H. Peterson—Making firemen's relief funds compulsory in all communities having fire departments.

Senator Nord—Allowing Koochiching county to issue bonds to take up interest coupons on drainage bonds.

Senator Rockne—Authorizing the state insurance commissioner to equalize fire insurance rates between communities.

Senator Van Hoven—Providing for the examination and state licensing of corn doctors.

Senator A. S. Campbell—Prohibiting the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" in public places except in its entirety.

Representative Guilford—Prohibiting the state university from entering into association with the Mayo Foundation at Rochester.

Representative Bjornson—Amending the presidential preference primary law so as to cut out the allowance of expenses to delegates to national conventions.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

Haley's planked Jumbo whitefish—none better.

SLOW TO RESPOND TO BELGIAN NEEDS.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The suffering Belgians have been forgotten by North Dakota's charitably inclined, is the opinion of Dr. J. D. Taylor of Grand Forks, chairman of the Belgian relief committee for this section.

In response to a call issued two weeks ago, Dr. Taylor has received only $22, which would not go very far in the big relief work that America is prosecuting in the war stricken country.

"People seem to think the need of aid for the Belgians is past, but there is just as great need now as ever," said Dr. Taylor.

One week from today will be election day, and indications are that there will be a heavy vote polled.

Although the present municipal fight has been one of the tamest in years, it is expected that it will warm up as election day approaches and that at least 12,000 voters will cast their ballot next Tuesday.

There were 12,410 voters registered on March 10 and 13, and it is the belief of city officials that the total vote next Tuesday will easily reach the 12,600 mark. A large number, who registered two weeks ago, will probably fail to vote, but it is believed that about 600 or 800 will file affidavits on election day, thus offsetting the loss.

On March 10, 7,057 voters enrolled on the ballot books, while on March 13, 5,353 registered.

The polling places, which will open at 6 o'clock in the morning and close at 9 o'clock in the evening, follow:

First—Old fire hall, Fifty-first avenue east and Dodge street.
Second—Lakeside town hall.

DIFFER OVER WAR; ARREST IS RESULT

North Dakota Farmhand and Employer Get Into Discussion.

Grand Forks, N. D.—March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A friendly handshake, intended as his parting act, led Frank Shyka into all kinds of trouble at the Jacob Hollweger farm near Aryilla, Grand Forks county.

Mrs. Hollweger, with whom Shyka offered to shake hands as he was leaving the farm, having been discharged by her husband, misinterpreted his intentions, and began screaming for help. Her husband appeared on the scene armed with a revolver.

Shyka, brought here to the county jail, cleared himself by his straightforward story, and the charge of insanity made against him, was abandoned.

Shyka and his employer had been talking about the European war, and differences in their allegiance, as between Germany and Russia, led to bad blood, Shyka's discharge and his subsequent arrest.

NEW CARLTON SCHOOL.

Architect Broomhall of Duluth Selected to Draw Plans.

Carlton, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the school board have engaged Architect Broomhall of Duluth to prepare plans and specifications for the new school building to be built here this year in place of the structure recently burned.

The plans under consideration call for a building costing about $31,000, 104 by 74, facing the east with a side entrance on the north and main entrance in front. The first floor or basement will contain the gymnasium, 58 by 36 feet with an audience gallery, manual training room, boiler room, two boilers with locket rooms and shower baths.

The second or main floor will contain four grade rooms each 23 by 30, kitchen, 21 by 30 and wardrobes for each, sewing room, teachers room and lunch room. The corridor will be 13 feet wide.

On the third floor will be the assembly hall 35 by 45 feet with a seating capacity of 375, 2 grade rooms, 2 recitation rooms, superintendent's office, library and music room, laboratory, 3 wardrobes and two toilets.

The plans may be changed somewhat before the contract is given but the outline will be followed in a general way.

Ray, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ray's first recall election, directed against Dr. W. B. A report has been circulated that I am drawing a pension of $100 per month from the United States government because of the loss of my leg. I wish to state that this is an absolute falsehood. I am not receiving a cent of pension because of the loss of my leg, and the only pension I draw is one of $24 per month because of my army service during the Civil war, which is the same as that received by any other old soldier.

WILL COST HER $1,100 TO MARRY

Joseph Pecovnik, who died at Chisholm, March 7, 1915, age 42 years, left a will in which he provided that his widow should receive all of his property in the event that she did not remarry before his three sons reached the age of 16 years. In case of a remarriage before that time, she will receive only her statutory one-third share, according to the will.

Mrs. Nevl Pecovnik filed the instrument for probate with Judge S. W. Gilpin today. It was accompanied by a petition asking for the appointment as Gregor Pecovnik of Chisholm as executor. The estate consists of two lots in Chisholm worth $1,600 and personal property to the value of $50. Besides his widow, Pecovnik left three children, all boys, ranging in age from 7 to 3.

FURTHER PLANS MADE FOR MIDSUMMER DAY PROGRAM

Further plans for the Midsummer day celebration to be held June 24 were made last evening at the meeting of the Swedish-American National league. A large number of committees are now at work and have the plans fairly well under way.

The committees are made up of representative men from ten of the Swedish lodges and societies of the city. The organizations represented in the league are: Vasa order, No. 170; Svea Glee club, S. H. & E. F.; Swithold society, Orpheus Singing society, Vasa lodge No. 255, Morning Star lodge, I. O. G. T., North Star lodge, I. O. G. T., Zenith City band, and Vasa lodge No. 243.

"With these lodges working harmoniously together we hope to make this year's celebration the most successful midsummer day affair ever held," said B. E. Johnson, chairman of the publicity committee this morning. "Several noted speakers will be secured, and a big parade will be given.

It was planned last night to hold the celebration in Lincoln park. The celebration will be extensively advertised locally as well as in surrounding towns. It is expected that a large number of people from out of the city will be attracted to the city during the day.

"The celebration of Midsummer's day has its origin centuries back," said Mr. Johnson. "Before the Christian era it was celebrated by the Swedish people as an appreciation of nature's wonderful work at that time of the year when everything was at its height and the earth most beautiful. The people then gathered about their idols, jubilant over the condition. After Christ's coming, the church celebrated it as the birthday of John, the Baptist, and ever since Christianity was introduced, the day has had a religious importance to our people."

PROVIDE FIRST AID FOR FIGHTERS

Cuban Government Ready for Unusual Injuries in Monday's Fight.

Havana, Cuba, March 30.—The Cuban government officials are determined to take no chances of a serious accident due to a fight between such big men as Johnson and Willard. They have appointed three physicians to attend at the ringside. They will have oxygen and other stimulants to revive the fighters in case of an unusual knockout or a fall. They say, however, that they will not interfere with the proper termination of the battle according to the code of the prize ring. The relatively gigantic size of the pugilists evidently has impressed Cuban officials with the idea that the struggle of next Monday will be unusually savage.

The pugilists were examined and measured by physicians again last night. Each man is said to be in splendid condition with regard to organs and muscles. One doctor said Johnson had the smallest heart of any man he had ever examined. These latest measurements show that the champion is today heavier and more muscled than he was at Reno in 1910; nevertheless Willard is the bigger man in almost every particular.

A group of Cuban ministers, representing various evangelical missions centered in Havana, has filed a protest with government officials against the fight and some American ministers living here have addressed an open letter to American tourists as fellow countrymen, protesting against their support of the bout. No particular attention is being paid to these protests by the Cuban officials or the fight promoters.

The hotels of Havana are beginning to fill up with early arrivals from other parts of the island and from the Southern states. Willard money is beginning to appear and it is expected to reduce the present odds of 3 and 2½ to 1.

NOTE TO BRITAIN IS READY TO SEND

Will Be Forwarded to London Within Twenty-Four Hours.

Washington, March 30.—President Wilson announced today that the American note to Great Britain concerning the order in council was practically complete and would be forwarded to London within the next twenty-four hours.

The president told callers that the text of the note will be made public as soon as it has reached the British foreign office. Out of courtesy to Great Britain he asked that there be no speculation about its contents until it had been received in London.

No note will be sent at present to Germany regarding the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye by the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich. The president said the government had not yet received all the information it desires concerning the ownership of the cargo of the Frye.

JOHN E. JENSEN.

LABOR LEADER PRAISES MURCHISON

Has Extended Many Advantages to Common Labor, He Says.

"The record of Commissioner Murchison shows that he has not only lived up to his promises, made prior to the election of two years ago, but he has exceeded any efforts made by former members of the city administration toward promoting the welfare of the laboring men employed by the city," yesterday said John E. Jensen, former secretary of the Federated Trades Assembly.

Mr. Jensen, who is president of the Painters' union, says:

"As a representative of labor I have given the closest attention to the attitude of the present city administration towards this important subject. Prior to the election two years ago, questions were submitted to all the candidates which were intended to ascertain their views as to an eight-hour day and other matters of the greatest interest to labor. The replies of Mr. Murchison were very satisfactory and he received a large measure of support from the friends of labor.

"I find that the advantages of an eight-hour day and the city scale of 25 cents an hour for common labor has been extended to hundreds of men who had never enjoyed them before. He has provided during the present winter, work that was self-sustaining for approximately 800 men and paid out in wages for this special work since winter set in $30,000, a record unequaled by any other city of its size in the country.

"Some time ago I talked with the commissioner in regard to the work of his division, and although he had entirely changed many of the former methods of handling the work, he refused to be drawn into any criticism of his predecessors, simply stating that the appropriations for the public works fund had been diminished from year to year to such an extent that it had become very difficult to make any satisfactory showing.

"I will refer to the following instance as indicating Commissioner Murchison's attitude towards the expenditure of money: For street maintenance purposes the city is divided into five districts. There is a foreman, usually called a street commissioner, in charge of each district, and the maintenance of sewers throughout the city is in charge of another foreman. Under former management these six foremen spent a certain amount of money each month doing work here and there as it appeared to them necessary, and pay rolls for the labor and bills for the material used were approved at the first of each succeeding month. Soon after the present management was inaugurated each foreman was asked to submit a statement of the work he proposed to do the following month. This was such as unheard of and startling request that the first one received no intelligent response. Thereafter, however, these statements were forthcoming, and careful scrutiny of them enabled eliminations to be made and frequently substantial reductions in the monthly expenditures. From $25 to $200 a month was pared off from each district in this way, and a fund created which was applied to substantial repairs and to the urgent requirements of the department.

"A thousand men, more or less, were employed during the past year in one capacity or another, but the commissioner hired none of them and dismissed none of them. Each foreman was held responsible for the quality and cost of his work and was left entirely free to employ what he considered competent help and to discharge any men who were not satisfactory. Absolutely no exception was made to this rule and every foreman or head of denartment in the division of public works will make affidavit as to the correctness of this statement. Politics have been eliminated."

WILL MAKE SURVEY FOR BREAKWATER

Preliminary Work Slated for May, Says Congressman Miller.

Congressman Clarence B. Miller, who has just returned from Washington, says that it is expected that the survey work with a view to establishing a breakwater to protect the Duluth entry to the harbor will begin in May. Mr. Miller introduced a bill in congress to have the survey made and the necessary money appropriated, but this bill was later incorporated into the rivers and harbors bill and adopted. The board of army engineers will order the survey under direction of Maj. E. D. Peek, United States engineer in charge here, and it is expected that a preliminary statement will be issued a few weeks after the work will have started. The complete report will be made to congress when it convenes in December.

Mr. Miller says that while the board of army engineers seems favorable to the project now, at first it was rather coldly looked upon.

The congressman also announces that the lighthouse board has promised equipment to be here in June for the electric lighting of the range lights at the Duluth entry, with control at the shore end, and for electric operation of the fog-horn. Mr. Miller urged this as a result of past inability to use the range lights and the fog-horn during severe storms and the possible disasters in the future because of this defect.

MOISTURE FROM RAIN AND SNOW

Little Else Received By North Dakota Soil, Says Bulletin.

Fargo, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—To secure definite data on the best farm practice where the rainfall is light, the Federal government is carrying on investigations in the western plains states, four of which are located in North Dakota, where the work is a co-operation between the Federal government and the experiment station. The results of these investigations are given in Bulletin 110, North Dakota experiment station.

The bulletin says that all moisture that is available for crop production in this section comes as rain or snow; the water table being too far from the surface, as a rule, for any of the moisture to reach the surface. The statement is also made that the three means by which water is removed from the soil that the plant roots occupy is, by evaporation from the surface, which, however, is slight; through seepage below where the plant roots can reach, and this is also slight; and through the plant. So that when moisture i sonce in the soil nearly all of it stays there till the plants remove it. This gives a clue to the farm practice that needs to be employed.

Keep Weeds Down.

Weeds will remove this moisture as readily as the crops and hence the weeds should be kept down. It also emphasizes the fact that the greatest good done by cultivation is in keeping down weeds. Trials have been made with summer fallow but it has not proved to be profitable. It has resulted in an increase of yield, but at the same time it takes two years' cultivation of the land to bring one crop, or in other words, it requires twice the acreage.

Trials were also made with corn. It was found that nearly as good crops were secured on corn ground as on the summer fallow. The corn crop uses a good deal of moisture but the cultivation given it allows the rain to soak into the ground more readily. In addition to bringing the land in shape for growing a grain crop the corn produces the largest amount of forage of any of the crops tried. Corn was also found to be one of the surest of the crops which means that it is one of the best crops for this section of the state.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFUL, CHARMING HAIR, NO DANDRUFF--25 CENT DANDERINE

Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair and Stops It Falling Out.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

Apportionment For Schools.

School districts that will receive more than $1,000 are: Duluth, $152,296.88; Proctor Knott district, $1,623.77; Tower district, $4,763.59; Ely district, $16,377.28; Aurora district, $3,187.90; Gilbert district, $5,626.81; Floodwood district, $1,766.64; Virginia district, $9,184.49; Biwabik district, $1,514.24; Hibbing district, $1,760.26; Buhl district, $1,746.33; Eveleth district, $4,802.73; Chisholm district, $9,504.74; Meadowlands district, $975.23; unorganized school districts, $4,392.73.

CONTRACT GIVEN TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Murchison Reverses Custom in Buying Street Flushers for City.

Reversing the usual order, city commissioners yesterday afternoon awarded to the highest bidder a contract for two horse-drawn street flushers. Commissioner Murchison recommended that this action be taken, as the most expensive machine had patent appliances he considered necessary for a street flusher.

The Sanitary Street Flusher company of St. Louis, Mo., with a bid of $860, was first. The Tiffin Wagon company bid $833 and the Studebaker corporation $785. The Studebaker corporation was awarded the contract for two oil sprayers at $429 each.

The contract for lead pipe for the water and light department was awarded to the Duluth Plumbers' Supply company on its bid of $1,160.

Liquor license renewals were granted to C. F. W. Korth, 5020 Roosevelt street; Erik Nelson, 611 West Superior street and Frank Horgan, 110 West First street.

To Let Publishers Alone.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the Federal government will abandon its efforts to secure the conviction of Sam Clark and C. H. Crockard on charges of sending obscene matter through interstate channels of communication, in violation of the postal laws, is the belief of the attorney for the defendants, T. R. Bangs, who returned yesterday from Bismarck, where the publishers were acquitted.

"We question the possibility of getting any further indictments against the publishers," said Mr. Bangs.

NEW DRAFT OF HOUSING CODE

Mayor Appoints Clapp to Go Over Measure With Organizations.

Proposed Ordinance Urged to Give Immediate Temporary Relief.

After working since May, 1914, in an effort to redraft Duluth's housing code so that it embodied changes desired by builders, contractors and architects, Emil J. Zauft, president of the Builders' exchange, and J. H. Cook, Jr., secretary, comprising a special committee, presented the new draft to the city commissioners yesterday afternoon.

Special committees from the Builders' exchange, the Architects' club, the Real Estate exchange, the Commercial club, the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club, and the Building Managers' association, were appointed early in 1914 and have been working on the revision since that time.

At the suggestion of the commissioners, Mayor Prince appointed City Attorney Harvey Clapp to meet with representatives of the various organizations interested and consider the proposed changes.

"It is the hope of these petitioners," said President Zauft, "that this draft be adopted as a temporary measure, to afford immediate relief, and that changes be worked out and added later. The framers of the original code evidently did not look upon Duluth as a hilly city, for the rules are ideal in a city built on a perfectly level stretch of ground, and work some hardships in a city with Duluth's topographical construction."

Mayor Prince objected to adopting the draft as it stood. He stated that when Attorney Clapp and the various representatives finished their work the new housing code, together with the new building regulations, would be enacted and published in a single pamphlet.

Following is the personnel of the committee which has been at work on the revision of the code:

Architects—J. C. Kelly, J. J. Wangenstein, W. H. Hunt, C. Nystrom, A. Holstead and F. G. German.

Real Estate exchange — Whitney Wall, E. Gridley and Henry Nolte.

Building managers—Stewart Collins and T. W. Hoopes.

Builders' exchange—C. E. Evens, Emil J. Zauft, Alex Anderson, F. A. Carlson and Otto Johnson.

Commercial club—F. H. Fitzgerald, B. J. Enger, Floid Fuller and G. W. Morgan.

Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club—Gus Silverness and V. Johnson.

COURT FIGHT APRIL 2.

Action Against Board of Control Comes Up at Jamestown.

Jamestown, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fight John Knauf, O. J. Seiler and C. S. Buck are making against the state board of control of charitable and penal institutions will be aired again in the district court here April 2, when the defendants will seek to compel the plaintiffs to accept their answer, recently filed.

The plaintiffs have refused to acknowledge service of the answer to the summons in the action asking for the establishment of an injunction against the board to prevent it from pushing to completion certain building operations at the asylum for the insane. It is maintained that in their failure to serve the answer within the required time limit, the board has thrown itself out of court, and that it has no further recourse.

Arguments before Judge Coffey on April 2 will cover this point particularly, and should the plaintiffs be victorious, an immediate appeal will be made to the supreme court.

SOCIETY ◘ WOMEN'S CLUBS ◘ MUSIC ◘ THE DRAMA

FOR three centuries April 1 has been known as "All Fools' day" but the reasons for giving this date such a name and the origin of the practice of playing pranks on it are not known definitely.

As with many folk festivals of Europe All Fools' day, or April Fool day as it is also called, appears to be of pagan origin, and like them, has been retained since the coming of Christianity because of great popularity.

Some students think the selection of April 1 for the day on which to play pranks was a matter of chance. Others think it was due to New Year's day having been formerly March 25, making April 1 the octave of New Year's and an occasion for the wind-up of holiday festivities.

Easter Recipes.

Robin's Nest Salad for Easter.

On each individual salad dish place one-half of a large golden peach, fresh or preserved, cut side up. In the hollow of each peach put six blanched hazel nuts and six seedless grapes well washed, add a good sprinkle of powdered sugar, and have ready one pint of whipped cream to which has been added the white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth. Mix well into the cream the white of the egg, which keeps the cream in place. Then put two tablespoons of the cream over the fruit and serve.

Season with salt and pepper and bake just until the eggs are set. Very small fragments of ham or tongue will serve for this dish.—Milwaukee Free Press.

DULUTH ROMANCE RESULTS IN WEDDING AT MINNEAPOLIS

MRS. C. D. MACGREGOR.

Duluth friends of Clare D. MacGregor, former Duluth newspaper man, were surprised today to hear of his marriage which took place in Minneapolis Sunday; and friends of the bride, who was Miss Beatrice Berrum, former Duluth violinist, were equally surprised. Mr. MacGregor was probably better known here than was his bride. He left here but recently, having, from some time, been employed on the local news staff of the News Tribune, and going to St. Paul, where he is now working on one of the dailies.

Miss Berrum was, for some time, violinist of the St. Louis cafe staff, but returned some months ago to her home in St. Paul, and since than has been violinist at the Rogers' cafe, Minneapolis.

Sunday last Miss Berrum was missing from her accustomed place at the cafe, and it was not discovered for some time that she had taken French leave in company with Mr. MacGregor and that the two had been married.

The romance began when Miss Berrum and her sister were playing at the St. Louis. Mr. MacGregor wandered into the cafe one night with some friends, shortly after he arrived in the city. He proved a very dull companion to his party thereafter and seemed fascinated by the music.

The sojourn of the Berrum sisters in Duluth resulted in the culmination of two romances. The sister of Mrs. MacGregor, while here, married a cellist of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

The parents of the Berrum sisters reside in St. Paul.

Noyes Uses Elizabeth Theme.

A current criticism says of Alfred Noyes, who will lecture in the Association of Collegiate Alumnae course April 6: "He is borne inevitably towards the Elizabethan theme and motive. His poetry has the same cult of violence and force as the florious old romanticism of Elizabeth beside which that of Wordsworth, Coleridge and even Shelley seems tame and refrigerated. This is shown clearly in 'Drake' and 'Tales of the Mermaid Tavern.' In the latter he wanders back 300 years to that famous Mermaid tavern where congregated the wit and learning of the Elizabethan age. He follows Sir Walter Raleigh, wearing the self-same mud-stained cloak as he had thrown it before the feet of Elizabeth, and enters. There is Will Shakspere, Kit Marlowe, Lyly, Peele, Lodge, Michael Drayton and all the rest. Wild revelry is then described and Raleigh tells the first tale. There is choice conversation among them. Old 'rare Ben' tells the next story and then Marlowe reads a poem. Sir Francis Bacon comes to visit them and declares no poets can compete with the classics and English is no language for the muse. In darling fashion he brings to life that famous coterie and with conversation and action these great writers of Elizabeth's time appear before us as human beings. They sing and drink and indulge in wit and epigram and revelry. There are many meters and many themes in the poem and over all the romantic touch of that heroic age appropriated by the author to modern times. The beautiful tale of the old sexton, 'The Burial of a Queen,' dealing with the last ceremony for the unfortunate Mary of Scotland, is the finest poetry Noyes has written."

Peggy Peabody's Observations

No Reason for Snobbishness.

Are all women disposed to act the snob? A writer well known for his caricatures of men, women and things, makes the bold statement that they are. He maintains that snobbishness is accountable for the real and growing difficulty women experience in getting other women to enter their employ in what are sometimes considered menial positions.

This is not, by any means, the first time that I have read or heard that part of the servant trouble was to be attributed to the airs which some mistresses adopt toward their hirelings, and also the inconsiderate treatment of those who, because they keep the homes in the land habitable and comfortable, are less humanely used. I have never before chanced to hear or read, or for that matter had reason to believe that women were innately snobs.

It is not a trait of character that either man or woman will own to, and although I believe that there may be more women with snobbish instincts than there are men, I am not by any means sure that the evil is inherent in any fair proportion of womankind. I have a very distinct memory of two male snobs, and also a very distinct memory of an almost uncountable number of snobs in petticoats. One of these males was a boy of 16, who we all liked, save for one peculiarity. He was a thorough snob in one particular, that of clothes. Whether he wore good ones or poor ones, made no difference. They influenced him either in your favor or against it.

When this youth's clothes were spick and span he felt himself to be better than those whose clothes were not as fresh and new, and he took no pains to hide it. At such times he aspired very high in the way of associates. When his clothes became shabby, he sunk very low in his own estimation, and no longer sought the companionship of the well-dressed. He was well on his way to develop into the snob of the simon pure variety, but whether years brought him to a more sensible and manly way of looking at dress, I have never been able to learn.

I knew another man who was of little account, but with moneyed, or what he termed "swell connections." He used people who were his betters as friends and ignored them when he happened to be in the company of his "swell" relatives. This was as disgusting to his relatives as it was to others who watched the spectacle of a man making himself contemptible and ridiculous.

I have observed almost as many men as women using scant courtesy to those who came under their authority. Women are, I think, more snobbish among those in their own class because women are less frank and outspoken than men. Women associate more freely with their own sex whom they know to be mean and snobbish, while men ignore such fellows altogether.

SOCIETY ◘ WOMEN'S CLUBS ◘ MUSIC ◘ THE DRAMA

FOR three centuries April 1 has been known as "All Fools' day" but the reasons for giving this date such a name and the origin of the practice of playing pranks on it are not known definitely.

As with many folk festivals of Europe All Fools' day, or April Fool day as it is also called, appears to be of pagan origin, and like them has been retained since the coming of Christianity because of great popularity.

Some students think the selection of April 1 for the day on which to play pranks was a matter of chance. Others think it was due to New Year's day having been formerly March 25, making April 1 the octave of New Year's and an occasion for the wind-up of holiday festivities.

Matinee Musicale to Contribute to Federation Prize Fund.

At the meeting of the board of the Matinee Musicale held yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. George S. Richards of 212 Sixteenth avenue east, it was decided to contribute to the prize fund of the National Federation of Musical clubs that will be held in Los Angeles June 24 to July 2.

It was also decided to allow encores on the last program of the Matinee Musicale that will be given Monday evening, April 5, at the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Richards, who entertained the board members at luncheon following the business meeting, was assisted by her mother, Mrs. F. Stinchfield.

Auctions Are Held Between the Acts.

At the matinee performance of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" given this afternoon at the Lyceum theater by the Baldwin players under the auspices of the Housewives' league a doll and a toy dog were auctioned by Joseph De Stephani. Members of Miss Dorothy Olcott's Sunday school class of St. Paul's Episcopal church and Miss Patsy Watson and Miss Agnes Ewald of the Christmas club sold candy and flowers.

Mrs. W. N. Iverson, Mrs. L. B. Arnold, W. J. Olcott and Walter S. Baldwin, Sr., were among the box holders.

Reception for Baron and Baroness Uriu.

Mrs. F. Frank Barker of 2401 Lake avenue south has received an invitation to a reception that will be given by the Japan Society of America in honor of their excellencies, Admiral Viscount and Baroness Satokichi Uriu, Thursday evening, April 1, at the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco. Easter Recipes.

Robin's Nest Salad for Easter.

On each individual salad dish place one-half of a large golden peach, fresh or preserved, cut side up. In the hollow of each peach put six blanched halved nuts and six seedless grapes well washed, add a good sprinkle of powdered sugar, and have ready one pint of whipped cream to which has been added the white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth. Mix well into the cream the white of the egg, which keeps the cream in place. Then put two tablespoonfuls of the cream over the fruit and serve.

Nested Eggs for Easter Sunday.

Slices of Toast. Eggs.
Cold Minced Ham or Tongue.
Seasoning.

Separate the whites from the yolks of the eggs, beat the whites to a stiff froth and lay the yolks aside. Have ready slices of toast made from slices of bread cut rather thick. Put a layer of minced ham or tongue on toast, then pile a portion of the stiffly beaten white of egg on this. Make a depression in the center of it and drop the yolk into this. Season with salt and pepper and bake just until the eggs are set. Very small fragments of ham or tongue will serve for this dish.—Milwaukee Free Press.

DULUTH ROMANCE RESULTS IN WEDDING AT MINNEAPOLIS

MRS. C. D. MACGREGOR.

Duluth friends of Clare D. MacGregor, former Duluth newspaper man, were surprised today to hear of his marriage which took place in Minneapolis Sunday; and friends of the bride, who was Miss Beatrice Berrum, former Duluth violinist, were equally surprised. Mr. MacGregor was probably better known here than was his bride. He left here but recently, having, from some time, been employed on the local news staff of the News Tribune, and going to St. Paul, where he is now working on one of the dailies.

Miss Berrum was, for some time, violinist of the St. Louis cafe stuff, but returned some months ago to her home in St. Paul, and since than has been violinist at the Rogers' cafe, Minneapolis.

Sunday last Miss Berrum was missing from her accustomed place at the cafe, and it was not discovered for some time that she had taken French leave in company with Mr. MacGregor and that the two had been married.

The romance began when Miss Berrum and her sister were playing at the St. Louis. Mr. MacGregor wandered into the cafe one night with some friends, shortly after he arrived in the city. He proved a very dull companion to his party thereafter and seemed fascinated by the music.

The sojourn of the Berrum sisters in Duluth resulted in the culmination of two romances. The sister of Mrs. MacGregor, while here, married a cellist of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

The parents of the Berrum sisters reside in St. Paul.

Lawrence and Mrs. Helen Stewart will be the speakers on the affirmative side, and Mrs. H. Bevier and Mrs. Alfred Jaques on the negative side.

Noyes Uses Elizabeth Theme.

A current criticism says of Alfred Noyes, who will lecture in the Association of Collegiate Alumnae course April 6: "He is borne inevitably towards the Elizabethan theme and motive. His poetry has the same cult of violence and force as the florious old romanticism of Elizabeth beside which that of Wordsworth, Coleridge and even Shelley seems tame and refrigerated. This is shown clearly in 'Drake' and 'Tales of the Mermaid Tavern.' In the latter he wanders back 300 years to that famous Mermaid tavern where congregated the wit and learning of the Elizabethan age. He follows Sir Walter Raleigh, wearing the self-same mud-stained cloak as he had thrown it before the feet of Elizabeth, and enters. There is Will Shakspere, Kit Marlowe, Lyly, Peele, Lodge, Michael Drayton and all the rest. Wild revelry is then described and Raleigh tells the first tale. There is choice conversation among them. Old 'rare Ben' tells the next story and then Marlowe reads a poem. Sir Francis Bacon comes to visit them and declares no poets can compete with the classics and English is no language for the muse. In daring fashion he brings to life that famous coterie and with conversation and action these great writers of Elizabeth's time appear before us as human beings. They sing and drink and indulge in wit and epigram and revelry. There are many meters and many themes in the poem and over all the romantic touch of that heroic age appropriated by the author to modern times. The beautiful tale of the old sexton, 'The Burial of a Queen,' dealing with the last ceremony for the unfortunate Mary of Scotland, is the finest poetry Noyes has written."

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB HOLDS SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst Is Re-Elected President—Officers and Chairmen Give Reports.

Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst was re-elected president of the Twentieth Century club at the seventeenth annual meeting held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom. The other officers elected were: Mrs. O. A. Oredson, first vice president; Mrs. R. C. Dryer, second vice president; Mrs. L. K. Daugherty, third vice president; Mrs. F. Mondshine, recording secretary; Mrs. H. P. Bjorge, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. A. Armstrong, treasurer; Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Sr., historian; Mrs. H. L. Gage, Mrs. H. H. Phelps, Mrs. H. N. Meltarg, Mrs. J. T. Culbertson and Mrs. W. S. Donat, honorary vice presidents; Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. A. A. Fidr and Mrs. J. L. Strong, members at large of the membership committee; Miss Tilly Thorne, complimentary member.

Before the election the annual reports were given by the officers, chairmen of standing committees and chairmen of departments.

The treasurer, Mrs. W. S. Donat, reported a balance of $191.06 and a paid membership of 202. The president read the report of the historian, Mrs. J. D. Morrison, who is out of the city. The report from the Shakespeare class, of which Mrs. H. L. Gage is the chairman, showed nineteen meetings had been held to study two Roman plays and one dealing with Egyptian life. Two more meetings of the class will be held this season.

New Department.

Mrs. C. R. Keyes, chairman of the West Duluth Study class, reported this new department of the club, that was a separate organization until the beginning of this club year, has studied the present European rulers at the monthly meetings and that three more meetings will be held this year. Mrs. J. H. Crowley, chairman of the department of education and home, announced there would be an exhibit in the fall of fruit from trees given out by the club in previous years, and reported the department had continued its work for the extermination of the fly, that drills in parliamentary law had been substituted for a lecture that had been planned and that through the department Mrs. S. P. Stocker had given a lecture recital at Bryant school.

Mrs. H. N. MacHarg, chairman of the literature department, reviewed the programs given at the meetings of the department in the clubroom and the social afternoons held at the homes of members. The average attendance was seventy-five. Mrs. MacHarg announced that within two weeks Mrs. Mary Adeline Nelson would give the final program.

The philanthropic department, of which Mrs. R. A. Webster is the chairman, has given, through the club, $10 for the visiting housewife and $10 for the deatal clinic and has sent pictures to Tuskegee school.

President's Address.

The annual address of the president, Mrs. Brocklehurst, was in part:

"The seventeenth annual meeting of the Twentieth Century club brings to a close a very busy and profitable year's work. Each department and committee may well feel gratified for the splendid reports presented this afternoon. Your efforts on behalf of the club have been well repaid by the

Peggy Peabody's Observations

No Reason for Snobbishness.

Are all women disposed to act the snob? A writer well known for his caricatures of men, women and things, makes the bold statement that they are. He maintains that snobbishness is accountable for the real and growing difficulty women experience in getting other women to enter their employ in what are sometimes considered menial positions.

This is not, by any means, the first time that I have read or heard that part of the servant trouble was to be attributed to the airs which some mistresses adopt toward their hirelings, and also the inconsiderate treatment of those who, because they keep the homes in the land habitable and comfortable, are less humanely used. IT INTERESTS EVERYBODY.

When the farmers, as a class, find themselves confronted with any serious problem, it is not the farmers alone who are interested. Everybody must sooner or later feel the effect of the decision.

Today the farmers are wondering what to do about wheat acreage—whether to plant more than they did last year, on the chance that the war will last and so maintain the demand, or whether to reduce the acreage and look for a diminishing market. Some of the agricultural papers in this section of the country have been cautioning them against overdoing the wheat growing in the hope of continued high prices. And ordinarily the men who publish the agricultural papers have a sufficiently broad view of conditions to enable them to advise wisely on acreage and other propositions.

This time, however, it seems possible that they made a mistake owing to lack of information. For example, one of the points urged most strongly against the increasing of acreage was that the Dardanelles would sooner or later be opened to traffic, and that then the world markets would be flooded with an immense Russian supply. Now it appears that the Russian supply for the whole year of 1914 was a hundred and eighty million bushels less than that of 1913. In the latter year there was only 121,000,000 bushels available for export from Russia, and this year there will be less than that owing to decreased production and increased home consumption. So there is more than fifty million bushels less from last year's crop than Russia will need for her own use, and a still lighter output this year would seem almost a certainty.

In the fall of Przemysl, too, there is likely to be felt another influence that will reduce the supply, for the Russian success there has thrown open Austria's principal wheat-growing region to the clash of the hostile armies, and unless peace comes very quickly, no crop will be harvested in that section this year.

It will not do, of course, for the American farmers, either in Minnesota or any other state, to put all their time and energy into wheat raising. It was that kind of policy that brought trouble to the South. But so far as can be judged at present, there is no reason why the farmer who raises at least as much wheat as he did last year should not expect a good price for it. For the consumer's sake it is to be hoped the price will not rise very much.

We knew Winter could do it, without needing an actual demonstration to convince us.

SOMEBODY NEEDS COACHING.

One of the most prominent fruits thus far of the early start the Republicans are making for their 1916 campaign is the evidence that somebody needs coaching before he makes another speech for publication. He'll be coached, of course. No fear about that. But no amount of coaching now will entirely offset the fact that he spoke at first without inspiration and told the truth—an act of carelessness that promises to amount to a crime in the next G. O. P. campaign.

It was Former Secretary of State Philander C. Knox who "slipped up" in an interview in Pittsburg. Instead of following the lead of Former Secretary of State Elihu Root and declaring that business was rotten and never would be good again until the Republicans were returned to power, Mr. Knox said, according to the Pittsburg Dispatch:

> I am glad to believe that business conditions are improving, and I believe that this improvement will keep pace with the growth of the confidence of the people in their own courage to grapple and destroy the enemies of business.

And who are the "enemies of business?" Those who agitate and legislate excessively, we have been told again and again. So it is interesting to compare the records of recent Republican congresses with that of the expired Democratic congress. Such a comparison shows that where one law was passed by the last congress relating to business and its regulation, the two or three or even half dozen preceding it passed anywhere from three to five.

Furthermore, the Republicans are urging more legislation, while the Democratic leaders, who in fact secured no important legislation that they did not promise in advance, have declared that their program of commercial legislation is complete, and that business should have a time in which to operate without annoyance and with certainty as to limitations.

Prominent in Mr. Root's talk at Philadelphia was the advice to business men to "talk, agitate, explain." Yet Mr. Knox says that "the American agitator is the hookworm that has fastened its hold on American enterprise."

It is evident that Mr. Knox was not properly posted in advance, for the Root speech, which differs so radically from his talk, was carefully prepared after Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee had had a pre-campaign conference with "manufacturers and business men who are interested in the success of the Republican party."

But Mr. Knox will not be allowed to make such breaks again, if his fellow-Republicans can help it. It is their cue to decry everything done since Taft left the White House, to denounce present conditions and everything pertaining to them, including the high price of wheat, which was brought about in spite of the absence of the tariff. It is their program to "talk, agitate, explain," and do anything else they can to try to convince people that the most constructive administration in several decades is dead wrong because it failed to have the "G. O. P." brand burned all over it.

It is clear that Mr. Knox spoke without "inspiration"—it is reasonably certain that he won't be allowed to do so again, if it can be helped.

Too bad there aren't more Plutes in Europe.

WHAT HAS BECOME OF LACROSSE?

The following item appeared in the "Twenty Years Ago" column of The Herald last night:

> The La Crosse club met in Dr. King's office last night and reorganized, electing the following officers: President, Dr. King; vice president, W. J. Darby; secretary, P. Sibbald; treasurer, Frank Crasweller; captain, R. J. Baskerville; manager, M. C. Beaton; directors, F. C. Carr and William Jamison.

What has become of the Lacrosse club? And what has become of lacrosse in Duluth? It seems to have had quite a run at one time, but today it is never heard of, and probably there are thousands here who never saw a game.

Lacrosse isn't an easy game to play. It takes sand and wind and endurance, as well as agility and practice. But it is one corking good game, and in recent years has had a considerable return to popularity in various parts of the country. St. Paul has had a team for several years, and has seen some splendid exhibitions of play.

But the difficulty of the game ought not to hinder Duluth from having a club and a team. There are young men here who would glory in the kind of training lacrosse gives, and there are several places in the city where the game could be played.

Lacrosse is one of the few distinctly American games, and it is one that is worth preserving.

Pretty soon the jitney will have to compete with the roller skate.

WHO IS TO PAY?

One of the strangest examples of human carelessness is that furnished in New York by the case of Rae Tanzer, the girl who sued James W. Osborne for fifty thousand dollars for alleged breach of promise, and who now admits she was mistaken in the identity of the man she sued.

In her confession, the United States attorney demanded a stipulation waiving immunity from any charge that might be made against her, and perhaps some way will be found to punish her for her action. But that will not remove the fact of mental suffering on the part of her victim's wife and daughter, nor a certain amount of the stigma that is bound to remain with his reputation.

What can be done in a case like this? The attorneys employed by the Tanzer girl seem to have taken reasonable precautions to verify their client's story. They took pains to have the defendant in her suit identified, and naturally paid but little attention to his denials of the charges made. They would reason that such denials were only to be expected under the circumstances.

It may be that Rae Tanzer was honest in her efforts to obtain redress for wrongs. Perhaps she has been the victim of some person, and really thought Mr. Osborne was the one—though how she could have made such a mistake is entirely beyond average human comprehension. But granting all that, and that it was not a clear case of attempted blackmail, who is to pay for it all?

Rae Tanzer will not pay in full, for even though she be sent to prison for a term of years, her own remorse or loss of her freedom for that time can do nothing toward reparation. And even were she wealthy—which she is not—there are some kinds of "hurt that honor feels" that cannot be helped by "the jingle of the guinea."

Mr. Osborne will not be the one to pay, for though he may suffer inconvenience and chagrin over the affair, he will hardly be a serious loser through it.

No, the paying will be done by his family, by the wife and daughter who are compelled to undergo unpleasant notoriety, and who will feel the effects of this for weeks and months. They will be the ones to suffer most, and would have been the greatest sufferers had Rae Tanzer not been forced by circumstances to acknowledge her "mistake." For their sake, and for the sake of others in their position, some means should be found to curb the Rae Tanzers of the country, and if possible to prevent other cases like this one from arising.

Nobody seems to have any pity for the man whose income is cut off by the operation of the anti-drug law.

Gardening for Children

Indianapolis News: P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, is a vigorous champion of the school gardening idea. He believes in its extension. "Encouraging each child," says he, "to have his little garden plot is valuable in every way." Then he goes on to say that gardening teaches a child more "practical knowledge than any amount of dry text books" and keeps him out in the open at the same time. He continues thus:

Let the children work! It is the best thing in the world for them, provided the work is congenial and brings into play their creative faculties. That is the great trouble with child labor in the South, not so much the hard work and the long hours, but the deadly monotony of the work. The first object of education is to make the child useful, and the second to make him happy. Any child is happy if he is accomplishing something, so set him to work at his little garden which gives him more accurate knowledge than mathematics, and where he learns the plain facts of life first hand. In summer this work is most important of all, for it is then that the little tenement child suffers most and pines for the country. A few flowers will keep him interested through the hottest months and almost as ready for the winter again as though he had had a real vacation.

What Mr. Claxton says is worth serious consideration. Truth is at the bottom of it. There may be a bit of exaggeration in his estimate of the relative value of gardening and of "dry text books," but, in spite of this, there is much practical common sense in what he advocates. For the child of the tenements especially, Mr. Claxton outlines a sane procedure. Gardening for him, he says, can easily be made remunerative. Fortunately, we are not confronted locally by the tenement problem in serious form, but there are many families in Indianapolis who are in need—some of them in desperate need—of such additional income, small though it may be, as the juvenile workers of the families can produce. Vacant lot gardening, begun under school supervision, offers a means whereby child labor can serve the family and itself at the same time. It can be made to produce the additional income desired, and, incidentally, though by no means of small importance, it will conserve the worker's health and increase both his experience and his knowledge.

It is an excellent thing, as well, for the children of parents in comfortable circumstances. It will supply them with a steady and interesting employment and give them—what most of them need—a sense of responsibility. The movement, in short, is one to be encouraged. Mr. Claxton is not unduly enthusiastic. It is not difficult to see that the value of putting his idea into practice is not confined only to the immediate present. On the contrary, it makes inevitably for good citizenship in the future.

Prepare to Celebrate Peace.

Chicago News: A million voices raised in a paean of praise and thanksgiving for the end of the war, when that time arrives, and the birth of a new spirit of brotherhood—this is the plan of the Apollo Musical club of Chicago as announced before the ways and means committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce at the luncheon in the Hotel La Salle. The speaker was W. B. Sloane, president of the Apollo Musical club. The project was born in Chicago, but already has nation-wide suppport.

A general committee which is now being formed will decide on the exact form that the "choral peace jubilee" will take. Already it has been decided that it will not be limited to any one city, as was the Boston celebration that heralded the Treaty of Ghent, which ended the War of 1812, or that which marked the end of the Civil war. It will probably be given simultaneously throughout the world.

"All of us have given thought to the problem of how the great European war could be brought to an end, and most of us have agreed that there is little use in talking peace to the nations engaged," said Mr. Sloane. "What seems more practical is the proposal to prepare now, not only in Chicago, but in every city and village of the land, to welcome the great peace when it shall come. 'In time of war prepare for peace.'"

Wasn't Out for Profit.

Columbus Republican: A business man living in one of the recent additions to the city, far enough away from the other homes to raise hogs, thought he would experiment. So he purchased a young porker for $6, kept it all winter and sold it. Meeting a friend coming down on the car one morning, he broke the news that he had sold the hog to the butcher, adding that the hog originally cost him $6 and that it had cost him $8 for feed.

"What did you get for the hog?" asked the friend.

"Well, the butcher allowed me $14 for it, without even weighing it," was the reply.

"What? Only $14! Why it cost you that much. You didn't make anything on it."

"No, I didn't make any profit I know, but then I had the use of the hog all winter, didn't I?"

Meant the Same Thing.

Houston Post: "That man thinks I am positively ugly!"

"Why, I did not hear him say anything that could possibly be construed that way."

"Didn't you hear him say that I would need the very best lawyer that money could possibly employ?"

"The Pennsylvania Idea"

By Sayward.

Washington, March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The naivete of knavery was never yet better illustrated than in the following special dispatch printed in the Washington Post not long ago. Here it is in all its naked depravity:

"Philadelphia, March 7.—Pennsylvania 'business men's' campaigning methods will be used by the Republican national committee to elect a 'business and prosperity' president to succeed President Wilson in 1916, Senator Penrose announced today.

"The campaign of 1916, by which the G. O. P. hopes to elect a protective tariff executive, is now being mapped out in detail, and the Pennsylvania idea, used in the recent gubernatorial election, will be applied to the national political field. This was decided at a meeting of the Republican national leaders at Delmonico's, New York, last Friday, Senator Penrose said today. The senator said he had been so impressed by the efficacy of the 'business' campaign in this state that he had suggested its national application to Chairman Hilles of the national committee, who called the Delmonico session to consider the plan."

Coincident with that tidings came a dispatch from the Middle West disclosing that votes were selling in Chicago at a quarter of a dollar per. Of course, according to the standpat Republican "Pennsylvania idea," it would be criminal waste for the G. O. P. not to avail itself of the boundless opportunities for "majorities" presented by such a feature of the electorate market.

And so the Hon. Penrose was invited to take the helm and give a "business" turn to the navigation. It was charged—and investigation will be had of the affair—that the campaign fund of the Republican party of Pennsylvania last year amounted to more than $1,000,000, all of which was expended to re-elect the Hon. Penrose to the United States senate. The charge has not been denied so far as I am advised. Possibly it cannot be confuted, for it is the "Pennsylvania idea" which Chairman Hilles has apparently accepted and put in practice.

And why not? With votes going at two bits apiece in the now pivotal state of Illinois, is it not natural as well as patriotic for the G. O. P. to return to its trade of "fat-fryer?" There's millions in it, including the presidency and majorities in both branches of congress.

The late John James Ingalls of Kansas was a very candid as well as a remarkably brilliant man. He hated Roscoe Conkling and was an extravagant admirer of James G. Blaine. In his writings he loved to dwell on the terrific bolt hurled by L. Q. C. Lamar at the lordly Roscoe, therefore the bully of the senate, the eulogist of the code duello. "I have characterized the senator from New York in terms that no good man deserves and such as no brave man will wear." But touching that furious parliamentary tournament when Bill Hill of Georgia overthrew and unhorsed Bob Ingersoll's "plumed knight," from Maine, Mr. Ingalls is as silent "as a hempen widow on the subject of a rope."

Well, Ingalls in a fit of candor to which he was frequently subject, declared that it was the duty of "the party of Great Moral Ideas" to nominate "some fellow like Willie Walter Phelps of New Jersey for vice president, and then put the manufacturers of the East in the frying-pan and fry the fat out of 'em to buy the approaching election."

That was done in 1880, in 1888 and in 1896. In 1904 the Republican party, in the name of "God and morality," had the most opulent campaign fund any party ever had—though Mark Hanna was out of the game. Harriman alone raised more than a quarter of a million of it.

There is some criticism of the fowler who sets his snare in sight of the bird; but the G. O. P., with Penrose for commander and Mr. Hilles for chief of staff, is so implicit in its faith in the efficacy of boodle that they disclose their plan to the world nearly twenty months before the election.

Votes are very cheap in Chicago. Maybe that is what lends them confidence.

"Business men" do not go into politics for fun. "Business" did not contribute a million to re-elect Penrose to the senate with no expectation of realizing a dividend from the venture. If the Standpatters control the government after Wilson goes out, depraved business will prosper.

Uncle Cannon will be supreme at one end of the capitol edifice and Boss Penrose at the other. The Wool trust will be invited to write Schedule K of the tariff. The Steel trust will write the metal schedule. All the other trusts will flock about and each will write its particular schedule as each did in 1909 when the Payne-Aldrich monstrosity was incubated. That is the feast to which they invite the plain people.

But for that deplorable war in Europe they would not be able to set a single squadron in the contest.

How to Shake Hands.

Merchants' Trade Review: We have found that when you approach the person to shake hands, if you will get the grip on their hand before they have time to grip yours, you have gained an advantage. The hand should be slipped well into, or over, the hand of the person you want to shake with—that is, push the thumb and forefinger of your hand well into the thumb and forefinger of the person with whom you are shaking. Do it rather quickly and the insatnt you feel that your hand is in place, bring the grip into play instantly. Don't grip the hand hard enough to cause pain to the person with whom you are shaking, but yet give him a good, firm grip. After you have practiced a little, you can tell just about how hard you can squeeze without hurting the other party.

Before your hands touch, be sure that you are looking the other party square in the eye. Don't wait until you have hold of his hand, but watch his eye instantly, and if you will watch the eye of the other party very closely, you will notice that, when you bring the grip into play, you can see a response in the features of the other party.

Then it is a good idea, immediately, when you feel your hand touch the other party, to place your left hand on their elbow, not below the elbow, but back of it so as to be able to pull their arm, as it were, towards yours. Don't pull very hard, but just be firm about it. Take hold of the elbow joint with just a little firmness. Of course, these things are all done practically at the same time and it will take a little practice for you to be able to do this and get the best results.

Childish Understanding.

Houston Post: The Houston school children are learning to speak "Old Ironsides" and one little lass when she came to the line: "Aye, tear her tattered ensign down!" was heard to declaim with deep feeling: "I'd tear her tattered inside out!"

Seeing America First

By Fred C. Kelly.

Three of us, one a New York person, were headed toward a New York restaurant.

Our New York friend was talking with enthusiasm and civic pride of the ridiculously high prices prevailing in New York eating places.

There is nothing that will make the average New Yorker point with pride and tingle with pride so readily as to have somebody take money from him. He readily accepts almost any new or needless form of extortion as inevitable, and then boasts to his out-of-town friends about how shamefully he is being robbed.

"Now, in this place," proudly remarked the New York member of our party, as we were about to enter a restaurant, "they won't take your order after 9 o'clock unless you buy wine."

His tone was one of prideful warmth, as if he had been saying:

"Only those of us who are direct descendants of kings can enter here."

"How do you know that?" asked Ross, of the out-of-town two-thirds of our little party.

"Oh, everybody knows that," the New Yorker assured us. "Ha, ha. If you lived here you would soon find that out. No, sir, nothing served after 9 o'clock without wine."

"But did you ever try it?" pursued Ross.

"Why, no. Of course not. Nobody tries it. The thing simply can't be done."

"Well, I haven't been in a restaurant here for several years," remarked Ross, "but I'll bet you four dollars it can be done. We can do it in here after 9 o'clock and get as much or as little food as we want and without buying any kind of wine."

"I'm willing to try it," agreed the New Yorker, "but you'll simply embarrass yourself. The waiter will think you aren't familiar with the rules."

Like many New Yorkers our friend had a horror of not being thoroughly approved by the waiter.

We waited until after the theater and then went in to settle the bet.

"This coat and hat check thing is certainly an outrage," proudly observed the New York member of our party as we went in. "You know all the money goes to a man higher up, who pays for the concession. The boy you tip gets nothing."

"Certainly. And why do you tip him?" asked Ross.

"Oh, it's pretty hard to get out of it. It's an awful graft, though. No place like New York for graft."

Soon we were seated and a waiter stood at one of our elbows with much gravity.

"Just a ham sandwich and a glass of buttermilk for me," ordered Ross.

The waiter gulped, looked apoplectic, and was about to say something, but I hastened to place an order for a glass of lemonade and a cheese sandwich. Our New York friend was game and said he also would take a sandwich and lemonade."

"I'll take your wine order now," remarked the waiter in an offhand yet confidential tone.

"But we don't want any wine—just buttermilk and lemonade," cut in Ross. "Get that now—two lemonades and one buttermilk. Make it lactic buttermilk."

The waiter was really a rather tolerant person. Just as gently and inoffensively as he could—almost like a mother soothing a child—he purred:

"We serve only wine after 9 o'clock."

"Do you mean to say that we can't have what we want?" demanded Ross. "You wouldn't expect us to buy wine when we don't care for wine, would you? Run along now and rush our order. And be sure to bring some horse-radish."

After a moment or two of hesitation, the waiter departed. We saw him go to the head waiter and there was much interchange of talk and worried looks in our direction. The two walked over to another person, apparently an assistant manager or, at least, a sort of glorified super head waiter. All three talked. My impression is that they then called for the cook, the hat check boys, and the proprietor, and telephoned to the owner of the building.

"I don't think they'll serve us," our New York friend told us. He was nearly as excited as the waiter. His city's honor was at stake. If we got our sandwiches and drinks without wine it would look as if New York was less graft-ridden in its eating places than he would have us believe.

"They'll not put us out," declared Ross, "and they'll serve us, too. And if everybody here wanted just a sandwich and a glass of lemonade or a glass of beer, they would serve them all."

Ross was right, too. At the close of the conference of the various heads of the restaurant the waiter got us our frugal order.

He wore the expression of a man who had just seen a couple of constitutions and a bill of rights trampled on, but he bore up bravely enough.

"Well," declared the New Yorker in defense of his city, "you'd never see a New York man come in and question a rule like that. He would never think of such a thing."

Keeping Sweet

Toledo Blade: "Please excuse it!" The three little words were said beautifully, with just a touch of plaintive pleading as they came rippling over the phone near midnight's dreary hour.

The man who heard them stood in his barefeet, body and limbs clothed in pajamas only. He had rolled out of bed and bounded, half asleep, from side to side of a dark hall and hurried downstairs, to answer the persistent ringing of the phone. Its faint notes had seemed a part of his first dream, for he had not been asleep more than an hour. He was none too wide awake when he lifted the receiver to his ear. Then he learned that the operator had made a mistake. "Please excuse it!" That was all she said. Telephone girls are taught to conserve language when on duty.

Looking at the incident one way there's provocation for an incipient brainstorm. But the man did not cuss and roar, abuse telephone girls in general and think unpleasant things of Alexander Graham Bell. Instead he thought how ridiculous it all was—getting up to excuse the phone for waking him. So he went back to bed with a quiet chuckle, slept well, and got up next morning feeling much better than had he permitted himself to fly to pieces.

Blessed is the man who has mastered the simple art of keeping sweet, who can deal with the little irritations of life in good humor. The joy of living is his.

Beat Pebbles a Mile.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Demosthenes was about to go down to the seashore and perform his customary stunt of talking with his mouth full of pebbles to improve his enunciation. On the way an idea assailed him.

"What's the use of fussing with a lot of bilgy pebbles," he growled, "when I can get the same effect out of the Galician battlefields?" And he said Suzlysmzehrgl six times in rapid succession.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Glad They Have Him.

Winona Independent: The good will of all the people of the United States is with President Wilson in the midst of the serious difficulties that beset the path of the administration because of the warring nations across the Atlantic, difficulties that have confronted no other president in such volume and variety. The nation is glad today that it is represented in the White House by one whose vision is so keen and so broad.

So Sad.

Belgrade Tribune: In Pittsburg, the hotbed of protectionism, President Farrell of the United States Steel corporation told an audience of business men that the United States is on the eve of a great era of prosperity. This will be a sad blow to the chronic calamity howlers.

Still Another Story.

Mankato Free Press: This is economy with a vengeance! Measuring the legislature's work up to date by the bills that have reached final passage, it has cost the state about $5,000 for each measure placed on the statute books. How much will it cost litigants to find out whether the laws enacted are constitutional?

Bound to Get Ahead.

Slayton Herald: Why is it that one town grows and prospers, year after year, while but a few miles away another town, just as well located and with just as great natural advantages simply stagnates, year in and year out? It is because in the first town there is civic pride, its people work together in harmony, have ambition and seek the best interests of all. Its business men are alert, keep the best of stocks, advertise generously and judiciously and can always be relied upon to help any wise plan to advance the welfare of the place. A city blest with such men is bound to get ahead.

Extending the Olive Branch.

Virginia Enterprise: Carlos Avery, the new executive agent of the state game and fish commission, is out getting acquainted with the people of the northern section of the state and no doubt he will visit the ranges soon. The ranges had a pretty well-defined grudge with the former executive agent. They do not want one with the new. Mr. Avery has the reputation of being a man of fine ability and is said to be genuinely interested in the conservation of Minnesota's game and fish. He says he wants to co-operate with the sportsmen of the state, which is a good introduction. The ranges will welcome Mr. Avery at any time. They have lots of things to tell him. They want to be his friend and help him make the state game and fish commission something of real worth to the state.

Too Much Worse.

Aurora News: State-wide prohibition was decisively killed in the state senate. That's right. We have the county option law now and it is proper that it be given a trial first. It will be time enough to consider prohibition after it has been tried a year or so by counties. Too much reform is worse than no reform at all.

Sticks on the Job.

Mahnomen Pioneer: Governor Hammond has been in office nearly three months and has not been out of the state to make a speech once in all that time. The way he sticks on the job is calling forth considerable admiration and praise.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

The deep undertone of this world is sadness; a solemn bass occurring at measured intervals, and heard through all other tones Ultimately, all the strains of this world's music resolve themselves into that tone; and I believe that, rightly felt, the Cross, and the Cross alone, interprets the mournful mystery of life—the sorrow of the Highest, the Lord of life—the result of error and sin, but ultimately remedial, purifying and exalting.

The life of Christ and His death, after all, are the only true solution of the mystery of human life; to that, after all, all the discords of this world's wild music must be attuned at last.

The deep, deep conviction has never failed me in the darkest moods, that Christ had the key to the mysteries of life, and that they are not insoluble; also, that the Spirit of the Cross is the condition which will put any one in possession of the same key. —"From W. of W."

Observe, it is specially the humble, womanlike, passive side of endurance, the courage of patience, that is the peculiarity of the Cross.

Plunge into life's duties, young man. Don't be always preparing for them and never getting at them.—Plunge in.

A revelation of Christ by the Spirit to our souls must precede our being filled by Christ with the Spirit.—D. W. Whittle.

Odd Weapon in the War.

London Tit-Bits: The Sikhs fighting in the war can certainly claim to possess a unique form of weapon. This is a hand-thrown missile, composed of metal similar in shape to the discus with which we have been made familiar in Roman history. Its edge is sharpened like a razor, and the weapon, when thrown with a peculiar circular motion, has extraordinary penetrating power. It cuts like a knife through paper when it strikes any object in its path.

At a distance of 100 yards the disc is capable of cutting its way through a piece of hard wood two inches thick.

It is the peculiar twist given to the weapon when it is thrown which causes the cutting edge to bury itself so remorselessly in anything that it meets. It is doubtful whether any but the Sikhs could effectively use this weapon. They made deadly use of the disc of death at the battle of Dixmude.

Blackberries.

Out of the sunny field they passed
And sought the leafy shade;
A farmer's boy with laughing lips,
A barefoot village maid.

Her lips were blue with blackberries,
Her fingertips were red;
And "What shall take the stain away
This day at all?" she said.

He's pulled the rose from out his coat,
And it was fully blown;
He's heard the song the linnet sang,
And they were all alone.

It was a white rose took the stain
From her dainty fingertips;
But, O, it was a redder flower
Grew purple at her lips.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald has received several communications regarding the candidates for city commissioner. No letters either for or against the candidates will be published in the Open Court.

MILLING CENTERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Which is the largest flour milling center, Minneapolis or Winnipeg? State the output for last year.

With the rotation of crops, is it necessary to add manure to the soil? Yours truly, N. R.

Ely, Minn., March 26.

Minneapolis by a very large margin. The output of Minneapolis in 1914 was 17,769,000 barrels. The daily capacity of Minneapolis mills is 80,460 barrels, while that of the entire Dominion of Canada, with its 563 mills, is only 111,863 barrels.

The question of soil treatment is too big to answer here. Write to the state agricultural school at St. Paul or to the department of agriculture at Washington for some bulletins on the subject. Money spent on fertilizer by a farmer is seldom wasted.—The Editor.

PRESIDENT'S VETO.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Would you kindly inform me through your Open Court column whether or not congress can pass a law over the president's veto. Thanking you in advance, I am, respectfully yours,

A READER.

Yes.—The Editor.

VALUE OF THRIFT.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Kindly allow me to express my opinion in the Open Court on the condition of the unemployed of our city, of which condition I fully learned by reading The Herald of March 25. I believe this condition is largely of their own making. When they are employed they spend their earnings in many ways not commendable to any man who wants to do right. I was in the southern part of the state last week. While there I learned from many sources that farmers are looking for men and paying $35 to $40 per month; also that 1914 was a year of hardship all for the need of help to plant and harvest the crops. While such conditions prevail in one part of the state it seems very inconsistent to have a charity shop in any other part of the same state. There is not a man in Duluth today but could get themselves in the same condition that those men are in if they wished to do so.

I have lived in this city for twenty-eight years and must say year by year there have been greater efforts made to care for such conditions, and all to the detriment of the thrifty, industrious taxpayer. Why ask why taxes are high? I say it is wasted sympathy. Better extend it to the widows and orphans. We have some very fine women urging the spending of money with a free hand on the unemployed, regardless of what brought them to want. They mean well, but they have never employed men, so they are unable to know. But it might be well to investigate. Men without trades flock to the city to be near the gay and glittering high life. "Have a good time while we live, for we will be a long time dead." They should remember they are a long time living in some cases. We should not encourage such conditions as prevail in this city at present. They should learn to be thrifty and not spendthrifts. Very respectfully, J. D. MOLITOR, 508 West Seventh street.

A SCHOOL PROBLEM.

To the Editor of The Herald:
It has became the custom in the public school at this place to have a show with two or more grades of the school children at the local opera house about once a month.

For those occasions the children practice during school hours and at the show they appear in extra costumes which the parents have to furnish according to instructions from the teachers.

These shows are held in two parts—one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The show in the evening is wound up with a public dance in which all present are invited to take part if they prefer to do so.

At each show admission is charged. For what purpose the money is used the parents and the public are not informed.

For parents of small means and with a large family the furnishing of extra wearing apparel for each show is quite an item, besides the extra work it makes for the busy mother.

The children have been told in the school that they must take part in the show or they might as well quit school as this comprises nearly half of their school work.

A. Have the teachers legal right to demand that the children practice for, and take part in each school show?

B. If a child is reproached by its teacher for not taking part in the show what should the parents do?

A PROTESTING FATHER.

Tower, Minn., March 29.

The Editor is not familiar with the conditions mentioned, but has little doubt but that the correspondent could easily adjust matters by a quiet talk with the principal or the superintendent. Try approaching the superintendent in a friendly spirit and explain to him your position. Tell him that it is a financial drain you cannot stand and that you object to it in principle, and the Editor has little doubt but that he will meet you more than half way. Parents cannot be compelled by the school authorities to furnish costumes to their children for these shows.—The Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"The Pretty Maumie," from Miss Ruth Howe of Upson, Wis.

Requests have been received for the following: "The Sunny Tennessee" and "The Old Oak Tree," from Miss Ruth Howe of Upson, Wis. "Shall You, Shall I?" "The Old Fashioned Photograph of Mother So Dear," "Little Bare Feet," and "We Will Meet at Home in the Morning," from A Subscriber, who doesn't sign his name and complains that a former request has been ignored. Perhaps it was because he didn't sign his name on the former occasion, for unsigned letters are ignored, an exception to the rule being made in this case.

Of Special Interest to Housekeepers

This is the first of a series of practical talks that will appear in this space every week. It will pay you to read them carefully. They will contain nothing that is not absolutely true, and will prove helpful to the housekeeper in the selection or use of a common, everyday food necessity.

No article used in such small quantities occupies a more important place in household economy than baking powder. On it depends not only the successful preparation but the healthfulness of the food.

Therefore, the character and quality of the baking powder she should use is one of the most important questions which confronts the housewife, and to help her solve it in a satisfactory manner is the purpose of these little articles.

STEAMER STRIKES SUBMERGED ROCK

Three Hundred Taken Off Safely From Boat in Frisco Bay.

San Francisco, March 30.—With 300 passengers on board, mostly women and children, including 45 orphans, the General Frisbie, a small bay steamer, struck a submerged rock 100 yards off the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds last night and began to sink. Life boats from United States warships anchored nearby promptly took of all hands and brought them ashore. All, it was said, had been accounted for.

The orphans on the General Frisbie were part of a county delegation to the exposition. The orphans were from a home at Vellejo.

At 9 o'clock last night all returned to the steamer for the homeward trip.

The General Frisbie, after leaving the dock, cruised along close to the shore to give the party a final view of the exposition. Just in front of the Idaho state pavilion, she jammed her nose into the rock.

There was a resulting crash of timbers that could be heard plainly by the crowds on the Marina, the exposition's water front promenade. Cries of the passengers mingled with the prolonged distress whistle of the craft.

Panic prevailed on the steamer. The impact threw many passengers from their seats. Many rushed about wildly, especially the children and it was with difficulty that the ship's officers managed to calm them.

Boats from the warships nearby immediately were launched and with little trouble all passengers were taken off the Frisbie and rowed ashore.

The vessel, listing heavily, is supported by the rock and probably will be saved.

JITNEY JOKES ARE SPROUTING

Fords and jitneys are just about breaking even among the jokesmiths of the hour. This is probably due to the fact that Fords are most popular among the jitneyists, and they are often one and the same thing.

Owners of Fords in Duluth are urged to tag their popular little cars something like this: "Not a jitney; no passengers carried." This would have saved a well-known Duluth man some embarrassment Saturday night.

He had been doing some shopping in his Ford, and before going home, stepped into a Superior street meat market, leaving his car by the curb. When he came out he got the hunch for tagging his car.

Several pedestrians, tired of street cars, had decided to enjoy a jitney ride, and his car was crowded. He has bought several cigars since, but the joke won't die down.

BONDING BIDS START CLASH

American Fidelity Company Given Contract After Heated Argument.

Six Other Companies Put in Identical Bids; Turned Down.

With charges of underground tactics on one side and of unreliability on the other, city commissioners were entertained at the regular council session yesterday afternoon by a spirited controversy between representatives competing for the contract of bonding city officials to the extent of $38,000.

The American Fidelity company, represented in Duluth by C. H. Gordon, was awarded the contract on its bid of $885, which was considerably lower than the other six bids, tied at $1,045.25. The losing bidders belong to a surety conference, and their bids were identical.

Under the city charter two city commissioners are bonded for $25,000 for a four-year period; the city engineer is given a four-year $10,000 bond and the clerk of municipal court is given a $3,000 four-year bond.

P. E. McCormack, E. B. Dunning and Lane MacGregor, acting as spokesmen for the conference, declared that the American Fidelity company was "unsound financially," and that it was "paying too much in losses and expenses to make it worthy to assume large risks." They asked the council to overlook the $160.25 extra premium and "save many times that amount in avoiding lawsuits and claims."

Terming the statements of his opponents "foolish" and "positively childish," Neil E. Beaton, attorney for C. H. Gordon, asked the councilmen if they contemplated sacrificing $160 on such "flimsy evidence." He stated that the company was perfectly competent, or it would not have been licensed to do business in the state of Minnesota.

There was no opposition to the resolution awarding the contract to the low bidder, when the question was finally put to the council. An ordinance appropriating $800 covering the premium payments on the bonds was passed by the council and a requisition for the additional $85 will be made to fill up the required amount.

In addition to the American Fidelity company, the agents for the other six companies bidding were: Pulford, How & Co.; Dunning & Dunning; Manley, McLennan agency; Insurace Service agency; Lane MacGregor & Co., and P. E. McCormack.

NOT SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

North Dakota Woman, Shot By Man, Will Recover.

Lakota, N. D., March 30.—Mrs. Bernhard Wessels, who was shot by Michael Ulrick, Friday evening, will recover from her injuries, the bullet only grazing her head, according to physicians in charge of the case.

Mrs. Wessels was shot by Ulrick while she was driving along a highway near her home, on the boundary line between Ramsey and Nelson counties.

No decision has yet been reached in connection with the prosecution of the case, as it has been impossible to determine just where the crime occurred. Ulrick, however, is in the custody of the Ramsey officials, and they probably will handle the prosecution.

PASSOVER IS OBSERVED

Daily Services and Family Reunions Feature Great Jewish Festival.

Eat Unleavened Bread for Seven Days—Many Home Reunions.

Approximately 4,000 years ago Moses led the Jews forth from Egypt, and, in commemoration of this famous historical event, Duluth Jews last night began the observance of Pesach, or Passover, which will continue for seven days.

At Temple Emanuel, Seventh avenue east and Second street, Dr. Maurice Lefkovits conducted a public Seder for the members of the congregation, and special Passover services were held at the Adas Israel synagogue during the evening. Similar services were held this morning, and these will be repeated tonight and tomorow morning.

Passover, or Pesach, is the first event in the Jewish national history, and the stand taken by Moses and his followers against the oppression of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, is often called by historians as the first declaration of independence in the history of the world. It is this flight from Egypt and the subsequent wandering through the deserts for forty years that the Jews commemorate every year, this being 5,675 in the Jewish calendar.

During this entire week the Jew eats unleavened bread, or matzos, commemorative of the bread baked by the women of Israel on the night of their hurried departure from Egypt, when the dough was not given time in which to rise. In many orthodox homes separate sets of dishes are being used this week, because of the difference in food eaten.

Home Reunions.

Passover was ushered in last night by the special services in the synagogues and with the seder in each home. This feast is the most important of the year and is also the occasion for home reunions and gatherings. At the seder the father or head of the house reads the Haggadah, which tells the tale of the suffering Moses and his followers endured in Egypt, their flight from the kingdom of Pharaoh and the later wanderings in the deserts. It is during this reading that many symbolic ceremonials are introduced. During the evening four cups of wine are drunk by every member at the table, with the exception of the children, in memory of the four promises made by the Eternal to redeem Israel from bondage.

On the table are the unleavened cakes, (matzos), the shin bone of a lamb (roasted on the coals), commemorative of the Paschal sacrifice; a roasted egg, a mixture of apples and nuts, (Charoseth), to symbolize the mortar with which "the Egyptians made bitter the lives" of the fathers, and bitter herbs, (Maror), reminiscent of the unhappy days in Egypt.

In song and story, the tale of the oppression and the deliverance is rehearsed. Psalms of thanksgiving, (Hallel), strike the keynote of the happy occasion. The services, interrupted for the family dinner, close with a number of merry folk songs, expressive of the character of the occasion.

TEN INSTALLMENTS FOR GAS PAYMENTS

Lakeside and West Duluth Will Be Greatly Benefited.

Ten annual installments for the payment of gas connections can now be allowed by the water and light department, and several hundred families in West Duluth and Lakeside are expected to take advantage of this new ruling adopted at the council meeting yesterday afternoon.

The resolution adopted by the commissioners gives the water and light department the power to install gas connections in a home, the owner having the option of paying for the improvement within a period of ten years. An extra charge of 25 cents a month is to be made to cover rentals and maintenance of the service, until the principal is paid.

The resolution adopted yesterday follows: "Resolved, That the commissioner of public utilities be and is hereby authorized to make arrangements for the extension of credit to gas consumers covering the installation of gas service for a period such as may be approved by him or arranged with the consumer, not exceeding ten years, and covering sums not exceeding $50 in amount, for each service. Payments to be made by the consumer or the owner of the premises to be not less than 25 cents per month, to cover rentals and maintenance of the service until the principal is paid."

In addition Commissioner Merritt introduced an amendment to the present charter rulings, giving the water and light department the authority to cut off service from homes, whose owners do not pay the installments and current charges on gas connections put in under this new plan. The amended ordinance will be given two more readings, before it will be passed.

To Nature Lovers

During the months of April and May we have many fine, warm days in Duluth, and there is no more interesting time in all the year to be in the woods.

The birds are returning and the wild flowers are blooming during these months.

Pussy willows are the first to bud, and they are already to be found. Later will come the trailing arbutus.

Ground pine already gives a touch of green to the woods.

Other spring wild flowers to be found in the woods near Duluth are the violets, the hepatica and the adder tongue. Later will come the daisies.

It is easy to reach Nature at her best from almost any car line in Duluth. The Grand avenue line will take you within walking distance of the West Duluth hillside adjoining Fairmont park, or to the Proctor hill. The incline car will take you to Duluth Heights, near which suburb are many stretches of beautiful woods.

The East Ninth street line will drop you almost at the boulevard and the Chester park ravine above the boulevard offers a most attractive walk.

From the East Fourth street line the same district may be reached.

The Woodland line, perhaps, offers the most possibilities of all. A short walk in any direction from the end of the Woodland line will bring you to country roads and paths through the woods, where wild flowers may be found.

The Lester Park line leads to the big district back of Lester park and along both branches of the stream.

Some trailing arbutus is still to be found on Park Point, to be reached by the Aerial Bridge cars.

In fact, you may board any car, with the possible exception of the West Fourth, ride to the end of the line, and a charming country walk is within easy reach.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY

Business Situation Is Regarded as Fairly Satisfactory.

Pronounced Scarcity of Workmen in the Vicinity of Essen.

Berlin, March 30, via London.—The business situation in Germany is regarded as fairly satisfactory and considerably better than might have been expected in view of the war. All industries, of course, are running on a restricted scale, chiefly because of the virtual cessation of overseas exports, but as a large proportion of the skilled workmen went into the army the sharp curtailment in production was not attended by a corresponding increase in unemployment.

More women and girls are seeking work in some branches of industry than can find employment but this is far from being the case with the men. On the contrary the leading industries of the country are seriously embarrassed by the scarcity of skilled workmen. This is true of the coal and iron trade, shipbuilding and certain sections of the chemical industry.

Workmen Scarce.

A pronounced scarcity of workmen is reported from the great industrial district about Essen. The demand for coal is greater than the mines can meet although its export has been prohibited. Last month conditions in the iron trade were reflected by an advance in prices. The production of pig iron, running about 55 per cent of last year would be still larger if the necessary labor could be obtained. Many branches of machinery manufacture, an important branch of German industrial activity, are working full time or overtime but here also a scarcity of workmen is felt.

Locomotive car shops are busy while ship yards evidently are working on big government orders. Two companies have stated in their annual reports that they have work on hand to last until 1916, and complain of a lack of help.

Export of Potash Forbidden.

The export of potash was forbidden two months ago because of the belief that exports to neutral countries were being used to manufacture explosives for France and England. The prohibition resulted in a sharp contraction in this trade especially with the United States. Mine owners are seeking government permission to increase the price to compensate them for their loss.

Textile factories engaged in turning out the cheaper lines of goods are hampered by a shortage of raw material. The import of wool has virtually ceased and woolen rags are in great demand for the making of shoddy.

Some mills have taken to spinning shoddy yarns.

Inadequate receipts of American cotton have raised the prices of cotton yarns and cloth. Weavers are trying to place long contracts for years, believing prices will go higher.

The silk trade is doing fairly well, good-sized American orders resulting in higher raw silk prices. The linen trade is hampered by a lack of flax which comes from Russia. Bavarian peasants are planning to devote considerable land to this hitherto neglected crop.

Retail Trade.

The retail trade is active only in articles of necessity as luxuries have been very largely dispensed with. Dressmakers are less pressed with spring orders than is usual. Cigars and chocolates are in good demand, as they are extensively used for gifts to soldiers at the front. Some book music publishers report that their sales are good.

Farmers are among the busiest people in the empire for the task of replenishing the food supply devolves upon them and they will have to accomplish it with a diminished number of laborers. Conditions have been materially alleviated by the transfer of city industrial workers to the country. It is reported that the usual acreage of grain will be planted and preparations are being made on a large scale for spring and summer work.

concerns, its proper field, as so restricted it is held valid.

Two Names Applied.

Two names have been applied to the commodity in question, glucose and corn syrup. There has been much controversy over the point of proper labeling in the department of agriculture and in Wisconsin and Michigan. A Wisconsin law of 1907 provided that glucose labels must read "glucose flavored with sugar syrup," and must be no other label. The company instead labeled its goods as composed of corn syrup and refiners' syrup, in accordance with the Federal food and drugs act. The state law therefore required the removal of such labels. In McDermott vs. State of Wisconsin in the United States supreme court held this was an interference with the federal law making labels within the meaning of the act evidence of branding or misbranding, and making a true label complete protection to the dealer from seizure of his goods or criminal process against him.

The Wisconsin legislature thereupon passed the act of 1913 to compel the use of a glucose label in connection with the corn syrup label. The company then changed its label to read "corn syrup 85 per cent, refiners' syrup 15 per cent." The validity of this law was attacked by the company on three grounds: As a regulation of interstate commerce; as an unreasonable and oppressive exercise of police power; as depriving the company of its property without due process of law.

Ailments of Men Happily Overcome

SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Undoubtedly the following suggestion will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring in "nervous exhaustion," weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

By taking it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's shortcomings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, let it be stated that the prescription calls only for three-grain Cadomene tablets, in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration. The tablets contain no opiates or habit-forming drugs, so a physician's prescription is not necessary. Well stocked pharmacies supply these tablets which possess the most wonderful tonic—invigorating powers imaginable. The effect of their use is soon apparent in new strength and nerve force.—Advertisement.

GRADUATES OF NEW DEPARTMENT OF CROOKSTON FARM SCHOOL

NORMAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT CLASS.

Crookston, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The normal training, a new department at the state agricultural school here, is attracting attention. It had eleven students enrolled during the past year. These students are high school graduates and agricultural school graduates who wish to prepare themselves especially for teaching work. Nels Engen, who graduates this year will take a principalship of a consolidated school the coming year. Several others will secure work along the same lines, the girls being prepared to introduce domestic science into their schools.

NO EVIDENCE ON PART OF GERMAN CRUISER TO SAIL

reason for the presence of the Alabama is to see to it that British merchant ships which leave almost daily do not carry fuel to the allied warships off the capes. Scores of men at the docks declare that British merchant ships after taking cargo and coaling their bunkers have taken on deck loads of coal such as would not be needed for an overseas voyage. Marine men also insist that the allied warships frequently have been within the three-mile limit at night and that one of the ships ventured within the capes last week.

Will Probably Intern.

The German raider in all probability will be interned, although those who have talked with her officers say they are ready to brave the dangers of a dash for liberty. Commander Thierichens, it is insisted here, had hoped to have his ship taken to New York within the three-mile limit before time for internment arrived. Marine authorities, however, informed him it would be impossible to get his ship around the capes within the three-mile limit and that it also would be necessary to go beyond the three-mile limit off the New Jersey coast. For those reasons the plan of the German commander apparently has been abandoned.

Officials Mum.

Customs officials continued to refuse to discuss the mysterious status of the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

No one without official authority was permitted to approach the Eitel's pier. All night long a sentinel stood guard at the pier entrance and was relieved by another at sunrise. There were few signs of activity on the German raider, and smoke was coming from only one of her funnels.

Cannot Reach New York.

Washington, March 30.—President Wilson has been informed that there is no chance of the Prinz Eitel going to New York inside the three-mile limit. The president told callers today he had received apparently authentic word that it would be impossible because of the draft of the vessel.

The president indicated that he was not alarmed about possible complications.

shooting puzzled the police. Cohen was well liked by his grandmother. He is said to have been a keen, hard-working business man who was making a success of his career and had never shown insane tendencies. His mother talked with him thirty minutes before the shooting and he says he was then apparently in good health and seemingly sound mentally. The father says Henry used the revolver he carried constantly for self-protection.

Charles Cohen, the father, is president of the Chamber of Commerce and is a paper manufacturer in this city. His family is an old one and for many years he has been a prominent figure in the business, civic and social life of Philadelphia. He has two children besides Henry. They are Lieutenant Albert M. BATTLES IN NORTHERN POLAND RESULT IN GERMAN VICTORIES the allied troops conveyed to Smyrna on transports.

A concentration of Italian troops along the Austrian frontier is said in Geneva to have been begun.

The Russian government announced that the German offensive in northern Poland has failed. The German bombardment of Ossowetz is said by the Russian war office to have been virtually abandoned.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 30, via London, 3:10 p. m.—The war office gave out the following statement today:

"A telegram from main headquarters, dated March 30, states that in the western theater of war there were only artillery combats and artillery operations.

"In the fighting which led to the occupation of Tauroggen (Russia, near the Prussian border), the East Prussian landsturm, according to a report from Prince Joachim of Prussia, especially distinguished itself, taking 1,000 prisoners.

"Near Karsnopol the Russians suffered severe losses. Some 2,000 were killed. Our Booty in this fighting until yesterday evening was 3,000 prisoners, seven machine guns, one cannon and several ammunition cars.

"On the Skwa, near Klimki, after a Russian attack failed we captured two Russian officers and 600 men. Near Olcyny, on the left bank of the Omulew, two Russian night attacks were repulsed. Russian attempts to cross the lower Bzura failed."

French Statement.

Paris, March 30, via London, 2 p. m. —The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the fighting which reads:

"In the Champagne district a German aviator threw bombs down on the city of Reims and wounded two persons. One projectile fell on the apse of the cathedral.

"A well directed artillery fire from a French battery forced the Germans to retire in disorder from the village of Ludicourt, to the northeast of St. Mihiel.

"At all other points in the war zone the day passed quietly; no infantry engagements took place."

Russian Statement.

Petrograd, via London, March 30.—A review of the German offensive movement in the Niemen district to which it is said great importance was attached, is contained in an official statement by the war office last night. The communication follows:

"From official documents which we have captured, it seems that the Germans attached enormous importance to their offensive movement in the trans-Niemen district, which failed on the 27th. The principal task was assigned to the Thirty-first division, supported by three reserve regiments with a large body of cavalry. These troops advanced from Kalwarya, on Krauss, with orders to push forward at all costs to Lozdiezeje and to cut off Russian forces which are engaging a German army west of that point.

"During an engagement in which we took German trenches on the 27th, near Vankh, in the direction of Sotrolenki, Capt. Suwaroff leaped into an enemy trench and captured a machine gun, the fire of which he turned against a German reserve.

"The Germans, in the execution of this plan, made prodigious efforts and even attempted to envelop us on the ice off Lake Dusjan, on our right wing, which was operating north of Lozdiezeje. Moving over the ice of Lake Dusjan the Germans also attempted to turn our position in the passage between here and Lozdiezeje. Near Metelica we developed counter attacks against German troops which had penetrated our rear and annihilated them completely.

"During the last two days, on the left bank of the Vistula, the Germans have been very economical in their artillery fire. It would appear that the German forces in that region have been considerably weakened."

passed the resolution by Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker asking congress to revise the 30-year-old rules governing the reservoirs on the Upper Mississippi so that they will help the development of that region instead of hindering and be a benefit and not a handicap. Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin has a similar resolution before the house.

Tuberculosis Advisory Board.

The house ran over the noon hour in a debate over whether it should pass the Christianson bill abolishing the advisory board and putting tuberculosis sanatoriums under the state board of health. Introduced yesterday, the bill came back from the appropriations committee this morning with the recommendation that it pass immediately under suspension of the rules.

Representative Christianson, author of the bill, said health work should be under one body instead of two, as that means both efficiency and economy. The overhead costs of the sanatorium work is $48,000, and most of this could be saved by the change. "Moreover," he said, "the head of the advisory board has a private tuberculosis sanatorium, and while I make no charges, clearly that situation is wrong." However, he sent up to be read a letter charging that a girl from Polk county, who came to St. Paul to get state aid, was sent to the private sanatorium conducted by the chairman of the advisory board.

Representative McGrath of St. Paul said that a bill like this shouldn't be railroaded. "It was sent to the appropriations committee," he said, "though it carries no appropriation, and now it is proposed to pass it before it has even been printed."

Representative C. L. Stevens of Warren said that the board of health had been "trying to get its paws on this tuberculosis work ever since it was inaugurated."

The house made a number of pending educational bills a special order for Tuesday.

To Amend Abatement Law.

The house committee on general legislation recommended for passage the Moeller bill amending the abatement law so as to protect owners of buildings attacked under the law.

The house has received 1,168 bills and the senate 893, or 2,061 in all—about the usual number.

Senator Carley introduced in the senate a joint resolution like that introduced in the house by Representatives Kneeland and Pratt, providing for an interim commission on efficiency and economy consisting of five house members, three senators and three appointed by the governor.

The senate passed, 35 to 27, the Denegre bill requiring law school graduates, including those from the university, to pass bar examinations before being admitted to practice.

The senate this afternoon was to take up as a special order the bill by the house committee on roads and bridges amending the R. C. Dunn road law. The principal change is that taking away the authority of the state highway commission over county road work.

ANARCHIST'S TRIAL BEGINS IN NEW YORK

Italian Detective Tells of His Connection With Bomb-Throwing.

New York, March 30.—The state opened its case today against Frank Abarno and Carmine Carbone, charged with making a bomb and placing it in St. Patrick's cathedral March 2, by calling to the witness stand Amedeo Polignani, the young Italian detective, who uncovered the alleged plot.

Polignani, posing as an anarchist, obtained the confidence of the prisoners and for months associated with them. It was during this period that the alleged plot to wreck the cathedral was hatched and the bomb made.

Polignani, while familiar with the prisoners' plans, kept police headquarters here advised of them.

The detective testified that he was assigned to clean the headquarters of the Bresci group of anarchists. At this place he met Carbone, who introduced the witness to Abarno. Abarno was quoted as having told the witness that the bomb which killed several anarchists in Lexington avenue, exploded prematurely because the binding was too tight.

It was decided Jan. 17 to place bombs in St. Patrick's cathedral. Carbone told the detective, the latter testified, that he (Carbone) would make the bombs if Polignani would buy the ingredients. Carbone wrote down the names of two of the ingredients Polignani was to buy and instructed the detective to buy them at different stores. The memorandum was taken to police headquarters and photographed.

Polignani succeeded in buying one of the ingredients which he took to Carbone. He was then sent to Abarno's house to get a book on bomb-making.

NEW PRESIDENT IS SELECTED FOR MEXICO

San Antonio, Tex., March 30.—Gen. Felipe Angeles has been decided upon for provisional president by the Villa and Zapata factions, says a dispatch received here from Mexico City. The election of Angeles will take place, according to the message, at a convention to be held in Mexico City within ten days.

The date of the convention will be held open, it is said, to await advices from Gen. Villa, who asked that it be delayed for a few days until he can "clear the eastern border of obstructions and have time to consider peaceful matters of importance."

MAY TAKE COMMAND FROM GEN. VON KLUCK

London, March 30.—Gen. von Kluck, the German commander, who led the advance into France, according to travelers from Berlin, was wounded while recklessly inspecting trenches at the most dangerous point on the line, after a stormy interview with Emperor William, says an Amsterdam dispatch to the Express. It is learned from the same source that the opinion is expressed in Berlin that as the result of the incident the emperor will entrust the command of Von Kluck's army to Prince Eitel Friedrich.

GIVES SIDE OF SHIPPERS

Chairman Thorne of Iowa R. R. Commission Presents Argument.

Says Increase in Rates Is Not Justified in Any Way.

Chicago, March 30.—Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa railroad commission, in behalf of the protesting shippers in the Western railroad freight rate hearing, outlined before Interstate Commerce Commissioner W. M. Daniels today the opposition of the shippers to the freight rate increases proposed by forty-one Western railroad systems.

The railroads are seeking to have present rates increased on certain commodities, which, they assert, at present do not yield them a fair profit. The total increases, if granted, according to the railroads, would increase their revenue $10,000,000 a year.

The railroads have been presenting their side of the case since March 4. Mr. Thorne's statement at the hearing today was the beginning of the shippers' case. He said:

"During the past four weeks this commission has heard the testimony offered by the officials of Western railroads in favor of an increase in their transportation charges, aggregating millions of dollars annually.

The Shippers' Side.

"We will now present to you the evidence on behalf of the producers, shippers and consumers of this Western part of the nation.

"Our object is not to make a general onslaught upon the credit of these Western railroads. The result of our efforts will be rather to help establish the soundness and strength of their credit.

"As indicating conditions in the territory involved, only the testimony of the presidents of the Chicago Great Western railroad, the Missouri Pacific railway and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway was introduced. Nothing further need be said. This commission and the public knows whether they represented typical lines or weaklings. This procedure is in marked contrast to that pursued by the Eastern railroads, where the chief executives of the representative lines testified.

"We will show you that three-fourths of the traffic in this territory is being handled by companies that are earning, above all operating expenses, all taxes and all interest on bonds and debt, from 6 to 16 per cent on all their capital stock outstanding in the hands of the public.

Interests of the Public.

"Heretofore the railroads have been far better equipped than the shippers in cases involving rates; but in the present case the commissions of sixteen Western states, in compliance with state laws, have secured the services of an eminent corps of expert accountants and statisticians, and are looking after the interests of the public.

"Joined with the commissions are the representatives of upwards of 300,000 manufacturers, merchants, grain dealers, livestock dealers and other producers and consumers, scattered throughout the territory.

"Never before has there been such an extensive organization on behalf of the public in any case.

"In the gathering of this material, every courtesy possible has been extended to us by all the railway companies, with only one exception.

"We will demonstrate to you some mistakes in the figures offered by the railroads. We do not call them misrepresentations, for all of us are liable to err at times. Some of these errors are small and of little importance; while others are basic and fundamental.

Cold Blooded Proposition.

"It is not necessary for us to parade glaring, sensational incidents of high finance or questionable acts. It is a cold blooded business proposition. The famous Gould printing press scandal, where they made Erie stock over night, an incident that will probably be famous for all time, only involving some $23,000,000.

"The present movement for increased freight and passenger rates involves several times that sum of money, not just at one time, but every year, now and in the future, for this and future generations to pay.

"The impression has been given that railroads have not been able to maintain their properties during recent years, that they have been compelled to retrench so severely that the public has been injured, as well as the railroad properties. This is true as to some railroads, but we will show you it is absolutely untrue as to Western railroads as a whole. As in all business, there are temporary periods of depression when the railroads as a whole, including both the strong and the weak lines, are compelled to retrench in their expenses for a time. It will be conclusively proved to you that these Western carriers expended in 1914 in maintaining their properties $2,800 per mile of line, which was greater than in any other year in their history.

More for Maintenance.

"It will be proved that the railroads in Western territory as a whole have actually expended in maintaining their properties during the last five years an average of $50,000,000 a year more than for any preceding five-year period since the first railroad was built in this territory. Every railroad witness who took the stand admitted on cross-examination that they were maintaining their properties at a higher standard during recent years than ever before.

"It will be shown to you that the decline in the percentage of operating income on property investment, upon which the carriers are relying so strongly, results from a change in the system of accounting, and not from any operating condition.

"During the year 1914, as all people know, there was a world-wide business depression. In the United States, the grain crops of the preceding fall fell over 900,000,000 bushels.

Large Net Revenues.

"In the exhibits that will be offered, it will be shown that in 1913 the net revenues of the railroads in the Western territory as a whole, above all operating expenses, amounted to $420,000,000, being the largest with only one exception—1910—since the first track was laid west of the Mississippi.

"The average net revenues of these railroads, during the past five years, averaged $400,000,000 per year. This was greater than during any five-year period prior to 1913 in their whole history. It will be proved that the percentage return of net corporate income on capital stock outstanding in 1913 was more than double what it was sixteen years ago, and five times greater than it was twenty-five years ago.

"On the first day of these hearings we announced that we expected to prove these railroads have been building many additions and betterments, which they were charging to operating expenses. In other words, after paying a return on their investment, we have been building their properties for them, and then are required to pay a return not only on their investment, but also on our investment, on what we build for them. This is fundamentally unsound and unjust.

Paid Out of Operative Revenue.

"President Felton of the Great Western frankly admitted, on direct evidence that practically one-half the cost of additions and betterments could be charged to operating expenses, and that very large sums were so charged during the past four years. President Bush of the Missouri Pacific admitted that large portions of the cost of rebuilding his road during recent years had been paid out of operating revenue, and charged to expenses. Mr. Wettling, a witness for all of the railroads, made a similar admission, but was unable to state how much of that had been so charged. The magnitude of the sum involved may be grasped, when it is noted that Mr. Wettling's exhibit shows that over $700,000,000 have been expended in additions and betterments by these Western railroads during the past seven years. It is safe to say that the cost of additions and betterments amounting to several million dollars, has been charged to operating expenses by these Western railroads during recent years. So long as this practice is permitted to continue, it is going to be exceedingly difficult to determine just what are the net earnings of our railroads.

"When prosperity is at its very highest, the railroads can show the lowest net earnings by simply building a larger amount of improvements thereby automatically reducing their net income.

"We are perfectly willing to pay the people these gentlemen represent an adequate return for their investment, such adequate return to include a reasonable surplus for tiding them over lean years, but we are absolutely unwilling to build their properties for them and then pay a return on what we build."

MUST BUILD BIG TUNNEL

Drainage of Red Lake Into Mississippi River Not Feasible.

Government Engineer Tells Grand Forks Job Is Too Gigantic.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drainage of the waters of Red lake, Minn., into the Mississippi river, is possible, but hardly probable, according to Lieut.-Col. C. L. Potter of the United States corps of engineers.

Lieut.-Col. Potter fixes $100,000,000 as the approximate cost of such an undertaking, and to be successfully drained, it would require the construction of a tunnel from the Red lake to the Mississippi river near Brainerd, a distance of about 110 miles.

Grand Forks Interested.

The whole question of draining the Red lake into the Mississippi has been discussed in this section because of reports eminating from the Red lake district to the effect that a new outlet had been opened by which the waters of the lake were being emptied into the Mississippi, instead of into the Red river by way of the Red Lake river. Grand Forks was interested because the Red Lake river provides this city's water supply.

In his letter to the Grand Forks Commercial club, Lieut.-Col. Potter gives some right patent reasons why the scheme isn't feasible, the most important being that the nearest point between the Mississippi river and the Red Lake river is at Bemidji, which is thirty-three miles, and the Mississippi there is 168 feet higher than the Red lake.

CALLS UNDERWOOD TARIFF MISTAKE

Congressman Norton of North Dakota Criticizes Democratic Measure.

Hettinger, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Even under normal commerce conditions, the Underwood tariff act could not and would not be successful, in the opinion of Congressman P. D. Norton, of this district, who has returned to his home here.

"As to the Underwood tariff law," said Congressman Norton, "the least that can be said in all charity concerning this is, that it has been to the country a serious and costly mis-

Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Easily and Cheaply Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a pint of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Pour the 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 54 cents, and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective remedy, at a saving of $2. A day's use will usually overcome a hard cough. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste. Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and easily it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, winter coughs, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FINE PUBLIC LIBRARY AT THIEF RIVER FALLS

take of political economy theorists in congress and in the executive departments of the government. They, of course, meant well enough, but their tariff theories did not, and will not under normal conditions in this country, work out successfully in practice.

Rural Credits Not Dead.

"While Federal rural credits was defeated in this session, through the opposition of administration leaders, this question is going to be one of the big issues in the next congress. I do not believe the forces of opposition in the sixty-fourth congress will be able to prevent the establishment, through Federal legislation, of a rural credits system in this country which will enable our farmers to secure credits at reasonable interest rates."

LIGNITE RATES ARE TO BE CONSIDERED

Gov. Hanna to Call Meeting of Traffic Experts and Shippers.

Bismarck, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—James A. Little, former rate expert of the North Dakota railroad commission, and more recently rate expert for the city of Superior, Wis., has again accepted the North Dakota position, resigning his Wisconsin place.

Mr. Little will come into activity here in connection with the establishment of new coal rates—the state fixed rates having been declared unconstitutional recently. Governor Hanna expects to call a conference of the traffic men, the railroad commission and the shippers, for the purpose of considering the whole lignite coal rate question.

MISSION WORK IS TO BE FEATURED

Chicagoan Among Speakers at Brainerd Sunday School Meeting.

Brainerd, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the state Sunday school convention is held here, April 8 to 11, one of the things to be a feature of the gathering will be missions, especiallyin the work of the Sunday school. The man who will speak on this subject and take a prominent part in the deliberations of the convention will be Dr. W. A. Brown of Chicago, superintendent of Missions of the International Sunday School association, a former foreign missionary. His world's vision of the kingdom of Christ is inspiring to all who hear him. In order that missions may be properly related to the religious educational life of the entire Sunday school, Dr. Brown will be given a place on the program of each section of the "School of Methods."

Adult Bible Class.

The department of Sunday school which appeals directly to men is the Adult Bible class. Pastors and church officers are especially interested in this department. Three million men are enrolled in Sunday school Bible classes in the United States and Canada. W. D. Stem, general secretary of the Iowa Sunday School association, is to be the senior instructor of the adult section of the "School of Methods." He has been a leader in this movement in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Kansas. He has the happy faculty of being able both to build up a man's Bible class as well as to tell others how to do the same.

Miss Mabel Failey, elementary superintendent of the Wisconsin Sunday School association, is to be the speaker for the elementary grades work of this convention. She will be ably assisted by Miss Grace M. Longfellow and Mrs. Jean E. Hobart. These three will make the elementary section of the "School of Methods" particularly strong. The work of the cradle roll, the beginners, the primary and junior departments which minister to the child from birth to the 'teens are of tremendous importance.

Sonnenberg was born 86 years ago in Gruenaldden, Posen province, Germany. He settled in New Orleans sixty-six years ago and married Miss Caroline Denning there fifty-three years ago. Shortly afterward he came to Minnesota. For several years he was in the mercantile business in Stillwater. He came to Minneapolis forty-nine years ago.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Fire.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 30.—A loss of $30,000 resulted from a fire Monday which practically destroyed the Majestic theater building. Insurance to the amount of $25,000 was carried. Water and smoke caused damage to the stocks of adjoining buildings occupied by the Caldwell Music store and a 10-cent store. The heavy walls of the theater prevented the fire spreading to the adjoining buildings.

LITTLE FORKERS TO PROSECUTE ACTION

Propose to Find Out Whether Village as Well as Town Is Dry.

Bemidji, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case being brought against the village of Little Fork wherein several of the citizens of that village are endeavoring to keep the village council from publishing liquor license notices, will be brought for hearing before Judge C. W. Stanton here tomorrow, the case being postponed from Monday morning until that date on account of the illness of Franz Jevne, attorney for the Little Fork citizens.

The action was started by the citizens on account of the town of Jamieson, in which Little Fork is located voting "dry," and although the village in a recent election voted "wet" the "drys" base their action on the grounds that the township election also affects the village, and although the attorney general of Minnesota has ruled that the vote of townships does not control villages the citizens have decided to continue their case.

MARMARTH TO PROTEST.

Slope County, N. D., Town to Object to Amidon Building Courthouse.

Marmarth, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new county of Slope may be involved in a lawsuit because of the announcement from Amidon, the designated county seat, that the commissioners have decided to construct a new courthouse. When Amidon was designated as the county seat there was a general understanding that a ranch house there would be used as a temporary courthouse until the voters had an opportunity to decide the permanent location of the county seat. Several hundred dollars were spent in remodeling the building so it would accommodate the officials and local people thought that would be the end of the matter for two years. Naturally there was considerable surprise here when it was learned that the commissioners were planning a courthouse. An effort will be made to induce them to postpone the matter until the fall of 1916, but if they refuse the courts will be asked to restrain them from the construction of the building at this time. Amidon is centrally located, but it is an inland town, while Marmarth is on the main line of the Milwaukee railroad and more easily accessible.

ROBS HIS EMPLOYER.

Strange Man, Working on Farm Near Bowman, N. D., Being Sought.

Bowman, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Basil W. Morrison, who has been in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McNamara on their farm near here since last fall, during their absence from the farm collected a suit of clothes, a gold watch, a valuable revolver, $8 in cash, a razor and a number of other personal articles and disappeared. He had several hours' start and has not been located. Morrison claimed to have lived in Columbus, Ohio, but was always reticent regarding his previous life and declined to make trips to town, evidently fearing arrest or identification for some former crime.

GREAT NORTHERN TO MAKE TRAIN CHANGES.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Train changes which will be made by the Great Northern on April 25 have been announced.

The most important is the re-establishment of the Red River Valley limited train from St. Paul. Under the new schedule this train will terminate at Minot, instead of Devils Lake. Originally this train ran only as far as Grand Forks.

Under the new schedule, Nos. 29 and 30, will connect at Minot with No. 3, west bound, and with No. 2, east bound.

Train No. 3, the Puget Sound express, will go via the Surrey route, instead of Grand Forks, while train 28, the eastbound fast mail, will continue on the Grand Forks run, as will No. 1, the westbound Oriental limited.

West bound, Grand Forks profits under the change to the extent of a fast service, enabling local shippers to reach the extreme west end of the state the same day. Heretofore this has been impossible.

INDIAN TO BE TRIED ON MURDER CHARGE.

Detroit, Minn., March 30.—Unless the government steps in and demands that the United States courts handle the case, Judge John A. Roeser of St. Cloud will preside here at the trial of Tom Skinaway, an Indian charged with murder on the reservation. It is understood the attorneys for the defense will contend that their client is a Federal ward and that the district attorney will then demand custody of the prisoner.

The second case brought by Otto Brose of Detroit against King & Eichmiller, ditch contractors, for damages resulting from the death of his two daughters by drowning, ended in a verdict for the defendants.

PARK RAPIDS MEN CITED TO FERGUS FALLS

Park Rapids, Minn., March 30.—Indian Agent Brandt came here and served subpoenas on fifteen men to appear before the Federal court at Fergus Falls. These men are charged with having shipped liquor into this town. W. Vanderlip, wanted in Hubbard county, has been arrested at Greenville, Mich., on a charge of embezzlement.

FISHERMEN BUSY ALONG NORTH SHORE.

Grand Marais, Minn., March 30.—The lake ice is all broken up and drifted out at this point, and the local fishermen are preparing for spring fishing. Some of them have already set out some nets.

Asylum Fugitive Suicide.

Le Sueur, Minn., March 30.—William Johnson, 54 years old, who was committed to the state hospital for the insane at St. Peter, Jan. 24, 1913, escaped from the institution Sunday. He was found on a street here, and while held here for the asylum authorities, hanged himself in the jail with a towel.

FAME GILDS THE SPORT PATH OF GREAT ATHLETES

Unknown Mortals Salute Famous Persons By Many Little Acts—Sometimes Wine-Buying—Sullivan Was Swarmed After in the Tortuous Streets of Literary Boston—Fame Played a Satirical Joke in Smiling on Jack Johnson.

BY BRUCE.

FAME is a fickle bird that many men and some of the more adventurous of the dear women have gone gunning for. The gink who penned those well remembered words about it bringing profits back to the home roost when advertising is done in an extensive manner, was thinking about fame in a mild and subdued sort of form.

Now, for instance—speaking of sports—if one of the various champions of the world would come to our little city, he would be surrounded by various sorts of persons, all eagerly anxious to lamp the well known visitor and grasp his hand, should some friend of a friend of the champion pave the way for a meeting.

And if the champion took such a thing as a drink—perish the thought—why the man from our town so fortunate as to meet the champion, would say in a voice that fairly quivered with nonchalance, "Let's have something-er-er, little wine, maybe?"

That's what fame does, Bill.

The poor boob who bought wine for the champion of the world will browse down the main stem and meet several of the boys. Salutations will be traded and then the gink who bought for the champion of the world will counter a conversational lead by suddenly inquiring, "Did you meet ——, ——?" Yes, the world's champion. I had a long talk with him. Got quite pally, Joe. I bought a little wine. He is one fine guy."

Fine. Some time after this, maybe a couple of weeks and perhaps a year, maybe the guy who bought the wine when the champion came to town, happens to be in some other city where the champion is adding dignity to the drama at one of the burly SQ houses.

In an ill advised moment he says to himself, "Guess I'll go in and see ——, the champ. He'll sure be glad to see me."

If he gets to the champion that individual coldly surveys him and starts the corpuscles of embarrassment running down his being by asking what is wanted. Then the guy who purchased asks the champion if he doesn't remember him.

"Let me see," says the champion—"there are so many of them. There is something familiar about you. Let me see, what is your name now?"

The wine buyer comes through, and then the champion says, "Oh, yes, where was it that I met you?" You tell him. There is a pause. No one says anything. Then some of those who were there when you horned in, start talking where they left off when you squirmed in. Maybe they are discussing the time Kid Blooie knocked the can off Young Sharkey. Unlike gracious folks that are found in gentle front parlors with chintz curtains, but seldom written about, those surrounding the champion give you no chance to come in to the conversation. You are not made to feel at home. Maybe the champion leaves you without saying anything; maybe he is very gracious and says curtly he will see you later.

When you bought the champion wine you laid a posy on the throne of fame. Nature in a moment of joyous abandon gave some clay child a couple of reinforcements around the shoulder, plugged up his heart a little, put some extra cartilage around his ribs, and sent him forth to Marquis of Queensberry slay his fellow men—always providing that some promoter would give him $10,000 for said slaying.

Samson slew the Philistines for the mere lust of fighting; but then Samson was a very poor business man.

Boston has been called the center of culture, the hub of intellectuality. There are lots of intellectual guys in Boston eating irregularly and vaguely and somewhat dismally speculating at times whether being intellectual is even approaching that joyous state best described in the well known words, "This Is the Life."

John L. Sullivan got his start in Boston. It was in that crooked-streeted town that the worshipping citizens first formed the habit of blocking up traffic when John appeared on the thoroughfares.

John was a plumber and formed the habit of sitting at his own fireside with a clay pipe and slippers, looking with extreme veneration on the pictures of great men, had not fame sought him out, taken him by his broad shoulder and spun him out into the whirl of all her glittering gayeties.

Jim Corbett was selling life insurance, working in a bank and doing other well-grooved tasks when someone suggested that he might some day become the champion of the world. Fame, from her brilliant palette, drew a gorgeous picture, and Jim became enraptured.

The brilliant amateur champion of the Olympic club sought meetings with thick-armed professionals and beat them. Fame beckoned and the youth with the pompadour grabbed one of those jitneys that opportunity happened to be running and rode to a high place in the national circulation room.

Don't lay the blame on Jack Johnson for some of the crazy things he has done. Fame is a humorous jade with a satirical touch more subtle than some of the things George Bernard Shaw does.

Johnson was a big Texas negro, whose greatest concern seemingly was regarding economical problems connected with eating. Possibly Fame said, "Here is one of my ugly children, ragged, tattered and torn; I will take him out for a time, doll him up a bit, and see how the other children of the big family act."

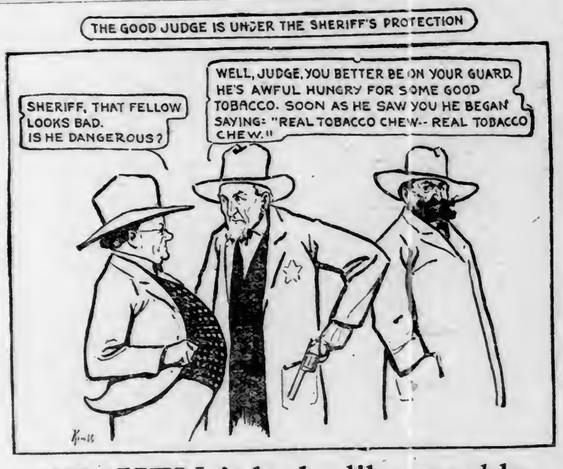
Sure, they have had to call the traffic cops in Chicago, New York, Paris, London and several other well known cities when Jack Johnson appeared on the streets. Maybe all the time Fame, up in her special niche, was laughing at the absurdity of it.

When you bought the world's champion wine, you added a mite of fuel to the candle that burns in the temple of fame.

Perhaps that's the reason preliminary fighters battle at times with demoniac fury; they want to attract the glittering girl's attention—for once you are famous, Bill, you can eat in first class hotels. Even supercilious headwaiters are obsequious.

This is a great life.

THE GOOD JUDGE IS UNDER THE SHERIFF'S PROTECTION

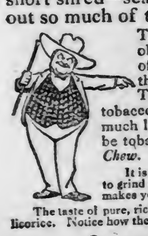


SHERIFF, THAT FELLOW LOOKS BAD. IS HE DANGEROUS?
WELL, JUDGE, YOU BETTER BE ON YOUR GUARD. HE'S AWFUL HUNGRY FOR SOME GOOD TOBACCO. SOON AS HE SAW YOU HE BEGAN SAYING: "REAL TOBACCO CHEW-- REAL TOBACCO CHEW."

WHEN it looks like trouble—remember there's peace and calm content in "the little chew that satisfies."

The whole world is friendly to the man who hands out a smile and a kindly hint about the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.



Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

HOCKEY MEN WILL DINE

Banquet of Amateurs Will Be Held on Thursday Evening.

It was decided yesterday to hold the banquet of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league on Thursday evening at the Spalding hotel. John E. MacGregor will act as toastmaster and a few remarks will be made from various players and managers of the league.

Coming as a sort of finis to the most successful season in the history of the amateur league, the banquet will be the occasion of much plan making for next season. Already a movement has been started for the formation of an executive committee to be composed of some of the prominent business men who are backing teams in the league, and it is believed that before next winter definite arrangements will have been completed for an enclosed rink. It is said that there is ground for believing that the directors of the curling club will permit the use of the big rink by the teams of the Amateur league.

All followers of the league are cordially invited to attend the banquet. As the past schedule has been by far the best grade of hockey as yet played in the city league, the managers of the banquet desire to make it the best ever held.

YOUNG BURKE LOOKS FOR RING TROUBLE.

"Young" Burke of St. Paul, a 128-pound pugilist who is fired by the spirit of conquest, has written here that he would like to meet any boy of his class at the Head of the Lakes.

The Burke person has had some scraps before various of the Twin City clubs and is considered rather a lively stepper for his poundage.

Federals Real Formal.

Chicago, March 30.—Only a representative committee, with full authority from organized baseball, can reopen peace negotiations with the Federal league, according to President Gilmore. There preceded him a story that an intermediary had attempted to bring the Federals and organized baseball together in the interests of peace, but President Gilmore denied knowledge of any such move, and declared no individual not directly connected with the rival organization could interest the Federals in peace talk.

YANKEE KNOCKS OUT BOMBARDIER WELLS

FRANK MORAN.

COLLINS MAY PLAY HERE

There Is a Chance Jimmy May Be Used in Outfield.

O'Brien Says He Has Several Crack Players Promised.

This is the very latest—Jimmy Collins may play the outfield for Duluth this season.

Hold, fans, ere spasms of joy escape you; Collins will play here only if some trade cannot be effected that will bring some other player to replace the recalcitrant James.

"Collins is too valuable a man to let get away, unless some good player can be traded for him," said O'Brien today. "If Collins does come back he will be played in the outfield. But I don't think he will be with the White Sox. There is a trade on and I think it will go through."

Today the Dook came through with the information that he had been promised several players of larger league vintage. In the event of the I. O. landing these men, it will not be until after the season is under way in some of the larger leagues.

Blume to Minneapolis.

Herr Blume departed from our midst last evening, Minneapolis being the destination of the local magnate. It is expected that Sommer of Superior, Mitchell of Fort William and possibly Finch of Virginia will be present at the conference that will have to do with schedule matters and several other routine details that have cropped into being.

GETS ANOTHER K. O. FOR COLLECTION

Bombardier Wells Put to Sleep By Frank Moran in London.

London, Eng., March 30.—Frank Moran, the American heavyweight from Pittsburg, knocked out the English champion, Bombardier Wells, in the tenth round in the London opera house last night. The match was for twenty rounds and a purse of $3,500. Forty-five hundred spectators attended.

In the first round Moran outfought and outgeneraled the Englishman, but in the second Wells seemed to regain his nerve and from then until the knockout, fought the cleaner and more scientific battle, although Moran's blows seemed to do the greater damage.

The second round went to Wells on points; in the third honors were even, but Wells had the advantage in the fourth. Both men were now bleeding.

Again in the fifth Wells' superiority was marked, but Moran shaded him in the sixth and before the eighth round was over Wells was bleeding profusely and appeared to be tired while Moran was smiling and confident.

In the tenth Wells slipped and Moran put a vicious right to the jaw which sent Wells sprawling on his back for the count.

Blood Risings Begin A Mere Speck

Stop Them From Growing Large and Dangerous.

Nearly everyone who uses S. S. S. for the blood recalls a friend who went through untold suffering as the result of a mere pimple or small blood rising. A host of people did not realize, until too late, what may result from a slight skin abrasion. But they recovered if they used S. S. S. and in almost every village and hamlet, every crossroad and away back off the road is someone who will tell you how S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, restored his health.

It is a most interesting fact that this remarkable vegetable medicine overhauls the blood in a manner that excites curious minds.

But it acts in accordance with accepted physiological laws and yet its effect is almost beyond comprehension to those who are wedded to such drugs as mercury, calomel, arsenic, iodide of potash, copper and other baneful influences which all the world bears silent testimony to their destructive tendencies.

S. S. S. is indeed a nature's tribute to what we need and it is worthy of note that in almost any drug store throughout the country you will find it regularly in stock. Get a bottle today. And if you believe yours is a peculiar case, write to the Medical Adviser of The Swift Specific Co., 106 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Our word for it, he is one of Georgia's appreciated specialists, retired from active practice, but proud of his name and of its recognized ability.

MANDOT TO COME EARLY

New Orleans Boxer Will Leave for Duluth on Saturday.

Joe Mandot will leave New Orleans Saturday for the Head of the Lakes. Telegrams to this effect were received today from both Tommy Walsh, manager of the French boxer, who is in Chicago, and Mandot himself, who is in New Orleans. Leaving the Louisiana metropolis on Saturday should get the French boy here either Monday or early Tuesday.

Accompanying the wire messages was a request to secure training quarters for Mandot. The Southern lightweight will put in the last four or five days preparing for Brown right here at the Head of the Lakes, which will give some of the more inquisitive fans an opportunity to see the speed boy at work and form their own conclusions as to his ability.

GIVE HANDICAP MEN A CHANCE

Two Golf Tournaments Will Be Given By Seaview Golf Club.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 30.—Announcement was made today that the Seaview Golf club will open the golfing season in this section with two tournaments, the first to be given April 15, 16 and 17, and the second April 22, 23 and 24.

The first tournament will be open to members of all of the clubs in the United States Golf association which have a handicap of twelve strokes or over. The purpose is to give an opportunity to men who usually have little chance in tournaments, because while they may qualify in the first or second flight it has usually been their luck to be drawn against a low handicap man, and to be eliminated in the first round of match play.

The second tournament is open to members of clubs in the United States Golf association without regard to their handicap. This tournament will, it is expected, attract the leading golfers of the country. "Chick" Evans of Chicago, and Jerome Travers and Oswald Kirby of New York, who will play an exhibition match at Seaview on opening day, will again play in this tournament. Francis Ouimet, the present amateur title holder and former open champion, will also participate.

BROWN WORKING WELL, SAYS PILOT DAVIDSON.

Harley Davidson wrote today that Kid Billings is expected in the Brown camp either late today or early tomorrow. The arrival of the Billings park product will make four sparring partners that are aiding the Jackpine kid for the gallop with Mandot.

According to Davidson, Brown is rounding into nice shape and will be pointed next week for the final lap of training. The world's champion skater declares that Brown will be absolutely right for the Frenchman.

CENTRAL A. A. U. MEET.

Two Hundred Club and College Athletes Entered for Saturday.

Chicago, March 30.—Club and college athletes to the number of nearly 200 will compete next Saturday night in the Central A. A. U. indoor meet at Patten gymnasium, Evanston, according to entries just published. The club squads predominate in numbers, 53 being named by the Chicago Athletic association and 51 by the Illinois Athletic club. The squad from the University of Michigan, which originally was expected to number ten will not include so many, but five other colleges will be well represented, it is expected. Steve Farrell, the Michigan coach, will be starter.

Keen competition is expected in several events. The quarter mile will bring together Osborn, Northwestern, Parker, I. A. C.; Sanders, C. A. A., and Hanahan, Notre Dame, who in a field of nearly a score, are expected to make some fast time. O'Brien, Michigan; Bergman and Hardy, Notre Dame; Bradley, Northwestern, and Joe Loomis, C. A. A., will be leading rivals in the 50-yard dash, it is believed.

Loomis is expected to meet fast opposition in the hurdle events and another star, Joie Ray of the I. A. C., is expected to draw hard work in his favorite events, the mile.

"YOUNG" AZINE BACK.

Duluth Boxer Wins Praises From Twin City Writers.

Young Azine, a Duluth fighter who got his start here and who has won passing notice from newspaper writers in the Twin Cities and elsewhere, has returned to Duluth for a vacation of several days.

Since leaving here Azine has fought some of the best of the little fellows, including Johnny Ertle. While the referee stopped this fight the Duluth boy was not knocked out.

Several of the boxing writers of the Twin Cities have predicted high ring honors for Azine. The little fellow is unusually strong and combines with his strength an aggressiveness and gameness that made him a card at the Head of the Lakes before he left for other parts.

DILLON AND M'GOORTY MATCHED FOR TEN ROUNDS.

Chicago, March 30.—Jack Dillon and Eddie McGoorty were matched here yesterday to fight ten rounds at Indianapolis May 29 at 160 pounds.

Senior Four Classed as the Fastest in the World.

There will be a reduction of the rowing club squad on Thursday. The number of crew candidates will be cut to 66, which will include 15 seniors, 29 juniors and 22 bantams. It is expected that these men will be carried along for some time. It will be a case of the survival of the fittest.

Yesterday afternoon the crew candidates were out in the canal. All of the scullers were out in lapstreak singles. There was also a lapstreak four out and for the first time this season Ten Eyck had an eight on the water.

Despite the cold weather some good work was accomplished. Jim is getting his big squad of crew candidates down to workable form and every passing day witnesses an improvement in the form of the new men.

Same Old Senior Four.

Last Saturday the senior four oarsmen were placed at stroke, 7, 6 and 5 positions on the machines, with some new men bringing up in 4, 3, 2 and bow positions. Horak started off at a lively clip and during the last ten minutes of the workout the stroke was run up well over the 40 mark. Some of the green men were given a touch of high life. One by one the new men were killed off by the excruciating pace. But the members of the famous four, rowing as a machine rather than four men, finished with hardly a long breath.

Yes, Ten Eyck has some four there; quite some four.

Sure, Jimmy knows it. "That four has never been headed," said the coach

It might be naively added that this opinion is shared by some of the followers of the boat club.

BASEBALL

Richmond, Va., March 30.—Darkness stopped the game here yesterday between the Washington Americans and the Richmond Internationals at the end of the eleventh inning, with the score 2 to 2.

Atlanta, Ga., March 30.—The Philadelphia Nationals, by hard hitting, defeated the Atlanta Southern association team here yesterday 7 to 2.

Mobile, Ala., March 30.—Mobile defeated the Cincinnati Nationals 5 to 4 yesterday.

New Orleans, La., March 30.—The Cleveland Americans defeated the New Orleans Southern association team 3 to 1 yesterday.

VETOES LONG ROUTE; TEN ROUNDS ALLOWED.

Carson City, Nev., March 30.—Governor Boyle signed the so-called gambling bill yesterday, making all gambling a felony except certain card games when no percentage is taken.

A 20-round boxing bill was vetoed on the ground that other states forbade 20-round fights and this would be an invitation. The existing law permitting 10-round fighting remains, but there is no provision for collecting state licenses. Counties may require licenses.

White Beats Thomas.

Philadelphia, March 30. — Charley White, the Chicago lightweight, had the better of a six-round bout here last night with Charles Thomas of this city, who claims the French lightweight championship. Both boxers weighed in at 133 pounds at 3 o'clock.

CUBA HALTS FOR FIGHT

Congress Will Recess to See It and Havana Is Fight Mad.

Johnson and Willard Are in Good Condition for Monday's Battle.

Havana, Cuba, March 30.—Monday next has been proclaimed a national holiday for the fight between Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion of the world, and Jess Willard, challenger. Congress has agreed to stop the clock at noon April 5 and not to convene again until after the fight, so that the members may attend.

The governor of the province of Havana had already declared the day of the fight a holiday after 10 o'clock in the morning.

Havana is light mad. Activities attendant to preparations for the coming heavyweight championship battle have given pugilism a monopoly on discussion in clubs, hotels and homes by the men and women of the city. The American pugilists here are very popular and all the bouts that are held are being well attended.

Johnson and Willard continued their training routine yesterday, both men working hard in their training quarters before large crowds and also on the road.

Despite his hard work Johnson showed no signs of exhaustion. The big black fighter undoubtedly is heavier and seemingly is slower than he was at Reno five years ago, but he says he is satisfied with his condition.

Gen. Bustillo, the governor of Havana, has appointed three prominent local physicians to be at the ringside to attend the fighters in case either of them is injured.

Physicians last night took the measurements of the pugilists. The results were as follows:

A. A. SCHEDULE IS AGAIN HELD UP

Toledo May Be Substituted for Cleveland in Baseball Association.

Chicago, March 30.—Matters regarding the schedule of the American association are further complicated by the possibility that Toledo will take the place of Cleveland.

Though President Chivington said he knew nothing of negotiations being carried on with President Johnson of the American league for the transfer of the Cleveland association team to Toledo, he admitted it might be made, and that possibly it would take place before the opening of the season.

The schedule had been arranged satisfactorily, according to latest reports, with the exception of dates in Cleveland, where they conflicted with American league games. If Toledo re-enters the circuit, a new draft will have to be made, it is said.

American association clubs would welcome Toledo back into the league, according to President Chivington. He said, however, they would be willing to try another year in Cleveland, believing that the rather "bad" year baseball suffered in 1914 is not likely to be repeated.

YALE CREWS LEAVE FOR PHILADELPHIA.

New Haven, Conn., March 30.—The Yale varsity and junior eights had their final drill yesterday in preparation for the regatta with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on Saturday. Oarsmen and coach leave for Philadelphia today and it is planned to hold several practice rows on the Schuylkill river before the races.

DULUTH BEATEN AT VOLLEY BALL

The Duluth Y. M. C. A. volley ball team was defeated Saturday at Eau Claire in three straight games. The games were played in the Eau Claire association gymnasium. The small-sized courts are said to have handicapped the Duluth players.

The scores:

Duluth	5	16	12

PLAYING OFF TIES IN BILLIARD MATCH.

Chicago, March 30.—George Moore of New York defeated John Daly of New York 50 to 47 here last night in the first game of the play to decide the triple tie for first place in the world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament.

Today Daly, the loser, will play William Huey of Chicago, the other man in the tie for first place. The winner of that match will play Moore for the championship Wednesday night.

Joe Capron, St. Paul, defeated Charles Morin, Chicago, 50 to 32, yesterday in the first of the games to settle the tie for fifth place. The game went sixty-nine innings. Capron's high run was 8; Morin's 5.

BOXER KILLED.

Falls Unconscious Coming Out of Clinch in First Round.

Steubenville, Ohio, March 30.—In the first round of a fight between Clyde Sharpe of Steubenville and "Special Delivery" Tully, 19, of Pittsburg, here last night, Tully fell unconscious after a clinch, and died shortly afterward in a hospital. Sharp is held by the police pending an investigation.

The boxers, welterweights, clinched as the bout started, and in breaking away exchanged body blows. Tully was struck on the left side and fell to the floor. Hospital physicians said Tully's death probably was due to heart disease.

FORMS SIX-TEAM BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Chicago, March 30.—The Bi-State league will begin its first season as a six-club organization with teams in Streator, Ottawa, Aurora and Freeport, Ill., and Madison and Racine, Wis.

This became apparent yesterday when President Parsons called to order a meeting in which representatives of the six towns were prepared to post a $500 guarantee fund each. The adoption of a constitution and by-laws was also on the program.

The Corner Lotters.

The All-Stars have organized a baseball team for the coming season and are ready to meet any team in the city. Philip Mainella is manager and Tom Cusiotto captain. For games, address the manager at 1101 West Superior street.

The first baseball game of the season to be played in Duluth was contested Sunday between the Masonics and the M. F. O. A. team, the former team winning by the score of 10 to 7. Cohen of the winning team featured with his fielding and Fulman by his hitting.

JAMES J. HILL AIDS NEW ROCKFORD SCHOOL

New Rockford, N. D., March 30.—A committee consisting of Dr. C. McLachlan and G. W. Wolbert of New Rockford and Supt. E. H. Stickney of Fargo visited James J. Hill at St. Paul in the interests of the new Rockford collegiate institute. They explained the aim of the school for the belated young people from the farms and while doing only preparatory work and having no purpose of doing more than that.

Mr. Hill received them very kindly and gave $1,000 for covering a deficit in the current expenses.

Nerve Food and Nerve Tonics

THE American public likes to be —treated for weak nerves. There is a confirmed delusion that when a man or woman gets "run down" and suffers from weariness and "brain fag" or develops a case of that mysterious ailment known, for some unsatisfactory reason, as neurasthenia, what he or she needs is a good "nerve tonic," and perhaps food which will build up and strengthen the nerves.

There are scores of alleged "nerve tonics," both proprietary and "ethical," on the market. An "ethical" remedy is one which physicians can be persuaded to prescribe—and some of us are very easily persuaded. You will find "nerve tonics" and "food tonics" and "nerve-cell builders" galore in the popular magazines and in the medical journals, in a certain type of them. But keep your money in your pocket. Hang on to it for a while and think it over. Don't be one of the easy kind. Don't believe everything you see in print.

The Uncolored Truth.

Here is a single solitary fact which defies argument because it is backed by science and common sense: NO KNOWN FOOD OR MEDICINE WILL FEED OR BUILD UP THE NERVES UNLESS IT ACTS PRECISELY THE SAME ON EVERY OTHER PART OF THE BODY.

The alleged "nerve tonic" is, as a matter of fact, a mixture of more or less objectionable stimulants or nerve sedatives which cannot affect the nervous system without affecting the whole body in the same way. The "nerve food," like the "brain food" idea, is pure buncombe. It is as much a food for the teeth, the fingernails and the lungs as it is for the nerves. Since Mark Twain suggested a couple of whales as a standard breakfast for a young aspirant for literary fame, the "brain food" idea has been just a joke. Yet "brain food" is no more absurd than "nerve food" or "muscle food" or any other alleged builder of particular tissues or organs.

Even if the exploiters of "nerve tonics" and "nerve foods" can produce medical testimonials, don't waste your money. No remedy or alleged remedy is so worthless that it cannot get a medical man or two somewhere, somehow, to sign a testimonial for it.

AFFECTION IS GROWING

President Says Nations of Western Hemisphere Have Better Understanding.

Executive Talks at Luncheon on Board Argentine Warship.

Annapolis, Md., March 30.—Emphasis on the "growing warmth of affection as well as understanding" between the United States and other nations of the Western hemisphere was laid by President Wilson in an address at a luncheon given yesterday in his honor by Dr. Romulo S. Naon, the Argentine ambassador, on board the new Argentine battleship Moreno in Annapolis roads. The president spoke in reply to an address in a similar vein delivered by Ambassador Naon.

From the time of the president's arrival here on the Mayflower shortly after noon, until his departure for Washington at 7 o'clock last night, his attention was given to ceremonials and recreations. The luncheon, exchanges of formal visits and a golf game here late in the afternoon filled his time.

Technically the president was on foreign soil during his visit to the Moreno.

"It is with great pleasure that I find myself in this interesting company and in this interesting place," he said in his address. "There has obtained a custom of the United States which has seemed to amount almost to a superstition that the president of the United States should not leave its territory. I do not know whether that was out of distrust to the president or out of precaution for the country—whether there was fear that he would not behave himself outside of this own jurisdiction, or whether it was thought that he was absolutely necessary to the country and its administration. I shall try on this occasion, at any rate, to relieve the country of the fear of his misbehavior.

Growing Affection.

"I feel that I am speaking the sentiments of my fellow countrymen when I say that there is a growing warmth of affection as well as understanding for the other countries of the great American homisphere which we are coming daily to understand better, and which are, I hope, daily coming to understand us better and to which we are drawn by feeling as well as by interest—by the desire to be comrades in some common undertaking for humanity as well as neighbors.

"I want to congratulate you upon the completion of this ship and upon all that she stands for in the way of reciprocity between ourselves and the great country you represent, and I want to express my feeling as president of the United States that we are rapidly approaching a day when the Americas will draw together as they have never drawn together before, and that it will be a union, not of political ties, but of understanding and mutual helpfulness.

"I want to drink to the health and success of your president, your government, and if I may, I wish to include your ambassador, for whom we have the greatest respect."

After the lunch the president and Secretary Daniels were shown over the Moreno by Admiral Martin, president of the Argentine naval commission, Ambassador Naon and Capt. Galindez of the battleship. Later the ambassador was invited to accompany the president on the Mayflower into the naval academy grounds.

President Wilson played golf with Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his naval aid, at the academy golf club, while Secretary Daniels went to the home of Admiral Fullam and later inspected the academy.

METHODISTS HELP FRENCH REFUGEES.

New York, March 30.—Dr. Ernest W. Lyesshe, distributing agent of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church for the large war relief fund which has been contributed by the Methodists through their board, announces that through the courtesy of the military authorities of the allies he has been permitted to enter the lines, and to minister relief to the refugees concentrated at Ypres. He reports that the destruction wrought is great, that the bombardment continues and that his message was written within sound of the booming cannon of the Germans. Here he has been able to organize a workshop in which refugee women will be employed in the manufacture of articles of clothing for the pitifully destitute people. He took with him a truckload of food which he was able to distribute.

CHURCH BUILDINGS IN CONTROL OF CHURCH

Chicago, March 30.—A ruling that the actual physical property of a Methodist church is under the control of the church and not under the jurisdiction of Methodist church conference, was upheld by the appellate court here yesterday.

The ruling was in the case of the Rock River conference against the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. The conference presented the claim that it had complete jurisdiction over all Methodist church property, on the ground that it was a connectional organization. The appellate court upheld the superior court, which maintained the distinction between a Methodist church and a Methodist church building.

The decision affects over 30,000 Methodist churches in the United States, the aggregate value of whose real estate holdings is more than $30,000,000, according to Emil Wettin of counsel for the church.

DODDER IN CLOVER SEED IS MENACE

Preventive Best Method of Saving Minnesota Farms From Pest.

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dodder in clover seed is a real menace to Minnesota farmers.

W. L. Oswold, head of the state seed laboratory, University farm, says that fourteen samples of Minnesota-grown clover seed sent to the laboratory to be tested, contained dodder, in some cases as high as 4 per cent.

Prevention rather than eradication is recommended as the best means of saving Minnesota farms from this pest. It is most commonly found in alfalfa, clover, or flax seed, and the only way to eliminate it is by having purity tests of one's seed made. The state's good seed law requires that all seed which contains dodder must be labeled to indicate the fact.

In the Western states and in Europe dodder has been prevalent and has done much damage. Little trace of it, however, has been found in this state until recently. Conditions are not bad as yet in Minnesota, but every Minnesota farmer is interested in seeing to it that they do not become bad.

Minnesota Encourages the Brewing of Beer

WAR GOVERNOR IN 1860 SIGNS TEMPERANCE LAW

Governor Ramsey, the staunch old war governor of Minnesota, in 1860 joyfully signed the following temperance law—chapter 29 of the laws of 1860, approved March 8, 1860, entitled:

An act to encourage the manufacture of pure lager beer and thereby to discourage the use of alcoholic liquors. It is provided that no license shall be required for the purpose of selling lager beer manufactured in the state.

Alex. Ramsey

This law did not even consider beer an alcoholic liquor and its use was recommended to discourage strong drink.

FITGER NATURAL BEER "A DRAUGHT BEER IN BOTTLES"

The Fitger Kieselguhr filter, first of its kind in America, preserves the flavor and aroma of the natural beer, which pasteurization, commonly in use, destroys. The Fitger Kieselguhr filtration purifies better than pasteurization. It preserves the quality of the natural beer. To pasteurize beer it must be heated. That spoils the taste and quality. Good judges used to prefer draught beer. They now drink Fitger Natural Beer.

Fitger Natural Beer is a brilliant draught beer, placed on your table in bottles, absolutely pure, and with the wonderful fragrant freshness of natural beer as drawn from the wood.

interest shown and by the cheerful co-operation in carrying out the plans and programs arranged.

"Our club year opened with a meeting held the last Monday in September. We had what came near being a record-breaking day for the club. Following a talk by Mrs. J. L. Washburn on the general federation endowment fund and Minnesota's share of $3,000 in this fund, it was unanimously voted to give $75 from the treasury to pay our club's quota of the amount. Your president later had the pleasure of presenting a check for this amount at the state federation meeting held in Rochester. We cannot emphasize too highly the value of club federation to the individual woman in the sense of personal responsibility as well as a benefit to the community from contact with a large intelligent body which engages the best speakers of the country to address on their special subjects. We are glad to note that it was at this first meeting of the year that the Twentieth Century club took initiative in deciding to ask other Duluth clubs to unite with us in inviting the state federation to meet in this city next fall. We also had the pleasure at this meeting of having with us Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, president of the Woman's Council, who gave a brief outline of the work accomplished by that body and of its effort concentrating at that time on the proposed city and county hospital. Our club has shown a marked interest in the work of the Woman's Council, notably in the proposed penny lunches, the visiting housewife and the dental clinic, contributing in money to the maintenance of the two latter.

"Because of the weather conditions it was impossible to carry out plans of two of our monthly social afternoons. However, the other three, presided over by Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Sr., Mrs. H. P. Borge and Mrs. J. H. Crowley, will be remembered as red letter days."

SCHOOL FOR SAILORS CLOSES MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON

MISS ANNA MEINHARDT.

The school for sailors wintering at this port, conducted nightly in the rooms of the Lake Carriers' association at the foot of Fifth avenue west, closed last night for the season, and instead of the usual course of instruction, the evening was given over to social pleasures.

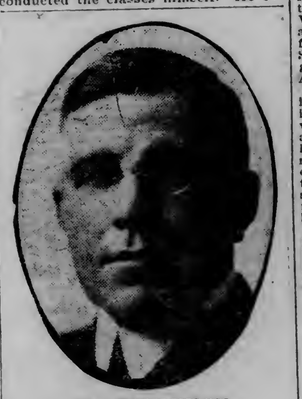
Following various devices which proved enjoyable, a supper given by G. A. Tomlinson, resident director of the Lake Carriers, and W. A. Bourke, commissioner of the association in Duluth, was enjoyed by the sailors and the teachers. The latter are Miss Anna Meinhardt and Mrs. Maude Matthews of the Madison school, who have had charge of the classes all winter. Addresses were made last evening by Miss Meinhardt, Commissioner Bourke and Capt. W. A. Chamberlain. At the close of the gathering, cash prizes, given by Mr. Tomlinson, were distributed among those who have attended the school regularly.

The affair of last evening closes the third year of the Duluth school for lake sailors. The Duluth school is remarkable for various reasons. It is the pioneer among the winter schools for sailors and has been most successful. It was started during the winter of 1912-13 by Mr. Bourke with a twofold purpose, namely, to give the sailors something to occupy their time during the "off" season, and to give an opportunity to those who wished to better their education and get in line for navigation or engineering licenses.

Idea Spreads.

The initial attempt, taken on the initiative of the Duluth commissioner, proved such a success that the Lake Carriers' association took it up, and during the following winter established similar schools, with regular teachers, at several ports on the Great Lakes. This winter still more schools were established, and, it is understood, probably by next winter every port on the lakes where sailors in sufficient numbers make their homes will be so served. So once more "the Duluth idea" has pointed the way for improvement. Duluth has a habit of this in various matters and lines, and, aside from seldom getting the credit due, its experiments are enjoyed and, almost without exception, successful.

During the first winter Mr. Bourke conducted the classes himself. He obtained from Supt. Denfeld of the city schools an outline of what would most probably be the best course of study, purchased the text books, took off his coat and went to it. Mr. Bourke never was a school teacher himself, but true to the spirit of his race—which is no secret—he did not flinch from the job, and made surprising progress. G. A. Tomlinson, resident director of the Lake Carriers, indorsed and applauded the idea and watched the development. By the end of the first season Mr. Tomlinson was convinced that the school, properly equipped and conducted, would have an important influence and Mr. Bourke had his full sanction and backing to go ahead another year, and also to broach the matter to the head officers of the association. With Mr. Tomlinson's indorsement—and insistence, for that matter—better preparation for the second season was made, the Duluth vessel man declaring that if no other means were found for the employment of regular teachers, he would foot the bill. However, the Cleveland officers of the association were much interested and gratified by the progress made, and before the second season opened, had made arrangements for a teaching corps here, and had also determined to extend similar educational opportunities to Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit.



G. A. TOMLINSON.

Miss Meinhardt's Success.

At Duluth, Miss Anna Meinhardt, principal of the Madison school, was engaged to take charge of the school, and to go as far as she saw fit in getting assistants. Miss Meinhardt has won success from the very beginning. To quote Mr. Bourke:

"Miss Meinhardt has done wonders for the men. She became instantly popular with them for she seems to instinctively know how to handle them and how to interest them. Both seasons the sailors who have attended the school have worked hard to gain her approval, and this she has developed them wonderfully is shown by the improvement in their work, all of which is closely examined. Miss Meinhardt has worked tirelessly in helping her pupils, and when one would get a trifle discouraged, she would help him all the more. It has seemed to me that she has worked too hard for her own good at times, but she gets results. She has been ably assisted by Mrs. Matthews, every sailor whom they taught is their friend and we have yet to find one failing to give them the most courteous attention."

Miss Meinhardt had charge for the last two seasons and last night she bade good-by to her "boys" with very evident regret on both sides. She urged them to keep up their studies and gave them outlines to follow during the navigation season. About thirty sailors attended this season, most of them regularly.

Miss Meinhardt will leave this evening for Cleveland to attend the annual meeting of instructors at the various sailors' schools along the Great Lakes. Last winter she was called to Cleveland to outline to the instructors engaged for the other schools, then to be started, the work that she had found to be the most successful; and this year she will take a leading part in the discussion.

G. A. Tomlinson's Interest.

G. A. Tomlinson, no less than Commissioner Bourke, has taken a deep interest in the school, and has done everything in his power to further the interests of the sailors who show ambition enough to improve themselves. His donations in money and equipment have more than rivaled the appropriations of the association and he has given the institution—for such it has become—his personal attention.

The school, it is acknowledged, has long since passed the experimental stage, and has been demonstrated to be a very great success. It is understood that next year its scope will be increased and that more complete instruction will be given with a view to improving the chances of the men to obtain promotion and, eventually, licenses as ships' officers.

This year, aside from the regular studies, lectures have been given by navigators, and by Capt. Albert Swenson, hydrographic officer here, H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster, and others whose knowledge would prove instructive in navigation matters.

ONE OF THE THREE GREATEST ORCHESTRAS

Congressman Miller Ranks Minneapolis Organization Among Leaders.

"Duluth as a musical city is adding to the reputation it already holds in the musical world by bringing the Minneapolis Symphoney orchestra here for the June festival," said Congressman C. B. Miller, who yesterday returned from Washington.

"It has been my pleasure," said Mr. Miller, "to hear all the great orchestras of the country on their visits to Washington and, while comparisons are always odious, I cannot refrain from saying that the Minneapolis Symphony ranks as one of the three greatest symphony organizations of America.

"The members of the Duluth Curling club are doing something which is absolutely unique in the musical world, as the low prices which they are making for the series of concerts have been unheard of previously. I am glad to know that they are not only enterprising enough to devote time and hard work to arranging a symphony concert, but that they are making it possible for everyone to hear and enjoy the famous orchestra."

In Duluth Theaters.

SUBMARINE "MOVIES."

Unless the famous Rainey African Hunt pictures are excepted, no more thrilling and interesting motion pictures of actual life have been seen in Duluth than the Submarine pictures which opened at the Lyric last evening.

The theater was filled, and the audience was composed chiefly of Duluthians, who are rarely seen in a motion picture theater. They were not the usual "movie fans," but evidently people ywho have read of these particular pictures and had invaded the terra incognita of a motion picture theater, to see them. They were undoubtedly well repaid for their visit.

A lecturer explains the pictures and the spectator finds himself gazing in open-jawed wonder at the marvels of the deep unfolded before him. The big thrill of the pictures is given by the picture of the battle between one of the Williamson brothers and a shark. The man can be seen to stab the shark. But if this one picture is the thriller, the submarine journey is the section of the most absorbing interest. The wonders of the submarine gardens are unfolded to the spectator. In these days wonderful inventions are accepted with little comment and discussion. Those who witnessed the pictures last evening were probably more interested by the scenes themselves than they were thrilled with the thought that they were witnessing the first submarine motion pictures ever taken. The hard-working, and apparently hoarse-proof lecturer, tried earnestly to impress on the audience that they were seeing "the first motion pictures ever taken under water"—the others you may have seen have been posed in tanks or aquariums," etc.—but the wonder of this did not seem to impress. The pictures themselves and the absorbing interest of exploring an unknown land under the sea, held the spectator.

Some day this Williamson contrivance may be utilized in submarine warfare. The possibilities of the invention are a fascinating theme to speculate upon.

The pictures will be at the Lyric all week, and they should do a record-breaking business.

MORE THAN A MERE COMEDIAN.

Homer Barton, leading man of the Baldwin Players, sprang a surprise on his admirers this week in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at the Lyceum. Barton is acknowledged to be one of the clever est light comedians playing in stock in this country, and his admirers among the Baldwin patrons are ready to laugh with him at the slightest excuse, and sometimes without excuse it is difficult for him to play a serious part for this reason, for his audiences seem to have a laugh hung on a hair trigger, but this week Mr. Barton is so disguised as the crabbed old earl, that he is not recognized by many of those in the audience for some little time, and he gets into the spirit of the part before anybody has a chance to remember that he is a comedian. He gives an excellent interpretation of the role, and for once he is permitted to play something besides comedy without his audiences insisting that he is funny. It gives him a chance to prove he is something more than a good comedian.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" will continue until Thursday night, with matinees today, Wednesday and Thursday, and Friday the company will take a two days' vacation while "Potash and Perlmutter" holds the boards, unless a trip to Superior is arranged.

For Easter Sunday and the week following Mr. Baldwin is planning the biggest production of his winter and spring season, in "Within the Law."

"POTASH AND PERLMUTTER"

Before sending out the various "Potash and Perlmutter" companies that are presenting the play throughout the country this season Manager A. H. Woods arranged that every principal in every company should play a long engagement at the Cohan theater, New York city. This unique plan would be impossible of execution were it not for the fact that "Potash and Perlmutter" ran for nearly two years at the theater. Not one of these actors was finally signed for tour, until he had demonstrated his or her ability to please a discriminating audience and when the companies finally left for the road, Manager Woods had satisfied himself that every organization was "100 per cent good."

"Potash and Perlmutter" will come to the Lyceum Friday and Saturday with a company of artists, all of whom have played at the Cohan theater.

In the cast will be: Lew Welch, Jules Jordan, Edward Shoben, Thomas J. Tempest, Joseph Sterling, Fred Fleck, Jr., J. Woodford Ray, W. H. Leyden, J. Irving Southard, Robert Barber, Jane Fearnley, Katherine De Barry, Jean King, Mildred Barker, Ethel Brice, Dolly Gray, Mabel Vanette.

NEW BILL AT THE GRAND.

The new show at the Grand, which opened a three-day engagement yesterday, was not so uniform as usual, but it was strong in places, and none of it fell to a very low standard. Taken all in all, it was a good entertainment for popular prices and will undoubtedly draw large crowds. All of the show was well received yesterday by large audiences, despite the holy week lull in amusements.

Miss Frances Dyer, who tops the bill, possesses two excellent qualities for stage effect—an excellent soprano voice well trained and the ability to wear stunning gowns well. These qualities, added to an attractive personality made her offering one of real interest. Her more serious numbers were received with passive interest, but her rendering of several late ballads brought forth spontaneous applause.

The Four Flying Valentines are the best aerial artists and gymnasts seen at the Grand in weeks. Their stunts performed high in the air are extremely hazardous and are done with deftness and perfect ease.

Archi Onri and company, the "company" being one girl, do a juggling act of unusual cleverness. One or two new stunts were done with remarkable cleverness.

Gaines and Brown are ordinary dance and chatter comedians.

The photoplays offered a good variety of subjects and the biograph comedy films were heartily received. A three-reel film called "The Hermit of Bird Island" showed some fine beach scenes and motor boat races and a plot with a love story of more than passing interest was woven in.

ACROBATLESS VAUDEVILLE.

Acrobatless vaudeville will be seen for at least the opening week at the Orpheum theater, beginning Sunday.

The reopening of the Orpheum has evidently been welcome news to Duluth theater-goers, for Manager Garver says the advance orders for seats have been heavy, and a decided improvement in business is already in prospect.

The first bill will be innocent of acrobats. It will be headlined by "Ideal," who has taken up the mantle, or rather the silk tights of the fair Annette Kellermann since the latter began drawing huge royalties from motion pictures. Wellington Cross and Lois Josephine are a standard "team act," and one of the real hits of the vaudeville stage. They can be counted on for a good measure of entertainment. The other acts on the opening bill are as follows:

"Little Mother," a comedy playlet presented by Louise Galloway and her company of players.

James Thompson & Co. in "The Burglars' Union."

Dorothy Brenner and Bernard Wheeler.

Hal and Francis.

Ethel and Emma Hopkins.

The box office opened today, and from all indications the opening show will be greeted with a capacity house. The old Orpheum prices will prevail, and the 25 and 50-cent Sunday matinees and 25-cent week day matinees, with balcony seats at 10 cents, are to be again inaugurated.

LURED BY "THE LURE."

Manager Mistachkin of the Zelda theater nearly "overlooked a bet" yesterday. He had booked "The Lure," "approved by ministers and social workers, in five reels, and children under 16 barred," for the first half of this week, but he didn't realize until the picture was run for the first time that Lola May was the leading woman of the company. As soon as he discovered his near oversight, he promptly engaged an orchestra to help out the excellent pipe organ in honor of the screen appearance of Duluth's former stock favorite. "The Lure" promises to expose the so-called "white slave traffic" in a very profitable manner at the Zelda today and tomorrow, and possibly for the remainder of the week. About 4,000 saw it exposed yesterday—"children under 16 barred."

JANE MILLER AT THE REX.

As leading woman of the big spectacular melodrama, "Life," produced at the Manhattan Opera house, New York city, Jane Miller made a tremendous success in a most difficult role. She was immediately engaged for the part of Ann Shellington in "From the Valley of the Missing" on its last day at the Rex.

In the production the director employed more than 150 people, built an entire country fair which includes elephants, a menagerie, tent and side shows, greased pig contests, and everything that goes to make a genuine old-fashioned fair. The filming of a yacht collision is one of the thrilling and startling scenes.

"NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE"—IRELAND.

St. Paul, March 30.—Archbishop John Ireland, greatly annoyed by an unfounded report sent out by a news agency that he was seriously ill, today issued a statement to the Associated Press, in which he said that "I never felt better in my life."

Archbishop Ireland, who officiated at the first masses held in the new St. Paul cathedral Palm Sunday, said that he had been deluged with telegrams of inquiry as to his health in the last twenty-four hours and desired his friends throughout the country to know the truth.

FUTURE CROPS NOT BANKRUPT'S ASSET.

Butte, Mont., March 30.—That a crop sown after a bankruptcy proceeding has been started and before its completion cannot be considered an asset was the gist of a decision handed down in the Federal court here by Judge George M. Bourquin, and the decision doubtless will prove of great interest to all those engaged in agricultural pursuits.

The court held that had the crops failed, the creditors never would have asked that they be included in the assets, and added that a bankrupt is entitled to the use of homestead land after his petition in bankruptcy has been filed.

"It has been my pleasure," said Mr. Miller, "to hear all the great orchestras of the country on their visits to Washington and, while comparisons are always odious, I cannot refrain from saying that the Minneapolis Symphony ranks as one of the three greatest symphony organizations of America.

"The members of the Duluth Curling club are doing something which is absolutely unique in the musical world, as the low prices which they are making for the series of concerts have been unheard of previously. I am glad to know that they are not only enterprising enough to devote time and hard work to arranging a symphony concert, but that they are making it possible for everyone to hear and enjoy the famous orchestra."

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Little Lord Fauntleroy."
GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—"From the Valley of The Missing," photoplay.
LYRIC—Submarine motion pictures.
ZELDA—Photoplay, "The Lure."

In Duluth Theaters.

Unless the famous Rainey African Hunt pictures are excepted, no more thrilling and interesting motion pictures of actual life have been seen in Duluth than the Submarine pictures which opened at the Lyric last evening.

SUBMARINE "MOVIES."

The theater was filled, and the audience was composed chiefly of Duluthians, who are rarely seen in a motion picture theater. They were not the usual "movie fans," but evidently people who have read of these particular pictures and had invaded the terra incognita of a motion picture theater to see them. They were undoubtedly well repaid for their visit.

A lecturer explains the pictures and the spectator finds himself gazing in open-jawed wonder at the marvels of the deep unfolded before him. The big thrill of the pictures is given by the picture of the battle between one of the Williamson brothers and a shark. The man can be seen to stab the shark. But if this one picture is the thriller, the submarine journey is the section of the most absorbing interest. The wonders of the submarine gardens are unfolded to the spectator. In these days wonderful inventions are accepted with little comment and discussion. Those who witnessed the pictures last evening were probably more interested by the scenes themselves than they were thrilled with the thought that they were witnessing the first submarine motion pictures ever taken. The hard-working, and apparently hoarse-proof lecturer, tried earnestly to impress on the audience that they were seeing "the first motion pictures ever taken under water"—the others you may have seen have been posed in tanks or aquariums," etc.—but the wonder of this did not seem to impress. The pictures themselves and the absorbing interest of exploring an unknown land under the sea, held the spectator.

Some day this Williamson contrivance may be utilized in submarine warfare. The possibilities of the invention are a fascinating theme to speculate upon.

The pictures will be at the Lyric all week, and they should do a record-breaking business.

MORE THAN A MERE COMEDIAN.

Homer Barton, leading man of the Baldwin Players, sprang a surprise on his admirers this week in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at the Lyceum. Barton is acknowledged to be one of the cleverest light comedians playing in stock in this country, and his admirers among the Baldwin patrons are ready to laugh with him at the slightest excuse, and sometimes without excuse. It is difficult for him to play a serious part for this reason, for his audiences seem to have a laugh hung on a hair trigger, but this week Mr. Barton is so disguised as the crabbed old earl, that he is not recognized by many of those in the audience for some little time, and he gets into the spirit of the part before anybody has a chance to remember that he is a comedian. He gives an excellent interpretation of the role, and for once he is permitted to play something besides comedy without his audiences insisting that he is funny. It gives him a chance to prove he is something more than a good comedian.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" will continue until Thursday night, with matinees today, Wednesday and Thursday, and Friday the company will take a two days' vacation while "Potash and Perlmutter" holds the boards, unless a trip to Superior is arranged.

For Easter Sunday and the week following Mr. Baldwin is planning the biggest production of his winter and spring season, in "Within the Law."

"POTASH AND PERLMUTTER"

Before sending out the various "Potash and Perlmutter" companies that are presenting the play throughout the country this season Manager A. H. Woods arranged that every principal in every company should play a long engagement at the Cohan theater, New York city. This unique plan would be impossible of execution were it not for the fact that "Potash and Perlmutter" ran for nearly two years at the theater. Not one of these actors was finally signed for tour, until he had demonstrated his or her ability to please a discriminating audience and when the companies finally left for the road, Manager Woods had satisfied himself that every organization was "100 per cent good."

"Potash and Perlmutter" will come to the Lyceum Friday and Saturday with a company of artists, all of whom have played at the Cohan theater.

In the cast will be: Lew Welch, Jules Jordan, Edward Shoben, Thomas J. Tempest, Joseph Sterling, Fred Fleck, Jr., J. Woodford Ray, W. H. Leyden, J. Irving Southard, Robert Barber, Jane Fearnley, Katherine De Barry, Jean King, Mildred Barker, Ethel Brice, Dolly Gray, Mabel Vanette.

NEW BILL AT THE GRAND.

The new show at the Grand, which opened a three-day engagement yesterday, was not so unusual form as usual, but it was strong in places, and none of it fell to a very low standard. Taken all in all, it was a good entertainment for popular prices and will undoubtedly draw large crowds. All of the show was well received yesterday by large audiences, despite the holy week lull in amusements.

Miss Frances Dyer, who tops the bill, possesses two excellent qualities for stage effect—an excellent soprano voice well trained and the ability to wear stunning gowns well. These qualities, added to an attractive personality made her offering one of real interest. Her more serious numbers were received with passive interest, but her rendering of several late ballads brought forth spontaneous applause.

The Four Flying Valentines are the best aerial artists and gymnasts seen at the Grand in weeks. Their stunts performed high in the air are extremely hazardous and are done with deftness and perfect ease.

Archi Onri and company, the "company" being one girl, do a juggling act of unusual cleverness. One or two new stunts were done with remarkable cleverness.

Gaines and Brown are ordinary dance and chatter comedians.

The photoplays offered a good variety of subjects and the biograph comedy films were heartily received. A three-reel film called "The Hermit of Bird Island" showed some fine beach scenes and motor boat races and a plot with a love story of more than passing interest was woven in.

ACROBATLESS VAUDEVILLE.

Acrobatless vaudeville will be seen for at least the opening week at the Orpheum theater, beginning Sunday.

The reopening of the Orpheum has evidently been welcome news to Duluth theater-goers, for Manager Garver says the advance orders for seats have been heavy, and a decided improvement in business is already in prospect.

The first bill will be innocent of acrobats. It will be headlined by "Ideal," who has taken up the mantle, or rather the silk tights of the fair Annette Kellermann since the latter began drawing huge royalties from motion pictures. Wellington Cross and Lois Josephine are a standard "team act," and one of the real hits of the vaudeville stage. They can be counted on for a good measure of entertainment. The other acts on the opening bill are as follows:

"Little Mother," a comedy playlet presented by Louise Galloway and her company of players.

James Thompson & Co. in "The Burglars' Union."

Dorothy Brenner and Bernard Wheeler.

Hal and Francis.

Ethel and Emma Hopkins.

The box office opened today, and from all indications the opening show will be greeted with a capacity house. The old Orpheum prices will prevail, and the 25 and 50-cent Sunday matinees and 25-cent week day matinees, with balcony seats at 10 cents, are to be again inaugurated.

LURED BY "THE LURE."

Manager Mistachkin of the Zelda theater nearly "overlooked a bet" yesterday. He had booked "The Lure," "approved by ministers and social workers, in five reels, and children under 16 barred," for the first half of this week, but he didn't realize until the picture was being for the first time that Lola May was the leading woman of the company. As soon as he discovered his near oversight, he promptly engaged an orchestra to help out the excellent photo organ in honor of the screen appearance of Duluth's former stock favorite. "The Lure" promises to expose the so-called "white slave traffic" in a very profitable manner at the Zelda today and tomorrow, and possibly for the remainder of the week. About 4,000 saw it exposed yesterday—"children under 16 barred."

JANE MILLER AT THE REX.

As leading woman of the big spectacular melodrama, "Life," produced at the Manhattan Opera house, New York city, Jane Miller made a tremendous success in a most difficult role. She was immediately engaged for the part of Ann Shellington in "From the Valley of the Missing" on its last day at the Rex.

In the production the director employed more than 150 people, built an entire country fair which includes elephants, a menagerie, tent and side shows, greased pig contests, and everything that goes to make a genuine old-fashioned fair. The filming of a yacht collision is one of the thrilling and startling scenes.

"NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE"—IRELAND.

St. Paul, March 30.—Archbishop John Ireland, greatly annoyed by an unfounded report sent out by a news agency that he was seriously ill, today issued a statement to the Associated Press, in which he said that "I never felt better in my life."

Archbishop Ireland, who officiated at the first masses held in the new St. Paul cathedral Palm Sunday, said that he had been deluged with telegrams of inquiry as to his health in the last twenty-four hours and desired his friends throughout the country to know the truth.

FUTURE CROPS NOT BANKRUPT'S ASSET.

Butte, Mont., March 30.—That a crop sown after a bankruptcy proceeding has been started and before its completion cannot be considered an asset was the gist of a decision handed down in the Federal court here by Judge George M. Bourquin, and the decision doubtless will prove of great interest to all those engaged in agricultural pursuits.

The court held that had the crops failed, the creditors never would have asked that they be included in the assets, and added that a bankrupt is entitled to the use of homestead land after his petition in bankruptcy has been filed.

Are You Wondering How To Get a Furnished Home?

Figure it out yourself. If you rent one or two furnished rooms you must put up with what is in them. No chance to display your individual taste or carry out your particular ideas. This is only part of it. At the end of the year what have you to show for the rent you paid on the borrowed furniture? Nothing.

The same money you would have to pay for borrowed furniture or furnished rooms would enable you to own your furniture at the end of the year.

You don't need cash to do this, pay a small amount down and the monthly payments will be less than you are paying for furnished rooms.

DULUTHIAN COMES TO VILLAGE'S AID

G. A. Elder Will Take Keewatin Bonds at 10 Per Cent Discount.

Keewatin, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village may finally be able to dispose of its bonds although at a discount. After making two ineffectual attempts to sell them an offer has been received from G. A. Elder, a Duluth bond buyer, to take the $80,000 issue at 10 per cent discount. The matter has to be ratified by the new village council which will take hold of affairs April 6. It is estimated the money derived from the issue will care for floating indebtedness created up to Aug. 14, last and that the expenses up to April 15, next, will be $150,000 so a further bond issue will be required.

Clerk Calls Threat.

At the last meeting of the old council President Matakovich and Clerk Extrum exchanged compliments during which the president threatened to "see" the clerk after the meeting and the latter retorted, "you can see me right now," but Officer Joseph Graham, who was present, prevented a personal encounter.

The claim of Mrs. Pat Barrett for injuries sustained by a fall on a defective walk, was settled for $125. The claim of Otto Ojala of $35 per month for the use of his lot for piling crushed rock on without his consent, was laid over for further consideration, as was the bill of Gust Johnson, rental of lot for police station at $5 per month for seven months.

PUBLIC TEST OF HIBBING WATER

Product of New System to Be Tried Out This Week.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A big tractor to pump the water for tests to be made to the Layne & Bowler well system, under development south of Alice, was put in operation, and according to M. E. Layne, who is in the village in connection with the work, a public test will be made either Wednesday or Thursday.

A new pump is now under installation in well No. 1. Operations to test well No. 2 are already begun, while the curbing of well No. 3 has been commenced and it is expected will be completed soon.

According to Mr. Layne, a state inspector will be here today or tomorrow to make a test as to the quality of the water. This, it is expected, will be favorable, as the wells are several miles to the nearest mine.

HIBBING COUNCIL WILL BE ORGANIZED

Only One Change, Rupert Swinnerton Succeeding R. L. Geiselman.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Recorder D. D. Haley says the new council will be organized tonight.

Rupert Swinnerton, trustee-elect, took the oath of office two days after being elected, and everything is in readiness for the new council meeting. The only change in the personnel is the succession of Mr. Swinnerton to R. L. Geiselman, who will take up his duties as treasurer.

It is expected that the first duty of the new council will be the appointment of a successor to Chairman John Curran of the water and light board, whose term of office expires tonight. W. J. Ryder will be automatically given the chairmanship. Fred M. Smith is the other member of the board. He will be chairman next year.

BODY RECOVERED AT KLAMATH FALLS, OR.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—Adolph Cornell has received a telegram from friends at Klamath Falls, Or., telling of the finding of the remains of his brother, George Cornell, who was drowned there three weeks ago. The body was found Sunday afternoon and the funeral was held Sunday night under the auspices of the Elks, of which he was a member.

TAKEN TO MINNEAPOLIS.

Body of Hibbing Woman Who Died Suddenly Goes to Mill City.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Mrs. Mary Ward, age 58, who was stricken with heart disease Saturday night, lay in state at the Masonic temple here this morning from 9 until 10:30 o'clock and was then taken on the noon train to Minneapolis.

Mrs. Ward was an active worker in the Order of Eastern Star and was one of the foremost organizers of the branch recently organized in Hibbing. She was associate matron of the local lodge.

Besides her widower, George Ward, an automobile painter of this village, a sister and niece of Minneapolis survive.

RETIRING COUNCIL AND MAYOR CLASH

Two Harbors Executive's Veto of Printing Resolution Overridden.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The old city council held its last meeting last night so far as the transaction of regular business is concerned, but will meet again tomorrow to finally pass on the March payroll. The old council is going out of office with some fireworks, as evidenced last night when a veto by Mayor Towl was promptly overridden.

A. Mourman & Co. of St. Paul were granted permission to build the new Commercial State bank. The council objected to the manner in which the concern is blasting for the basement, in not properly covering the blasts, and as a consequence dirt and stones from the blasts have been causing some damage to the glass windows in nearby buildings. The council believes that this careless blasting also endangers public safety and consequently the firm will be requested to be more careful.

Monday night of last week the council passed a resolution awarding the city printing for the remainder of the present term, which amounts to only two weeks, to the Two Harbors Socialist. The resolution took its usual course and went to Mayor William Towl for his signature, but came back last night with his veto. The council immediately passed the resolution over his head.

Charter Not Complied With.

In explaining why he vetoed the resolution, Mayor Towl stated that the city charter governing such action on the part of the city council was not complied with. The city charter says: "The new council, at their second regular meeting, or as soon thereafter as practicable, shall designate a local paper which shall come up to certain requirements as the official organ of the city."

When the present council, two years ago, called for bids for the city printing the Journal-News was the only paper that presented a bid. The council never granted the paper the contract, but nevertheless the Journal-News has been doing the city printing and the city has paid it its price, stipulated in the contract, for nearly two years. Then the council accepted a bid from the manager of the Socialist last Monday night, which was under the old 1913 bid of the Journal-News and awarded the Socialist the work. Mayor Towl does not think that the action on the part of the council was in strict accordance with the city charter, hence his veto.

Calls for New Bids.

Last night the council called for new bids for the city printing for the next two years. The bids will, when received, be acted upon by the new council.

The city clerk was instructed to call for bids for the furnishing of bonds to the amount of $10,000 for the city treasurer, and $5,000 each for the municipal judge and the special judge.

The chief engineer of the water and light department was summoned to report on the progress of the construction of the new hypochloride plant which is being constructed at the plant. He stated that the work was being held up at the present writing for material to arrive. He reported that he expected to have the job completed within a week or ten days.

A. H. Jame was given permission to operate two pool and billiard tables on First avenue.

SECRETARY CHOSEN; IDENTITY SECRET

Hibbing Commercial Club Committee's Choice Kept in Dark.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A recommendation for a secretary of the Commercial club was made by the Commercial club committee at a meeting in President Robert Stratton's office yesterday afternoon. The selection is kept a secret, and will be recommended at the meeting of the council tonight before any announcement is made.

Although members of the committee assumed a look of mystery when asked about the outcome of the meeting, they intimated strongly that a local man will be recommended to succeed J. L. Lewis. There were fourteen applications for the position, several from outsiders. It was also said by committee members that the selection met the unanimous approval of the committee.

That the council will ratify the selection is intimated by Mayor Power.

"When a Man Marries" will be played by the young people of the Presbyterian choir with others assisting at the Power theater, Tuesday evening, April 6.

IS BADLY HURT BY LOCOMOTIVE

D. W. & P. Trackman Run Over in West Virginia Yards and May Die.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Johnson, age 55, a trackman working on the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific here, was probably fatally injured at the West Virginia roundhouse about 9 o'clock this morning when run over by a locomotive which was backing out of the roundhouse.

It is said the usual warning blast was blown on the whistle and that Johnson, who was shoveling cinders from the track, stepped to one side and then in a bewildered manner stepped back right in front of the approaching engine. The engineer was unable to check the machine and it crushed the man. Johnson's left arm was mashed and it is feared his skull was fractured as he was hurried to McIntyre hospital in an unconscious condition. It is feared he cannot live.

He is single and the only known relatives in this country are at Grantsburg, Wis.

DISTRIBUTING TIES ALONG RIGHT OF WAY.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific (Canadian Northern), is distributing cross ties along the right-of-way between here and Fort Frances, meaning, it is claimed, that a large amount of improvement to the road bed is to be made this year in anticipation of large travel to Duluth and Chicago. New steel was laid last year, but the ties in many places are said to be old and the company proposes to place the roadbed in shape to handle fast trains.

ICE IS GONE FROM LAKE AT TWO HARBORS.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday the Iron Range railroad tug Torrent shoved the last of the ice out of the harbor, and now the harbor around the docks is nearly as clear of ice as it is any time during the summer. This morning there is no ice to be seen anywhere on the lake from Two Harbors.

Chisholm, Minn., March 30.—It is currently reported here that some Duluth men who are interested in mining here will give the village a financial boost to tide it over the present unfortunate condition so that it may not be necessary to try and issue bonds to pick up floating paper. The matter is expected to come to a head at the next council meeting.

Juniors—Jeanette Baer, Marion Pfeiffer and Irene Rossi. Seniors—Adene Johnson and Clair Lippman.

IRONWOOD TO AID THE UNEMPLOYED

Will Start Sewer Work, Giving Resident Taxpayers Preference.

Ironwood, Mich., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The aldermen of Ironwood have decided to provide work for as many of the unemployed of the city as possible by starting considerable sewer work at once.

At a joint meeting of the committees on sewers and highways, it was decided to begin work on the sewers as soon as the necessary pipe can be procured. Two crews will be started, one on the North side on Charles and Mable streets, the other at the Norrie location on Oak and Tamarack streets. Resident taxpayers and members of their families will be given the preference of employment.

WOULD REGULATE TEACHERS' SALARIES

Supt. Young Declares Some Underpaid and Others Overpaid.

In commenting upon the new schedule for teachers' salaries, which was put into effect recently by the county board of education, N. A. Young, county school superintendent, has the following to say in the current issue of the Rural School Bulletin, a monthly magazine published from his office:

"It has often been said, and with more or less justice, that teachers are underpaid. It is probably true that teachers, as a rule, are underpaid, but it may be said, with a reasonable respect for the truth, that some teachers are getting more pay than they are worth. Various schemes have been devised whereby the funds appropriated for teachers' salaries may be distributed in a just manner.

"The practice of advancing salaries of teachers in accordance with services rendered has been followed up with more or less precision in many of the city school districts. In accordance with this plan, a teacher might receive $10 or more a month increase in salary, whereas the teacher in the next room might receive as little as $2.50 or no increase at all. Where this plan is used, the question naturally arises as to who is to be the judge of the teacher's worth to the school system. As a rule this thankless piece of work has fallen to the lot of the superintendent.

"The county board of education of St. Louis county, which will employ about 110 teachers next year in rural schools, has the same problem to contend with as is mentioned above, and it is considered a question of more or less serious importance. At the last regular meeting of this board, a resolution was adopted, which has for its purpose the governing of teachers' salaries.

"It will be noted, with a reasonable amount of study, that the increase in a teacher's salary is largely dependent upon the teacher herself. The range of salaries will vary more than in the past, and that, we believe, is a good thing. In other words, we believe it perfectly proper to pay high salaries to those who have taught long and successfully in the county, and low salaries to those who are inexperienced and of uncertain quality."

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◐ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

The chill that struck Duluth several days ago seems, like all people and things that reach this city, loath to leave. However, Duluthians would gladly speed the parting guest if it would only depart. To add to the troubles, the weather man made good in his prophecy that today would be cloudy, and the shutting off of the sun is not to the liking of denizens in general. And no let-up is promised for tonight or tomorrow.

A year ago today was cloudy and warm. The sun fose this morning at 5:51 and will set this evening at 6:34, giving twelve hours and forty-three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Somewhat colder weather prevails in North Atlantic districts, the Rocky mountains and Eastern slopes, while over the Lake Superior region the temperature has risen. Barometric depressions centered over Texas and British Columbia caused rain or snow over the Lower Mississippi valley, the Southwest, Rocky mountains and the extreme West during Monday or last night. Light snow also fell over Central and Northern Michigan. Heavy rain occurred at Fort Smith, Ark."

IRONWOOD TO AID THE UNEMPLOYED

Will Start Sewer Work, Giving Resident Taxpayers Preference.

Ironwood, Mich., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The aldermen of Ironwood have decided to provide work for as many of the unemployed of the city as possible by starting considerable sewer work at once.

At a joint meeting of the committees on sewers and highways, it was decided to begin work on the sewers as soon as the necessary pipe can be procured. Two crews will be started, one on the North side on Charles and Mable streets, the other at the Norrie location on Oak and Tamarack streets. Resident taxpayers and members of their families will be given the preference of employment.

WOULD REGULATE TEACHERS' SALARIES

Supt. Young Declares Some Underpaid and Others Overpaid.

In commenting upon the new schedule for teachers' salaries, which was put into effect recently by the county board of education, N. A. Young, county school superintendent, has the following to say in the current issue of the Rural School Bulletin, a monthly magazine published from his office:

"It has often been said, and with more or less justice, that teachers are underpaid. It is probably true that teachers, as a rule, are underpaid, but it may be said, with a reasonable respect for the truth, that some teachers are getting more pay than they are worth. Various schemes have been devised whereby the funds appropriated for teachers' salaries may be distributed in a just manner.

"The practice of advancing salaries of teachers in accordance with services rendered has been followed up with more or less precision in many of the city school districts. In accordance with this plan, a teacher might receive $10 or more a month increase in salary, whereas the teacher in the next room might receive as little as $2.50 or no increase at all. Where this plan is used, the question naturally arises as to who is to be the judge of the teacher's worth to the school system. As a rule this thankless piece of work has fallen to the lot of the superintendent.

"The county board of education of St. Louis county, which will employ about 110 teachers next year in rural schools, has the same problem to contend with as is mentioned above, and it is considered a question of more or less serious importance. At the last regular meeting of this board, a resolution was adopted, which has for its purpose the governing of teachers' salaries.

"It will be noted, with a reasonable amount of study, that the increase in a teacher's salary is largely dependent upon the teacher herself. The range of salaries will vary more than in the past, and that, we believe, is a good thing. In other words, we believe it perfectly proper to pay high salaries to those who have taught long and successfully in the county, and low salaries to those who are inexperienced and of uncertain quality."

WOULD CHANGE OLD SYSTEM

Promotions Should Have the Sanction of Council, Says Clapp.

City Attorney Clapp at the regular council meeting yesterday declared that the various city departments would be safer in introducing resolutions authorizing promotions or increases in salaries for the various employes, instead of making the changes as was done by the water and light department during February. This opinion was forecasted by Mr. Clapp in an interview several weeks ago.

The statement by Mr. Clapp yesterday afternoon was made in connection with the promotion of C. W. Cate from assistant cashier to cashier and W. F. Haig from assistant clerk to clerk, both in the water and light department, without the introduction of a resolution or permission being granted by the other commissioners. City Auditor Campbell refused to pass on the payroll in February, as a result of these promotions and increases in salaries and after the matter was discussed by the council, both Mr. Cate and Mr. Haig were reclassed under their old positions and the question referred to City Attorney Clapp for a final decision.

In going over the February payroll about a month ago, City Auditor Campbell discovered that there were two cashiers and two clerks included and that the water and light department had never received any authority from the council to make these promotions or changes. He immediately raised an objection and Manager D. A. Reed changed the payroll to include T. E. McGibbon as cashier and Mr. Cate as assistant cashier.

However, at the council meeting, Commissioner Voss read a communication from Mr. Campbell, the latter objecting to promotions without the proper authority of the council and against the paying of $70 to Mr. Haig, who had been promoted from assistant clerk to clerk. After some discussion Mr. Haig was ordered classed under his old position and his salary of $60 be paid. The payroll was then passed and the question of promotions referred to the city attorney.

The territory was taken from the towns of Reserve and Round Lake. The large numbers of settlers which have taken up land in the new town made it necessary for the town to be set aside.

DANGEROUS DEBILITY

Debility may result from a number of causes—worry, after-effects of acute illness, lack of nourishment due to disordered digestion, or anything that makes the blood thin, thereby preventing it from carrying health and nourishment to the tissues of the body.

The symptoms of debility vary but weakness is always present, often a tendency to fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep.

Debility is dangerous because it weakens the body's defense against disease. For instance, debilitated people take cold easily and winter is always a trying time for them. When one cold follows another the system surely needs building up.

The treatment of such run-down conditions with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is based on sound medical principles and common sense. These pills build up the blood so that it nourishes every part of the body, nerves as well as muscles and brings vigor, strength and health.

Mention this paper and we will mail you the booklet "Building Up the Blood." Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

CHRISTIANS LAX IN DUTY

Few Would Treat Employer as They Do Master, Says Dr. Johnson.

Episcopal and Catholic Churches Hold Daily Holy Week Services.

That few persons would treat their employer as they do the Master is the opinion of Dr. Irvine P. Johnson, Faribault, who preached at St. Paul's Episcopal church last evening. Being a Christian is a "man's job," the speaker declared, and the weakness of most Americans is that they do not "play square."

In the race of religion many Americans do not obey the rules, he said, and in that way disqualify themselves for the prize, which is salvation. In speaking of the laxity of so-called Christians, he said:

"To be a Christian is a man's job, and the weakness of most Americans is that they beat the air and fume and fret about their misfortunes, which largely are their own fault. They do not play 'square' with the world."

The speaker related a story of a paralytic, who lay helpless for many months, cheerful and uncomplaining. "I actually felt ashamed," he said, "when I realized how patient and courageous that man was in the face of his suffering compared with so many able persons who create much ado over nothing."

Answers Questions.

Dr. Johnson answered several questions read from a question box.

Dr. Johnson will speak again tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and 7:30 Thursday evening. Holy communion was celebrated this morning at 8 o'clock and will be celebrated again tomorrow morning at the same hour. The Bible study class will meet at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon.

Daily services are also being held at Trinity Episcopal cathedral. Holy communion will be celebrated each morning at 10 o'clock until Sunday. Preaching services will be held every afternoon at 4:30 until Friday, when a three-hour service will be held beginning at noon.

At the Catholic cathedral the chief service of the week will be on Maundy Thursday, when tenebrae service is held. Elaborate Good Friday and Easter services will be held. Mass is observed daily.

All of the Protestant churches are arranging special programs for Easter Sunday. Elaborate musical features and sermons touching on the resurrection of Christ will be given.

M'DERMOTT IS GIVEN PROMOTION

Lieut. Robert McDermott.

Commissioner Hicken announced this morning that Sergeant Robert McDermott has been promoted to the lieutenancy and that he will assume his new title on April 1.

Sergeant McDermott is at present in charge of the New Duluth station and was one of the successful participants in the examinations last year. Commissioner Hicken said this morning that Sergeant McDermott is very often compelled to use his own discretion in handling cases in New Duluth and that as a result it was found necessary to give him the powers of a lieutenant. Some time ago New Duluth residents presented a petition to the commissioner asking the latter to promote Sergeant McDermott to the rank of lieutenant.

Sergeant McDermott was appointed patrolman on July 29, 1907, and on March 1, 1912, was promoted to the sergeantcy.

SUSPECT HELD FOR PETERSON MURDER

Burell W. Billig of Madison, Wis., Arrested in Chicago.

Chicago, March 30.—Burell W. Billig of Madison, Wis., was arrested here early today on suspicion of being connected with the murder of Miss Emma Peterson, who was clubbed to death in Aurora, Ill., two months ago. He is alleged to have told a friend that he was wanted in Aurora for the slaying.

Billig was identified later by Mrs. Catherine Popadek as one of two men who attempted to hold her up and rob her yesterday. Upon questioning by Captain O'Brien today, Billig said his wife was with her parents in Madison, and not in Batavia, Ill., as previously reported.

He declared that on the night Emma Peterson was murdered he was in Madison.

Billig said he formerly worked in Mooseheart and occasionally visited Aurora, the last time on Dec. 15. He said he had read about the Peterson murder. He said he was a hoisting engineer.

"Did you know the Aurora police were looking for a hoisting engineer in connection with the murder?" asked O'Brien.

"No, I didn't know that," answered Billig.

The prisoner was then returned to his cell to await Aurora officers.

MAY SURROUND VILLA TROOPS

Carranza's Army Said to Be Hemming in the Enemy.

Brownsville, Tex., March 30.—There had been no fighting up to noon today between Villa and Carranza factions around Matamoros and no indications that fighting soon would be resumed.

Villa forces now before Matamoros after their unsuccessful attack last Saturday, are likely to find themselves hemmed in by Carranza forces from the west and south, if reports of advancing Carranza troops are true. There already has been some fighting between Villa troops and those of Gen. Vasquez on the south, but nothing further had been heard here early today from Gen. Castro, reported advancing from the west to attack the Villa forces.

No News of Transfer.

Washington, March 30.—Nothing reached the state department today to confirm yesterday's report that Zapata forces were about to evacuate Mexico City again, and that Gen. Obregon, the Carranza chieftain, would reoccupy the capital.

Reports to the state and war departments indicated an impending battle at Nuevo Laredo. Villa troops were reported closing in from Salinas and surrounding towns to concentrate at Lampazos on the way to Nuevo Laredo. Six hundred Carranza troops, under Gen. Herrera were reported within eighteen miles of Nuevo Laredo Monday, marching to join the garrison there.

GRAIN MARKETS TAKE FRESH UPWARD BOUND

Wheat Has Sharp Advance on Bullish News; Exports Reported.

Flaxseed Gains Moderately With Steady Demand From Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 30.—The market was strong up to the close. May wheat closed 3c up, July 3c up and September ⅞c up. May durum closed 2½c up and July 2c up.

Oats closed ⅝c up at 35¾@36¼c for on the track; rye 1c up at $1.08@1.09, and barley unchanged at from 63c to 72c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 33¼c bid and July at 63¼c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.43½ and calls at $1.48⅞.

The wheat market continued its upward course today with a number of factors aiding holders.

A renewal of export inquiry from New York was reported at Winnipeg, and some business was said to have been put through there. Sales of a substantial tonnage were advised at Kansas City, and the market there showed bulges of 1@2c. The working of a fair aggregate of foreign business was also noted at the seaboard, while no export business was put through on the Duluth board, fair inquiry was reported.

Local operators report the situation in spring wheat as very tight. The great bulk of the 119 cars of wheat received here today were said to have been bought to arrive several days ago, and when existing contracts in that connection are cleared up, it is predicted that arrivals will fall away sharply, as previously intimated, supplies remaining in farmers' hands above seeding requirements are thought to be light. That condition exists to an even greater extent at Winnipeg. Receipts there for the two days were reported at 555 cars, but the rush is attributed to efforts to get everything down to the lake ports for the opening of navigation.

Bradstreet's world's visible supply report today was bullish, stocks showing a decrease of over 6,000,000 bu in the week. Snow's estimate of winter wheat was exceedingly favorable, the present condition of the plant being estimated as higher than the average over a series of years, but not equite equal to the extraordinary record of last year. As the supply of moisture is good, there is thought, however, to be a possibility of last year's figure being excelled.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at $1.47, and at once advanced steadily to $1.49¼, and where the quotation rested at around the noon-hour. July opened ½c up at $1.43, and gained 1¾c more. September opened unchanged at $1.13½ and advanced ¾c.

May durum opened unchanged at $1.52, and gained 2c on good inquiry and light offerings. The July future was traded in at 1½c above yesterday's close.

Flaxseed Firmly Held.

Flaxseed was firm on continued good inquiry from crushers. Buying was, however, in small lots, and the market extremely narrow. It is said that holders are sitting tight these days looking for developments that will lead to the makret in the seed being worked up to above its present basis.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.86, and closed ½c up at $1.95½ bid. July opened ½c up at $1.97, and closed ¼c up at $1.97½ bid. September opened unchanged at $1.99½, and closed ¼c up at $1.99½.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.78⅝ bid, July at $1.80¼, and October at $1.83 bid.

C. T. Mears, buyer of the Itasca Elevator company, has returned from a month's vacation spent in Buffalo, Boston, New York and other Eastern centers. Regarding the grain trade, he says that while there is a strong export and general demand for wheat and oats in the East, there is a very limited sale of barley, rye and corn. He heard expressions of opinions on both sides regarding the future course of the market.

Every present indication points to all wheat records in the history of the country being broken in 1915. With conditions anywhere near approaching those of last year, B. W. Snow, statistical expert for Bartlett, Frazier & Co. of Chicago, thinks that last season's crop of 900,000,000 bu should be greatly exceeded. Last year 36,000,000 acres in winter wheat yielded 685,000,000 bu. This year the acreage is between 41,000,000 and 42,000,000. So far weather conditions have been exceedingly encouraging for bumper crops.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from New York: "Export demand has been fairly good this morning, although the volume of business so far reported is limited. Yesterday's export business was much heavier than then reported, and is now placed at about 1,100,000 bu of wheat, mainly late in the day. There is some demand for oats again, although not in large volume."

A favorable comparison with last year in the volume of grain handled at Duluth elevators is now being made. Receipts at the houses during the present crop year from Aug. 1 last up to yesterday aggregated 83,779,014 bu, against 79,645,412 bu a year ago. Wheat receipts were reported at 55,564,938 bu, against 55,587,448 bu last year; corn, 2,241,284 bu, against 431,775 bu; oats, 7,094,148 bu, against 4,953,152 bu; barley, 10,361,120 bu, against 9,653,773 bu; rye, 4,114,020 bu, against 986,527 bu, and flaxseed, 4,738,504 bu, against 8,032,737 bu.

Minneapolis cash market was steady on the top grades, with the demand fair. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5@5½c over May, and velvet chaff 2@4c over May. Flour reports were irregular, but improvement in the domestic demand was noted. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.47 to $1.50½, and No. 2 northern at from $1.42 to $1.48. Stocks in Minneapolis elevators showed a decrease of 310,000 bu in two days.

B. W. Snow's report said: "Returns today, including a majority of the principal wheat growing countries, show the average condition is now higher than last December. Weather conditions during the winter have caused crop improvement, so the spring growth begins with plants showing increased vitality. The December condition was 88.3 per cent and enough reports are at hand to indicate fractional improvement above that figure. This is higher than the average for a series of years, but will not equal the extraordinary record of last year. Winter killed acreage is small, and west of the Missouri river the season opens with an unusually satisfactory moisture supply. There is a possibility that the present crop may be figured as high as it was reckoned at this date a year ago."

Chicago public and private elevator stocks: Wheat, 876,000 bu; decrease, 136,000 bu; last year, 5,632,000 bu. Corn, 16,442,000 bu; decrease, 42,000 bu; last year, 11,851,000 bu. Oats, 12,844,000 bu; increase, 233,000 bu; last year, 8,891,000 bu.

Foreign crop summary:

United Kingdom—Seeding of the new crop is making slow progress, with the weather wet. Area will suffer as a result

France—The outlook for the winter crop is favorable and spring seeding is progressing slowly. Supplies of native wheat are fair.

Germany—Weather is fairly seasonable, and all advices report a large area planted to wheat. Flour prices will reduce from April 1.

Russia—Recently there was severe frost, with partial snow covering over a wide area. The outlook for winter crops is favorable, while it is predicted that there will be a decrease in spring acreage of 10 to 15 per cent.

Roumania—Weather and crop outlook is favorable.

Bulgaria—Crop outlook is favorable, with an increased acreage.

India—Harvest weather is favorable, while dryness continues in late districts. Harvesting confirms a good yield of fine quality.

Argentina—Weather is now favorable but recent damage to quality from heavy continued rain is being confirmed. Argentine shippers are estimating the surplus at 80,000,000 bu, but Broomhall's agent says it is about 104,000,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Firmness characterized the early trading, but the market was dull. Firm American cables and private estimates of reduced exportable surplus in Argentina helped to cause the steadiness. Winters were held at 3d advance, with Plates in good demand at an advance of 3d. Spot market was firm, unchanged to 1d higher, with millers absorbing the floating quantity and local stocks decreasing. India is not offering new crop, and Plate offers are firm. Much mention has been made of possible shipments from Archangel, but these if any will be small.

"Corn—Better spot demand, firmer American cables, steadiness in Buenos Aires, colder here, and increasing consumption has caused spot pressure to disappear. Parcels are more firmly held."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Reduced Estimates of Argentine Surplus Causes Advance in Wheat Price.

Chicago, March 30.—Reduced estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus had much to do today with a decided advance in the price of wheat. Some authorities cut down the figures to the surplus to a total of 80,000,000 bushels. There was also a falling off in the European visible supply, with stocks decreasing at Liverpool. After opening ⅛ to 3c higher, the market steadied at a range ⅝ to 1⅜c above last night.

Assertions that the condition of the domestic winter crop averaged higher now than last December gave only a brief check to the bulls, who were encouraged by reports that little would not enter the west until May, if at all. The close was strong at 1½@c to 3⅛c above last night.

Rough weather in the west tended to make corn firm. Cash houses were buyers. The opening which varied from ⅛ to ¼@⅜c up, was followed by further gains and then a moderate reaction.

Improved shipping call helped later to bring about a fresh upturn. The close was firm at ⅞@1c to 1⅛@1¼c net advance.

Oats climbed owing mainly to adverse conditions for seeding. Commission house orders were nearly all to buy.

Provisions held steady with hogs. Trade was light.

CONFLICTING CONDITIONS

Leading Stocks React and Specialties Continue to Advance.

Dealings in First Hour Are Largest Since Last July.

New York, March 30.—Conflicting conditions were reflected in today's early market, the leaders reacting while specialties continued to forge ahead. Bethlehem Steel sold up to 91½, an over-night gain of 4½ points and a new high record. Rock Island, which displayed sudden animation and strength in yesterday's late dealings, opened with a sale of a block of 5,000 shares at 28½ to 29½, a gain of 2¾ points. Motor shares rose from 2 to 5 points. Canadian Pacific and its allied property, "Soo," were the only other railway issues to gain more than fractions. National Lead advanced 4 points, but United States Steel was lower, despite its high price for the current movement in London.

Dealings in the first hour today were the largest for that period of any session since last July, but diminished toward midday. The highly speculative character of the market was indicated, however, by its extreme feverishness. Bethlehem Steel declined over 5 points from its top figure, but soon recovered much of its loss. Rock Island, concerning which there were rumors of a contest for control at the annual meeting, reacted 5 points and the specialties as a whole were inclined to ease off. All the standard stocks went materially lower, but hardened later when trading became more orderly.

Bonds were steady.

Specialties were in greater demand during the afternoon, the inquiry extending to United States Rubber and half a score of miscellaneous issues, with advances of 2 to 4 points. Leaders continued to show pressure.

Specialties were again the foremost features of today's active market, with numerous substantial gains.

Amalgamated Copper sold above 63 in the final hour and some hitherto dormant specialties, including Texas company, were pushed forward. The closing was irregular.

MARKETS AGAIN FIRM

Grain Men Consider Situation Bullish and Predict Higher Prices.

Large Declines in Elevator Supplies and Export Inquiry Factors.

While trading in wheat was an erratic proposition again during the week, movements in it were not as wide as during the preceding six market days.

Though the swings between quotation extremes extended to a maximum of 5½c a bu, cash wheat at $1.50⅞ at the close of the market yesterday was off just ½c from a week ago. It sold up last Tuesday to $1.54¾, and then off to $1.48¾ last Saturday. This compares with a price of $1.45¾ on March 1, and a high of $1.57 in the crop year, set on Feb. 3.

Factors Thought Bullish.

Sizing all the conditions up, operators are generally bullish on the market situation. Attention is drawn to the decrease of 12,500,000 bu in stocks carried in Duluth and Minneapolis elevators and a diminution of 4,200,000 bu at Port Arthur and Fort William as compared with last year. With the great bulk of the supplies of 22,503,000 bu in the American Northwest elevators and of the 7,679,000 bu carried at the Canadian Head of the Lakes, claimed to be already under contract for export, it is feared that a very tight situation will develop in spring wheat before May 15. Eastern millers, it is predicted, will be on the anxious seat for supplies soon, and will probably be compelled to pay fancy prices before it is all over. The bulk of the grain now being marketed at Duluth, is from interior elevators, with a considerable proportion of it sold to arrive. Elevator men aver that receipts at country elevators have dried up and it is thought they will be nominal during the next few weeks when farmers will engage in their spring seeding operations. July and September wheat quotations have been relatively stronger than May of late due to considerable shifting of trades in the old crop futures and to hedging on advance sales of the new crop.

Operators are on the alert for possible developments through either war or winter crop news that may materialize in the near future. The Dardanelles situation has not been such a potent market factor of late, it being believed that some weeks must elapse before grain will begin to move from Russian ports on the Black sea, and that when it does the tonnage available for shipment will be much below early estimates. More consideration, on the other hand, is being given to winter crop news. Though so far all conditions have been favorable to the growing plant, it is felt that a scare on the score of Hessian flies, dry winds or other kindred ills may develop at any time, so in the interval small penchant is being shown to play the short side of the market.

Flaxseed Turns Strong.

Business in flaxseed has been quiet and featureless of late. Exporters put through as much business as there were supplies to cover some weeks ago and since then they have been endeavoring to pick up anything offering as cheaply as possible.

Flaxseed took an upturn during the past week, the quotation of $1.94 in the cash article yesterday showing an advance of 2¾c during the six trading days as compared with a decline of 14¾c in the preceding week. The reversal in form was brought about through persistent buying on the part of crushers on a realization that available supplies are smaller than had been expected. Domestic demand for linseed oil is said to be showing improvement, and the movement from Argentina has been delayed

TO RESUME WORK ON STEEL PLANT

EVEN DECENT BURIAL IS REFUSED ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY BILL

Motion to Recall It From Committee Ruled Out of Order.

Session May End With Bill Not Even Formally Killed.

Bill Repealing Cashman Distance Tariff Law Is Reported Back.

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—After Speaker Flowers this afternoon had read the Girling resolution, he reversed his decision of the forenoon that the resolution disposed of the efficiency and economy bill and Representative Wefald renewed his motion that the bill be finally disposed of by indefinite postponement. A call for the house was demanded and that body was considering the matter at a late hour.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Even a decent formal burial was refused the efficiency and economy bill this morning. Representative Knud Wefald of Hawley renewed his motion to recall the bill from the committee, to indefinitely postpone it and to discharge the committee from further service, but the motion was ruled out of order on a misapprehension of the facts. Mr. Wefald, in making his motion, said he felt it his duty as a member of the committee having charge of the bill to see that final disposition was made of it.

"I was one of those," he said, "who were willing to vote for the bill, though not ready to swallow it without amendment. It is plain now that nothing can be done with the bill. The newspapers all over the state are asking who killed efficiency and economy, when as a matter of fact nobody knows whether it is alive or dead. I want to know, for one, and that is why I make this motion and demand a roll call upon it."

Representative Lydiard of Minneapolis, seconded by Representative Girling, raised the point of order that the motion could not be entertained because the Girling-Christianson-Norton resolution, adopted Monday, had provided

VILLAGE DESTROYED; FOUR LIVES ARE LOST.

Watertown, N. Y., March 31.—Four lives were lost and damage to the extent of $250,000 was done by a fire which practically destroyed the village of Norfolk in St. Lawrence county early today. Fourteen stores were destroyed as well as two hotels and several residences. The dead: Mrs. J. Thomas, her two children and her sister.

EDWARD INDREHUS

LICENSES FOR ALL HUNTERS

House Passes Bill to Increase Revenues of the Department.

Hearing on Bill Throwing Open Memberships in Grain Exchanges.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house took up its calendar yesterday afternoon for the first time in fifteen days and then spent almost the entire afternoon on a single bill—a game and fish bill.

The bill, which is by the house committee on game and fish, provides that all hunters except those under 21 years of age must take out hunting licenses, paying $1. After extended consideration of a series of amendments, most of which were defeated, the bill was passed, 69 to 46.

The purpose of the bill, the fight for

RUSSIANS REINFORCED

Now Making Supreme Effort to Force Passes in Carpathians.

Teutonic Allies Exerting Every Effort to Check the Invaders.

London, March 31.—The battle of the Carpathian passes now rivals the bombardment of the Dardanelles in political possibilities. German experts assert that the efforts being made by Russia are of such vital importance politically that the supreme command of the Teutonic allies is justified in exerting every effort to check the invader there.

According to this view of the situation, a sudden and dramatic influx of Muscovite hosts through the Carpathians into Hungary might stir the Balkan nations to action long before the tedious attack of the allied fleet on the Dardanelles attains anything approaching a definite result.

On Western Front.

On the western front the Germans are reported to be giving up their plans for breaking through the defenses of the allies near the coast, along the Yser. They are making a new effort along the fortified Franco-German border by bombarding the fortress of Verdun. At the same time the continued bombardment of Nieuport indicates that the Germans are still opposing any extension of the allies' line along the Belgian coast.

Internally England is still concerned with the labor and drink question.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 31, by wireless to Sayville.—At the war office today the following announcement was made:

"West of Pont-a-Mousson French attacks near and east of Regnieville and in the forest of Le Pretre were repulsed. The enemy sustained heavy losses, and at only one place to the west of Forest of Le Pretre is the engagement still continuing.

"Hostile aviators yesterday threw bombs on the Belgian towns of Bruges, Ghistelles and Courtral without doing any damage to military establishments. In Courtral near a

CRUISER MAY HAVE SUNK A SUBMARINE

Paris, March 31.—A statement indicating that a German submarine may have been sunk by a French cruiser was given out today by the ministry of marine. It is as follows:

"Yesterday afternoon a French light cruiser sighted a German submarine maneuvering on the surface off Dieppe. The cruiser immediately gave chase, forcing the submarine to dive, turning meanwhile at the periscope and turning in order to ram it with the bow.

"The cruiser passed above the submarine at the moment the periscope disappeared, and from the spot where the submarine was last seen quantities of oil flowed to the surface."

PASSENGER ON LA TOURAINE IS CHARGED WITH FIRING STEAMER

SUSPECT IS ARRESTED BY PARIS POLICE

Raymond Swoboda Held After Investigation of Fire on Ship.

Suspected as "Having Close Relations With the Enemy."

Paris, March 31.—Raymond Swoboda, one of the passengers aboard the French line steamer La Touraine, which was imperiled by a fire at sea on March 6, has been arrested charged with setting fire to the vessel, according to the Matin.

Swoboda, the paper asserts, is suspected of having "close relations with the enemy," and correspondence found in his rooms is said to indicate he had been charged with the task of blowing up the Touraine. He has been taken to Havre.

Blaze Caused By Explosion.

Investigation made by experts appointed by Admiral Charlier, who is conducting the inquiry into the steamship fire, has established, it is said, the fact that the blaze aboard the La Touraine must have been caused by the explosion of some detonating device. Statements made by passengers and members of the crew support this theory. The explosion was sufficiently violent to wrench loose the doors of cabins nearby. The authorities be-

Rome, March 30, via Paris, March 31.—Official reports received from Serbia state that the sanitary situation in that country has been much improved owing to the assistance received from friendly nations, including the United States. Medical supplies are badly needed, however, especially for the wounded.

The spirit of the Serbian army is said to be unbroken and the soldiers anxious for another opportunity to face the Austrians. The entire nation has bent its energies to making preparations for the next campaign.

Two hundred cannon captured from the Austrians are reported to have been added to the Serbian artillery while the ammunition obtained from the same source is sufficient to last for several months.

AN AMERICAN CITIZEN AMONG THOSE LOST ON TORPEDOED STEAMSHIP

Leon Chester Thrasher Passenger on the British Ship Falaba.

American Engineer Who Has Been Living in West Africa.

His Mother Is a Resident of City of Hardwick, Mass.

London, March 31.—The official announcement is made that among the missing passengers of the steamer Falaba, which was sunk by a German submarine is Leon Chester Thrasher, an American engineer, who had been living for the past year on the Gold Coast, British West Africa.

Thrasher had an American passport and in the form he was required to fill out before embarking, described himself as an American citizen, but gave no American address. He was employed by the Broomassie mines, Ltd. Inquiry at the offices of the company in London elicited the information that nothing had been heard from Thrasher and that it was presumed he had been drowned.

The Daily Mail in an editorial in connection with the drowning of Thrasher says that the question whether the Washington government will permit a belligerent to destroy an unoffending passenger ship, carrying an American citizen, without giving that citizen any opportunity to escape, is raised in its sharpest form.

Company Did Not Know.

Leon Chester Thrasher, who was among the 111 persons who lost their lives when the British steamer Falaba was torpedoed last Sunday by a German submarine in St. George's channel, probably was an American citizen, although the officials of the Broomassie mines company, which had employed him to go to the Gold Coast, did not see his passport and have no positive proof of his citizenship.

When the company was arranging Mr. Thrasher's insurance he said he had no relatives or friends in America to whom he wanted the money paid; consequently the insurance was made out to the company.

Mr. Thrasher applied to the Abosso

End of Long Period of Stagnation at Plant in Sight.

Will Involve Resumption of Work on Universal Cement Plant.

Work on Duluth's steel plant will be resumed probably before the end of next week, according to an official announcement made by President Farrell of the United States Steel corporation today.

The following letter was received by The Herald today from W. J. Olcott, president of the Oliver Iron Mining company:

"I am pleased to advise you of the receipt of the following telegram from Mr. Farrell, president, United States Steel corporation:

"'Work on Minnesota steel plant will be resumed. John Reis will visit Duluth next week for purpose of going over work and starting operations. It has been the intention to resume work this spring.

"'J. A. FARRELL.'

"I might say for your information that Mr. Reis is vice president of the corporation, in charge of construction of plants.

"I am pleased to advise you of this telegram and am sure that it will be encouraging information to the people of Duluth and the state of Minnesota, especially at this time.

"You are at liberty to use this information as you may deem most advisable. Very truly yours,

"W. J. OLCOTT,
"President."

Construction work on the Duluth plant has never been entirely discontinued. Least fall the greater part of the crew was laid off, but from 100 to 200 men have been employed since that time, doing only work that was necessary. Material that was on hand and had to be taken care of to prevent waste was put in place, but no effort was made to undertake new work.

The telegram received today is taken to mean that the old force will be employed. Before the shutdown came, 700 to 1,000 men were employed, and this force will probably be gradually restored.

The resumption of work on the steel plant will also bring the resumption on the plant of the Universal Portland Cement company, which has been also at a standstill.

Since the cessation of work the steel plant district has been in a condition of stagnation. Many of the men out of work were given temporary employment constructing sewers for the city, but many others have been out of employment since last fall.

The resumption of activities was forecasted in the annual report of Judge Gary, chairman of the board of directors, published last week in The Herald. He stated that about $3,000,000 worth of work had to be done on the plant to complete it, and hoped it would be done this year.

AUSTRIANS LOST 18,000 IN HUNGARY,

Geneva, via Paris, March 31.—Austrian losses in Lyutta valley and the province of Bereg (Northeast Hungary) on the day of March 28, are estimated at 18,000, according to dispatches received by Swiss newspapers. These advices state that a column of 4,000 Austrians was annihilated in less than an hour during a desperate action in Bereg province, six miles north of Vereczke. Austrian troops in this territory are reported to be demoralized as the result of their enormous losses.

SIXTEEN HUNDRED TONS OF COAL FOR GERMAN CRUISER

Commander Thierichens Is Evidently Planning to Make Dash for Sea.

May Try to Dodge Hostile Warships on Dark Night.

Newport News, Va., March 31.—Barge loads of coal for the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich were brought down in Hampton Roads this afternoon. Commander Thierichens plans to begin coaling his raider late today.

Sixteen hundred tons of steam coal, carefully weighed and inspected and loaded on barges at Sewall's Point, early today, was persistently reported in marine circles to be for the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, although port officials declared they had no knowledge of such a cargo being prepared for the German raider.

Marine experts strengthened their conclusions by calculating that 1,600 tons is about the amount which would be required to take the Prinz Eitel to her nearest home port. Coupling those circumstances with repeated declarations of the Eitel's commander and crew that they would make a dash to sea on a favorable opportunity, shipping circles today were seriously considering the possibility that Commander Thierichens might make good his challenge to the hostile cruisers outside the capes and make a dash on a dark or foggy night.

DETERMINED TO RAISE SUBMARINE

Government Wants to Learn Cause of Accident to F-4.

Washington, March 31.—Secretary Daniels was determined today to raise the sunken submarine F-4 in Honolulu harbor no matter what the operation may cost. He wants to learn the cause of the accident so as to avoid similar disasters in the future.

Expenditure of $20,000 to bring the sunken submarine F-4 to the surface in Honolulu harbor was authorized by Secretary Daniels today after a message had been received from Rear Admiral Moore saying that the hawser attached to the boat had parted and that present equipment was too light to raise her.

Work Suspended.

Honolulu, T. H., March 31.—Grapnel cables attached to a heavy object, believed to be the lost submarine F-4, parted late yesterday and work was suspended for the night. The spot was carefully marked and it was announced another attempt would be made early today to grapple the object.

A huge diving tube which engineers have been hastily constructing was completed last night.

Twenty-one coffins have been delivered at the navy dock for the ill-fated crew of the F-4.

Jap Diet Summoned.

New York, March 31.—The East and West News bureau received today the following dispatch from Tokio: "The emperor has called for an extra session of the diet, to open on May 17 and continue for three weeks.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

After a brief lull in the fight for possession of Dukla pass in the Carpathians the Russians have brought up reinforcements and resumed the attack. At Vienna it is said that the Russians have not been able to gain their objective at any point along the Carpathians front for the invasion of Hungary and that they were defeated in Bukowina yesterday. Dispatches to Swiss newspapers, however, say the Austrians have suffered enormous losses in Northeastern Hungary. It is estimated that they lost 18,000 men on Sunday, and the Russians are credited with annihilating a column of 4,000 Austrians in one hour.

The increasing pressure of the Russians on this front, together with the fall of Przemysl, may have an influence on the operations in the west. The report is being spread in Holland that the Germans are contemplating the abandonment of their present line in Belgium in favor of a less extended front running slightly west of Brussels, and that withdrawal of German cavalry from the Yser line already has begun.

A Russian victory in the campaign against Turkey is announced from the headquarters of the Caucasian army. In the fighting in Turkish Armenia along the coast of the Black sea, the Russians captured the town of Artvin.

German warships have again bombarded the Russian part of Libau, on the Baltic. Three persons were killed during two attacks.

As the result of an investigation of the fire on the steamship La Touraine on March 6, the Paris police have arrested a passenger described as Raymond Swoboda, who was listed on the ship's record as "an American subject." A Paris newspaper says the man is suspected of having "close relations with the enemy" and having been charged with the task of blowing up the La Touraine.

A defeat of German forces in Northern Poland, attended with unusually heavy losses is reported unofficially from Petrograd. This information is to the effect that the Germans in the Niemen river district attempted a flanking movement. Petrograd states that the maneuver failed and that "entire divisions" of Germans were annihilated. The German official statement of today, while making no specific reference to such an engagement, announces that the Russians have suffered reversals at various points near the Prussian frontier.

Concerning the western front, the Berlin communication states that French assaults were beaten back with heavy losses to the attacking forces. The French war office says the situation is unchanged.

A German submarine was sighted and attacked by a French cruiser off Dieppe. A statement from the French marine ministry indicates that the submarine may have been sunk.

The British steamer Fluminian was sunk in the English channel by the German submarine U-28. The crew were rescued.

Motion to Recall It From Committee Ruled Out of Order.

Bill Repealing Cashman Distance Tariff Law Is Reported Back.

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—After Speaker Glowen this afternoon had read the Girling resolution, he announced his decision of the forenoon that the resolution disposed of the efficiency and economy bill and Representative Wefald renewed his motion that the bill be finally disposed of by indefinite postponement. A call for the house was demanded and that body was considering the matter at a late hour.

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—After a decent funeral had been refused the efficiency and economy bill this morning, Representative Wefald of Hawley renewed his motion to recall the bill from the committee, to indefinitely postpone it and to discharge the committee from further service, but the motion was ruled out of order on a point of the facts. Mr. Wefald, in making his motion, said he felt it his duty as a member of the committee having charge of the bill to see that final disposition was made of it.

"I, and many of those," he said, "who were standing to vote for the bill, though not ready to swallow it without any amendment, if is plain now that nothing can be done with the bill. The people in all over the state are asking for a bill for efficiency and economy, whether it is alive or dead. I want to know, for one good that is why I make this motion. I now demand a roll call upon it."

Representative Lydiard of Minneapolis said he did not desire the striking from the record of the motion that the committee be entertained because of the Speaker's decision. Norton's resolution, on last Monday, had provided

RUSSIANS REINFORCED

Now Making Supreme Effort to Force Passes in Carpathians.

Teutonic Allies Exerting Every Effort to Check the Invaders.

London, March 31.—The battle of the Carpathian passes now rivals the bombardment of the Dardanelles in political possibilities. German experts assert that the efforts being made by Russia are of such vital importance politically that the supreme command of the Teutonic allies is justified in exerting every effort to check the invader there.

According to this view of the situation, a sudden and dramatic influx of Muscovite hosts through the Carpathians into Hungary might stir the Balkan nations to action long before the tedious attack of the allied fleet on the Dardanelles attains anything approaching a definite result.

On Western Front.

On the western front the Germans are reported to be giving up their plans for breaking through the defenses of the allies near the coast, along the Yser. They are making a new effort along the fortified Franco-German border by bombarding the fortress of Verdun. At the same time the continued bombardment of Nieuport indicates that the Germans are still opposing any extension of the allies' line along the Belgian coast.

Internally England is still concerned with the labor and drink question.

"The West Superior street job completed last summer from Twelfth avenue west to Thirtieth avenue west is one of the finest pieces of street construction work which any city can show. The utilization of day labor for part of the street improvement and construction work has placed the work more directly under the control of the city and has meant a substantial saving in several instances.

"Personally, I know that Mr. Murchison is always anxious to comply with the wishes of property owners when it is at all feasible and he gives careful, personal attention to every one who wishes to go over street improvement matters in their district with him.

"I know some thing of the Twenty-seventh ave west job, about which there has been considerable criticism, for I live on Twenty-seventh avenue. The contractor who did that work was sued in the district court and beaten, and the money is now available for fixing up the street.

"The situation to my mind resolves itself into the candidacy of a man who has been tried, who has produced good work and saved money, against the candidacies of men of whose ability in this difficult position we know nothing."

VANDAL ROBS CHURCH.

Negaunee, Mich., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The St. Paul's Catholic church was robbed Tuesday morning or Monday evening by some unknown person. The robber stole a gold ciborium and a gold pyx, both valued at over $100, from the tabernacle in the basement of the church. In order to get into the tabernacle the burglar had to break through a door. The guilty party has not yet been discovered, but the police force is alert. All the police forces of the Upper Peninsula have been notified. Other church fixtures that where also on the same place where the ciborium and pyx were were thrown over the floor.

DULUTHIANS IN FLORIDA

Voss Tells of Meeting Theodore Mapp, A. E. Zimmerman, Frank Young and Franklin Coventry.

News of former Duluthians, now living in Florida, was brought back by Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division, who returned late yesterday afternoon from a two weeks' visit at Palm Beach and vicinity.

Theodore Mapp, who worked on The Herald up to four years ago, is now on the Stuart Herald and is also operating a small orchard outside of Stuart. Frank L. Young, another former Duluth newspaperman, is running the Salerno News and also conducting a grocery store in the small Florida town.

At Stuart, Fla., Commissioner Voss accidentally ran into Franklin Coventry, who is conducting the principal hotel in the town. The latter entertained the city official on several motor trips and was also his host at a fishing party on Inland river, where Commissioner Voss caught forty fish in one morning.

While going through Lantana, Fla., Mr. Voss met A. E. Zimmerman, former deputy city clerk of Duluth, who is now in the real estate business.

BET ON QUEENS.

Penny Ante Player Lost $20 in Ten-Hour Session.

PENNY ante poker is the great American game, but when playing, one should not bet too heavily on a pair of queens, according to Municipal Judge Frank H. Cutting, when Adam Brinski complained that he had lost $20 at penny ante, this morning.

Brinski said that he always held queens in one form or another, and that one of his four opponents always held better hands. He lost as much as $2 and $3 at a time, he said, but although he played from 6 o'clock in the evening until 4 the next morning, he was only $20 out.

Judge Cutting told Brinski that he was lucky not to have lost more than that in a ten-hour session, as long as he persisted in betting on queens.

He fined the four other players, who are Finnish laborers, $3 or three days in jail, and Brinski was fined a similar amount for gambling and then proving himself such a poor loser.

NEW JUDGE GETS TIPS FROM CUTTING

Two Harbors' First Justice Shows Interest in Session Here.

Two Harbors' first municipal judge, who will take the bench Monday for the first time in the city's history, watched the workings of justice in Judge F. H. Cutting's division of the municipal court at police headquarters this morning. He is W. B. Woodward.

At the last election Two Harbors citizens voted out the saloons and voted in a municipal judge. Before this time they have been governed by a magistrate, and the court has not been a court of record.

Civil cases will form the principal part of the work of the new court, according to the newly elected judge, as Two Harbors can boast of but one arrest for drunkenness since Jan. 1.

Judge Woodward showed considerable interest in the cases and the methods of disposition. He stated that Two Harbors' court probably would be patterned after that of Duluth.

AGED MAN ARRESTED.

Willing to Go to Workhouse But Not as Beggar.

"I might as well go to the workhouse as any other place," said Frank Miller, age 69, a German laborer arrested for begging yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Kreager.

"If I do go to jail or the workhouse, I am too old a man to go as a beggar, though," he told police, when he refused to plead guilty to a charge of begging.

He will be arraigned in municipal court this afternoon, when he probably will plead guilty to a charge of vagrancy, according to police.

Miller is alleged to have been going from house to house in search of food and money. He was arrested when a telephone call was received from Eighteenth avenue east and First street.

SILK SHIRT HIS UNDOING.

Prince Cleveland Would Live Up to Name; Arrested.

Unable to resist the lure of a gaudy silk shirt displayed on a bargain counter at the Glass Block store this morning, Prince Cleveland, age 40, colored, attempted to make his getaway with the vivid wearing apparel tucked under his arm. He was unable to dodge the watchful eye of a floor walker, however, and was held until Detective Herman Toewe arrived on the scene.

Cleveland, who is all that his first name implies, as far as personal appearance is concerned, will be arraigned in municipal court this afternoon. He is charged with petty larceny.

U. S. ARTILLERY AT BROWNSVILLE.

Brownsville, Tex., March 31.—Three batteries of United States Third field artillery arrived here early today to be ready if necessary to protect Brownsville when Matamoros is under attack. Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston, sent here by the war department to see that the American border is not violated, expressed himself as pleased at the prompt movement of the artillery. It entrained in San Antonio yesterday.

Matamoros was quiet early today with no indications when the Villa troops would begin the attack, which has caused fear of the risk to Brownsville through rifle or cannon fire.

During the night two skirmishes were heard at widely separated points. One of these indicated that the Villa forces have penetrated to the river front below Matamoros, thereby cutting the city off and establishing from the Mexican side a nominal state of siege. This line is too long and the Villa troops too few to make such a blockade very effective at present.

BIG-HEARTED WOODSMAN BURIED AT GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph Bovey, a pioneer woodsman of this section, died at the Boyd & Gilbert camp of the C. M. Erskine Timber company. He got up in the morning, built a fire and was going to help make breakfast when he became ill. He was helped to his bunk, and when it was seen that he was dying, a doctor was sent for, but he died within a few minutes afterward, apparently of heart failure. He was a camp cook and had been employed for the last thirty years in the woods around Grand Rapids.

He was 56 years of age, and he had no known relatives. He was sincerely loved by his fellow workmen and his employers, a man of the true, old fashioned lumberjack type, big hearted and generous to a fault. Like many of his type, he left no worldly goods, not enough even to bury him. The funeral was held yesterday from the Kremer undertaking rooms, Rev. A. A. Myers officiating.

HAMMOND TO SPEAK HERE

Governor, C. B. Miller and Preus Will Attend Banquet.

Commercial Club Plans Elaborate Program for April 29.

Plans for the annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club to be held on April 29 at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue, are rapidly nearing completion. Five speakers have been secured for the affair, among whom will be Governor Winfield Scott Hammond and Congressman Clarence B. Miller.

Congressman Miller has promised to be present at the banquet unless unexpectedly detained. Among the other speakers will be State Auditor J. A. O. Preus, Mayor W. L. Prince and County Attorney Warren E. Greene. Mason M. Forbes will be toastmaster.

The supper will be served at 7 o'clock by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Asbury Methodist church. The women of this society will be assisted by the women of several other church organizations of West Duluth in serving the meal.

The committee in charge has placed a limit of 300 on the number of guests to be admitted to the affair. This number, it is believed, will tax the capacity of the hall. The committee expects to have the tickets for the affair out within a few days.

'WOLF' STAMPEDES MIDNIGHT DINERS

Unearthly Cry of Victim Stirs Police; Dog Is Cause.

A scream, one of those unearthly kind that is read about in fiction, startled the quietude of West Duluth shortly after midnight. Sergeant Andree and a patrolman standing on the corner of Central avenue and Ramsey street, acknowledge that they jumped fully three feet when they heard it and immediately came to the conclusion that a horrible murder had been committed.

The scream came from the rear of the Buffalo restaurant, 327 North Central avenue. The policeman rushed into and through the restaurant while the sergeant rushed around to the alley to prevent, if possible, the culprit from escaping. As the sergeant got to the alley, he saw an enormous animal rushing south through the alley towards Bristol street.

In the restaurant the policeman found Ed Young, known by the majority of the patrons as "Sleepy," on the point of collapse.

"A wolf," he said, "a monster was hid in the coal box and jumped at me when I started to get a bucketful of coal. I guess the yell I let out of me scared him because he ran out through the alley with lightning speed. I just reached into the box to fill the scuttle, when the beast with a growl, jumped. Say, I nearly had a fit. I had just got through reading the story about Olson at New Duluth nearly being caught by wolves and when I saw this one, well say, I nearly died."

In the meantime Sergeant Andree had gone up the alley following up the wolf. When he got to the corner by the postoffice the animal had come to a stop and was looking back. The animal proved to be "Tige," a Great Dane dog, belonging to Dr. David Graham. The dog is one of the largest in the city and a great pet with many of the citizens.

"GOOD GOVERNMENT" COMMITTEE FORMED.

A "good government" committee was formally organized last night at a meeting held at 319 North Central avenue. Plans for another meeting to be held this evening at which arrangements will be made to make a house to house canvass in the interest of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, C. E. Evens and W. L. Bernard, as well as Judge W. L. Windom, were made.

W. A. Pond was elected chairman of the committee; Thomas Olafson, vice chairman; Herman Nyhus, secretary, and W. B. Getchell, treasurer. A mass meeting was scheduled to be held Saturday evening at the Moose hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street. Several of the candidates will speak at this meeting.

Birthday Surprise.

Mrs. Eliza Carpenter, 5 South Sixty-eighth avenue west, was pleasantly surprised yesterday afternoon by a number of her friends and neighbors in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Carpenter was presented with a handsome gift. Music featured the afternoon's entertainment. The guests were: Mesdames P. Gilley, Archie Herbert, Francis McNulty, Mary McNulty, G. Showers, Humphrey Jones, Andrew Erickson, Henry Miller, A. Landry, George Dale, E. Kuchenbecker, R. Sommers, M. J. O'Connon, O. C. Lemelin, E. J. Melhorn, F. D. Crooker and Misses Bertha Colburn, June Colburn and Helen McNulty.

Congregation to Meet.

The first annual congregational supper of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street, will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church basement. The annual business meeting of the congregation will be held following the supper. Reports of officers and the election will be the principal business.

Track Team Active.

The R. E. Denfeld high school track team is getting out for regular practice several times each week and expects to make a good showing at the interscholastic meet to be held this spring. There are fifteen candidates trying for the team. Prof. Helstand is the director.

Grass Fires Numerous.

Grass fires are still giving the firemen at Station No. 8 plenty of work to do. During the afternoon yesterday the department responded to three different alarms and this morning at 11 o'clock another alarm from Sixtieth avenue and Eighth street brought them out.

The fires have been started principally by boys. The heavy wind drives the fires through the dry grass with great rapidity and has at times threatened several houses nearby. Although the boys have been warned to stop setting fire to the grass little attention has been paid to the warning, say the firemen.

West Duluth Briefs.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors, Fifty-seventh avenue and Wadena street. Mrs. A. Dahl will be hostess.

John Anderson 5916 Polk street, returned yesterday from an extended visit in Canada.

SPRINKLING DISTRICTS

Council Designates Streets Where Water or Oil Will Be Used.

Many Minor Changes Made From Last Year's List.

Members of the city commission at a special council meeting this morning established the street cleaning and water and oil sprinkling districts for 1915 and also heard the reading of a resolution appropriating $20,000 from the general fund to be used for this purpose during the coming summer by the division of public works.

There will be fourteen water and eight oil districts this year, the same number as in 1914, although Commissioner Murchison explains that many smaller changes and additions have been made in the list of last summer. The money used by the city will be paid next winter by the property owners benefited by the sprinkling of either water or oil. At that time a sprinkling tax will be levied to be collected by the finance department.

Last year the division of public works spent $18,000 for cleaning and sprinkling purposes, but a larger levy is being made for this year as a number of new streets have been added to the 1914 list.

Reasons for Suicide.

Ellendale, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Despondency over business reverses, and the fact that his wife had just been informed that she was suffering from cancer in serious form, are said to have prompted James Paige, of Spokane, Wash., formerly a prominent resident of this city, to kill himself at Spokane.

Beautiful Easter Wraps

Fit to blend with lovely costumes that may grace the Easter day promenade wherever it may be. And of a style that lifts it to the realm of distinctive. For all of this we strive, traverse fashion centers, go direct to looms to be sure of the fabrics. And it pays—pays in the reward of giving Duluth women the handsomest wraps that money can buy at moderate prices.

One and all are either direct adaptations of models by Paquin, Callot, Beer, Bernard Agnes, Drecoll and Cheruit and show the various influences of the latest Fashion decrees formulated by these really great artists. And many beautiful White Chinchilla Coats shown among them.

A Wonderful Collection of Suits From $22.50 to $57.50
Gowns for Street, Afternoon and Evening Wear.

This is the Season of "The Sailor"

It has many variations. It is flat and round. It is sometimes a medium size, and sometimes quite large. But it is smart always, and has a charm distinctly its own. There are fetching wing-trimmed sailors. There are demure sailors, with posies and ribbons. There are saucy little sailors, with smart bows. Women interested in new millinery will find a collection of new models, from $7.50 upward, particularly worth seeing.

MINNESOTA FARMERS GROWING PROSPEROUS

Fred Berry, one of the best known scale salesmen in the United States, is registered at the St. Louis today. Mr. Berry declares that the farmers of Minnesota are rapidly approaching the prosperity level of their agrarian brothers of Iowa, and that the stocking of the farms of Minnesota with cattle that are the product of high-bred sires is enriching the state to a greater extent than some of the city folks guess.

"For a number of years the farmers of Iowa have been among the best customers of the scale manufacturers," said Mr. Berry. "Down in that country they have the money and the need for both scales and the small power engines. Now our farmers are getting where they are selling direct and are doing their own weighing on their own farms.

"I traveled over the farming district of Iowa for several years. No one can travel in the Hawkeye state without being impressed with the wealth of its farmers. While the farmers of Minnesota are some laps behind the farmers of Iowa in accumulation of the world's goods, they are rapidly arriving in that class and are progressing as the result of the application of scientific methods."

MARSHALL COUNTY TO HAVE ELECTION

Question of License or No License to Be Voted on in June.

Warren, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Over seventy delegates from thirty-one voting precincts out of fifty-six in Marshall county met for the county option convention here yesterday. A local committee issued the call for the convention. W. F. Powell of Warren was elected chairman. A treasurer and a secretary were also elected and an organization perfected. They decided to circulate petitions to hold a special election on the question of license in the county. About 800 names are required to call the election. The sentiment of the delegates at the convention was to hand the petitions to the county auditor in time for him to call the election for June 14, which date was the most satisfactory to the farmers present.

FARGO BOY HELD FOR AUTO THEFT.

Moorhead, Minn., March 31.—Glenn McCarthy, a 17-year-old Fargo youth was held to the Clay grand jury here to answer to the charge of stealing an automobile from the streets of Moorhead on Saturday. The lad had been in similar trouble before, and was taken into custody by the Fargo police upon the request of Chief Malvey of Moorhead. McCarthy admitted the theft and told where he had hidden the car.

ASHLAND PETITION IS BEING CHECKED.

Ashland, Wis., March 31.—The petition of the no-licence advocates against issuing further licenses in this city, upon which the people will be called on to vote at the coming election has been filed with City Clerk Morris. It contains 241 names and if all pass muster when checked by the clerk, will be sufficient to warrant calling the election on the license proposition. It is said the petition bears some names, not found on the registry lists, of people who are still bona fide voters.

FARGO ELECTION IS LIVELY AFFAIR

Involves First Application of Initiative and Referendum in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Interest in the application of the initiative and the referendum for the first time in the history of the city and the state, has aroused the voters of Fargo. Meetings are being held each night to consider the waterworks ordinance creating a permanent sinking fund for the filtration plant.

The heavier taxpayers are opposed, while the smaller ones are indifferent or are favorable. Discussions are so warm over the measure that to some extent the personnel of the candidates for commissioner is being overlooked. The election occurs Tuesday.

"SAFETY FIRST" DOOM OF OLD-TIME BARBER.

Beloit, Wis., March 31.—"There will be no barber shops for shaving after the present generation of old men dies off," says John Keenan, dean of Beloit's barbers. "The young bloods are learning to shave themselves, but the older business and professional men think they are too busy. All the young fellows have the habit. When the old men go, manicuring and haircutting will be the last stands of the barbers—until some safety-first fiends invents a haircutter."

Bismarck Franchise Declined.

Bismarck, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Ployhar of Valley City, to whom the city commission of Bismarck recently granted a franchise for the establishment of a gas plant here, has turned down the offer, and has asked extensive amendments which would eliminate features which he objects to.

"A Talcum for Men"

The well-groomed man objects to a coating of white powder that advertises to the world the fact that he has just shaved. Yet the use of a good talcum powder after shaving is highly desirable, because of the protection and antiseptic value which it affords.

The average man's skin requires a powder of a "natural" or neutral color, one free from the objectionable pallor of a pure white talcum.

Mennen's Brunette Talcum has proved to be so popular as a distinctive man's powder—its color and its perfume so pleasing—that it has been called "The Talcum for Men."

If you have found the use of talcum powder objectionable in the past, send for a sample of Mennen's Brunette Talcum. It will please you.

MADE NO PROTEST TO FOREIGN LOANS

State Department Has Raised No Objections to Business of Banks.

Washington, March 31.—The state department has not felt justified, Secretary Bryan announced today, in objecting to credit arrangements made with belligerent governments by American financiers insofar as they have been brought to the department's attention. Secretary Bryan said the department had taken no action and expressed no opinion on them.

Secretary Bryan issued this statement:

"The state department has from time to time received information, directly or indirectly, to the effect that belligerent nations had arranged with banks in the United States for credits in various sums. While loans to belligerents have been disapproved, this government has not felt that it was justifield in interposing objections to the credit arrangements which have been brought to its attention. It has neither approved these nor disapproved—it has simply taken no action in the premises and expressed no opinion."

Secretary Bryan was asked if his statement referred to large loans recently reported to be under negotiation in this country by the French, Russian and other belligerent governments. The secretary replied that his statement referred only to those negotiations that had been called to the departments attention.

KNIFE-WIELDER IS TAKEN AFTER TUSSLE

Brandishes Steel in International Falls Hotel, Making Threats.

International Falls, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Policemen were given a lively tussle Monday night by Mike Vitsch, who was arrested for pulling a knife on another man in the Skandia hotel. Vitsch became obnoxious about the hotel, swearing and making considerable disturbance.

A young woman passing down the hall was grabbed by him, but after a tussle managed to escape, and told a man who was boarding at the place what had happened. The latter immediately went out to deal with the boisterous one, and was driven to the shelter of the room occupied by the young woman and her sister. Vitsch having drawn a knife and pursued him to the door, which was locked. A look over the transom at the man brandishing the knife and threatening to kill all three sufficed for the man locked in the room, and he made his escape through a window to the ground and notified the police.

Two members of that body responded and encountered considerable difficulty in landing the accused behind the bars. Vitsch was sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail.

Forks Plasterer Hurt.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Sorenson, a plasterer, may lose the sight of both eyes as a result of an accident. He was engaged yesterday in plastering a ceiling when a quantity of plaster lodged in one eye. Within a few hours both were badly affected, and the sight of both may be permanently affected.

CITY POLITICS AS SEEN BY HIGH SCHOOL PAPER

Pre-Election Promises and Performances Afterwards Reviewed in Verse By Contributor to Central High Gazette.

Even the high school pupils are getting into the city campaign. Not that they are taking an active part in it for any particular candidate or candidates, but in the latest publication of the Central high school paper, the Gazette, one of the contributors takes an indiscriminate "rap" at candidates in general, and so wrought up was he in the matter that he burst into rhyme.

The verses—coming "out of the mouths of babes," as it were, give some sage advice to voters as follows:

Now's the time when candidates besiege us by the score.
We listen to their wrangling until our ears are sore.
They hold big booster meetings to obtain the people's votes.
They stuff us full of promises and get our little goats.
They tell us how they'll fight the trusts and Mammon's cunning hoard;
They tell the landlord, "Woe to him who fails to pay his board."
They brag about their politics and praise their honesty;
They slam their adversaries with bad eggs and travesty.
"If you want good government," they clamorously shout,
"Don't vote for that old bonehead 'cause he's crooked with the gout.
Just come along this way and join the crowd that follows me,
For I'm the Guy that put the fish inside efficiency.
I'll pave your alleys cheaper, you may hang me if I don't,
I'll buy your cars and jitneys and construct a unit plant.
I'll put the barrooms out of biz and stop the sale of cuds,
Or if you want a liquid town, I'll plant some barley buds.
I stand for law enforcement, too, whatever that may be,
My motto is and always has been: 'Strict Economy'
You're struggling under taxes that would choke a millionaire;
Just give your Uncle Bill a chance to put things on the square.
What my opponent scatters round about is really only guff,
But believe me, fellow citizens, I never ring a bluff!"
When election's over and the smoke has cleared away,
Our bold, outspoken candidate has not so much to say.
He finds that gen'rous promises are easier to make
Than laying million dollar mains from hill-top to the lake.
He finds that all the people do not want the law enforced;
He finds his policies are not so readily indorsed.
The public on the other hand receive some sudden jolts,
They find that they've been hoodwinked for about ten thousand volts.
They thought their candidate a saint, who'd cure all their ills,
But now they've got to back him grudgingly and pay the bills.
Whene'er you hear a candidate o'er all his virtues rave,
Just take it with a grain of salt and hunt your little cave;
Weigh not the words, but all his deeds and also his career,
For the candidate who talks the most is often least sincere.

Y. M. C. A. WILL BE HOST TO WHOLESALE HOUSE EMPLOYES

During the year the Y. M. C. A. has been conducting a series of informal parties in the gymnasium for various groups throughout the city, young people's societies of the churches, business houses, railroad centers, wholesale houses, etc. These have been very popular and they bring the men in contact wtih each other in a social way.

Because of the large space in the gymnasium the crowds can be handled to good advantage and it brings the association with its equipment to the attention of a great many people who would otherwise not have an opportunity.

Tonight the association will be host to the Marshall-Wells Hardware company. More than 500 personal invitations have been sent out to the employes of that large concern. A committee with J. W. Walker, chairman, representing the men and Miss Myrtle Cox, representing the women, has met and planned with the Y. M. C. A. secretaries a program of interesting events for this evening. Various kinds of contests, games, jokes, musical and literary numbers, refreshments and a trip through the building promise to make the evening a most pleasant occasion. It is expected that nearly 250 of the Marshall-Wells employes will avail themselves of this opportunity. One feature of the evening will be a male quartet from the warehouse, music on the bagpipes by another employe, and a dramatic farce conducted by the young women of the institution.

A committee of young men in the association is working today planning a reception for this group and making the evening a pleasant one for all who shall come.

DYE STUFF SCARCITY IS GETTING SERIOUS

War Blockade Shutting Off Supply May Hurt Wisconsin Industries.

Ladysmith, Wis., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The purchasing agent of the Menasha Paper company, which has its main office here, states that on account of the European war, the dyestuff or color situation is becoming alarming and serious and some of the colors are already exhausted, and not even an effort is being made to secure them.

Three large Wisconsin paper companies, manufacturing fruit paper, have already asked their customers to accept their product in its natural color as the dyes are impossible to procure. Domestic color men and importers agree that if the German blockade is not lifted before the first of June the paper, textile and leather industries will be obliged to produce all of their products without the artificial coloring.

Being Doled Out.

The little color there is in this country at the present time is being doled out by the importers and the domestic manufacturers in meager, proportionate quantities to their regular customers. Upon the recent arrival of the steamers Matanzas and Warren from Bremen, it finally concluded the shipment of colors for the present. Colors that sold before the war at 25 cents per pound are now bringing $2 per pound.

MANY THRILLS IN 'Y' CIRCUS PROGRAM

Rehearsals Now Going on Daily for Big Two-Ring Event.

The program for the "Y" circus is now about complete, and the many performers are going through daily grinds to get in form for the annual event, which will take place at the "gym" on April 8 and 9. The dates are but a little more than a week ahead, and rehearsals will be pushed with vim by Physicial Director Olson.

The circus this year promises to be better than ever, and some features that have never had an equal in "Y" annals will be given. In addition to the many athletic stunts some of the most talented musicians of the city will be on the program, and there will be a vaudeville program of worth. The Rube, Tramp and Clown bands will all dispense music and there will be a concert after the big two-ring show.

A drill by pupils of the public schools is being arranged, but just what features will be selected is not yet known. The dormitory men, too, are preparing a lot of stunts, not yet made public.

A feature of great interest will be that of the Norge "Gym" club of Proctor, which will give a demonstration in Swedish calisthenics, double ring and parallel bar exercises.

Axel Lavin is training for a new slack wire stunt in which he will walk within an immense wheel turning on the wire.

Jimmie Ten Eyck, the famous rowing coach, is training a crew for an exhibition with the single shell craft. Duby and Chapman will appear in an Oriental acrobat stunt, which promises to be thrilling.

"Texas" Jack," who for eighteen years has been a broncho buster with the Buffalo Bill Wild West shows, will give a hair-raising exhibition by riding a mule never before ridden. There will also be an exhibition on the horizontal bars.

Several men will exemplify rug training stunts such as shadow boxing, rope jumping, punching the bag, etc.

A "rasslin'" match will be staged by two unknowns.

Petkoff, the famous wrestler, will do a posing and strong man's stunt that is said to be "different" from all previous attempts.

Easter Perfumes.

You will find the best at Miss Horrigan's, Oak Hall building.

Best cup of coffee on earth at Haley's.

FREE DELIVERY LATER.

Conditions Not Favorable for Giving International Falls Service.

International Falls, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Free mail delivery will not be established here at present, according to a letter received by Postmaster Joseph Lloyd from the postoffice department. A report by an inspector in the service, says the department, is to the effect that the city possesses all the requirements necessary to the establishment of free mail delivery, such as a complete street lighting system, streets named and houses numbered, but that, due to a decrease in revenue incident to war in Europe, funds are lacking for the establishment and maintenance of such service. However, a promise of free delivery as soon as financial conditions will permit it is contained in the letter, and residents of the city are now hoping for a speedy termination of the war.

IN A recent issue the Pasadena, Cal., Star printed the following under the head, "Duluth Reunion:" "A peculiar feature of this section of the land is that it is the easiest thing in the world to get together enough of one's old-time neighbors to form a state, a county, village or other organization for the reunion of former friends. A little patience and any man or woman may shortly after coming here assemble a group of friends from the old home. This experience is especially noted this season by Pasadenans who formerly lived in Duluth, Minn. Peggy Peabody's Observations

Be Your Own Employer.

I am frequently requested to advise women and young girls in the matter of earning a living, and have even been asked to supply the capital on occasions. The sum to be advanced was to be purely in the nature of a loan, which would be returned just as fast as the fingers and the brain of the borrower could earn it.

Some of those who wrote were so young that only the big things in business seemed worth while to them. They wanted to start in somewhere near the top so that they might reach it the sooner. They lacked the experience that teaches that the more lasting things result from small beginnings. They have not seen the get-rich-quick concerns get poor again, even more quickly, which is sufficient proof that the work that grows, as its merits warrant, is the best.

I have always had a soft spot in my heart for the young woman who wanted a millinery shop of her very own, for I had several such ambitions, though they did not always run to millinery. A young girl had it all figured out just what such an establishment would cost. She wrote that $200 would settle her in a place of her own. She wanted to borrow the entire amount.

I wrote to this girl and suggested that she start her millinery shop in a room in her own house, without a cent of capital if she had none of her own. She could let her friends and neighbors know that she had started in business. They could bring their frames and trimmings to her and let her put them together, or they could entrust her with the purchasing of all necessary materials, which she could buy at a saving of 10 per cent or more.

If she had the knack of building pretty, becoming hats, her fame would spread and her business increase. Some day, with the money she had earned and saved, she could stock the shop she had in mind and not be under an obligation to anyone. She would be free from debt, have a well established trade, and not toil with the anxiety which would be hers if she engaged in a venture necessitating the expenditure of borrowed money that she did not really know that she could ever pay back.

A young friend of mine has turned a room in her father's home into a workroom and salesroom. She has built up a business in two years' time that pays her well. The best part of it is, that she has established herself on a firm foundation which is bound to increase her patronage and consequently her earnings, as time goes on. In fact she has become her own employer by using the proper methods.

"ONE A PENNY, TWO A PENNY, HOT CROSS BUNS" AND THEIR ORIGIN

The custom of eating hot cross buns on Good Friday was brought from England, where the small buns with crosses cut on them as symbols of the day are the successors of the cakes offered to the Roman gods during the Roman occupation of that island. The original home of the English custom is Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire. There the old Roman roads, Icknield street and Armynge streets crossed and there stood the altar of Diana of the Crossways to whom the Romans offered their sacred cakes.

For a century and a half Chelsea was famous for its hot cross buns that were sold only on Good Friday. Swift mentions "rare Chelsea buns" in his "Journal to Stella" that was written in 1712. The old Chelsea Bun house was a one-story building with a colonnade projecting over the pavement. As many as 50,000 persons have called for buns and 240,000 buns have been sold there in a day.

In other localities where a bun house did not carry on such a thriving business buns were vended on the streets by men and women who carried them in baskets and called:

"One a penny, buns,
Two a penny, buns,
One a penny, two a penny,
Hot cross buns."

Sometimes for this cry was substituted:

"One a penny, two a penny,
Hot cross buns,
If you have no daughters,
Give them to your sons,
But if you have none of the merry little elves
Then you may keep them all for yourselves."

The following recipes for hot cross buns are given by the Washington Star:

Real English Hot Cross Buns.

Set a sponge overnight, allowing three cups sweet milk, one compressed yeast cake dissolved in one cupful of lukewarm water, and flour to make a thick batter. Beat vigorously. In the early morning add one cup of sugar, a half cup softened butter, a grated nutmeg, a saltspoonful of salt and flour to make firm dough. Knead thoroughly and set to raise in a warm place. When quite light, place the dough on the molding board, well sprinkled with flour, knead again and roll into a sheet half an inch thick. Divide into pieces weighing about three ounces each and mold round. Let them stand a few moments, then with the palms of the hands roll into oblong shapes about six inches long by three wide. Lay in rows a little way apart in a buttered dripping pan and let them rise in a warm place for ten or fifteen minutes. Make a sharp, deep cross on each bun with a sharp knife, and immediately place in the oven. Bake a light brown, and as soon as done, brush the tops with a sirup made of sugar and water boiled together. Eat warm and well buttered. Currants and shredded lemon peel may be added to the dough if desired.

New York Hot Cross Buns.

For an ordinary measure, sift together one quart of pastry flour, two dessert spoonfuls of baking powder and a pinch of salt, and rub into the flour a piece of butter the size of an egg. Mix together a pint of milk and water, equal quantities, and one cup of sugar, stir into the flour, add two eggs and mix soft. Cut into small biscuit, make the cross on the top of each and bake in a very hot oven. Sift powdered sugar over them. Raisins and currants may be added according to individual preference.

In Duluth Theaters.

This is a big week for the children of Duluth at the Lyceum.

The Baldwin Players are presenting "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and with the Easter vacation week in the schools the pupils have an opportunity to witness the stage version of a story that is familiar to almost all of them. Special matinees have been arranged so it is not necessary for the smaller children to remain out late in the evening to see the play. A matinee was given yesterday under the auspices of the Housewives' league and the regular matinee is being given today. Tomorrow afternoon another special matinee for school children will be given and the engagement will come to a close tomorrow night, as a road show will appear at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday.

Tomorrow afternoon the children in the audience will be given an opportunity to meet little Muriel Cole, who plays the title role this week. Following the matinee a reception will be held on the stage, and the children will be given a chance to see that mysterious region back of the proscenium arch of the theater. During the reception Master Louis Gomberg will give piano numbers from Mozart, Schumann, Bergmuller, Chopin and Schmoll. Despite the fact that it is Holy Week the attendance has been excellent this week and apparently every child in the city wants to see "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Next week, beginning Easter Sunday, "Within the Law" will be the attraction.

The firm of Potash & Perlmutter, makers of cloaks, suits and laughs, will open shop at the

CLOAK AND LAUGH MAKERS

Lyceum on Friday when A. H. Woods presents, direct from its second year in New York city, the well known comedy, "Potash and Perlmutter," now acclaimed with joy by the New York critics and the amusement public when Mr. Woods first produced it at the George M. Cohan theater in that city and for two seasons it crowded that theater to the doors. Now it comes to Duluth with a company of splendid artists, all of whom have won honors on Broadway in the famous roles.

Although the plot of "Potash and Perlmutter" is woven about the joys and sorrows, the trials and the tribulations of those most lovable of characters, "Abe" Potash and "Mawruss" Perlmutter, who first made their bow to the public in the columns of the Saturday Evening Post, these laughable heroes of the cloak trade do not monopolize the story. There is plenty of romance in "Potash and Perlmutter."

Miss Lola May, formerly leading woman with the Baldwin Players of this city and a well known Broadway actress, has been successful in her defense of the suit brought against her by Mrs. Marie Crandall, who alleged the alienation of the affections of her husband, Derby Crandall, a banker, according to press dispatches from New York city.

In the supreme court in Gotham yesterday, Justice Newburger granted a dismissal of the cause of action on the ground that Mrs. Crandall had failed to comply with Miss May's request for a bill of particulars showing just where and when she had trespassed upon the affections of the former's husband.

An answer is on file in the case in which Miss May declares that it was he who pursued her with unwelcome attentions and that at one time he became so ardent in his attentions to her that she saw fit to give up a profitable stage engagement and leave the city.

In a class all by herself is Frances Dyer, singing comedienne, heading the bill now current at the COMEDIENNE SCORES HIT.

New Grand, which closes with today's performances. Gowned in costumes of real beauty, she makes a striking appearance and wins her crowds on this account, in addition to scoring in an artistic way.

Archi Onri, assisted by Miss Dolly, offers a pleasing diversion in juggling eccentricities. Gaines and Brown furnish a goodly part of the comedy with their funny songs and witty sayings. The Four Flying Valentinos offer a novelty in casting exhibitions. Daring and thrilling are the feats performed by these athletes.

The photoplay feature, "The Hermit of Bird Island," is in three reels and tells a romantic story in a delightful manner. "Postponed," a comedy; "When the Fates Spin," a drama, and a George Ade fable, "The Fable of the City Grafter and the Unprotected Rubes," are other photoplays on the program.

Tomorrow the bill will change. The Three Rianos in their pantomimic absurdity, "September Morn in Africa," will be the feature. Miss Elina Gardner, a character comedienne, the Cycling Brunettes and Scott and Wallace with a fund of new songs and witty chatter will complete the entertainment.

The Hearst Selig News of events, one of the Helen Holmes railroad stories, "The Railroad Raiders of '62;" "The Americano," a thrilling two-reel subject, and a comedy, "The Champion Process Server," will complete the bill.

One of the most interesting fish seen on the submarine exploring trip of the Williamson Brothers in the West Indian seas was a new variety. In the under-sea pictures at the Lyric this week, this bizarre fish is seen swimming back and forth around the piling of the wharf at Nassau, according to press dispatches from New York city.

The picture amazed and puzzled all the fish experts in Washington and New York for none of them had ever before seen such a member of the finny tribe. It was swimming around in lonely grandeur when seen by the Williamsons, all the other fish made way for it as though it were dangerous. Possibly it was electrical and a shock would have been the result had they gone too close. The Williamson boys called this new variety of fish "Old Glory" because in all its beauty of stars and stripes, it resembled the flag of the United States.

After much investigation and study of the Williamson picture of this fish, the authorities of the Smithsonian institution at Washington decided that it is a spotted horse (Equua punctatus), a variety never before photographed.

Wednesday and Thursday Elsie Janis will be at the Rex in motion pictures.

ELSIE JANIS AT THE REX

This is the first appearance of this comet among stars. It is another feature in her cap to add to her stage popularity. The first Janis' release by Bosworth on the paramount program is "The Caprices of Kitty," written by Elsie Janis, and it is just the type of comedy she wanted to make her debut in pictures. "The Caprices of Kitty" is Elsie Janis as a young girl, just dancing out of boarding school into the limelight of life, showing her pursuit of romance and happiness.

Courtenay Foote, Herbert Stedman and other stars play important roles.

Lola May and "The Lure" lured 4,800 paid admissions at the Zelda theater yesterday from 11 a. m. until the box office closed at 10:30 p. m. and at least 2,000 people were turned away. The street car traffic was delayed on account of the string of people that held passersby from going east or west. Manager Mistachkin has been successful in making arrangements to hold the production over for one extra day and will play it until Thursday night, instead of Wednesday night. The theater will open at 11 a. m. and run all day without a stop. Children under 16 will not be admitted until after Thursday night, which will end the showing of "The Lure."

"THE LURE" STILL LURES

The New Grand theater is not taking any chances on the electric current being disconnected and leaving the house dark during a performance. To avoid any such experience, Manager Phelps is having a complete set of gas fixtures put in, and both gas and electricity will be available for lighting purposes. In case one or the other service should be impaired temporarily, there will still be one lighting system ready for use.

EXTRA LIGHTING SYSTEM

Two additions have been made to the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum. George Fox, comedian and character actor, arrived this morning to join the company, and tomorrow Miss Geraldine Blair will reach the city. Miss Blair will play ingenue roles.

TWO NEW FACES.

Both of the new members of the company will make their first appearance Easter Sunday.

A BLOW AT OUR YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN.

By its summary slashing of the appropriations for the state university, the senate finance and the house appropriations committees are aiming a blow directly at the young men and women of the state.

The state university was founded to put higher education within the reach of those who could not afford to pay tuition and similar expenses at privately owned and conducted institutions. It was intended as a school for all the people, so far as a school of that character can be made to serve all the people; and its development from the time of its foundation to the present day has been with that end in view.

What is proposed by the legislative committees is nothing less than to cut down the possibilities of such service on the part of the university. It isn't merely a bit of necessary economy that is proposed, but a deliberate slashing off of nearly a fifth of the total amount needed for the management of the university in the next two years.

Look, too, at the features of university work affected by the committees' action: Extension work, the feature that brings the benefits of the institution nearest to those who cannot afford to take advantage of the opportunities offered resident students; the teaching staff, on the excellence of which the institution's work depends more than on any other factor; the hospital for contagious diseases, a matter involving health and public welfare outside the university as well as within it; the electrical engineering work, a branch which is advancing more rapidly today than any other in the practical application of scientific discoveries to daily life; experiment stations and research work, one of the most vital features of any institution that is to be worth its salt in the development of the state that supports it.

Minnesota for years has been growing in its national reputation as a state that provided the best educational advantages for its young people. Now the legislative committees propose to cripple this work in some of its biggest and best branches. The attempt should meet with an instant and vigorous protest from every section of the state.

How long is it going to take those Russians to give us a pronounceable name for Przemysl?

MORE WAR PROHIBITION?

Is Great Britain to join the list of nations to which the war has brought prohibition of the sale of liquor? It looks like it, especially in view of Mr. Lloyd George's suggestion of "root and branch" methods, and the reported willingness of employers to seal up their own private wine cellars and forbid the sale of liquors at their clubs.

Rather striking is the declaration of the chancellor that although Great Britain is fighting Germany, Austria and liquor, the last named seems the deadlier foe. It throws a strong light on the situation in the British Isles, emphasizing the reports that the government could not obtain sufficient ammunition because of the drinking habits of the men employed in the ammunition factories.

Not long ago there was an example of the hold which drink is obtaining or has obtained in certain circles in England. A great dock strike was in progress, the men demanding an increase of a shilling a day in their wages. The employers insisted the demand was impossible to grant, and finally T. P. O'Connor was appealed to to try to settle the trouble.

O'Connor went to the scene of the strike and interviewed both sides. He found that it was the custom for the companies to give each of the men a shilling every morning to be used to buy beer during the day, the shilling being deducted from their day's wages. O'Connor, for the companies, made the proposal that the shilling advance be stopped and that a shilling a day be added to the men's wages, the companies figuring that by the cutting off of the day's drinking the men would be able to accomplish enough more to warrant an increase in the pay. Did the men take the increase on that basis? Not much! They refused, but finally agreed to go back to work if the employers would resume the old system of advancing beer money to be deducted from their wages later on.

If that is a fair sample of the hold liquor is getting on the British workers, no wonder the employers are willing to do almost anything to stop the traffic. Booze means inefficiency, and the more booze the less a man can accomplish. The war is forcing the hands of a good many nations in Europe. It will be interesting, when peace returns, to see whether the war-born prohibition laws die with the demands of the conflict.

Maybe some genius will yet invent a system of practicing casting that will be adaptable to cleaning up the back yard.

GET THE CHILDREN TO HELP.

The efforts of the West End Commercial club to get the school children to help in the city clean-up movement are worth copying in every part of town. The children can do more to aid this work than many will realize, for they see and can pick up and dispose of many pieces of paper and other litter that the adult never has a chance to notice or time to remove.

In various cities in the last few years the children have been an important factor in the annual clean-up movements, and also in maintaining the neatness of the streets and other public places after the cleaning has been done. They are fully as susceptible to the feeling of pride in their homes and neighborhoods as are the older people, and they prove willing and eager workers when once that feeling is aroused.

The jitney situation is aggravated by those who insist on spelling it with a "g."

BACK IN THE FOLD?

Col. Roosevelt is quoted as saying he "will support any candidate for president the Republican convention may nominate, except Taft." Even Barnes and Penrose are not barred by him as possibilities, according to reports from Washington which are attributed to "a source entitled to the fullest credence."

What are the men who deserted old allegiances to follow the Bull Moose to think of this? Has the Republican party so changed that now it is worthy of the support refused it three years ago? Have even Barnes and Penrose been so thoroughly regenerated that they are now fit to lead where only a few months back they were so roundly denounced?

To speak plainly and frankly, they have not. The Republican party today is actuated by the same ideals and principles that led to its repudiation in 1912. It still is for the highest possible protective tariff; it still is for subsidy; it still is for special privileges for a few and against equal rights for all.

The only difference between conditions now and those in 1912 is that at that time Col. Roosevelt was so mad at Taft that he thought everybody else felt the same way, and that he could take advantage of the feeling to get back into office himself; whereas today Col. Roosevelt is sulking in the remembrance of a thorough licking at the polls, and is willing to go to any lengths to defeat the man to whom the public accorded a confidence it denied to Roosevelt himself.

"Any candidate except Taft," and this sole exception is the man who once was addressed as "Dear Will," and whom Roosevelt himself virtually put into the White House. And the only real reason for the break between them was the fact that Taft refused to bow to the will of "Dear Theodore" and jump right out of the White House at his demand.

We think of the savage Indian as a typical hater and non-forgetter, but apparently we have overrated the Indian. He seems to be only an amateur in the matter of personal hate and unreasoning vindictiveness.

Also it is to be remarked that the war eagle doesn't lay Easter eggs.

CO-OPERATIVE LAND CLEARING.

Once more there is presented a plan for helping in the settlement of the state's cut-over lands, and this time there seems to be a good chance of the plan's adoption. It is that of legalizing the formation and financing of development associations in order to clear land for cultivation.

The suggestion is for co-operative efforts, and since this system would put the matter up to the men personally and most vitally concerned in such work, it would be assured of success, if the terms are such as to be at all practical.

Every settler on state or any other land faces this problem of clearing it up, and to many it is a problem of gigantic proportions. This is easily realized by anybody who stops to think that the clearing must precede everything else—even the raising of necessary food. At the same time the would-be settler often lacks means to provide food and other necessities for his family during any extended period, and if he is obliged to work practically alone, the clearing problem may involve such a long period that he is estopped by it from taking up and improving and developing the land he would like to.

In the bill now offered provision is made for the sale of bonds to finance co-operative clearing operations, and long terms for repayment make it possible for those who benefit by the work to handle the financial end of it without serious difficulty. The proposal is important to the whole state, because its adoption means more rapid settlement and development of the state's lands, and production of more wealth in the state.

Maybe some time Russia will conquer Mexico and rechristen it Revoltograd.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

"Thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption.—Isa. xxxviii, 17.

Literally, Thou hast loved my soul back from the pit of destruction. "As if the love of God, shining on the soul, has made it ascend out of the power of death" (Dr. Kay). Was Hezekiah referring to the grave when he uttered these words? If he was, death was to him a far more terrible thing than it is to the believer now. For he speaks of his soul, and not merely of his body, in that deliverance. If Hezekiah mustsing with gratitude because God had revoked the sentence of death, how much more should the Christian rejoice with joy unspeakable when he remembers that the Lord has brought him out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and has set his feet upon a rock? (Ps. xl, 2). Let the fact of this great deliverance be the ground of still further mercies. What he has done for my soul, let him now do for my feet. Let the same divine power which delivered me from death be perpetually in exercise to keep me from stumbling in my walk. Thine is the power; unto Thee shall be the glory.—From "Broken Bread."

If I can live
To make some pale face brighter, and to give
A second luster to some tear-dimmed eye,
Or e'en impart
One throb of comfort to an aching heart,
Or cheer some wayworn soul in passing by;

If I can lend
A strong hand to the fallen or defend
The right against a single envious strain,
My life, though bare,
Perhaps, of much seemeth dear and fair
To us of earth, will not have been in vain.

The purest joy,
Most near to heaven, far from earth's alloy,
Is bidding cloud give way to sun and shine;
And 'twill be well,
If on that day of days the angels tell
Of me, "She did her best for one of Thine."

Writers Are Big Eaters.

London Chronicle: Fasting may be good for some men, but it seems necessary that in order to write well one should possess a hearty appetite and satisfy it. Fielding, Thackeray, Macaulay, Dickens and Browning were all good eaters, so were Goethe and Lessing, Hugo, Flaubert and Zola. As for Balzac, his normal dinner at the Cafe Very, Paris, consisted of eight dozen oysters, twelve cutlets, a duckling, a pair of partridges, a sole and the usual balance of lesser dainties. Balzac's capacity for hard work was only equaled by Napoleon's, yet Napoleon ate sparingly.

One big meal a day may be sufficient, but even its advocates probably would admit that an occasional snack during the rest of the day is necessary. Long distance athletes know that strenuous physical work necessitates stoking at frequent intervals. "Little and often" is the motto of the long distance cyclist, for instance. He keeps his big meal for the end of the day, but he knows that the "hunger knock" is the worst form of fatigue, and he nibbles as he goes to guard against it.

"You Never Can Tell."

Elmer E. Ferris in the American Magazine: I have been at it eight years, and let me tip you off to the most important thing in salesmanship—just keep plugging. I got a new motto lately. I went to a theater and heard a play called "You Never Can Tell." It didn't have anything to do with business, but the title stuck in my craw and it occurred to me that it was a mighty good motto for a salesman. You see people don't always buy goods on logic. Half the orders you get is where the buyer just takes a notion to give it. Of course your goods and prices have got to be right, but half the time it's the personal element that turns the scale—you never can tell. The way to do is to go after everything, like Hal Chase plays first base, see? And you can bet your bottom dollar that things are so constituted that a hard day's work will get results in the end.

A Strange Death Message.

Paris letter to the London Telegraph: It may have been a strange and tragic coincidence. Some will believe there was more in it than that. The husband of a Paris woman violinist, himself a musician, left for the front shortly after mobilization. His Christian name was Remy. At parting, he told his wife: "If I go under, I will try to let you know directly, before the official news reaches you." She scarcely played any music during his absence. But the other day she took up her violin, feeling impelled to play one piece which he liked above all. She opened the case, and two strings of the violin suddenly snapped, the D and the E. "Re and Mi," she at once thought. It was the warning he had said he would give her. The next day a telegram informed her that her husband, Sergeant Remy, had been killed in action.

Helped Him.

Baltimore American: "Do you really believe college education helps a young man in business life?"

"I know it does. At college my boy was the champion sprinter of his class, and now he has a job as bank-runner."

Quitter!

Boston Transcript: She (fond of ragtime)—"Now that you have looked over my music, what would you like to have me play?"

He—"Whist or casino."

Needed Inspiration.

Baltimore American: "The leading man acts with a lot of spirit."

"That's the trouble. He won't act without a lot."

An Unholy Alliance

Editorial in the New York World.

One of the most prominent manufacturers in the Middle West recently expressed the opinion that the only obstacle to American prosperity was the senseless pessimism of Wall Street.

How senseless this pessimism is may be inferred from a statement credited to President Thomas of the Lehigh Valley railroad, who was reported last week to have said:

The continued prosperity of the United States depends almost entirely upon what is done in Washington.

I would authorize an expenditure of $10,000,000 tomorrow if the situation in Washington was clear.

But the uncertainty of which I speak means that we must withhold this $10,000,000 expenditure for an indefinite period.

At the very time that Mr. Thomas was pouring forth this tale of woe, the Lehigh Valley railroad was advertising a quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent on its common stock and 2½ per cent on its preferred stock. A railroad that is paying 10 per cent dividends is not starving to death, whatever "the situation in Washington" may be.

There is no situation in Washington that is hostile to business. There has been no other time in ten years in which there was so little crusading against business or in which business had so little to fear from politics. There has been no time in ten years in which legitimate business could face the future with so little uncertainty. Yet Wall Street continues to talk calamity, think calamity and dream calamity. When it might be making New York the financial center of the world, it spends its time in conspiring against an administration that cannot be bought or bullied.

The feeling is growing that Wall Street wants no prosperity unless it can hog it all, and that the typical Wall Street banker's idea of prosperity is 6 per cent for loans, with 5 per cent commission and 51 per cent of the common stock as a bonus.

Wall Street's days of exploitation and gambling prosperity are done for. There will be no return to the period when the New York bankers could take the cream and leave the rest of the country drinking skim-milk. The dream of a revival of Hannaism, which is noted by the Washington correspondent of The World, is only a dream. It will never materialize.

We have no doubt that the reactionary Republican leaders are ready to sell their party out to Wall Street again. They are all giving full voice to Wall Street's calamity cry, and their general attitude toward government is anything-to-beat-Wilson. But that sort of thing can be easily overdone, and if the country is willing to throw away all the fruits of ten years of agitation to curb predatory plutocracy, the country's standard of intelligence is much lower than we have ever had reason to believe.

The Wilson administration is not warring on business, but business is warring on the Wilson administration in an attempt to stampede the American people back to Hannaism. When the government at Washington is confronted by the most delicate and perplexing problems that have beset any administration since Lincoln's, and the country itself is distracted by the disturbing consequences of the greatest war in history, plutocracy thinks it sees a chance to re-establish itself again in Washington for another reign of dollar-despotism.

If Wall Street is not willing to accept the very reasonable restrictions to which business has been subjected and to keep step with the march of progressive legislation, one thing is certain. Its next great antagonist will not be the Democratic party, but Socialism. There is no surer way of making Socialism a living, breathing, vital force in American politics than the way the Republican-Wall Street coalition has adopted.

Memory's Half Hours

Indianapolis News: A day is made up of so many things. A moment is really as nothing. It takes three or four moments to get anything well finished, even drowning or hanging. It is the half hours that count most to us as complete but individual units of experience. The garden is bright with half hours of love, some ghostly as the fragrance of the honeysuckle, some as gay and unashamed as the color of the gorgeous, fragile poppy. There are half hours of disgrace and failure—weeds that will not hide behind the sunflowers and hollyhocks of brave deeds; and there are the half hours that have been stumbling blocks always—rocks upon which no flowers would grow. There are half hours of little sorrows—half hours of wholesome joy—great beds of glowing, hardy flowers. The half hours to which we belong are so many. The half hour of a morning ride over the mountain top to meet the sun, the half hour of lying in deep grass with face and heart close to the earth, the half hour by a camp fire at sunset, the half hour of great sorrow or great happiness, the half hour of understanding between friends—these are not found in the back yard of our memories. They are not memories. They are less transitory than we are. They take us away from ourselves and reveal to us something more wonderful and more real. We can not call them to us, but we cannot fail to answer their call.

Penalizing Jitneys.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: A bill has been introduced in the Kansas City council ostensibly to regulate, but actually to kill, jitney service. It requires every jitney driver to obtain a franchise, to pay a heavy income tax, to specify the exact route and hours and to give a large bond.

Why should a jitney driver obtain a franchise? He enjoys no monopoly or special privilege in the use of streets. He pays a vehicle license and his business license, if any is required, should be nominal merely to enforce responsibility and fair regulation.

Provisions of this kind are manifest penalties for attempting to compete with franchised trolley companies.

Jitney regulations should be designed to protect the public, not to prevent jitney service, which is now on a makeshift basis. The real problem of motor service in American cities has not been worked out. Attempts to work it out on sound lines should be encouraged. We need the service.

Argumentum ad Feminam.

Philadelphia Bulletin: Representative Bowdle of Ohio, whose vigorous anti-suffrage speech was the feature of last month's suffrage debate, sat at a recent dinner party in Washington beside a suffragist.

The suffragist, desirous of showing woman's serfdom or servitude, said:

"Mr. Bowdle, why does a woman, when she marries a man, take his name?"

But Mr. Bowdle, desirous to show woman's sheltered and easy economic position, smiled and answered:

"Why does she take everything else he's got?"

Seeing America First

By Fred C. Kelly.

Lifted right from diary:

Now that I'm traveling, there are several little odds and ends of things that I wonder about. For example, why is the average sleeping-car porter such a zealous advocate of early retiring? Unless urged to do otherwise, the porter will begin making up the berths at about half past eight. Yet I cannot recall ever seeing, voluntarily, any one retire on a Pullman at that hour. Each porter when a small lad was told by his parents or by his family physician that an hour's sleep before midnight is worth two hours after midnight.

Ever since then each porter has predicated his life on the hypothesis that the traveling public would profit by getting into bed nice and early. Board a train at 9 o'clock and nearly every berth is already made up. There is no place to sit, even if it were warm, and no place warm even if there was a place to sit. There is nothing to do but go to bed. This is particularly distasteful if one happens to be a newspaper man, habituated to sitting up until about 2 a. m. If the porter had his way, there would be no night life whatever and no fun. Everybody would be tucked into bed shortly after dark and up in time to be an eyewitness to the sunrise.

And why is this? Go into almost any city in the United States and there is a hotel there called the St. James, and every St. James hotel is a good deal like almost every other St. James hotel. Why is St. James the foremost patron saint of the hotel business? Then there is St. Charles almost invariably for men only. Why not the St. John or the St. Luke?

Any one able to furnish me with information on these points mailed in a plain wrapper may have positive assurance that it will be cheerfully received.

In Chicago I experimented at asking ten men this question: "What should a stranger here for a few hours go to see?"

Seven out of ten I asked recommended the stock yards. Two told me I ought not to miss the Marshall Field store. The tenth suggested going to an art gallery. And he was a policeman! I have had similar experiences in the past to confirm the notion that Chicago is proud of its stock yards beyond all else—just as the New Yorker takes his greatest pride in the high prices of every thing and the various petty grafts in that city.

And when it comes to civic pride—I got to talking with a man who boarded the train at Kansas City. I remarked upon the hills about Kansas City in contrast to the level country lying immediately beyond.

"Yes, sir," he declared, slapping his thigh with enthusiasm, "our hills here are just high enough. If they were higher they might be a nuisance to climb. But those here are just right for giving our people proper exercise. The consequence is that our men and our women have the most shapely limbs to be found in any city in the country."

That's what the Kansas City man was proud of.

No Neighbors in New York.

New York Mail: "Neighbor!" There are no neighbors in New York. This city is a huge filing cabinet, rows and stacks of pigeon-holes, into which families are tucked, in which they live and move and have their being, with no reference whatever to the brood in the next compartment or in the one above or underneath. The partitions that separate one pigeon-hole from the next might be of armor plate for all that they let out or let in of that spirit of human fellowship that makes smaller cities real communities. There is the story—and it is fairly illustrative of metropolitan life—of the banker who lived next door to the counterfeiter. The surprise was mutual when the banker, called to court one day to repudiate the signature to counterfeit notes, found the prisoner was his neighbor, who had not even known that the signature he was forging was that of the man next door. Now, into this city of such unneighborliness comes an idea couched in the phrase "Be a good neighbor." It is almost beyond the understanding of the city folk whose sense of the existence of others has been atrophied by the isolating conditions of the file cabinet existence.

The Wise Men of Gotham.

In a bowl to sea went wise men three
On a brilliant night of June;
They carried a net, and their hearts were set
On fishing up the moon.

The sea was calm, the air was balm,
Not a breath stirred low or high,
And the moon, I trow, lay as bright below,
And as round as in the sky.

* * * * * *

For, far at sea, were the wise men three,
When their fishing net they threw;
And at the throw, the moon below
In a thousand fragments flew.

The sea was bright with a dancing light
Of a million, million gleams,
Which the broken moon shot forth as soon
As the net disturbed her beams.

They drew in their net; it was empty and wet,
And they had lost their pain,
Soon ceased the play of each dancing ray,
And the image was round again.

Three times they threw, three times they drew,
And all the while were mute;
And evermore their wonder grew,
Till they could not but dispute.

Their silence they broke, and each one spoke
Full long, and loud, and clear;
A man at sea their voices three
Full three leagues off might hear.

The three wise men got home again
To their children and their wives;
But, touching their trip, and their net's vain dip,
They disputed all their lives.

The wise men three could never agree,
Why they missed the promised boon;
They agreed alone that their net they had thrown,
And they had not caught the moon.

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

Remove Obstacles.

Tower News: Duluth is offering a prize for the best design for the coming bathing suit. Cut out the police regulations and our word for it there will be designs enough brought out without offering and prizes. Save that fiver for beer or something useful.

Must Lead Men to Water.

Baudette Region: The Duluth Herald had a splendid article on "Booze" the other day. Telling men that they shall not drink is not the best way to promote temperance. Convincing them that they should not drink is the right way to go about it. More men have seats on the water wagon because they believe liquor is bad for them than for any other reason.

Universally Indorsed.

Red Wing Republican: Duluth has had a Go-to-Church Sunday. And there wasn't any irreverent grouch to raise a holler against it, either.

None Such Here.

Red Wing Eagle: They had a successful Go-to-Church Sunday at Duluth and the success of it was due to the fact that the idea hadn't been made repugnant to the citizens by having been advocated by some person discredited in the community.

Worth Careful Consideration.

La Porte News: The Duluth Herald recently had an editorial that should be read, discussed, carefully considered and thoughtfully meditated upon by every man, woman and child in the United States, particularly in this section, where we are so highly favored and have so much to be thankful for. The editorial in question is headed "If You Were a Belgian."

Stop Discouragement.

Spooner Northern News: "It is time to let up on the railroads," says The Duluth Herald in a well-written editorial. It's a fact. Thinking men are beginning to realize that, with decreased passenger and freight rates, meaning lower earnings on the one hand and on the other shorter hours and more pay for the employes, higher taxes, increased operating expenses and costlier equipment, it is about time to call "Halt" on the imposition of further burdens on them. Let up awhile and we will see more extensions and improved service.

"The Horrible Example."

Luverne Journal: The Duluth Herald wants somebody to take moving pictures of the European war horrors. Then, when the jingoes go trying to get Uncle Sam mixed up in a fracas liable to cause bloodshed, the editor would have the films run in the moving picture houses all over the country to arouse the people against war. Not wishing to discourage our Duluth contemporary at all, but we are moved to say that we fear "the horrible example" won't work. Why, there's hardly a film thrown on the screen but you see "horrible examples" of present-day feminine apparel. But the women go right on wearing them just the same.

Duluth Leads the Way.

Pine City Pine Poker: Duluth has launched a "clean up and paint week," when all merchants and residents will be asked to clean their yards, alleys and homes and paint their buildings wherever necessary. How about Pine City inaugurating the same movement? We expect a number here this summer and we can find no better way of advertising our little city well than by this method. Let us be known as the cleanest and prettiest village in this part of the state. We have the natural beauties—let's do the rest.

God Made the Country

Philadelphia Ledger: As the wire edge of winter wears down to the softness of spring the call of the country becomes insistent. The desert that man has made and called a town may be good enough in winter. Then we see starved plants growing on ledges of the stony cliffs we call houses or hotels, as pathetic a sight as a 5-year-old girl in a public dance hall. They have no place there. The blasting winds of winter tear them to pieces and the blistering suns of summer burn the life out of them. But the country! That is the place for living. The green carpet of the earth gladdens the heart, and the sight of growing things that we have planted appeals to something fundamental in us which we deny at the peril of losing our best selves.

We are all farmers at bottom. Man made the town, and it is a splendid example of what man can do, leaving out the glory of the fecund earth. But God, after all, made the great outdoors that we know as the country.

The Enraptured Correspondent.

English Bench Iowa News: The bride we never met till the time for congratulations, but judging her at that time we will say that she is a right good sensible girl, a fine wife for the man of her choice. The groom we have known from childhood up, and will say that a more honorable young man could never lead a bride to the altar, honest, upright, and what makes a success in life—a hard worker, a good scholar and a fine penman.

Overhead Charges.

Philadelphia Bulletin: The Bosa—What's this item on your expense account, "Overhead expenses, $4?"

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

The Herald has received several communications regarding the candidates for city commissioner. No letters either for or against the candidates will be published in the Open Court.

THINKS JITNEYS WILL EMPTY STREET CARS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I noticed in the paper an article where an ordinance was being drafted to regulate "strap hanging" on the jitney busses operating in the city of Duluth. Isn't it time they were leaving the little fellow (jitney bus) alone and starting on the big fellow who has been in business for twenty years or more with not enough cars running to accommodate 50 per cent of the people? Every day one can enter a street car and there find people hanging onto straps, especially around 8 o'clock in the morning when people are going to work, and then around 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening when they are all tired out and have to hang on straps for about five miles of slow traveling. As long as these jitneys are running I do not see why the safety commission can't leave them alone for once and let the poorer class of people get an automobile ride for a (jitney). Lots and lots of people who never otherwise would get a ride in an auto or never have had a ride can now enjoy a half hour's ride for a nickel. As the horse cars gave way to the juice cars, the juice cars will now give way to the jitney and the time is not far distant when you will see the street cars empty. Another thing in favor of the jitney is the fact that any day now you will see the same thing happening, that is, the conductor invariably leaves the rear door open and the passengers are all eating dust. M. C. GREENFIELD.

ZONE SYSTEM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

As a visitor in your city I have been much interested in the letters to the Open Court in which several of your readers have come to the enthusiastic support of the jitney busses as a delightful and kindly luxury for the folks who can't afford a Ford. My home is in Milwaukee where the zone fares have lately gone into effect making it necessary for many of the suburban population to pay 7 and 9 cents to reach home. I am wondering how long it will be before the jitneys will enable the street railways throughout the country to establish the same system. With the little Fords "rambling right along" picking up the fares for the short distance hauls it doesn't seem to me it ought to take a great while to justify the management of the street car system in insisting on a zone rate. What do you think? MRS. L. S.

GIVE IT A BOOST.

To the Editor of The Herald:

It seems to me to be rather up to Duluthians to give the Orpheum a boost. The management seems disposed to do its share and has promised Duluth the regular Orpheum bills. Duluth needs a first-class vaudeville theater. The Orpheum employs some fifty people, I am told, and it puts a lot of money into circulation. It is a good thing for the merchants. It is a good thing for the fifty employes. It is a good thing for the theater-goers of the city. To have a beautiful theater like that closed for lack of patronage is a very bad advertisement for Duluth. Let us all get in behind it and do what we can to carry it over the six or eight weeks of the spring season. By next fall this man's town is going to be booming so hard we won't have to worry about the Orpheum. It will be worrying for lack of room. Just put that down for the guess of

A COMMERCIAL CLUB MEMBER.

Duluth, March 30.

NEED A MUFFLER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In behalf of the many suffering patients and kindly attentive nurses at St. Luke's hospital, I wish to invite the attention of some of the residents of that immediate neighborhood to what I believe to be their unknowing and probably unwilling cause of much added suffering for the patients and annoyance to the nurses of that institution. I refer to the distressing sound of a senseless yapping poodle dog whose ceaseless yip-yapping day and night is enough to irritate the nerves and distress the soul of a sick person, toward whose return to health the nurses are devoting every effort and attention. Also the cats which render the night hours hideous with their frequent squallings. There are enough unavoidable noises due to modern systems of traffic and transportation to keep the sick ones from the sleep and rest that they should have, without having inflicted upon them the useless and aggravating barking of dogs hour after hour, and periodical nightly wailing and yowling of cats.

I do not believe that the owners of these animals realize the distress they are causing their sick neighbors, or they would not allow it to continue. I would not ask them to dispense with their pets, if pets they be, but when they become so troublesome to others, they should either be disposed of or kept indoors.

The writer has just left the hospital after a three weeks sojourn there following a severe operation, and the recollection of his own and other patients' annoyance from these noises, as well as the quiet protests of the nurses, prompts him to request the owners of the causes thereof to have some consideration for the feelings and actual welfare of the occupants of the hospital. Recognizing that the rights and privileges of one person extend until they begin to encroach on those of another and believing in the humanity and charity of mankind for the sick and suffering, I submit this in the hope that it may avail to lessen the distress of my fellow sufferers.

Thanking you kindly for the space given and trusting in the results to be obtained, I am very truly,

AN EX-PATIENT.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"Bill's in Trouble," from J. H. Ward of Ranch, Minn.

Requests have been received for the following: "Little Orphan Annie," and "I'm Losted,' Could You Find Me Please?" from J. H. Ward of Ranch, Minn.

Bill's in Trouble.

I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out West,
An, my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil
in my breast.
To think the boy whose future I had once so proudly planned
Should wander from the path o' right an' come to such an end!
I told him when he left us, only three short years ago,
He'd find himself a-plowin' in a mighty croked row—
He'd miss his father's counsel, an' his mother's prayers, too.
But he said the farm was hateful an'
he guessed he'd have to go.
I knew that's big temptation fer a youngster in the West,
But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist;
An' when he left I warned him o' the ever waiting snares
That lie like hidden sarpents in life's pathway everywheres.
But Bill he promised faithful to be keerful, an' allowed
He'd build a reputation that'd make us mighty proud;
But it seems as if my counsel sort
o' faded from his mind
An' now the boy's in trouble of the very wustest kind.
His letters come so seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed
That Billy was a-trampin' on a mighty rocky road.
But never once imagined he would bow my head in shame
An' in the dust'd waller his ol' daddy's honored name.
He writes from out in Denver, an'
the story's mighty short.
I just can't tell his mother, it'd break
her poor ol' heart;
An' so I reckoned, parson, you might break the news to her—
Bill's in the legislature, but he doesn't say what fer.

SPEAKERS SUPPORT PRESENT OFFICERS

Voters, Gathered at Franklin School, Hear Hicken-Murchison Advocates.

Chris E. Evens, candidate for commissioner, Dr. David H. Day and John Manthey addressed a crowd of voters at the Franklin school last evening, all the speakers urging the re-election of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison.

Mr. Evens asked the voters to cast their first choice votes for the incumbents and to give him and William L. Bernard their second choice ballots.

Both Dr. Day and Mr. Manthey, who presided at the meeting, talked in behalf of Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, defending their records in office during the last two years, and urging the voters to help preserve clean government.

BEWARE THE FESTIVE JOKER

Thursday Will Be Time-Honored All Fools' Day and Observers of Day Are No Respecters of Persons—Celebration of Day Is Ancient and Historical.

If you see an innocent looking parcel lying on the sidewalk tomorrow morning when you walk down the street, don't kick it or pick it up. Think it over. If you see a fat-looking purse waiting for a possessor, don't grab it as if you were picking up gold nuggets. Spurn it as if you hated the "root of all evil." Nine chances out of ten these "lost" articles were put there for a purpose; so don't meddle with them; "let George do it."

Tomorrow will be All Fool's day, and if you don't want to be the butt of a joke, use precaution in all things. It's a day when the jokesmith gets in his most deadly work, and most of them will lie awake tonight trying to devise "catches" to spring on their friends at the break of day.

April Fool's day is one of the queerest and oldest of holidays, and many opinions are given as to its origin. The Springfield (Ill.) Republican has an article on the origin of this holiday. It says, in part:

"Italy has a very warm and soft climate and the moisture-laden breezes blow across it from both the Mediterranean and Adriatic seas. Here spring comes very early. By April the grass is green and the buds begin to open everywhere, so the Romans called the month April, from the Latin word 'aperire,' which means 'to open.' The Anglo-Saxons, early inhabitants of England, named it Ooster, or Easter month, while the Dutch, living in little quaint old Holland, named it Grass month.

"On the first day of April it was a custom of the Romans to send people upon 'bootless' errands, which is a mockery or burlesque of the occasion when Christ was sent from Annas to Caiaphas, and from Pilate to Herod.'

"In the Middle Ages this scene was made the subject of a miracle-play at Easter. Then, too, it may have been handed down from some heathen festival.

"But the custom of playing little tricks on this day, upon one's unsuspecting friends or strangers, so ridicule might be fixed upon them, was practiced in every country in Europe. The unwary person in beautiful old France thus imposed upon was called an April fish. But in bonny England across the English channel, such a person was dubbed, as in America, an April fool. Then, too, in Scotland, with its grand old hills and castles, there is a peculiar, uncouth custom of dubbing the unsuspecting a gowk, which is the name for the cuckoo; also for a foolish or simple person.

"Throughout Britain it is a favorite custom just to send one upon an errand for pigeon's milk, or the history of Adam's grandfather, or to make appointments which were not to be kept; or to call to a passerby that his latchet is unloosed or that there is a spot of mud upon his face. Of course, when he falls into the snare, the name of April fool, or gowk, is hurled at him with a shout of hilarity.

"It is also a curious fact that the Hindus have a custom similar to our own of practicing tricks upon people on March 31, when they hold what is called the Hull festival.

The Saturnalia.

"Another peculiar custom, which did not have any conection with April 1, was the 'feast of the fools.' It was in December that the Romans kept the festival of Saturn, which, you know, is one of the most wonderful of the planets. The Romans made the festival a time of revelry, and permitted themselves privileges that they did not have at other times of the year.

"During the celebration of Saturnalia, as it was called, the servants or slaves reclined in their masters' seat at table and the masters waited upon them. For a while society seemed to be turned upside down. This masquerade was very grotesque, outliving the pagan creed which gave it birth, and not only kept its place among the Christians, but in spite of all the curses and denunciations of the fathers and councils, it became a ceremony in the Christian church.

"In different times and places it had many names, but it was most commonly called the 'feast of fools.' The ways in which it was celebrated were many but everywhere it was with a spirit of boisterous drollery and coarse, but not illnatured caricature.

The Feast of the Asses.

"The donkey often played an important part in the show, and for this reason it was called the 'feast of the asses.' Sometimes the ass of Balaam was figured; in others the ass which stood by the manger in which the infant Savior was laid; elsewhere the ass on which the virgin and child fled to Egypt, or the ass on which Jesus rode to Jerusalem. In all places there was an attempt to make a dramatic display of it, the theater being the chief church of the place, and the words and actions of the drama were often ordered by its book of ceremonies.

"There are said to be several books of divine service of this sort still preserved, after the lapse of centuries. In the town of Beauvais, in France, there is a book of prayer 'commanding the priest when he dismisses the congregation to bray three times, also the people to bray three times in answer.' As the ass was led to the altar, the ass was greeted with a hymn of nine stanzas, of which the first reads thus:

"'From the region of the East—
Blessings on the bonny beast!
Came the donkey stout and strong,
With our packs to pace along,
Bray, Sir Donkey, bray!'

"Sometimes when they did not take the ass upon the stage, the most important part of the farce was to elect 'a mock pope, patriarch, cardinal, archbishop or abbot.' They gave to these 'mock dignitaries' such names as 'pope of fools,' 'archbishop of dolts,' 'cardinal of numskulls,' 'boy bishops,' 'patriarch of sots,' 'abbot of unreason' and many others. On the days when they were elected they often took complete possession of the churches, and sometimes burlesqued the church's highest office, the mass, in the holiest part of the church, the altar. In the convents the nuns dressed themselves in men's clothes, chanted a mock service, and elected a little abbess, who, for the day, was to take the place of the real abbess.

"The feast of fools was celebrated in many places until the Reformation in the sixteenth century. The scene was, as usual, a church, the actors dressing themselves up in priests' robes turned inside out, read prayers from books turned upside down, through spectacles made of orange peel, using coal or flour for incense, amid an uproar of confused cries, in the mimic of bellowings of cattle and grunting of pigs."

Planning for the Stork's Arrival

Among those things which all women should know of, and many of them do, is a splendid external application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." It is a penetrating liquid and many and many a mother tells how it so wonderfully aided them through the period of expectancy. Its chief purpose is to render the tendons, ligaments and muscles so pliant that nature's expansion may be accomplished without the intense strain so often characteristic of the period of expectancy.

At any rate it is reasonable to believe that since "Mother's Friend" has been a companion to motherhood for more than half a century no more timely advice could be given the inexperienced mother than to suggest its daily use during expectancy.

Ask at any drug store for "Mother's Friend," a penetrating, external liquid of great help and value. And write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 302 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book of useful and timely information to expectant mothers. It contains many suggestions that are of interest to all women.

SAVINGS OF CITY PUPILS

Increase Shown in March of More Than $300.

Deposits By Children Continue to Refute Hard Times Cry.

Deposits of pupils in the city schools in the savings department of the First National bank are hardly, it is believed, indicative of anything like the "hard times" that some people talk about. The savings are showing substantial increases month by month, and the report for the current month shows a growth over February of $310.83. February had twenty-four school days, and March has one less, owing to the breaking in of the Easter vacation last Friday, so the two months compare well as to length.

There have been few months since the First National inaugurated the system of collecting savings from the school children that a growth has not been shown, and as the system is followed, more and more children get ambitious and start accounts. The following statement shows deposits at the end of February and those last Friday:

BUSINESS IS NORMAL

Railroads Are Handling About the Usual Amount of Traffic.

April Expected to Be the Busiest Month Since Last Summer.

Railroads operating at the Head of the Lakes are finding traffic about normal for the season, and it is expected that April will be the most active month since early last summer.

While the movement of coal from the docks here to points in the Northwest has continued comparatively light, shipments of grain from interior elevators to the terminals here have been substantially heavier during the last month than a year ago. Forest products from the camps through the district are being handled in a fairly satisfactory volume, and that traffic will, it is thought, become more of a factor during April.

Shipments of general merchandise from here over the territory are reported to compare favorably with a year ago, but incoming tonnage from the East is light, as is usual with the approaching opening of the lake navigation season. A rush of heavy merchandise by the first upward-bound steamers is said to be assured, and the railroads are counting upon their tolls upon it in forwardings by the local jobbing houses to merchants in the Northwestern states.

"Business with us has been fully as good as expected for March," said an official of the Soo line today. "We have been handling a lot of forest products from settlers in our territory, especially pulpwood, which has been going forward to the mills in Wisconsin. The movement of that stuff has been so heavy that a tie-up has developed owing to inability of the mills to handle it fast enough.

"Our people are preparing to make a push in the movement of settlers into the farming districts along our line. We have handled a large number of cars of settlers' effects during the last few weeks, and a substantial influx of farmers this way is expected during April and May."

Soo Trestle Nearly Ready.

Soo line officials hope to have trains running next month over the trestle extending from the mouth of the tunnel at the foot of Tenth avenue west to the interstate bridge. Through the obviating of the present stops in approaching the level crossings in the Northern Pacific yards, it is estimated that ten minutes will be saved in the running time of passenger trains between Duluth and Superior. The building of the trestle has been completed, and all that remains to be done is the laying of the approach from the tunnel to it. The block system will be introduced in the operation of trains over the line.

BATHING SUIT COMMITTEE

Holds Informal Meeting and Will Decide on Winner Later.

Members of the committee appointed by Park Manager Cleveland to select the winning bathing suit design submitted in the recent contest met informally yesterday afternoon.

After going over some of the designs, the committee accepted the invitation of Miss Poirier to meet at her home next Monday afternoon.

Mr. Cleveland said this morning that the selection of the committee is not for the benefit of the park department, although the winning design may have some bearing on the suits chosen for use at the new Fairmont bathing beach this summer.

New Place for Langhorne.

Washington, March 31.—Maj. George T. Langhorne, former attache to the American embassy at Berlin, who has been on temporary duty at the army war college, will be assigned to the Eleventh cavalry for duty at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. In announcing this Secretary Garrison again declined to throw any light on the reasons for Maj. Langhorne's relief from duty in the German capital.

Montana Smelter Resumes.

Great Falls, Mont., March 31.—The Anaconda company's smelter at Great Falls resumed yesterday, 600 men being afforded employment. The company's coal mines at Sand Coulee, Mont., and its lime quarries near Great Falls also resumed, employing about 200 men.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign your "little one's" stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in just a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless fruit laxative. Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

"OPEN TOWN" THEIR HOPE

Speakers Say "Liquor Element" Is Supporting Silberstein and Farrell.

Murchison and Hicken, in Church Mass Meeting, Defend Record.

The report of the Stirrup club given on Bernard Silberstein and Bert Farrell two years ago and read by Bert N. Wheeler, as well as a charge that the liquor element was actively supporting both of these candidates made by A. E. McManus, featured the meeting held last night at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. The meeting was the third of a series held under the auspices of the Scandinavian Temperance society.

The Stirrup club's report stated that two years ago both Mr. Farrell and Mr. Silberstein were not in favor of the penalizing of buildings; that Mr. Farrell was in favor of segregation while this question had been evaded by Mr. Silberstein. These views Mr. Wheeler said, were still being entertained by these candidates and, therefore, he said, they could not expect the support of the law and order advocates.

Supported by Liquor Element.

"The liquor element is almost solid in its support of Mr. Farrell and Mr. Silberstein," said Mr. McManus. "That in itself is an indication that this element expects them, if elected, to 'loosen up' on law enforcement. We do not want the city to go back to its former place where the law violations were winked at, and that is practically assured in case of the election of these two men."

Commissioner Murchison spoke in reference to charges of extravagance of the public works department. He denied these charges and showed by figures that more actual results had been accomplished for the city by the money expended during the last two years than ever before in its history. He also touched on the offering of work at 15 cents an hour, saying that this work had been provided for tiding a certain class of men over a needy period and that the amount available for such expenditures was such that only small wages could be offered in order that more men could be assisted.

Commissioner Hicken defied any one to show where a "square deal" had not been given by his department. He said that each case called to his attention had been given a personal investigation and in the case of revoking saloon licenses the action of the council had been taken only after it had been clearly shown that the law had been violated. He touched on a number of them in detail. He maintained that each offender had been given a full hearing whenever demanded.

Defends Inter-Church Council.

W. L. Smithies, president of the inter-church council, gave a short talk telling of the action of the council in indorsing Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, C. E. Evans, W. L. Bernard and Judge W. L. Windom. He said the council had selected what it considered the best men for the office in making the recommendations.

Rev. J. J. Daniels, pastor of the church, presided at the meeting. A feature of the meeting was the singing of "Hickenville," a parody on "Marching Through Georgia," and "Hicken's Band," a parody on "Dare to Be a Daniel."

TEACHERS' PENSION MAY BE ATTACKED.

Bismarck, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The teachers' pension act of North Dakota probably will be attacked in the courts in the event the state pension board carries out its plan of commencing suit against several counties that have failed to pay assessments which, under the law, are levied against him.

Five or six counties have failed to make their payments, and the pension board, meeting here yesterday, determined to bring action for the recovery of the money in question.

HEARS FROM WIFE IN WAR COUNTRY

North Dakotan Finally Locates Woman Safe in Belgium.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Eugene Toussaint of this city, from whom no direct word has been had since the outbreak of the European war, when she was in Brussells, is alive.

She was visiting her parents when war broke out, and gave birth to a baby the second day after the Germans began bombarding Llege.

From the day that she gave birth to the baby, until six weeks later when she was a refugee in a monastery near Louvain, after that city had been destroyed, her husband had no word from her.

Then, for a period of weeks and months, no word come from her, until a letter which arrived yesterday from Mr. Toussaint's mother, written from Brussels. She says Mrs. Toussaint is living and well, and is now housed with her relatives in Brussels again. She and her two children—the baby born in Belgium and a child of 2 years who accompanied her on the trip—are both declared well.

Appeals to State Department.

Mr. Toussaint, who is an importer of Belgian horses, has made repeated efforts to get into communication with his wife. He called on the state department of the United States for aid, and it was through them that he learned, several months ago, that his wife was a refugee near Louvain. Efforts to get money to her have been unsuccessful.

Mrs. Toussaint expects to remain until such time as peace may be declared, or until aid can be got to her. She is without funds now to make the trip to the United States, according to the lone advice received by her husband, and as long as avenues of communication are tied up as they now are, there is little prospect that she will be able to return to her home for some time to come.

Fine Law-Breaking Constable.

Florence, Wis., March 31.—John Dehart, a constable of Long Lake, Florence county, pleaded guilty before County Judge Frank Waring of this city to the charge of shipping venison out of season. Dehart paid a fine and costs amounting to $34.55. The venison was shipped in three trunks by express from Long Lake, billed to a Chicago commission merchant, but the meat was confiscated at Green Bay.

Wisconsin Fairs Consolidated.

Ladysmith, Wis., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A consolidation of the two county fair associations, one located at Bruce and the other at Ladysmith, has been accomplished and instead of a fair being held at both places as heretofore, there will be but the one and at Ladysmith, the county seat. Additional buildings are being arranged for and considerable money has been appropriated for other improvements. The county board has also appropriated $1,000.

Much Land Involved.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sixteen thousand dollars worth of Nelson county farm lands are involved in an action brought by Oliver Knudson against Robinson Bros., argued in the district court here yesterday. Knudson maintains he failed to receive money for the land, which was transferred to Robinson Bros. through an agent.

FIRE DAMAGE CASE.

Witness at Grand Rapids Five Days on Witness Stand.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—John A. Brown last evening finished his fifth day on the stand as a witness for the plaintiffs in the case of the Gilbert Land company vs. the Minneapolis & Rainy River Railway company to recover for fire damages. Mr. Brown is one of the cruisers who looked over the lands of the Gilbert Land company and estimated the timber on the lands involved. The estimates are being checked over and the work is very tedious.

Little interest is being taken in the case by the public, the only speculation being the length of time which it will require to try the case. The case has now been going on for twelve days and the end of the plaintiff's testimony is not yet in sight.

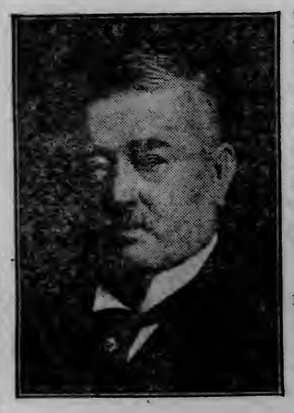
W. H. SMALLWOOD

CANDIDATE FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGE



If elected to the office of Municipal Judge, I will use every effort in my power to reduce the expenses of the Municipal Court. In 1912 the municipal court receipts and disbursements showed a profit of $267.32. In 1914 there was a deficit of $9,345.52. Why do the tax payers have to go into their pockets for this loss?

The following figures are taken from the annual reports of the city officers of Duluth for 1912, 1913 and 1914. They deal with the receipts and expenses of running the municipal court.

1912.
Receipts	$19,224.46
Disbursements	18,957.14
Profit	$ 267.32
1913.
Receipts	$16,092.18
Disbursements	21,441.17
Deficit	$ 5,349.99
1914.
Receipts	$13,459.06
Disbursements	22,804.58
Deficit	$ 9,345.52

The deficit has increased at the approximate rate of $5,000 per year. Is it not time there was a change?

TRAP CAR SERVICE BENEFIT TO ROADS

Carriers Not Making Much Effort in Hearing at Chicago.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner for the Duluth Commercial club, returned this morning from Chicago, where he went to attend the hearing before an examiner of the interstate commerce commission in the "trap car" case now being held. Mr. Hall said today that the carriers seem to be making but little effort at this time to establish the justice of charging for spotting cars for shippers and receivers.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Hall, "everything shows that the placing of cars at firms' warehouses is as much a benefit to the roads as it is to the firms. If the cars were not so placed, almost every railroad in the country would have to increase its freight house facilities for the handling of the shipments, and would have to handle them, whereas, at present, the shippers are actually furnishing the roads with freight room and doing the handling themselves."

COMPETITION WITH DULUTH IS FEARED

St. Paul Association of Commerce Reviews Lake and Rail Case.

The St. Paul Association of Commerce has just sent out to its members a statement of the present status of the lake-and-rail case, in which, up to the present, it has been worsted by the Duluth Commercial club's traffic committee, and which is still before the interstate commerce commission. The St. Paul association states the facts clearly enough and acknowledges that Duluth, at the present time, holds the whip hand, but expresses hope for ultimate victory. The statement also impresses upon the members the seriousness of competition with Duluth, and lays stress upon the importance of gaining an advantage in this case.

Duluthians who have been active in the lake-and-rail case, however, feel that the Twin Cities have little if any chance to have the rates returned to the previous unfair basis, and are prepared to meet any emergency that arises before the interstate commerce commission, which, they say, has shown itself to be unswervingly fair in this and other rate matters.

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S ANNUAL ELECTION

New Directors Will Be Chosen April 14 and Business Review Held.

The annual election of directors of the Commercial club and the annual meeting of the club members will take place two weeks from today, April 14. The election will be held most of the day, beginning at 11:30 in the morning, and the polls closing at 6:30 in the evening.

At 6 o'clock dinner will be served and as soon as that is over the annual meeting of the club and of the public affairs committee will be held jointly. The annual reports of the various subcommittees of the public affairs committee, and the annual report of the committee's chairman, R. B. Knox will be given at this time. Several very important matters will be brought before the club members for discussion and possible disposal and it is expected that the attendance of members will be large.

The directors whose terms expire this year and whose places will be filled at the annual election, are:

A. H. Crasswell, H. B. Haroldson, J. W. Lyder, A. Miller McDougall and Watson S. Moore.

After the new directors are chosen, the board will meet and organize by electing the officers of the club for the ensuing year. NEW RECORD SET BY MOTOR TRUCK

Twelve-Minute Run to Superior Sunday Pleases Safety Head.

How the triple combination motor truck from the fire hall at Fourteenth avenue east made the trip to Superior Sunday morning in exactly twelve minutes and proved effective in extinguishing the blaze at the Superior hotel, is now the chief topic of discussion by the fire officials in both cities.

When the fire was discovered to have made considerable headway, the Superior officials immediately telephoned to Duluth for assistance, and the combination truck was sent out from the No. 4 station on a mad dash across the bay. The run was made in twelve minutes from the hall to the Superior hotel, where the local men played a prominent part in extinguishing the heavy flames. The streets were clear at that hour and there was nothing to delay the apparatus.

"We are certainly pleased with the record run made and the great assistance given by our boys to the Superior firemen," said Commissioner Hicken this morning. "It was a real test of motorized equipment and shows the value of such apparatus to a large city."

$140,000 FARGO BONDS ARE SOLD

Bring Premium of $2,060; To Be Expended on City Work.

Fargo, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Minneapolis trust company today bid in the $140,000 bond issue for municipal improvements here at a premium of $2,060. There were a number of bidders. It is expected that the work will be done by contractors several thousand dollars cheaper because payments will be on a cash basis. The bonds are for fifteen years and draw 5 per cent interest.

MINERS' WAGES ARE INCREASED

Ten Per Cent Advance Announced on Michigan Copper Ranges.

Chicago, March 31.—A Houghton, Mich., dispatch to the Gold and Stock Ticker states that the copper range mines today announced they would increase wages 10 per cent beginning tomorrow.

The advance restores the scale to the standard which was reduced upon the outbreak of the war in Europe.

KNIFER BOUND OVER.

Held to Grand Jury for Cutting Man at Swan River.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Saari, a lumberjack, is in jail charged with cutting up Pete Koski and Matt Sumi, and Sumi is serving a sixty-day sentence for fighting as a result of a brawl among the three men at Swan River Monday. The three men had been drinking, and they got to fighting, Saari drawing a knife in the course of the argument and slashing both of his companions quite badly. The authorities were notified and Sheriff Gunderson went to Swan River and arrested the three men, bringing them in Monday evening. County Attorney Stone had the men appear before Judge Huson of the justice court, with the result that Saari was bound aver for assault, and Sumi given sixty days for fighting.

STEMPER BILL GOES TO SENATE

Wisconsin Assembly Refuses to Reconsider Its Saloon Measure.

Madison, Wis., March 31.—Three important features of legislation were acted upon by the assembly today. It refused by a vote of 35 to 51 to reconsider the vote by which it passed the Stemper bill to legalize about 200 saloons in Milwaukee and the measure now goes to the senate.

By a vote of 44 to 25 it killed the Julius Hanson bill to repeal the athletic commission and boxing law and it dismissed Charles Manegold, Jr., president of a brewing company after summoning him before the house without asking him a single question. Mr. Manegold was to have been interrogated relative to a letter he wrote to Assemblyman Carl Hansen, offering to influence votes in return for support of the Stemper bill.

"I am not through with this fight," said Assemblyman Hansen this noon, after the assembly voted in favor of the Zinn motion to discharge Mr. Manegold. It is understood the letter has been placed before Attorney General Owen.

The assembly engrossed the Hedding bill to prohibit boxing in fourth-class cities and to prohibit persons under 18 years of age attending these bouts. This bill also gives the athletic commission power to revoke the licenses of clubs. The assembly also engrossed the Schroeder bill to give cities of the first class power to require interurban and street car companies to sprinkle or oil streets between the tracks.

The assembly committee on state affairs reported for concurrence the Bosshard bill prohibiting tips and gratuities.

The Bray water power bill was introduced in the senate today. It does not contain elaborate regulations for maintenance of public rights, depending chiefly on the legislatures of the future. The indeterminate permit, or perpetual franchise, is not provided for in the bill and the legislature is given power to alter, amend or repeal the water power grants at any time. The theory of the bill is chiefly to define the difference between the public and the private rights which exist in every stream.

In the senate action on a change in the official state paper was deferred until Friday morning.

Both houses adopted a resolution that when the legislature adjourns on Friday it will be until Wednesday evening of next week at 8:30 o'clock.

In 1913 the death rate of infants in England for each thousand of population was 100. This figure has been declining for a number of years.

BEAUTY DOCTOR TELLS SECRET

Detroit Beauty Doctor Gives Simple Recipe to Darken Gray Hair and Promote Its Growth.

Miss Alice Whitney, a well-known beauty doctor of Detroit, Mich., recently gave out the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, promote its growth and make it soft and glossy. To half a pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of the hair, relieve itching and scalp diseases, and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 178A Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

GET REPORT ON JITNEYS

Electric Railway Association Conducts Investigation of New Problem.

Think It Transitory and the Result of Unemployment.

Jitneys have cut into the revenues of street railways enough in the last few weeks to cause a special investigation of the situation by experts on municipal transportation.

In a lengthy report to the American Electric Railway association, this committee declares that the jitney is a product of unemployment and is "not here to stay."

Britton I. Budd, president of the Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railways company of Chicago; H. G. Bradlee, president of the Stone & Webster Management association of Boston; William A. House, president of the United Railways & Electric company of Baltimore, and C. L. S. Tingley, vice president of the American Railways company of Philadelphia, comprising the committee, have made this one of the salient points of their report.

"It has sprung into existence primarily because the owner or lessee, being out of work, is for the time being content with such income as arises from the small difference between fares collected and operating expenses," says the report.

"Our investigations have convinced us that jitneys are not profitable to the operators. Few men stay in the business longer than a month or two but their place is taken by others who are led to take it up because of the way it has been advertised."

The committee members say that the "hurry-up" cars will be much less in evidence when business conditions again become normal.

The city commissioners, together with City Attorney Harvey Clapp, have taken up the study of the jitney, with a view to regulating the cars and their operation. In this connection, rules enforced in other cities of the United States where the jitney has leaped into popularity will be examined by Duluth authorities.

Some Rules Provided.

Spokane, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oklahoma City, Pasadena, Boise, Idaho; Fort Worth, Tex., and Birmingham, Ala., are prominent as cities where the jitney has taken the greatest strides and where the most is being done to regulate them. Here are some of the more generally used rules:

"Requiring jitney operators to carry liability insurance or to execute a bond for $10,000 or other substantial sum, for each car operated, in order that the public may be assured of their financial liability in event of accident.

"Requiring and charging a fee for a license in order that the jitney shall contribute to the common funds of the community and that the casual and irresponsible operator may be eliminated.

"Providing for the regulation and licensing of drivers in the interests of safety.

"Providing for definite routes and schedules as affecting reliability of service.

"Providing standards (loading, lighting and heating) to promote the comfort and convenience of passengers.

"Providing definite rates of fare.

"Providing penalties for failure to comply with regulations—fines and revocation of license."

Denver has made an unusual provision which requires every individual contemplating engaging in the passenger transportation business to obtain a franchise.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF PERU IS RENOMINATED FOR POSITION

JOSE PARDO.

Washington, March 31.—Jose Pardo, president of Peru from 1904 to 1908, was again nominated for the Peruvian presidency by a national convention which met Sunday, according to a report to the state department from lieve the explosive had been placed with criminal intent in a trunk which was stored with the baggage of first-class passengers in No. 2 hold.

Passengers Examined.

With this first report of experts at hand, the state attorney at Havre examined as many passengers as could be reached. The witnesses stated, according to the Matin, that they had been amazed at the statement made one night during the voyage by a fellow-passenger when they were discussing German threats to torpedo ships passing through the war zone. This passenger is quoted as having remarked:

"Oh, that isn't the only war zone that would be dangerous; Germany is strong enough to do what she wants. This ship herself, even before she reaches the war zone, might be obliged to have recourse to the doctors and nurses aboard to care for the passengers."

Only passing heed, however, was given to this assertion when it was made, but in view of subsequent events it appeared to the investigating attorney to have considerable importance.

Listed as American.

The passenger in question who was quoted as having boasted of Germany's power, was listed on the ship's records as "Raymond Swoboda, 38 years of age, an American subject; profession financier; destination Paris."

Commissary Dubert, attached to the secret service department of the ministry of the interior, undertook the task of tracing Swoboda. He found that the man was fairly well known in Paris financial circles and had been connected with several more or less important transactions. He was supposed to be a Russian for he often spoke of his family connections at Petrograd and Moscow.

He was traced to a hotel in the Place de Rivoli where he was arrested. When his room was searched the police declare a number of letters written in German were found which seemed to point strongly to his guilt.

Remembered By Agent.

New York, March 31.—The circumstances under which Mr. Swoboda sailed aboard La Touraine Feb. 27 were clearly recalled today at the office of the French line here.

Mr. Swoboda, it was said, came into the office of the line on Feb. 26, the day before the steamer sailed, and, presenting what appeared to be an American passport, vised by the French consul here, said he wanted to engage passage to Havre. The ticket clerk, whom he engaged in conversation, recalled him today as a pleasant spoken man of about 37 years, wearing glasses, who said that he expected to sell some supplies to the French government.

The nature of these supplies, so far as could be recalled, was not stated. Mr. Swoboda did say, however, the clerk recalls, that he wanted to take aboard samples of the supplies and to do so would prefer to have them shipped with him as excess baggage. The clerk is under the impression that the supplies had something to do with the use of gasoline—inferentially a gasoline engine of some sort.

Sent to Freight Agent.

Swoboda was sent to the freight agent of the line before the ticket was issued, to arrange for the transportation of his excess baggage. He came in a few minutes to the ticket clerk, apparently disappointed and said that the freight agent would not permit him to put his baggage aboard the steamer and that he would have to see Paul Faguet, the general agent of the line to get permission to do so.

Mr. Faguet was in his office at the time and the ticket clerk directed Swoboda to his room. Swoboda remained closeted with Mr. Faguet, the clerk said, about ten minutes, and emerged from his office smiling.

"I didn't get all that I wanted," Swoboda told the clerk, "but I did get a concession. I can take some of my samples with me."

Thereupon the clerk asserts Swoboda paid for his ticket, took it and departed. He made no further visit so far as could be recalled, to the office.

Visited Cunard Line.

In recalling the conversation, the clerk said Swoboda had told him he had visited the Cunard line office here and that the Cunard line was willing for him to carry his samples as excess baggage.

Swoboda gave his full name as Raymond Rolf Swoboda. This was the name, the clerk remembered, that appeared on the paper which he thought to be a passport. He told the clerk that he was staying at the Manhattan hotel, this city. The hotel records show that P. R. Swoboda was registered there Feb. 24 and remained three days. P. R. Swoboda registered from Paris.

A search through the records of the French line disclosed the fact that a M. Swoboda (Monsieur Swoboda) was a passenger aboard the steamer Rochambeau leaving Havre Jan. 6 and arriving here Jan. 14. There was nothing to show whether this was the same Swoboda as sailed on La Touraine, as no record was available here of the initials of the Rochambeau's passengers.

Applied for Passport.

Washington, March 31.—Search of state department records today revealed that Raymond Swoboda made application for an American passport in New York on Feb. 26. Swoboda gave his residence as San Francisco. The state department today forwarded what information it has to the department of justice for investigation.

AN AMERICAN CITIZEN AMONG THOSE LOST ON TORPEDOED STEAMSHIP

Gold Mining company at its Gold coast headquarters for work as a mechanic last year. His services were satisfactory and the company remitted money for him to New York. The bankers had corresponded with him at intervals, they said, while he was out of the country, and on one occasion had transmitted to him money sent from abroad for him to go to the Gold Coast. It was thought that he was unmarried.

In his last letter to the firm, Mr. Thrasher wrote "You can write me at 77 Cartwright Gardens street, Pancras, London, W. C." This was the address given by Thrasher when he filled out the passport form in England.

Lived in Hardwick, Mass.

New York, March 31.—Leon Chester Thrasher, who was among the Falaba's passengers lived in Hardwick, Mass., before going to England. His mother, Mrs. M. L. Thrasher, lives there now.

The Eastman-Dillon company, bankers of this city, transacted business with Mr. Thrasher and received from him a number of letters from time to time, the last being written at Plymouth, England, Feb. 16. The firm did not know whether he was an American citizen but thought that he was.

Some of Mr. Thrasher's letters to his mother, it was said, were forwarded to her through the firm. In one of these letters, written early in the year, Mr. Thrasher said he had finished with the Gold Coast and thought he would return to Hardwick within a short time.

"You can expect to see me within two or three months," was the word he sent his mother, as recalled by a representative of the banking firm.

Little is known here of Mr. Thrasher's personal affairs.

Born in Hardwick.

Hardwick, Mass., March 31.—Leon Chester Thrasher, one of the passengers whose lives were lost when the British steamer Falaba was sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Wales last Surday, was a citizen of the United States. He was born here in 1884.

This was established today by his mother, Mrs. Mary Thrasher. Leon, she said, was the second of four children.

Leon Thrasher lived here until 1901, when he went to Springfield to learn the machinist trade. After completing his apprenticeship he became a traveling master mechanic, his work taking him to many parts of the world. After journeying all over the United States he went to Alaska and later to continental Europe.

Letter Last Friday.

Mrs. Thrasher received a letter from her son last Friday, in which he wrote that he would sail from Liverpool on the Falaba for Broomassie, Africa, where he had obtained a position as master mechanic in the mines.

The next she heard of him was when she read of his death in this morning's papers.

The Thrasher family has appealed to Washington to learn the circumstances of the death of Leon. Mrs. Austin M. Thrasher of Westfield, Springfield, communicated by long distance telephone with Congressman Frederick H. Gillett, who, she said, promised to cable Ambassador Walter Hines Page at London, asking the latter for a complete report on the death of her brother-in-law.

"Russian forces which during the last few days advanced north of the Augustowo forest against the German position, were repulsed by Germans who advanced into the forest lake district near Sejny. The number of Russians taken prisoners in the engagement near Krasnopol and to the north and east was increased by 500. Near Klimki on the Skwa, 220 more Russians were captured."

French Statement.

Paris, March 31.—via London, 3:15 p. m.—The official communication from the war office this afternoon was limited to the following brief announcement:

"No modification of the situation has been reported since the last communication."

Russian Statement.

Petrograd, via London, March 31, 8:55 a. m.—The following official statement from the headquarters of the army of the Caucasus was issued last night:

"In the coastal districts there has been gunfire. Our troops acting on the offensive from Borchka and Ardanutch occupied Artvin, throwing the Turks back to the south.

"The left wing on the Sari-Kamysh front now is in action and there have been artillery duels.

"Nothing of importance has taken place on the other fronts."

From Vienna.

Vienna, by wireless to London, March 31, 8:45 a. m.—The cessation of fighting in Dukla pass lasted only twenty-four hours, the newspapers report, the Russians then bringing up fresh reserves.

Fighting in the valley of the Ondava and Laborcza has recommended and now is in full swing. The Austrian troops are fighting desperately and the Russians, it is reported here, in spite of furious attacks with large forces have not been able to gain their objective at any point for an invasion of Hungary. The fighting in the Carpathians is going on during a heavy rainfall.

The battle in Bukowina yesterday is reported to have resulted in favor of the Austrians.

cross-roads," says the record officer, "The sign post there pointed down the road to the southeast and bore the inscription 'six kilometers (four miles) to Neuve Chapelle.' This was the road our troops had taken. It led almost in a straight line to the trenches that were to be stormed, to a village behind them that was to be captured, to the town of La Bassee, a few kilometers further on, still strongly held by the Germans."

Road Black With Soldiers.

The record officer says he alighted from his motorcycle and went on foot part of the way because the road was black with battalions all headed for Neuve Chapelle.

"These were troops held in reserve," he explained. "Those selected for the initial infantry attack were already in the trenches ahead, waiting for the moment to advance.

"I had just passed the sign post, when the comparative peace of the morning was shattered by the united roar and crash of hundreds of guns. This broke out precisely at 7:30. The exact moment had been fixed beforehand for the beginning of a cannonade more concentrated and more terrific than any previous cannonade in the history of the world. It continued with extraordinary violence for half an hour, all calibers of guns taking part in it. Some of the grandmotherly British howitzers hurled their enormously destructive shells into the German lines on which a hurricane of shrapnel was descending from a host of smaller guns.

Offered Little Reply.

"The German trenches offered little or no reply, for the enemy was cowering for shelter from that storm. I turned toward the lead and watched for a while the good part which the Canadian artillery played in that attack. The Canadian division which was a little further north than Neuve Chapelle, waited in its trenches for the time to advance.

"At length the din of gunfire ceased and we knew when the British troops were rushing from their trenches to deal with the Germans whose nerve the guns had shaken. Astounded as they were by our artillery fire, the Germans were still more amazed by the rapidity of the infantry attack. The British soldiers and the Indians swept in upon them instantly until large numbers threw down their weapons, scrambled out of their trenches and knelt, hands up in token of surrender.

"The fight swept on far beyond the German trenches, through the village and beyond. The big guns ocasionally lolled in. Now the motor ambulances began to come back up the road, down which the sign post pointed to Neuve Chapelle bearing the wounded from the fight. Presently the cheerful sight of German prisoners alternated with the saddening procession of ambulances."

EVEN DECENT BURIAL IS REFUSED ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY BILL

that the bill should be referred to the interim commission created by the resolution. Speaker Flowers sustained the point of order, holding that the bill had thus been disposed of.

Though the ruling was manifestly made to clear the decks for other business, the fact is that the Girling resolution does not dispose of the bill and that unless something is done about it the session will end with the bill not even formally killed.

Representative Wefald then moved to reconsider the vote whereby the Girling resolution was adopted, but on a point of order raised by Representative Bjornson the speaker held that the time for reconsideration had gone by. Mr. Wefald may make his motion again later.

After Mississippi Reservoirs.

The house unanimously adopted the resolution by Representative C. H. Warner asking congress to change the 20-year-old rules governing the reservoirs on the upper Mississippi so as to conserve the public interest instead of hampering it. Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker has put a similar resolution through the senate and both will now go to congress.

* * *

The house committee on transportation this morning reported in without recommendation the Kneeland bill repealing the Cashman distance tariff law. While this report has the same effect on the progress of the bill as a recommendation for passage, it is entirely improbable that the measure will be reached for consideration in the short time remaining of the session.

Amending Dunn Road Law.

under county boards instead of under the state highway commission. The bill was passed by the house several weeks ago. The vote was 60 yeas and 2 nays. Senators Bonniwell and Buckler cast the only dissenting votes.

After long debate the senate adopted an amendment by Mr. Dunn changing the minimum state aid to counties from 1 per cent to 8-10ths of 1 per cent, by a vote of 41 to 20. The house, after a fight, struck out this provision, so there may be a conference committee fight between the two branches.

Senator John H. Baldwin of Frazee opposed the amendment on the ground that it would add $200,000 a year to the amount of money which the highway commission can place where it sees fit, which he believed to be a dangerous thing.

Woman's Reformatory.

The house passed the bill appropriating $30,000 for the purchase of a site for a woman's reformatory, to be selected by a commission composed of two senators and three representatives. Representative Larimore of Minneapolis called it up and had the rules suspended for its consideration. Representative Adams of Fergus Falls thought the amount was too much, and proposed to cut it to $10,000, but his amendment to that effect was beaten, 62 to 43.

* * *

The house passed under suspension of the rules a joint resolution offered by Representative Spooner for the appropriations committee, directing the board of control to remodel the old state capitol for the accommodation of departments now paying rent outside and appropriating $6,500, the estimated cost of the work.

The Bjornson-Smith bill rebating penalties and interest on the delinquent gross earnings taxes of rural telephone lines passed the house under suspension of the rules.

LICENSES FOR ALL HUNTERS

which was led by Chairman Edward Indrehus of the committee on game and fish, is to increase the revenues of the game and fish department to such an extent as to make it self-sustaining. Mr. Indrehus pointed out that though Minnesota is the greatest game state in the Union, many other states derive from twice to six times as much revenue from hunting licenses, and the result is that every session it is necessary to fight for appropriations to keep the game and fish department going.

No Free Hunting.

Representative P. H Frye of Willmar wanted to amend the bill so as to free those hunting in their own voting precincts from the requirement to pay for licenses. After a little trifling about the time some of the city members would have hunting in their voting precincts, the house beat the amendment. It treated similarly an amendment by Representative M. L. Davis of Long Prairie, increasing the license fee for residents hunting big game from $1 to $2.

Representative Hugh Leonard of Millville tried to make it so hunters could hunt without licenses in their own townships, but that didn't go, either.

Representative A. M. Peterson of Coleraine then proposed the most important amendment of the series—one changing the provision allowing big game hunters one moose and one deer, the "one moose OR one deer" thus curtailing the big game bag materially. This amendment was adopted.

Representative Farley Dare offered an amendment that would have had the effect of requiring urban dwellers only to pay for their hunting, but the house refused to see it his way.

Farmers' Boys Excepted.

There had been a good deal of talk about the farmers' boys, and Representative Sam Y. Gordon offered an amendment to the effect that those under 21 need not take out licenses. This, in the discussion, proved popular, and Chairman Indrehus indicated his willingness to accept it, so it was adopted.

The bill as amended was then passed, though Representative Gunnar Bjornson and others said they were opposed to charging anybody for hunting in their own counties, and voted against it to the number of forty-six.

Grain Exchange Memberships.

Representatives of the Duluth board of trade and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce appeared yesterday afternoon before the senate committee on railroads, grain and warehouses in opposition to the Lende bill, which the committee had made its own measure, throwing down the doors to membership in these exchanges.

Elias Steenerson of Crookston, who said he was a grain grower in the Red River valley, urged the passage of the bill, and said it would reform many practices of the grain exchanges which he declared to be inimical to the interests of the farmers. C. F. Macdonald of Duluth, secretary of the board of trade, and Secretary J. G. McHugh of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce and H. V. Mercer, its attorney, spoke against the bill. They declared not only that it was not necessary, but that its effects would be vicious and prejudicial to the public interest. The customs and regulations of the grain exchanges under present conditions, they declared, amply safeguard the interests of the grain growers, and cases where the farmers are injured are rare indeed.

Senator O. A. Lende of Canby, who presented the bill to the committee, spoke in favor of it. The committee took no action, though it has already put the bill in as a committee bill, and it is on general orders in the senate. The bill forbids grain exchanges to limit their memberships or to charge more than $1,000 for seats, and requires them to admit to membership all applicants except when adequate reasons, subject to review by the courts, can be urged against them.

On motion of Representative Edward Indrehus the house yesterday afternoon advanced to the calendar the bill by Senator J. D. Sullivan of St. Cloud requiring the use of Minnesota stone in state buildings.

Representative Spencer J. Searls of Carlton yesterday afternoon sought to have the Jay Cooke state park bill advanced to the calendar, but it developed that the bill is before the committee on appropriations. When Mr. Searls made his motion Representative S. C. Scott of Hibbing protested, declaring that "this is a bill that ought to be considered very carefully."

J. T. Lyder of the Northern National bank of Duluth, W. G. Hegardt of the American Exchange National bank, H. S. McGregor of the City National bank, and A. H. Crasweller and John Sinclair, attorneys, appeared before the senate judiciary committee yesterday afternoon in behalf of the bill that would permit banks to act as trustees and administrators. John Lind of Minneapolis spoke against the bill. The committee took the measure under advisement.

The Bible in the Schools.

Representatives of various religious denominations appeared before the senate committee on education yesterday afternoon to oppose or to urge the passage of the pending bill providing for reading the Bible in public schools when the voters of the school district have approved it.

Rabbi I. L. Rypins opposed the bill as the first step toward the formation of a state church, and on the ground that it would affront members of his faith. S. Abbetmeyer, representing the German Lutheran church, was against the bill on the same ground. Dr. P. A. Madson, representing the Swedish Lutheran church, favored the bill, and so did Rev. W. E. J. Gratz of the Park Methodist church, representing the St. Paul Preachers' union. Dr. M. D. Edwards of St. Paul, Dr. C. Haupt of Minneapolis and Rev. James Frost also advocated its passage. Those favoring the measure declared that there are today 200,000 boys and girls in Minnesota who do not attend Sunday schools and are not given Bible teaching at home, and that these children should be cared for. The committee took no action.

The house this afternoon took up a long list of local, curative and unopposed bills as a special order. If the list is not completed today, its consideration will be resumed next Monday evening.

YOUNG FOLKS FORM CLUBS

Organization in Koochiching County to Encourage Young People.

Boys and Girls Are Being Interested in Various Propositions.

International Falls, Minn., March 31. —(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable work in the line of club organization among boys, girls and farmers is being done in this vicinity by Edward Vancura, agricultural instructor in the high school, and D. B. Jewell, county agricultural agent.

Boys' and girls' clubs are becoming very popular both in city and rural districts, a number having been organized within the last two weeks.

A tomato club was organized among girls in the upper grades and high school, the purpose being to enter into contest work for the local, state and national tomato contests. A number of plants have been set in hotbeds and twenty of these will be planted by each girl as soon as weather conditions will permit. These contests will be decided next fall, tomatoes being canned in the domestic science department of the school and decisions based on yield and the quality of the canned product. Some champion tomato growers are expected to deevlop among girls of this place.

Another club has been formed at Ray known as the Ray Wide-awake Boys' and Girls' club and more extended contest work will be indulged in there, they having entered the chicken, potato, tomato, and bread contests.

Parent-Teachers Club.

Twenty-five mothers of this city, members of the new Mothers' club recently organized by Miss Flora Remington of the kindergarten department of the school, met Monday afternoon at the school building, and after a meeting more successful than anyone had expected, decided to enlarge the scope of the work by reorganizing the club into a parent-teachers association, meetings to be held on the last Friday of each month. The latter body will fill a long felt want in the city and community, for since the completion of the new $160,000 building last spring many have taken a keen interest in the work of the school, but no practical method has presented itself previously for parents and teachers to get together and analyze school problems. The association will no doubt in a very short time have a membership which the school and city will justly feel proud of.

The meeting of the Mothers' club was highly instructive from start to finish and very interesting. A paper on the subject of foods for children was read by Dr. Elizabeth Monahan, and the matter was so well presented and contained so much valuable information that it was conceded to be the best treatment of the matter ever heard in this city, and it will be published in the city papers Monday. S. A. Challan of Minneapolis, state commissioner of school buildings, and formerly state inspector of graded schools, was also on the program, the club being very fortunate in procuring him to speak, as he is here looking after work on school buildings. Mr. Challan gave a talk that proved his knowledge of school matters and was deeply appreciated by the club. Following this, a number of recitations, dramatizations and songs were given by the kindergarten pupils.

On April 30 will occur the first meeting of the new parent-teachers association and great interest is already being shown in the matter.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS HAS $4,000 BLAZE

Four Buildings in Southern Section of City Are Destroyed.

International Falls, Minn., March 31. —(Special to The Herald.)—Fire in the south end of the city Monday night destroyed four buildings, one being a bakery and the others dwellings. Flames originating in the bakery belonging to Nic Candelit, rapidly took the building beyond redemption, especially since there is no fire protection in that suburb.

Within a short time the conflagration had spread to two frame dwellings belonging to the same man and also to one owned by Fred Ichert and all were soon enwrapped in flames. A complete job was done by the fire, not the least sign of a wall standing and everything but the chimney brick and foundations being consumed. Loss will reach a total of over $4,000. The fire was of unknown origin.

St. Hilair, Minn., March 31.—Inquiries have been received here relative to the identity of C. T. Swanson, a farmer of this locality, reputed to have been swindled out of $13,000 by race track sharpers at Jaurez, Mex.

Since he left here local bank records show $3,000 had been forwarded to Swanson. As the report goes Swanson through the "tips" of trackmen wagered $3,000 in cash and $5,000 in securities on races at Juarez and won but was not given his winnings until he went and got more money which he did, putting it into the "pot" and losing all. MIKE GIBBONS APPLIES SYSTEM TO BOXING GAME

St. Paul Phantom Studies Weakness and Strength of All Tough Boxers Before Entering Into a Match—Jim Corbett Used to Employ Scout System—Cuba May Become Boxing Center.

BY BRUCE.

MIKE GIBBONS comes about as near to making a real and precise business out of boxing as any man who has ever been engaged in the game. In a series of articles that are being syndicated in various newspapers of the country, the genial and same time crafty Michael lets the dear old public in on some of the details of his ring operations.

Previous to consenting to meet any of the tough boys, Mike makes it his business to get a thorough line on the strength, weakness, eccentricities and even idiosyncrasies of his future opponent. With all this knowledge before him the boxer generally credited with having the most valid claim on the world's lightweight title proceeds to map out a plan of battle.

Gibbons studied Clabby and McGoorty and is said at the present time to be applying mental concentration and physical practising to fit himself to cope with both Jack Dillon and Packey McFarland.

Jim Corbett was one of the first of the famous boxers to employ extensive scouting methods with the view of getting a line on his opponents. Thus when young Jim boxed John L. Sullivan in a dress suit in San Francisco, the smart young bank clerk had a definite and well thought out object in putting up his dukes with the most celebrated heavyweight of all time.

After the exhibition bout young Jim Corbett astounded some of his staunch admirers by stoutly declaring that he could defeat the then champion of the world. The glowing belief upon the pompous part of Corbett was later verified in a famous battle at New Orleans.

Frank Gotch has more brains than the rest of the wrestlers in the world and for that reason more than any other, rose to the high peaks of the championship. Frank out-thought the others, both before and during the contest.

Before the second contest with Zbyszko, Gotch was quartered at the Spalding with some of the other celebrities of the Jeffries combination. Questioning the Humboldt wonder regarding his chances against the Polish behemoth, Gotch told the writer why he thought he could defeat Jack Herman's mastodon. The advance information possessed by Gotch was correct and the able Iowan quite decisively defeated the powerful but ponderous Pole.

Should Packey McFarland and Mike Gibbons meet in the hempen enclosure the fans of this country will behold two of the brainiest pugilists of all time in action. McFarland is a shrewd and closely calculating lad; and as for Gibbons, an example has been cited of the degree of intelligent attention he pays to the game that is annually yielding a larger financial return than the majority of more dignified callings are returning to some of the big business men of this country.

John L. Sullivan was really one of the last famous examples of the old school of fighters. "Yours on the level John L." believed that he could defeat any man in the world, nor did he take the pains or time to inquire closely concerning his opponent.

Had Sullivan been a shrewd and deeply calculating man, he might have learned how wonderful a boxer Corbett was and at least made more serious preparations for the battle. But that was in the somewhat dim past, as pugilistic events are measured. The majority of those connected with the ring game of the present time, if they have achieved any real progress, are persons with some real brains in their head, even though it will be a somewhat difficult task to convince some observers of pugilism that brains lurk in its vicinity.

The Extent of Boxing.

ENGLAND has always been considered the home of the ring sport. Therefore it was somewhat of a blow to national pride when the youthful Georges Carpentier, representing the tricolor of La Belle France, laid Bombardier Wells, sporting the colors of the Union Jack, hors de combat in a London prize ring.

American managers introduced the sport of boxing in France and it was remarkable how the athletes of that nation adapted themselves to the game of fisticuffs. That a country that was just being introduced to a new form of sport should produce boxers able to defeat those of a nation that has been the very cradle of the game, is a fact that has set close followers of pugilism pondering.

The exigencies arising in the efforts to stage a world's championship boxing contest have introduced glove fighting to the Cubans. Just as Mexico was getting boxing served with its bull fighting. Hippilo Villa was unable to convince Jack Johnson of his ability to get him safely into Mexico.

In the future there will probably be a new crop of boxers developed in Cuba, just as France sent some worthy glovemen cantering to the front. They say that Cuba has some of the greatest natural athletes in the universe. The number of really star baseball players produced on the island is at least a mild sort of verification of this statement.

Finland, the Scandinavian countries, Russia and Germany have as yet repudiated all efforts to popularize boxing within their borders. The glove game has a rabid following in England, France, Australia, and some parts of Africa, with the chances that one of these days the glove game will become quite popular in Mexico and Cuba.

In the Major League bowling games of last evening the Big Duluths tied up the race for the leadership with the Park hotel team by taking two out of three games from the Sharkcraft five.

Sam Olsen was one of the conspicuous factors in the defeat of the Peoples' Brewing company team by the Three Winners. The Brewers were defeated in two of the three games, Olsen getting to the wood for a total of 617 pins in the three games, an average of 206.

BASEBALL DECISIONS.

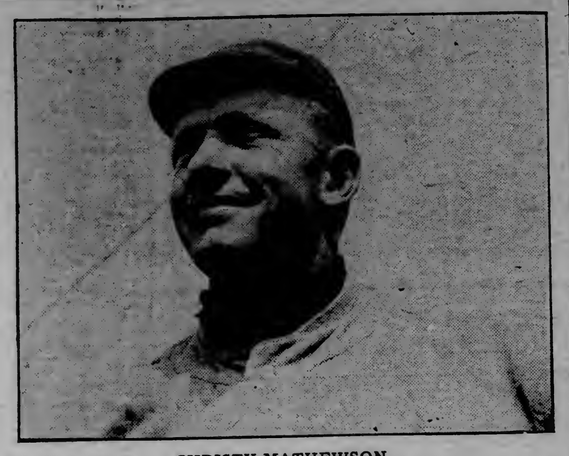
Secretary Farrell Gives Out Findings and Rulings of National Board.

Auburn, N. Y., March 31.—Secretary John H. Farrell of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, yesterday gave out the following notices and decisions of the national board of arbitration:

Claims allowed — James Murray against St. Paul, Otis Clymer against Minneapolis, James Whalen against Minneapolis, Charles Weigent against Winona, Minn., and C. H. Donnelly against Bay City, Mich., allowed in part.

Services of players awarded—L. F. Stevenson to Wausau, Wis.

HOW LONG WILL HE LAST?



CHRISTY MATHEWSON.

Every season some of the followers of the great national pastime predict the downfall of Christy Mathewson. For years, to be exact, since 1904, this brainy big chap has been the mainstay of the cohorts of McGraw. No one will deny that the arm of Mathewson is weakening; yet his cunning brain, his wonderful control and his deep knowledge of the weakness of the average batter, may serve to keep him in the game for several more seasons.

DULUTH MAY ENTER LEAGUE

Efforts Being Made to Affiliate With Amateur Baseball Association.

Last season an unsuccessful attempt was made to establish a branch of the United States Amateur Baseball association here. The attempt failed through lack of interest upon the part of the various managers of city teams. Plans are now being made to have Duluth represented in the nation-wide amateur movement.

Ray Johns put St. Paul in the association and last season the St. Paul amateur team, winning the home title played off with one of the crack teams of the West for the right to contend for the national amateur baseball title.

Lawrence Duby is planning to take the matter up with Johns, who in turn is expected to place the thing before the national directors. If the managers of local teams show any enterprise or interest in the matter of being represented in the biggest baseball movement of the country, the plans being worked up by Duby may materialize.

There is some question whether the Commercial Baseball league of Duluth will be organized this season. Efforts are being made at this time to get some of the teams together and form a strong league.

WORLD'S THREE-CUSHION CONTEST DOWN TO FINALS.

Chicago, March 31.—William Huey of Chicago, by defeating John Daly of New York, 50 to 46, in ninety-one innings, last night eliminated him from a triple tie and will meet George Moore of New York tonight for the three-cushion billiard championship of the world.

Veterans Receive and Pitch First Ball in Opening League Game.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 31.—Several celebrities in the baseball world participated in the ceremonies connected with the opening game of the Pacific Coast league season here yesterday.

In the absence of the mayor, "Big Jeff" Overall, former Chicago National star, pitched the first ball, and Frank Chance, ex-manager of the Chicago Nationals and the New York Americans, caught it. Portland defeated Los Angeles 3 to 1.

Bad weather prevented the other league towns from staging their opening contests.

HOCKEY BANQUET DATE IS CHANGED

Annual Feed Will Be Held on Evening of April 6.

A change in the original date set for the banquet of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league has been announced. Instead of holding the banquet on Thursday of the present week, officers of the league thought it would be better to put the date over until after Easter.

It is desired that all of the friends of the league will assist in making the affair a success by being in attendance.

A. B. C. TOURNAMENT OVER FOR THIS YEAR.

Peoria, Ill., March 31.—The fifteenth annual tournaments of the American Bowling congress closed here last night.

W. H. Pierce of Pueblo won the championship in the singles with a score of 711. Walter Cook of Philadelphia came second with 697 and H. G. Rotjahn of Chicago third with 696. Pierce's mark of 711 sets a new record in the A. B. C., the highest previous record being held by T. Haley of Detroit, who rolled 705 in 1910.

The championship in the doubles went to H. Allen and R. Allen of Detroit, who made 1,297. D. Maloney and J. Nolte of Elizabeth, N. J., yesterday rolled 1,281 and are tied for second place with E. J. Kelley and A. Toenmef of Chicago. The 1,297 made by Allen and Allen of Detroit is the second highest score ever rolled in the doubles in an A. B. C. tournament.

The Barry-Ketteleers of Chicago clinched the championship in the five-men event late Monday night with a score of 2,907. The New Havens of New Haven landed second place with 2,892 and Liebers' Gold Medals of Indianapolis took third with 2,848.

M. E. Faetz of Chicago captured the championship in the all-events with 1,876.

The cash prizes in the fives, doubles and singles total $24,000. One hundred and three teams in the fives, 228 teams in the doubles and 466 names in the singles will divide the purse.

EASEMENT WILL COST CITY $2,045

Jury Renders Decree in Action Appealing From Award.

Ovedea Gunderson and Helen B. Mahon will receive $2,045 damages from the city for an easement across their property condemned for the purposes of the proposed north shore boulevard between Lester Park and the Lake county line. A jury in district court before Judge Dancer yesterday assessed this amount as reasonable compensation for the property to be taken for right-of-way purposes. The owners had appealed from the award made by appraisers appointed by the court in condemnation proceedings.

The jury engaged at the trial of another of the appeal cases in which Helen B. Mahon and John Johnson are appellants took a trip to Palmers this morning on the 7:30 o'clock Duluth & Iron Range Railroad train. A deputy sheriff and the attorneys interested in the case accompanied the jury. The land involved is located within a short distance of Palmers station.

OUT-OF-TOWN MASONS WILL BE GUESTS

Will Receive Scottish Rite Degrees at Banquet in Duluth.

Out-of-town Masons, who are receiving Scottish Rite degrees this week, will be entertained at a banquet this evening at the Commercial club.

There are about twenty Masons outside of Duluth, but living within the jurisdiction of Duluth Consistory, No. 3, Ancient and Accepted Order of Scottish Rite Masons, who are receiving the higher degrees during this special Easter week. Last night the eighteenth degree was exemplified and tomorrow night the ceremonies for the week will come to an end with the annual Maundy Thursday feast. About 1,000 Scottish Rite Masons are expected to attend this banquet.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Animal Experimentation and Human Life

ONE rarely if ever hears of an anti-vivisectionist refusing to eat beefsteak, even tender veal and lamb chops. Such animals — referring to the four-footed ones—are intended to serve for the welfare of man. But let some earnest research worker dissect a few cats or dogs under anesthesia in his laboratory and at once some organization of childless women and neurotic men protests in the name of humanity. In the name of humanity!

Everybody has heard about the transfusion of blood as a life-saving measure in desperate cases of illness from shock, hemorrhage or severe anemia. Probably even an anti-vivisectionist would not refuse such treatment in a pinch, if he had a friend loyal and brave enough to donate the precious blood. To be sure, when death reaches out his talons toward ourselves and our loved ones we will grasp at anything which offers the slightest chance for life, be it purchased at the price of a million dumb animals.

Now Saving Life in Europe.

The transfusion of blood was attempted in old times—on animals. Pepys speaks of witnessing such an experiment in the seventeenth century. But the operation has always been impossible for human sufferers until a method of performing it was recently worked out by animal experimentation. At present the transfusion of blood is a life-saving measure available anywhere, and thousands of individuals owe their very existence to this operation.

It was rendered practicable on human beings largely through animal experiments carried out by Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland—this and other life-saving measures of equal or greater importance. Indeed, it may be said that Crile's contributions to surgery rank with the introduction of anesthetics and antiseptics. And the great works of this surgeon-physiologist are founded on vivisection. Remember that, please, when you hear anyone howling for "regulation" of animal experimentation.

Questions and Answers.

Still Looking for Blood Purifier: Will you please tell me through the Health Talk column the correct proportions of the ingredients in this blood purifier: Sulphur, cream of tartar, molasses. Is it good for one to take? What particular benefit does one derive from cod liver oil?

REPLY.

You are searching for the fountain of youth. No drug will "purify the blood"—there is no such class of remedies. This mixture is a laxative only, and has nothing to do with the blood. Use equal parts, if you are bound to dose yourself—but we wouldn't take the stuff so long as pleasanter laxatives are to be had. Cod liver oil is a readily assimilable food for cases requiring forced feeding.

A Typical and Much Too Common History: Mrs. C. M. writes: My age is 35. Since my last baby was born four years ago I have been very constipated. Also have had bleeding piles a great deal. My face has large brown spots on it, and my friends stop to ask what is the matter, as I was always fair and clear skinned. My side aches—sort of a tired ache there much of the time. It sometimes keeps me awake.

REPLY.

Here's our opinion, which we hope will agree with your physician's and lead to action. The piles should be operated upon at once. There is a steady drain on vitality, whether you notice the bleeding or not, a cause of the constipation, a cause of the anemia, tired feeling, bad complexion and general ill-health. Remove this cause in the only sensible, safe, painless way, and you will soon be your old happy self again. Postpone it and you are indeed taking serious chances.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnosis. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald.

BELGIAN KING TALKS OF WAR

Albert Disclaims Any Honor for His Conduct in Field.

Says His Country Has Scrupulously Observed Neutrality.

Geneva, Switzerland, March 31, via Paris.—"I am not a hero—you will find them in our trenches," said Albert, king of the Belgians, at his headquarters in the field in an interview with Edouard Chapuist of the Journal De Geneva. During the conversation the guns of the Belgians and the Germans were sounding constantly.

"I affirm that before the war I and my country observed scrupulously all the requirements of neutrality that the powers prescribed for us with a precision of the specifications in an engineering contract.

Act of Sovereignty.

"Your neutrality," said King Albert, referring to Switzerland, "is an act of sovereignty. Ours had been obligatory by an agreement of the powers. Nevertheless, you see the result!"

At another point in the conversation the king said:

"You have an agency for prisoners and other institutions, but what a martyrdom has not this poor Geneva cross endured."

The king, alluding to the hardships which Belgium had undergone, said:

"It is necessary to tell the truth about these things, but it is better to use moderate language because the more moderate one is, so much the stronger one is."

Further on the Belgian monarch remarked:

"We had no ill-feeling against Germany. We received her business people. We had cordial and courteous relations.

Hard to Explain.

"Even at the present moment, I am at a loss to explain why we have been made to suffer what we have suffered. I can explain to myself still less those acts of cruelty. I never could have imagined that the German was malevolent. On the contrary I considered him as a quiet and domestic character. I know many Germans. I have German blood in my veins. My mother was the countess of Flanders—a Hohenzollern. Why all these cruelties?"

The king, referring to allegations that by certain conversations Belgium had compromised her neutrality, said:

"Once again, I affirm that it is not true."

His majesty mentioned that he had received many letters from private persons in Switzerland adding that he had opened one yesterday from a boy of 14 years of age which had touched him deeply.

The king wore a green dolman over his uniform and was without any mark of rank or decoration. He is described as being brown from the open air life, extremely simple in bearing and quietly confident.

MUD IS NOT IN HIS LINE

Silberstein Makes an Appeal for Clean Campaign.

Farrell Says Murchison Is Incompetent to Handle Present Job.

Bernard Silberstein, candidate for commissioner, declared at a meeting in the Italian hall last evening that he will leave "mud slinging" to the other side and that his race is being made solely on a business basis and economy platform.

J. A. Farrell, who also addressed the voters, attacked Commissioner Murchison's record during the last two years and specially emphasized the statement that the incumbent has been receiving help from the other officials and that he has voted with Mayor Prince and Commissioners Hicken and Merritt on all but one occasion. Mr. Farrell made it clear that he was not attacking Mr. Murchison personally, but since the latter was running on his record it was fair to examine the record.

"I expected to go through a clean and gentlemanly campaign," said Mr. Silberstein. "I thought that by so doing there would be better feeling among candidates and a higher standard of politics would result. But unfortunately, some speakers on the other side choose to depart from a clean campaign and to go back to the old style of 'slinging mud' and uttering untruths for the want of arguments that are applicable to the issue.

"I will follow the campaign as I started, on a strict business proposition. Speakers who have nothing tangible to offer, except abuse and misstatements, I am sorry for. As far as I am concerned, all political thunder thrown at me will be ignored, for I can stand daylight. I have no apologies to make. I have the satisfaction of doing and having done my part in making a better Duluth, and even greater satisfaction of having helped many unfortunate persons in all spheres of life.

"I entered this campaign as a candidate for commissioner with the only purpose of helping to improve the affairs of our city. A better Duluth can be attained only by good government. I am and always have been for law and order. No man can be a good citizen unless he stands for this."

Farrell's Speech.

"Commissioner Murchison in executive duties," said Mr. Farrell, "has had to draw on other commissioners for help. In return I understand he has traded off his votes at the council board. Is it desirable to have a commissioner that is not in a position to cast an independent vote on matters involving the city's welfare? I am given to understand that a specific instance of this is in connection with the Highland avenue subway.

"I am told Mayor Prince had to help Mr. Murchison get street vacation petitions. Is it not probable that support is exacted from the commissioner in return for aid rendered him by heads of other divisions? It looks odd that Commissioner Murchison has, on all but one occasion, voted with Mayor Prince and Commissioners Hicken and Merritt."

GOVERNMENT BY AUTOCRATS

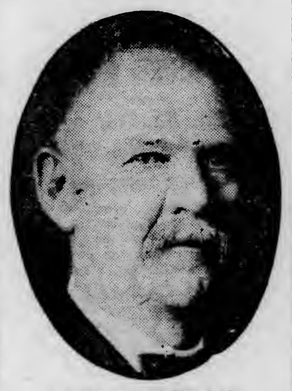
Duluth Not Getting Commission Rule, Says John T. Armstead.

Attempt to "Open the Town" Would Mean Prohibition.

That Duluth is not getting a commission form of government under its present charter, but a bureaucracy with each commissioner an autocrat in his own department, not consulting the other commissioners, is the opinion of John T. Armstead, voiced in an interview with the Herald today.

Mr. Armstead also holds the belief that there is no issue of an "open and closed town" in the present election, and that even if an attempt were made to permit a "wide open town" following a defeat of Commissioner Hicken, it would result in Duluth being added to the list of "dry" cities.

"The commissioners have not carried out the intent of the charter," said Mr. Armstead. "The intention was to have the commission as a whole pass upon all important matters. Instead of that it has come to be looked upon as lese majeste or unwarranted interference, almost bordering on a personal insult, when one commissioner questions the decisions of another regarding matters in the latter's own department. We have five little departments with a czar at the head of each, and each czar jealously guards his own assumed prerogatives.



JOHN T. ARMSTEAD.

"Duluthians are also being handed a lot of hot air in the present campaign on the question of an open or closed town. In spite of the efforts to make it so, that question is not an issue in this campaign. The issue, and the only issue, is the personality of the present commissioner of public safety.

"The claim is made that if Hicken falls of re-election we are going to have a wide-open town. If the temperance workers really believe that they should work for his defeat, as, in my opinion, nothing will put Duluth in the class of dry towns quicker than to allow it to become wide open.

"The people voiced their appreciation of Hicken's efforts to make this a cleanly city when they adopted the so-called Hicken code. I was one of the majority who voted for it—one of the majority who want and are going to insist on having a clean city government. But I am also one who wants good government with less narrowness, bigotry and provincialism.

"One argument against municipal ownership has always been that a municipally owned utility was too likely to be used as a machine by those in office to further their political ends. While we have owned the water and light plant we have elected to the mayor's office party men such as Truelsen, Hugo, Cullom, Haven and McCuen. Every one of these men had decency enough to keep politics out of the department. It was left for the bunch of truly good uplifters, now serving as commissioners and their friends, to prostitute the department to attain their political desires. That's history and we all know it.

"We have been put to the expense of two special elections to please the whims of the commission and their advisers in spite of the advice and protest of some of our best business men, the Hicken code and the lighting question. The city would have been several thousand dollars to the good had the commission been reasonable enough to listen, but no; they were going to force things and have their own way. How much better off are we by having had these elections instead of keeping the money and submitting the questions at a regular election?"

ONE INSTRUCTOR FOR EACH SEVEN STUDENTS

Average in University of Wisconsin, Declares Man Making Survey.

Madison, Wis., March 31.—There is an average of one professor or instructor to each seven students in the University of Wisconsin, according to the report of the state university survey compiled by Dr. William H. Allen of New York, that has been filed with the state board.

The report charges extravagance, and criticizes the regents as unable to learn from the faculty the needs of the institution. In many cases the report asserts there are classes of less than ten students, and classes of five, four, three and even one person each. A case is alleged of a class of one having as its instructor a $1,500 salaried educator who has no other classes.

HIBBING LEVY IS LARGE ONE

Village Council Decides to Make It Not Less Than $1,693,933.62.

Wants Mining Companies to Apologize for "Malicious and Scandalous Reports."

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village levy for 1915 was fixed by the council last night at $1,693,933.62 based on the present assessed valuation of $84,696,681, quite an increase over last year's levy which in round numbers was about $1,250,000. Incidentally the council took exceptions to statements made before the legislature as to village extravagance and demanded an apology from the mining companies. There was a mountain of applications for jobs—1,406 in all. The proposed law limiting expenditures to $25 per capita was scored. It was the first meeting of the council since Rupert Swinnerton was elected trustee and President Victor Power was re-elected. The members were all present—President Power, Recorder D. D. Haley, and Trustees H. J. Burrows, John Curran and Rupert Swinnerton.

Limit of Taxation.

There was a unanimous adoption of a resolution instructing the village attorney to prepare a resolution laying the tax levy for 1915 to be collected in 1916 in a "sum equal to the total amount which may be levied under the present assessed valuation under the present law, an amount not less than $1,693,933.62."

The council followed this up with instructions to the village attorney to mail a copy of the resolution to the representatives of the mining companies who have property within the village limits informing them that the people of Hibbing, through their representatives, the village council, protest against their action in circulating "false, malicious and scandalous reports" about the unnecessary and wasteful expenditure of public funds in Hibbing and other range towns and requesting that they make public apology to the people of Hibbing for their action.

Protest $25 Limit Law.

A resolution adopted protesting against the passage of the proposed law to limit the tax that may be levied in cities and villages of the third and fourth classes to $25 per capita, until such time as an investigation may be had by properly constituted authorities as to public expenditures in Hibbing and other similarly situated communities.

The village recorder was instructed to mail a copy of this resolution to each member of the legislature.

The council also requested the Commercial club to call a meeting to protest against the passage of $25 tax limit bill.

1,406 Seek Jobs.

A hugh pile of applications for positions on the village pay roll was laid before the council. The total number of applications was 1,406. No action was taken except to file them. It is understood that appointments will be made at the meeting of the council to be held next Tuesday evening.

The village recorder was instructed to call for bids to be opened Tuesday evening, April 6, for the excavation and construction of the basement of the new courthouse. Bids for the construction of the superstructure of the building will be called for at a meeting to be held at an early date.

Want Mayor's Brother Appointed.

A petition, signed by 309 tax payers, was presented to the council, asking for the appointment of Walter J. Power, brother of the mayor, as a member of the water, light, power and building commission. The petition was filed.

The council asked the Saturday Club to recommend some one for police woman for the village, but to confine its recommendations to local parties.

Estimate No. 3 of the Layne & Bowler company in the sum of $18,577 to apply on the water system contract was referred to the finance committee. The municipal court's report for the last three weeks showed receipts of $179.98. A petition from Allce asking the council to make all water and sewer excavations for connections to the curb line was acted on adversely, the council being unable to legally comply with the request. Numerous requests for building permits were referred to a committee consisting of Recorder Haley, Fire Chief McIlhargey and Trustee Curran. A petition for a sidewalk on Third avenue in Brooklyn was referred to the village attorney with instructions to draw up the necessary resolution. Various liquor license applications were referred to the license committee.

A meeting of the council will be held Thursday evening to pass on the March pay roll.

LIVELY BUILDING YEAR IN EVELETH

Large Amount of Private and Public Work Planned in City.

Eveleth, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Approximately $300,000, possibly more, will be spent in construction work in Eveleth or vicinity next summer, which will mean the employment of a large number of men and will go a long way to relieve conditions if the mines do not operate at normal capacity.

The city will be the heaviest spender. Municipal contracts and the municipal payroll will take about $200,000. The construction of a gas plant in this vicinity, the laying of gas mains in the city, the renewal of Grant avenue steam mains by the Home Electric & Heating company, the construction of an Italian Catholic church and other smaller contracts will easily use up another $100,000. If the Home Electric & Heating company makes other extensions contemplated, the total will be brought to a figure well above $300,000, which is the estimate placed by a man in a position to know the amount involved in different contracts. The city has already begun its work and a good sized contract will be let at the next meeting of the council. Work on the Italian church has also been started.

To Employ Eveleth Labor.

Eveleth labor will be employed on all of the work mentioned above. The city cannot require a contractor to employ only Eveleth men, but Mayor Saari states that he will give all bidders to understand that local men must be given the preference. The Italians, in letting the church contract, specified home labor. Thomas F. Lynch, speaking for the gas company, states that local labor will be used entirely on its contracts and the Home Electric & Heating company will also give the preference to Eveleth laborers.

EVELETH PUPILS TO HELP CLEAN UP

Agency to Be Established Through Which Pupils Will Work.

Eveleth, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)— An employment agency is to be established in the public schools to help clean up the city. Through this agency, which will be under the direction of Miss Lila Stanaway, principal of the Fayal school, boys or girls can be hired to do the cleaning up at homes where there are no children and where help is needed.

Children from the four upper grades will be assigned when there is an application for a gardener or lawn raker, window cleaner or clean-up specialist. It will be expected that those obtaining help from the agency will properly reward the worker and they will also be requested to make a report on the manner in which the boy or girl assigned does the work.

The spring vacation begins Friday of this week and assignments will be made for all applications received for help during the vacation week.

To Clean Vacant Lots.

The schools will also undertake the cleaning up of vacant lots. As soon as the weather improves, principals at different buildings will send out entire grades to clean up vacant lots in the vicinity of the schools. Different grades will be dismissed on different days and the clean-up will be accomplished under the direction of a teacher.

Another evil that will be corrected through the schools if possible will be the practicing of "cutting across" private property. The pupils will be taught that, while a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, the axiom is better applied to geometry than to the route taken in coming to school.

The gardening committee of the city improvement club is working on rules for the gardening contest and will be ready to announce the rules and prizes as soon as the weather is more consistent with gardening.

HIBBING CHAUTAUQUA IS LARGELY ATTENDED.

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The choir of Presbyterian church will play "When a Man Marries" at the Power theater Tuesday, April 6, under the able direction of Miss Fluke. The chorus numbers will be exceptional. The songs are directed by Miss Banker, while Miss Hall has charge of the dancing. Those taking part will be attractively costumed. Special mention is made of "The Burglar" chorus.

Eveleth, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work will be started soon on the Italian Catholic church. The lot at the east end of Jones street, which was purchased for the church, was vacated this week by the removal of a residence which occupied it, and the footings for the church will be constructed at once.

John Erickson has the contract. Completed, it will be worth about $10,000. Rev. Father Ercole Dominicis, who came here a few months ago from New York to conduct a mission, will be the first pastor of the new church.

Patrolmen Frank Grams, Ed Lee, Frank Green, Morris Simonson, Neil Beaton, Ed Cloutier, Valentine Lisnick, L. Coradle, Eugene Coffee, Nick Kurti, Oscar Carlson, Robert Steele, John Shcringer and Ed Dumont. Frank Arco was included in the list but was objected to by Trustee Mahne. Trustee Ulrich sided with Mr. Mahne and Valentine Lisnick was named instead. Including Day Sergeant Leighty, Night Sergeant Gerzin and Chief of Police Bergeron the force now consists of eighteen members. Formerly there were thirty. The motion to reduce the force was made by Recorder Culver.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. They are an old preparation, used all over the world for centuries, combining natural healing oil and herbs, well-known to physicians and used by thousands in their daily practice. The Capsules are not an experimental, make-shift "patent medicine," or "salt," whose effect is only temporary. They are a standard remedy, and act naturally, gently and quickly. But when you go to the druggist, insist on getting the pure, original Haarlem Oil in Capsules. Be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box, and thus protect yourself against counterfeits.

RAISES PASTOR'S SALARY

Hibbing Presbyterian Church Reports Prosperous Year.

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the annual meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church, reports were presented from numerous auxiliary societies showing the past year to have been one of decided growth. During the past two years, under the pastorate of Rev. Sears Thomson, the church membership has increased from ninety-one to 214.

While the church is carrying a heavy debt, its finances are in excellent shape; all current bills are being met promptly and the debt is being steadily reduced. The number of contributors to the support of the church was raised by the recent every member canvass from fifty to 170 and the amount subscribed was increased 75 per cent. An increase of $300 per year was unanimously voted to the pastor's salary.

Scott L. Holtzlander and G. R. Wallace were made elders, R. N. Marble and J. C. Agnew were added to the board of trustees, and W. N. Tremerry and W. F. Kohagen were re-elected trustees.

All the activities of the church are increasing and the outlook is for the busiest year in the history of the church.

FAVOR STATE SAND BILL.

Range Communities Interested in Measure Before Legislature.

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sand pit bill, before the legislature which will provide for the leasing or selling of state sand pits to individuals or corporations, has direct bearing on conditions on the range and was drafted by range persons.

The bill would make it permissible for individuals or the village if necessary to take sand off state land. Although the state owns considerable sand in Hibbing vicinity, at the present time, it is unlawful for anyone to remove it. Often times when this sand is necessary for improvements and permits are willing to pay what it is worth, it is impossible to get it. This, it is claimed, works hardships upon villages as well as individuals.

At Buhl the village has agitated for a bill which would allow the village to use state gravel for road improvements. If this sand bill is passed, it is said, this permission will be granted. Many persons in Hibbing have wanted black dirt for their gardens. The surface loam of state properties being stripped for ore now goes to waste. Any one taking any of it is liable to be apprehended on a charge of trespass.

HIBBING MAN GETS BAD NEWS FROM WAR.

Hibbing, Minn., March 21.—News that his brother Nicholas was killed in the Carpathians, that another brother is a prisoner in Serbia with one leg shot off, and that two cousins are in the Austrian marine corps, was received here by George Basich from his mother, Mrs. Jennie Basich, who lives in Croatia. According to Basich nearly forty letters were received by Austrians here from the old country.

VIRGINIA COUNCIL ALSO TO PROTEST

Objects to Passage of Law Limiting Range Towns' Expenses.

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city joined other range towns last night in the chorus of protest being fired into St. Paul against the passage of the law limiting expenditures of towns and villages to $25 per capita per year.

Attorney McMahon of this city, Mayor Boylan and others bitterly attacked the alleged methods employed to get the bill through the legislature, Mr. McMahon severely criticizing the methods as "unfair and unscrupulous." Mayor Boylan, President Moilan and City Attorney Montague were named a committee to draft a resolution of protest and forward it to range members of the legislature.

May Not Affect Virginia.

While it is admitted if the bill is amended as Mayor Boylan requested, and a state census is taken, this city will not be affected by the new law, it is claimed the act will hit many range towns just blossoming out into villages and cities, notably Fay, a young town in Itasca county, and will in a measure hurt the whole range.

The committee that was appointed about three weeks ago to look into the charges that the six-foot sewer was not all laid on a concrete base, partially reported and requested the whole matter be considered by the council in committee of the whole, which will be done Friday, April 9.

Get Pistol Decorations.

Kohrt.

GERMAN AIRMEN SHOWING ACTIVITY

Fifteen Fly Over Ostrolenka and Drop Over 100 Bombs.

London, March 31.—Great activity has been displayed in the last few days by German aviators, says a Petrograd dispatch to Reuter's telegram company, according to a semi-official Russian statement which reads as follows:

"Fifteen German aeroplanes flew over Ostrolenka, Monday, dropping a hundred bombs at an isolated house which they apparently mistook for Russian headquarters. None of the bombs hit the house and the occupants were not injured.

"Near Jedwabno we brought down an enemy aeroplane, capturing the officer and the mechanic."

POLICE KEPT BUSY WATCHING STRIKERS.

Seattle, Wash., March 31.—Police were kept busy today preventing attacks on street cars as a result of a strike called last night by employes of the Seattle lines of the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power company. Rioting followed soon after a vote to strike had been made at a mass meeting of all the labor unions held by the Central Labor council. The strike was called in an attempt to compel recognition of the union.

To Help Nature Shed A Bad Complexion

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the beautifying qualities of mercolized wax. Perhaps nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm, without detaining one indoors, and at such small expense. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding, or "curing" complexion defects, it removes them. The wax actually takes off the aged, faded, sallow or blotchy cuticle, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience. It is Nature's way of renewing complexions. When the natural process is retarded because of deficient circulation or nerve tone, mercolized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercolized wax, get an ounce of it at the drug store, use at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning.

Another natural beautifying treatment—for wrinkled, flabby skin—is to bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.—Advertisement.

"EUROPEAN SYSTEM" TAXIS FOR CHICAGO

Chicago, March 31.—A light taxicab service "on the European system," which will cut present prices in half will be installed in Chicago at once, it was announced today. One hundred light vehicles, painted yellow, will be placed in commission in the twenty-six public stands in the city. Incorporation papers for the company were applied for Jan. 5 with a capital stock of $25,000, which will now be increased to $100,000.

The company will be a subsidiary of the largest taxicab company in the city. A five-passenger car now renting at $4 an hour, will have to compete with a smaller and less luxurious one renting at $2, and meter rates will be correspondingly reduced. The $4 rate was recently ordered reduced by the city council to $3.50, and other corresponding reductions commanded. The company takes the position that it cannot operate high class cars at the new rates, and, according to the manager, it is willing to risk $100,000 to see if the public "will stand for the European brand of service."

YOUR HEAD AND STOMACH

Headache caused by a disturbed digestion is nearly always accompanied by pain in the stomach, belching of gas, vomiting and often by constipation. This sort of headache is generally located in the forehead and is not constant but comes and goes.

It does not come on immediately after eating but after the food has had time to ferment which it does because the digestive fluids that should take care of it are insufficient, because the glands that secrete these fluids are weak, because the blood is failing to nourish these glands properly.

Rich, red blood is the first essential to proper digestion and the digestive process cannot go on without it. When lack of nourishing blood causes fermentation and poisons are absorbed from the digestive tract, the pain in your head advises you of the fact. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give the blood just the elements they need to correct this condition and, with a laxative, when required, form a perfect treatment for the headaches of indigestion.

Mention this paper and we will send you two little books on the diet and the proper use of a laxative. Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

WARSHIPS SHELL TURKS' VILLAGES

London, March 31.—A Reuter's dispatch received from Constantinople by way of Berlin says the allied fleet has resumed its bombardment of villages near the outer forts of the Dardanelles. Turkish aviators are making daily reconnaissances.

Russian Report.

Petrograd, March 31.—An official communication tells of the operations of the Russian fleet against the Bosporus. It reads:

"On Monday our fleet approached the outer fortifications of the Bosporus but was unable to continue the bombardment as fog shrouded the coasts.

"One of our smaller ships exchanged shots with a Turkish destroyer, which made off at full speed for the Bosporus after the first shots."

ELLERMAN LINER SENT TO BOTTOM

London, March 31.—The Ellerman line steamer Flaminian, with a general cargo, from Glasgow to Cape Town, was sunk off the Scilly Isles Monday, March 29, by the German submarine U-28. The members of the crew were saved.

She had no passengers on board. Her crew of thirty-nine men took to their boats and were picked up by the Danish steamer Finlandia and landed at Holyhead this morning.

The Flaminian sighted the U-28 at 1:15 o'clock Monday afternoon. The crew at once prepared to lower the boats and at the same time the vessel was sent ahead at full speed. The submarine easily overhauled her, however, fired three shots and signaled her to stop. The Flaminian was stopped and the crew, abandoning all personal belongings, got off in small boats. The submarine then fired ten shots at the steamer. These appeared to be ineffective, and accordingly a torpedo was discharged. This sent the steamer to the bottom.

STEAMER ASHORE ON CUBAN COAST.

New York, March 31.—The Cuban steamer Gibara, with a crew of forty-five and eight passengers, was reported to have been ashore four miles north of Cape Massi, the extreme eastern tip of Cuba, on March 18 last.

Reports of the Gibara's plight was brought to this port by officers of the steamer Mandeville in from Kingston. The Mandeville offered to take off the crew and passengers, but the offer was declined. From her position, it was believed that the vessel would be a total loss.

The Gibara was a coasting vessel, formerly under the Norwegian flag. Her present owners are a firm in Havana. She is of 1,156 tons register and is 230 feet long. Maritime records here do not show where she was sailing from or to.

VOCABULARY OF A PIRATE

Wife Says Hubby Swore Every Time He Gave Her Money.

James Donald Lane Charged With Cruelty in Divorce Action.

James Donald Lane, 45, never indulged in profanity in the presence of his wife and four children except on occasions when he turned over the weekly allowance for expenses of the home and at times when he did not. In fact, he was endowed with the vocabulary of a pirate, which he used profusely and continuously, if the story of his wife, Lydia Rhoda Lane, 36, as related in divorce papers filed in district court today, is to be believed.

Lane's profanity was not his only shortcoming, according to his wife. He was also cruel to her in many other ways, she says. In May, 1909, she alleges, he choked her because she refused to sign a mortgage to certain real estate they owned.

When he started in to whip their 14-year-old daughter, Violet, with a strap seven years ago, she says, she interceded on behalf of the child, and because she begged him to stop, she says, he turned the lash on her and beat her unmercifully. The blows, she alleges, left black and blue marks on her back.

His treatment of her and the children, she declares, was responsible for the oldest girl, Mabel, now 16, leaving home and staying away for four months.

On Feb. 21, last, the last family squabble occurred. On this occasion, she says, he threw a wash dish full of water upon her and also made her a target for a well-aimed soap dish. He kicked over the chairs and chased her into their bedroom, she declares.

Mrs. Lane declares that she is tired of it all and asks that she be granted a divorce, the custody of the two girls and alimony.

Lane is a foreman employed by D. H. Clough & Co. and lives at Lakeside. He has been cited to appear in court Saturday and show cause why he should not pay his wife $75 for suit money and attorney's fees in order that she may prosecute the action against him.

NEW COMPANIES FILE ARTICLES

Three Concerns Come Into Corporate Existence—Another Changes Name.

Three new corporations filed articles of incorporation yesterday afternoon with Charles Calligan, register of deeds. This morning amended articles were filed by one concern.

The Tennessee Coal & Timber company, with headquarters in Duluth and a capital stock of $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares at $25 each, has John Bergman and Frank Bergman of Duluth and Herman J. Bergman of Superior as incorporators.

The Red River Valley Coal company, which has a capital stock of $50,000 consisting of 5,000 shares at $10 each, have the same men behind it. John Bergman of Duluth, Herman J. Bergman of Superior and August Johnson of Superior are named as incorporators. The company's principal place of business will be in Duluth.

Joseph Weinberg, J. J. Robinson and Antoinette Bird are incorporators of the Northern Improvement company of this city, which has organized as a holding corporation. The capital stock of the concern is $50,000, divided into 500 shares at $100 each.

The Litchfield Investment company has changed its name to L. Davis & Co. Amended articles of incorporation giving notice of the change were filed this morning. The amended articles are certified to by W. C. Allen, president, and E. N. Smith, secretary. The headquarters of the concern are at 311 West First street.

SECOND NOON-DAY MEETING HELD

Hicken Gives Address to Employes of Soo Roundhouse.

The second noon-day meeting in the present municipal campaign was held today at the Soo round house.

Commissioner Hicken, candidate for re-election, who addressed the employes at the Northern Pacific round house yesterday, spoke to the Soo line workers this noon. He gave a short talk to about 100 men, to whom he explained the work done by his department during the last two years and how he will continue these policies, if re-elected.

Another noon-day meeting will be held tomorrow, L. U. Young, secretary of the Good Government committee, announced this morning, although the speakers and meeting place will not be known until some time this afternoon.

ENDS LONG ILLNESS.

Mrs. Selestia Boivian Dies at Ripe Age of 81 Years.

Mrs. Selestia Boivian, aged 81, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. Beauvinue, 2615½ Martin street, following an illness of several weeks. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock from the St. Jean de Baptiste French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be at Calvary cemetery. Mrs. Boivian leaves two daughters and one son.

COUNCIL WILL MEET.

Will Pass on Payroll Saturday—Sprinkling Districts Selected.

There will be another special meeting of the city commission next Saturday morning to pass on the March payroll.

This morning the commissioners held a special meeting to select the sprinkling districts for 1915 and to authorize the appropriation of $20,000 from the general fund to conduct this work during the coming summer. In addition several ordinances were advanced and will be finally acted on at the meeting Saturday.

Pay day is next Monday and in order to pay the city employes, the commissioners will meet Saturday morning and pass on the rolls of all the departments.

ONE MORE DAY TO WITHDRAW

Situation Indicates That All Candidates Will Stay on Ballot.

Tomorrow is the last day on which candidates in the present municipal campaign can withdraw from the race and keep their names off the official ballot.

According to the city charter, a candidate has until five days before the election to drop out of the race, in order to keep his name off the official ballot. Present indications are that all the men now in the campaign will remain in the race until election day next Tuesday.

On Friday, City Clerk Palmer will order 15,000 official ballots, containing the names of all the candidates, together with the election rules that must be followed by every voter. The ballots will be printed on red paper, while the ballots for amendments to the city charter will be on lavender paper.

Indications at present are that the official ballot for election day will be as follows:

For Commissioners,
William L. Bernard.
Chris E. Evens.
J. A. Farrell.
W. A. Hicken.
R. E. McFarlane.
Roderick Murchison.
J. L. Norman.
Bernard Silberstein.

For Municipal Judge.
M. E. Louisell.
John H. Norton.
W. H. Smallwood.
W. L. Windom.

WILL SAIL IN TWO WEEKS

Navigation Expected to Open Soon—First Ships Grain Laden.

Ten vessels have been inspected in the Duluth-Superior harbor this spring by Inspectors John Monaghan and M. F. Chalk, and it is unlikely that more will be inspected for some time.

"We inspected all of those that it was indicated will be used as soon as the season opens," said Mr. Monaghan this morning. "Since then there has been a lull, and there is no telling how long it will last."

The vessels inspected were mostly those that have been chartered to carry grain down the lakes as soon as navigation opens. Three, the steamer S. J. Murphy and the barges Maida and Manda, belonging to the Pittsburg fleet, have been inspected so that they can take ore down toward the last of next month, for it is not expected that any of the Pittsburg fleet will start out before April 25 at the earliest.

Grain shippers are all pretty well ready for the opening but it is announced that no more vessels will be loaded until ice conditions make shifting boats in the bay safer than it is at present. The weather of the past few days made some ice in the slips and stiffened the ice conditions considerably all over the bay. It is expected, however, that it would not require a very great stretch of warm weather to work havoc with the ice, and that is expected at any time now, vessel men do not expect to be held up long.

It is believed that navigation will open not long after April 15, which is two weeks away. The steamers now ready to sail with grain cargoes are the Caldera, the Joseph Corrigan and the Jacob Kopp, all of which have taken on grain within the last ten days.

DOUBT ABOUT "BIG SMOKE"

Johnson Having Hard Time Drying Out for Willard Fight.

Havana, Cuba, March 31.—Arrangements have been completed for affording police protection for the crowds during the Johnson-Willard fight next Monday. The race track and Havana streets leading from stations of the electric line to the track will be policed by a double force. The mayor of Marianao, where the ring is situated, made arrangements with Col. Hevia, secretary of the interior, for guarding all parts of the track and ring with police, in addition to which regular troops will be held in reserve nearby.

The trolley company is arranging a fast service from center of Havana to the track, using extra cars on this line and in lines from nearby towns as the demand warrants.

Sentiment in favor of Willard seems to be increasing rapidly and is affecting the betting odds. Plenty of money is still being offered on Johnson, but at shorter odds. Quotations now are generally less than 2 to 1. Willard backers are holding off in the hope of getting the former price of 3 to 1.

Condition Unsatisfactory.

Reports are being heard with increasing frequency that Johnson is having difficulty in putting on the final edge. The drying out process is said to be extremely difficult for him on account of his age and he finds it a constant struggle to deny himself water.

It is now evident that Johnson will go into the fight heavier than in any previous one; probably at 220 or 225 pounds. Otherwise, he appears to be in fine condition. Nevertheless, doubt is expressed quite generally that he can go more than half of the forty-five rounds. His best chance appears to be to beat down Willard during the first fifteen rounds. Willard is likely to attempt a slow holding fight during the early stages. The hot weather of the last two days has made the pugilists cautious in their work. The temperature this forenoon was above 80. The road work of both men was easy and their public exhibition work later was to be several rounds shorter than heretofore.

Grand Forks Trains at Home.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Forks baseball team of the Northern league will do its spring training in Grand Forks, the squad reporting to Manager Billy Fox in this city about April 25, according to orders issued today. This will give the Grand Forks team about two weeks' work in advance of the opening of the season, May 5 marking the beginning of the campaign, and the Grand Forks club will open at home.

SHARP BREAK IN MARKETS

Wheat Declines on Liquidation After Showing Bulges at Opening.

Flaxseed Sells Lower on Liberal Offerings and Light Support.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 31.—The market was still weaker around the close on the appearance of fresh liquidation. May wheat closed 1¼c off, July 2⅜c off and September 1¼c off. May durum closed ¾c off and July ⅝c off.

Oats closed ¾c off at 55@55½c for on the track; rye, unchanged at $1.08-1.09, and barley 2c up at from 65c to 74c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ½c off at 62⅝c bid, and July ½c off at 62¾c.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.42½ asked and calls at $1.46¾ asked.

Higher Liverpool cables on reduced Argentine estimates, led to a strong market in wheat at the opening this morning. No export buying developed at the higher range, and with reports current of some re-selling by exporters at the seaboard, quotations broke to the extent of 2c during the first three hours' trading.

Foreign news was bearish to the extent that Italy had signified her intention to postpone her entry into the European war, and against that was to be set the fact that the efforts of the allies to open the Dardanelles have not resulted in any appreciable gains during the last three weeks. Taking into consideration that the production of grain in the European countries will undoubtedly show a falling off this year, thus going to assure a heavy export demand in this country on the new season's crop, and that rumors of damage in the winter wheat territory are to be expected from time to time now, dealers generally do not look for any material decline in market quotations from their present levels for some time at least. Grain men are also inclined to discredit reports of the largely increased acreage in winter wheat, it being regarded as highly improbable that farmers in the older states have enlarged their wheat acreage to any extent at the expense of other crops.

Just as had been foreshadowed, marketings of grain in the Northwest are showing a decided falling off, though Duluth receipts are liberal owing to the incoming of grain bought to arrive at interior elevators. Inspections at Duluth today were 115 cars against 31 a year ago, but at Minneapolis they fell off to 111 cars as against 260 last year.

May wheat opened 1¼c up at $1.51, eased off 2c, and then firmed up fractionally. July opened ½c off at $1.45, and declined ⅞c more. Business in durum was light. The May future opened ½c up at $1.55, and declined 1c July opened unchanged at $1.53, and held on that basis.

Flaxseed Turns Weak.

Offerings in flaxseed were more liberal and the market was easier in line with lower cables. At Buenos Aires, April flax was 2½c off at $1.11⅜, and at London April was off ⅞c at $1.29¾.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.85½, and closed 1¾c off at $1.83¾ asked. July opened unchanged at $1.97½, and closed 1¾c off at $1.96 asked. September opened unchanged at $1.99½, and closed 1½c off at $1.98 asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1⅝c off at $1.77¼ bid and July ¾c off at $1.79½ bid.

H. E. Emerson, state grain inspector, was a visitor on the Duluth board of trade today. Everything in connection with the inspection department is running smoothly, and receipts continue in larger volume than had been expected, he said.

* * *

Boats in the Duluth-Superior harbor have been practically all placed for grain to go down the lakes, at a rate of 3½c. The demand for tonnage to arrive is light at 1½c.

* * *

At Minneapolis, good cash demand was reported, with market firmer on the top grades. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5@6c over May, and velvet chaff at 2½@5c over May. Flour reports were quiet. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.48 to $1.52, and No. 2 northern at from $1.43 to $1.49. Stocks in Minneapolis elevators have been reduced 460,000 bushels in the last four days.

* * *

Price Current says: "There has been plowing and some seeding over the lower half of the Central states, but nothing in the Northern section. The season on the whole is two weeks late, not a menace, but an interference with the ordinary course of farm operations. Reports from the winter wheat belt are generally favorable. There are complaints of soil being too dry in Indiana, Western Ohio and some parts of Illinois, but there is plenty of subsoil moisture."

* * *

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Strong American cables and firmer Plata offers with unfavorable reports from Argentina served to cause light offers. The general demand is quiet although the spot market is firm and cargoes 3@4d higher for winters and 3@4d higher for plates." Indian offers continue firm with very little offered and freights there strong, while Argentine offers are now firmly held and competition is keen. It is understood here that with the unusual demand for Plata wheat this season, and the reduced amount for export, the remaining will be carefully marketed.

"Corn was firm with spot advancing with consumption, but as a result of colder weather and parcels at 3@6d advance."

Bad weather has generally reduced the exportable Argentine surplus and prominent firms at Liverpool are placing the amount from 80,000,000 to 90,000,000 bu. Heavy purchases have been made by importing countries and particularly countries who never bought there before at prices most satisfactory to holders and with competition keen the merchandising of the crop is regarded as satisfactory as assured. Weather is unfavorable with rain in parts.

* * *

Foreign crop summary:

India—There has been a general rainfall in the Punjaub and although light, still it was beneficial.

Greece—Weather and crop prospects are generally favorable.

Italy—A proposal has been submitted to the government to suspend the import duty on wheat until June, 1916. It is believed this will become effective.

France—Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, advices are to the effect that the acreage planted to wheat will be much under last year and where planted prospects are only fair. Scarity of labor was an important factor.

United Kingdom—Arrivals last week as reported by the customs equaled 4,000,000 bu with a consumption of 5,520,000 bu. Part of this will be made up from the native crop, but imports are 250,000 bu under net requirements.

Spain—Dryness is becoming pronounced and crop prospects are not favorable.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from New York: "Despite the statement from leading exporters that they do not know of new crop wheat having been sold for export, especially for early shipment, there are continued rumors of some business having been done recently. It is freely admitted that inquiries for new crop wheat were here."

Farmers of Western Canada are rejoicing. The dominion parliament at Ottawa has voted upward of $8,000,000 for the purchase of seed grain for western farmers and $2,000,000 for relief for settlers other than for seed grain. According to J. W. Roche, minister of the interior, 48,000 applications have been accepted, and several thousand rejected. Applications from the drought districts were received up to Jan. 31, and areas near the drought districts up to Feb. 20, and from other portions of Saskatchewan and Alberta up to March 10.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Speculative Selling Wipes Out Early Advance in Price of Wheat.

Chicago, March 31.—Speculative selling today wiped out an early advance in the price of wheat. Higher quotations at Liverpool were chiefly responsible for the bulge. The setback that ensued was influenced somewhat by favorable weather over the domestic winter crop belt. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛ to 1⅛c higher, were followed in some cases by a decline to below last night's level.

Increased heaviness developed later owing to the apparent absence of any important fresh export transactions. The close was weak at 1¼c to 1½c under last night.

Corn suffered from lack of support. Several big houses were conspicuous on the selling side. After opening unchanged to ¼c off the market continued to sag.

Slackness of cash demand from the East had a discouraging effect on holders. The close was weak at ⅞c to 1@1¼c net decline.

Better weather eased oats. The bulk of the business, though, was between floor traders.

Scarcity of buying orders made provisions weak. Lard especially was being pressed for sale.

SPECIALTIES ARE FEATURE

Again Active on Stock Market and Bid Up Furiously.

Representative Shares Are Irregular—Selling in Final Hour.

New York, March 31.—Specialties were again the features of chief interest during today's early trading, some of these issues changing hands in blocks of a thousand or more shares. Motor stocks made the greatest gains, their rise extending from 1 to 2½ points. National Lead also added 2 points to its rise of the preceding session and Amalgamated a point. In the railway division activity in Rock Island was resumed, that stock soon advancing to 32⅞, a point above its high price of yesterday. Missouri Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande preferred, Great Northern Ore and Bethlehem Steel all showed gains of a point or better.

Business in the first hour today was almost as large as yesterday's huge overturn and considerably broader, but standard stocks were reactionary. In the second hour, however, fresh buying imparted renewed strength to the entire list, Steel, Amalgamated and Smelting rising to best prices of the present movement. New Haven gained 3 points, Bethlehem Steel was comparatively neglected and heavy. Rock Island extended its gain to 5 points with a continuance of the extensive demand. Some of the motor shares gained as much as 5 points and less prominent specialties showed gains of 2 to 3 points.

Bonds were strong.

Standard issues improved their positions in the early afternoon despite persistent pressure in that quarter. Many of the more obscure and low-priced specialties also were taken up and registered very substantial gains.

Further furious bidding up of specialties and irregularity in representative shares marked the progress of today's active market.

Selling became more effective in the final hour when Reading and Union Pacific fell to lowest prices of the day. The closing was irregular.

ADSIT GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

COMMON STOCK

A Minnesota Manufacturing Corporation (Single Liability). Authorized Capital $300,000.00. Par value $100.00.

The Company owns, outright, the only practical method of supplying private telephone service on all present Party Lines, both City and Rural. Such service is made possible through a simple, moderate priced attachment, called a "Lock-Out." The device is adaptable to any style phone. There are 5,000,000 telephones in the United States today demanding this equipment. The Company has an absolute monopoly with a world-wide field.

The prospects of this Corporation closely parallel that of the original Bell Telephone Company whose stock was offered in Duluth at one time for $10.00 per share, and which today is worth over $5,800.00 per share, and none for sale.

Present demand for machines far in excess of the supply. Some orders 90 days old. Additional capital being used to increase manufacturing facilities to the point where shipments can be made promptly.

The allotment of a small amount of this stock for public subscription presents probably the greatest opportunity offered in recent years to moderate sized investors of the Northwest.

This security is recommended as an investment containing great potential possibilities of sudden enhancement of value—yet safe and conservative.

Further information given applicants at my office, 14 Phoenix Building, Duluth.

PERSONAL—If this company has solved "The Party Line Problem"—and the world's greatest experts say they have—a thousand dollars invested now will return you a fortune. It's simply the original Bell Telephone deal over again.

Look into this.

DECISION FOR MINE WORKERS

Conciliation Umpire Awards Increase in Wages to Monthly Men.

Hazleton, Pa., March 31.—Electricians, electricians' helpers, watchmen, fire bosses, stable bosses, engineers and other monthly men in and about the anthracite mines are entitled to a wage advance of 10 per cent dating from the amended agreement in effect between the operators and their employes since 1912.

Decision By Gray.

This decision, made today by Former United States Judge George Gray of Wilmington, Del., as umpire for the anthracite conciliation board, sustains the grievances of the stable bosses, engineers and fire bosses of the Pancoast-Price Coal company of Throop, Lackawanna county, who got a 5½ per cent wage advance in 1912, when the miners received 10 per cent under the contract which went into effect that year.

Judge Gray ruled that the agreement embodied all employes in and about the mines, although prior to 1912 many of the monthly hands had not been considered subject to the 1902 award of the strike commission named by President Roosevelt.

Must Be Paid Increases.

The company contended that the wages of these men had gone up through voluntary grants from $60 to $90 a month in the last thirteen years, but Judge Gray rules that despite this, they must be paid the annual increase. This means back pay to the extent of $300 to some of the workers.

Electricians and their helpers, watchmen and other monthly employes of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal company are given a 10 per cent advance in a second decision in which the umpire rules out the contention of the company that the award of 1902 applied only to those not working on a monthly basis. The umpire cites frequent references to "permanent positions" in the awards, and he decrees that the same conditions apply to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western men as to those at the Pancoast operation.

Many of the men benefited by the decision were not identified with the mine workers in 1912 and are not now affiliated with the union.
